

I signed In For A Billion Dollar Mansion From The Very Beginning Chapter 165-169

Chapter 165: Just a Little Bit More, and She'll Be His Girlfriend!

Looking at the girl in front of him, Lin Fan couldn't help but be tempted.

The girl he liked took the initiative to kiss him.

Any man should know what to do.

If he wanted to woo the girl he liked, he had to be more proactive.

If he kept waiting for the girl to take the initiative, who knew when he would die alone.

Lin Fan had wanted to give Xia Wanqiu a romantic scene and confess to her.

But the atmosphere had already reached this point.

Lin Fan really couldn't take it anymore.

The urge surged into his heart. Lin Fan just wanted to hug Xia Wanqiu in his arms and announce to everyone on Weibo that she was his woman.

At that time, there would be no more scandals between him and Xia Wanqiu.

"Lin Fan, what do you want to say to me?" Xia Wanqiu looked at Lin Fan with her beautiful eyes. She placed her hands behind her back and lowered her head slightly.

"I'm listening," Xia Wanqiu said softly, her cheeks even redder.

"I..." Lin Fan looked up at Xia Wanqiu's expectant eyes.

At this moment, as a man, what was there to be afraid of?

He said those words to her directly.

Then, she would be his girlfriend.

Even if there was a risk of failure, it did not matter.

Just as he made up his mind, Lin Fan spoke.

“I like...” Before Lin Fan could finish speaking, someone knocked on the door.

The shyness on Xia Wanqiu’s face deepened. She hurriedly opened the door and saw Lin Qianwei standing at the door.

When Lin Qianwei saw the two of them together, she hurriedly bowed and said, “Brother Fan, Sister Wanqiu, I’m sorry. I shouldn’t have knocked.”

Xia Wanqiu smiled sweetly. “It’s fine. What’s the matter?”

Lin Qianwei said, “Previously, it was all endorsements who wanted to sign a contract with Brother Fan. Brother Fan asked me to reject them all, but this time, a gaming company came and wanted to buy the game adaptation rights for ‘The Legend of Sword and Fairy’. Their offer was quite high, so I came to ask Brother Fan what he thinks.”

Xia Wanqiu smiled and said, “Then wait a moment. I’ll go say something to him and leave.”

Xia Wanqiu returned to her room and looked at Lin Fan. She made a cute gesture. “Whatever you wanted to say, let’s talk about it next time ~ Let’s get down to business first.”

Then, Xia Wanqiu left.

Lin Fan looked at Xia Wanqiu’s back view and wanted to slap himself.

If he didn’t hesitate, this matter would be settled.

He should have said it faster.

But Lin Qianwei couldn't be blamed for this.

After all, Lin Qianwei was his manager. During this period of time, Lin Qianwei was also very busy.

Lin Fan took a deep breath and woke up.

He was too impulsive just now and almost confessed to his wife.

Since he did not succeed, he would give her a romantic environment on her birthday and confess to her.

Lin Fan smiled brightly. He wanted to give her a surprise.

As for when he would confess to her, Lin Fan wasn't in a hurry.

He wanted it to be more memorable for her.

She liked romance, so he would give her a romantic paradise.

It was less than a week to her birthday.

Lin Fan could afford to wait another week.

"What company? What's their offer?" Lin Fan walked out and asked Lin Qianwei.

He did not sign deals with those endorsements because after signing them, he had to work very hard to follow his schedule, take photos, and do some activities.

However, Lin Fan didn't mind having more money. If a game company came to buy the copyright, as long as the price was right, he could sell it.

Lin Qianwei said, "Its full name is Great Universe Information Company. The person in charge of this company is willing to pay 18 million yuan to buy the rights to adapt 'The Legend of Sword and Fairy' into a game. You have to discuss the details with the person in charge personally though."

Lin Fan nodded. 18 million wasn't bad.

And if the game could be developed, it would increase the popularity of The Legend of Sword and Fairy a lot. In the end, "The Legend of Sword and Fairy" would become more and more popular.

"Sure, help me contact them," said Lin Fan as he returned to his office.

"Alright," Lin Qianwei agreed.

In the afternoon, a call came in.

"Mr. Lin, hello. I'm the person in charge of Great Universe Information Company, Little Wang. I want to buy the rights to adapt 'The Legend of Sword and Fairy' into a game. I wonder if you have time to talk about it," Little Wang said.

"I heard from my manager that you guys offered 18 million. I can sell the game adaptation rights but you'll have to increase your offer," said Lin Fan on the phone.

"Of course. Mr. Lin, the television drama 'The Legend of Sword and Fairy' is very popular. Can we discuss the exact price in person?" Little Wang continued.

"There's no need to talk in person. My time is limited. If you agree, I'll sign the contract directly."

"My condition is that the price to adapt 'The Legend of Sword and Fairy' into a game must be increased to 30 million. At the same time, I want 10% of the profits your company receives after The Legend of Sword and Fairy is made into a game as dividends," said Lin Fan.

Lin Fan knew that "The Legend of Sword and Fairy" was very popular. The viewership ratings had already set a historical record for nearly 30 years in the country. Whether it was adults or children, everyone knew about this television drama.

If this television drama was adapted into a game, it would definitely be more popular. It was actually quite reasonable to ask for 10% of the company's profits.

If they could use just 18 million to buy the rights to adapt "The Legend of Sword and Fairy" into a game, Lin Fan would lose out.

Although 18 million was a lot, if a game could earn a lot of money, the profits would be unimaginable.

For example, Honor of Kings' annual profits were terrifyingly high.

After Lin Fan made his request, the other party fell silent.

Lin Fan continued, "It's fine if you don't agree. I think there are also many other game companies, such as NetEase, Tencent, and so on, who want to buy the game adaptation rights for this television series."

Lin Fan wasn't worried that he wouldn't be able to sell the game adaptation rights. After a television drama became popular, there were many industries that it could be linked to.

For example, figurines, merchandise, posters, television dramas, movies, cartoons, and various IPs.

The entire entertainment industry was a closed loop. The popularity of "The Legend of Sword and Fairy" was destined to drive the entire industry.

As expected, after Lin Fan said this, the person in charge of Great Universe Information Company, Little Wang, also said, "Mr. Lin, this still needs to be discussed internally in our company. Can you give us some time? I'll give you an answer tonight."

Lin Fan nodded. "Sure. Let's contact each other again tonight."

At night, Lin Fan rested at home.

Great Universe Information Company called again.

The moment Lin Fan picked up the phone, Little Wang said excitedly, "Mr. Lin, our company has unanimously agreed to give you 30 million yuan for the game adaptation fee and 10% of the profits as dividends. However, we have a small request."

"After the game is adapted, our company wants to invite you to be the spokesperson for the game. Of course, we will give you a high endorsement fee," Little Wang said.

"You're asking me to endorse the game?" When Lin Fan heard that, he just smiled and said, "I don't accept any endorsements, but I can recommend Xia Wanqiu and Su Xiaoyu to be the spokespeople of 'The Legend of Sword and Fairy'. However, they're very expensive."

Little Wang became even more excited after hearing that.

Xia Wanqiu and Su Xiaoyu were the top celebrities in the entertainment industry.

Especially Xia Wanqiu. Her popularity had been quite high recently, and many companies wanted to sign an endorsement deal with her.

Xia Wanqiu's popularity had already exceeded Lin Kexin's.

The Legend of Sword and Fairy made Xia Wanqiu and Su Xiaoyu even more popular.

Most of the people who would come to play the game were guys, so Xia Wanqiu and Su Xiaoyu were the most suitable to be the spokespeople of "The Legend of Sword and Fairy".

This way, he could attract more male players to play this game.

Little Wang immediately said, "Alright, Mr. Lin. Thank you very much. It's very difficult to invite Xia Wanqiu and Su Xiaoyu to be our spokespeople. But don't worry, we'll pay any amount!"

Lin Fan nodded. "Alright, it's settled then. Let's find a time to sign the contract."

Little Wang nodded. "Sure, Mr. Lin. Our people will fly to Shanghai overnight and bring the contract to Yuehua for you to sign. At the same time, we will sign the endorsement contract for Miss Xia and Miss Su."

The next day, Lin Fan arrived at the company and told them about this.

The people from Yuehua Entertainment looked at Lin Fan enviously.

One had to know that this was close to 30 million yuan in adaptation fees!

30 million yuan was a sum that many people would never be able to earn in their entire lives.

“Brother Fan, you’re too awesome. You sold the game adaptation rights of just like that.”

“Yeah, Brother Fan is awesome. With 30 million and 10% of the profits as dividends, he might be able to become a billionaire with this game in the future!”

“No, Brother Fan is already a billionaire!”

Looking at everyone, Lin Fan just smiled and knocked on Xia Wanqiu and Su Xiaoyu’s office.

“Meow, meow?” Xia Wanqiu was wearing an exceptionally beautiful dress today. Needless to say, Su Xiaoyu stuck her head out and looked at Lin Fan too.

“Wanqiu, you don’t have an endorsement now. I’ve helped you contact one.”

“When the game ‘The Legend of Sword and Fairy’ is adapted, they’ll invite the two of you to be the spokespeople of this game. They’ll probably pay you pretty well,” said Lin Fan with a smile.

“Master, Master, is it something like this? Hello Evlywan. I’m Zha Zhahui. I’ll recommend a soopah fun game for evlywan. It’s called Playful Blue Moon” Su Xiaoyu laughed. She thought of a game advertisement some time ago that was like this. Because the celebrity’s Mandarin pronunciation was improper, this advertisement became popular as a meme on the internet.¹

Lin Fan knocked on Su Xiaoyu’s head and said, “What are you thinking about every day? This is a very legitimate large-scale game. It’s not like the web-based games you mentioned. They’re all very legitimate. Remember to wear prettier clothes.”

Su Xiaoyu stuck out her tongue and puffed out her chest. "Master, am I not pretty? I have big breasts too."

Xia Wanqiu looked at Su Xiaoyu and puffed out her chest.

1

And then...

Su Xiaoyu was instantly killed.

Chapter 166: At Home, The Wife is in Charge of the Money

"Boohoo, Sister Wanqiu has bigger breasts than me. I'm angry and want to bite someone." Su Xiaoyu felt a little wronged. Her figure was originally quite good, but her breasts were small and she could not do anything about it.

"Haha, it's fine. They'll grow bigger when you find a boyfriend," Xia Wanqiu said.

"No, no!" Su Xiaoyu was angry. She took another bite of a cucumber and turned around.

Xia Wanqiu looked at Lin Fan and smiled. "Lin Fan, CEO Li has also said that he'll leave my endorsements to you. With you helping me do these things, I'm relieved."

"Recently, more than ten endorsements want to sign a contract with me. Sister Yang is still having a headache over this matter. These endorsements are the ones who terminated their contracts with me previously," Xia Wanqiu said.

"It's fine. Leave this to me," said Lin Fan.

In reality, Lin Fan was a little angry.

These endorsements had previously terminated their contracts with Xia Wanqiu.

Now, they wanted to sign a contract with Xia Wanqiu again?

Of course, Lin Fan wouldn't agree.

Furthermore, these endorsements were not international brands. If Xia Wanqiu rejected these endorsements, it would not affect her at all.

In the company, in a very big room.

Many endorsements were there, surrounding Xia Wanqiu's manager, Yang Qing.

"Aiya, it was our fault previously, so we terminated the contract. It's all our fault. Can we sign a new contract with Xia Wanqiu now? We will offer a more sincere price."

"That's right. It's fine if the price rises a little. As long as I can re-sign a contract with Xia Wanqiu, it's a win-win situation."

"Our company isn't bad. Signing a contract with Xia Wanqiu will be beneficial to her. We can even give her an endorsement fee."

More than ten companies surrounded Yang Qing and said. It was obvious that they had already prepared the contracts.

At this moment, Lin Fan walked in.

Lin Fan looked at the people in charge of these endorsements and sat down. He said, "Are you all here to ask Xia Wanqiu to endorse your products?"

"Previously, you guys collectively terminated your contracts with Wanqiu and wanted her to pay a high penalty. Now, you want to sign a contract with her again?"

"Xia Wanqiu doesn't lack endorsements like you."

"Today, on behalf of the company, I officially announce to you."

"We will reject all the endorsements who have terminated their contracts with Xia Wanqiu before and want to re-sign contracts with her."

“Sister Yang, send them out!”

After saying that, Lin Fan turned around and left, closing the door.

So what if he rejected more than ten endorsements? At most, he would lose tens of millions in endorsement fees.

It was only tens of millions. Lin Fan didn't care.

He would settle Xia Wanqiu's endorsements.

In the past, to work and live not only did Xia Wanqiu have to film, her schedule was also very full and she did not have much rest time in a month.

And now, Lin Fan was in charge of Xia Wanqiu's endorsements. He wouldn't let Xia Wanqiu sign so many endorsement deals.

After Lin Fan left, Yang Qing looked at Lin Fan with a different expression.

This was the person Wanqiu liked, Lin Fan.

She finally understood why Xia Wanqiu liked Lin Fan.

Because Lin Fan was always thinking for Xia Wanqiu.

He did it in the past, is doing it now, and would always be doing so in the future.

So what if he lost some endorsement fees?

This was Lin Fan's style.

However, Xia Wanqiu might have to face a situation where she had no endorsements in the future.

Endorsing products was also one of the important sources of income for celebrities. At the same time, they could appear in front of the public.

However, Yang Qing believed that with Lin Fan around, no one would bully Xia Wanqiu in the future.

Then, Lin Fan met the person in charge of Great Universe Information Company, Little Wang.

And today...

Lin Fan and this gaming company had officially reached an agreement.

He sold the rights to adapt The Legend of Sword and Fairy into a game for 30 million yuan.

At the same time...

Lin Fan even found a new endorsement for Xia Wanqiu.

They had to pay Xia Wanqiu a total of 13 million to endorse the game The Legend of Sword and Fairy.

Su Xiaoyu's endorsement price was also 13 million. Just because of Lin Fan's television drama, Xia Wanqiu and Su Xiaoyu could earn 26 million!

...

"Oh yeah, thank you, Master. Without you, I wouldn't have been able to earn so much endorsement fees." Su Xiaoyu giggled.

"I've never signed an endorsement fee of 13 million in the past, and I only need to take a video and some photos," Xia Wanqiu said.

Lin Fan smiled and said, "The two of you are already so popular. It's only right for you to have so much endorsement fees. Xiaoyu, you haven't accepted any endorsements before, right? I'll handle your endorsements in the future as well."

“Alright, Master is the best ~” Su Xiaoyu looked happy. Although she didn’t accept endorsements purely because she had too much money to spend, 13 million seemed like a lot, but it was only equivalent to Su Xiaoyu’s allowance for a week.

However, Su Xiaoyu was very excited. She had earned this money through her own hard work, and she did not have to work too hard.

Xu Yang and Lin Jingjing were a little envious.

This was f*cking 13 million...

What they had to do was very simple. They just had to take photos and videos. These were all things that Xia Wanqiu and Su Xiaoyu were good at.

When the two of them took photos, they could not finish even after taking a thousand photos.

Lin Jingjing looked at Lin Fan and acted coquettishly like Su Xiaoyu. “Lin Fan, I also want to sign an endorsement deal. Why don’t you handle my endorsements in the future too~~”

Lin Fan smiled and walked forward to pat Xu Yang’s shoulder. “Jingjing, Xu Yang is Yuehua’s number one male artiste. With his help, you won’t be deceived if you sign an endorsement contract in the future.”

Xu Yang sighed. “Lin Fan, I’m no longer Yuehua’s top male artiste. You’re Yuehua’s top male artiste now. I also want you to help us handle our endorsements.”

“As for Jingjing, of course I’ll help her if I can. Jingjing is so beautiful, why would she be afraid of not being able to find endorsement deals?” Xu Yang smiled and looked at Lin Jingjing.

Ever since Lin Fan and Xia Wanqiu’s relationship became so good, Xu Yang tried to gradually forget Xia Wanqiu and cherish the people around him.

After filming “The Legend of Sword and Fairy” with Lin Jingjing, Xu Yang gradually realized how good Lin Jingjing was.

Lin Jingjing was so good. Although she wasn’t as pretty as Xia Wanqiu, she was still suitable to be his girlfriend.

Looking at Xu Yang and Lin Jingjing's exchange of gazes, Lin Fan smiled brightly. Xu Yang had improved a lot these few days.

Lin Jingjing's face was slightly red. She looked at Xu Yang with her beautiful eyes and retracted her gaze without batting an eyelid. She looked at Lin Fan again and said, "Lin Fan, you've become so awesome before we even realized it. Next time, I'll want to ride on your popularity. When I hold a concert, you have to come and support me. This is what you promised me."

"Alright." Lin Fan smiled. After all, acting was just Lin Jingjing's side hustle. Her true identity was a big singer and she was very popular. Many people liked to hear her sing.

"Thank you. My next concert is in a month. I'm officially inviting you now. As for money, I don't have money." Lin Jingjing lowered her head and felt a little aggrieved.

Even if she was a big singer, the money she earned from holding a concert was far less than what Lin Fan earned from selling the game's copyright.

If Lin Jingjing really went to invite Lin Fan to sing, she was worried that she wouldn't be able to afford it.

Xia Wanqiu said, "Jingjing, it's fine. He'll do it for free."

Lin Jingjing's beautiful eyes lit up. Xu Yang asked, "Wanqiu, how do you know that Lin Fan will do it for free..."

Xia Wanqiu looked at Lin Fan with a fierce expression. "If I don't allow him to get paid for it, he can't."

Lin Fan nodded. "Yes, my wife is in charge of the money at home. She has the final say."

Xu Yang: "!!!"

Lin Jingjing: "!!!"

Su Xiaoyu: "!!!"

Chapter 167: LV and Chanel's Second-Largest Shareholder, Lin Fan!

Xia Wanqiu's cheeks were slightly red as she glared at Lin Fan. "Shameless, bad guy!"

Looking at Xia Wanqiu, the others felt like they had been stuffed with dog food again.

Forget about Su Xiaoyu and Lin Jingjing. The two of them were already used to being stuffed with dog food.

Xu Yang felt his life turn dark.

Lin Fan said that Xia Wanqiu was his wife.

Xia Wanqiu immediately blushed and said that Lin Fan was a bad person.

There was a very important detail.

That was, Xia Wanqiu did not reject him!

She didn't reject how Lin Fan addressed her.

What did this mean?

How could ordinary girls let others call them their wives?

If you don't believe me, you can try it on the streets. Just pull a girl over and call her your wife.

It would be fine if the other party did not have a boyfriend, but if she did...

Even if the other party did not have a boyfriend, any girl would not accept others calling her "wife".

Wife, darling. These were all ways to address your girlfriend.

Xia Wanqiu did not refuse. Didn't this mean that she had tacitly agreed?

Could it be that the two of them had already...

Xu Yang felt like vomiting blood.

He was Xu Yang, Yuehua's number one male artiste. He was usually admired by others.

He had been stuffed with dog food so many times before, but he had already turned over a new leaf. He tried to see the scenery around him and discover the people around him.

Even so, he could be stuffed with dog food.

Lin Fan and Xia Wanqiu stuffed him with dog food again.

Moreover, Xu Yang had seen this dog food with his own eyes.

What kind of f*cking life was this?

"What's wrong, Xu Yang?" Lin Fan looked at Xu Yang and waved in front of him.

"Xu Yang..." Lin Jingjing looked at Xu Yang worriedly.

"I'm... fine."

"I just don't know why I'm so full before dinner." Xu Yang sighed.

"Let's go. I'll treat you to a meal," Lin Jingjing said with a sweet smile as she looked at Xu Yang.

"Okay..." Xu Yang was pulled away by Lin Jingjing.

...

After work, Lin Fan lay on the sofa alone at home.

He was deep in thought.

After all, Xia Wanqiu was such a popular celebrity. Just the endorsement of “The Legend of Sword and Fairy” was not enough.

After such a long time, Lin Fan realized that his system had entered a standby state.

Every day, other than signing in for a bottle of mineral water, he would get a bottle of iced tea or a bottle of Pulse.

Occasionally, he could even sign in to get a Tomson Riviera villa model.

The last time, it was even worse. This system actually produced a toy Ferrari sports car.

It was a Ferrari about the size of a palm. It had even given Lin Fan a remote control that could be used to control the Ferrari toy car.

“I should get something good today.”

“There are still five days before Wanqiu’s birthday. I have to prepare a surprise for her.”

“System, sign in.” Lin Fan muttered in his heart.

“Ding... Signed in successfully.”

“Congratulations Master for obtaining world-class piano mastery!”

“Congratulations Master for obtaining 10% of Chanel’s shares. The relevant title deeds have been issued.”

“Congratulations Master for obtaining 10% of the shares of Louis Vuitton. The relevant title deeds have been issued to the system inventory. Master, please take note.”

When Lin Fan received these three messages, he was shocked.

The first one was still alright. He was a world-class piano master.

Lin Fan had the skills of a singing god and his musical attainments had reached the peak of perfection.

The second message was about obtaining Chanel shares. Chanel was a luxury brand in world history.

Lin Fan immediately opened Baidu and searched for information about Chanel.

Chanel was one of the top nine most valuable luxury brands in the world!

And Chanel was very popular.

Ask any girl on the streets. She might not know what a Koenigsegg One was, but she must know what Chanel was.

As one of the world's top luxury brands, almost all girls yearned to have such a product.

However, things often did not go according to plan. The prices of luxury brands were often sky-high.

For such a product to be called a luxury item, it was not something that ordinary people could afford.

And Chanel's market value was about US$22.1 billion.

If it was converted to RMB...

It was equivalent to a market value of 154.4 billion yuan!

154.4 billion yuan was an astronomical price!

A truly astronomical price.

Lin Fan owned 10% of Chanel's shares and became the second-largest shareholder of Chanel.

And 10% of the shares was equivalent to 15.44 billion yuan!

Even if Lin Fan didn't do anything every year, how much dividends could he receive?

He could at least receive a few hundred million yuan in dividends every year.

As the world's largest luxury item brand, Chanel's annual profits were immeasurable.

If the second item he received was crazy enough,

Then the third thing he signed in to receive was enough to make the world exclaim.

There were many luxury goods brands in the world, including Hermes, Chanel, Lancôme, Estee Lauder, and so on.

However, the luxury goods brand that had always occupied the top position in the world of luxury goods and retail was LV!

LV's full name was Louis Vuitton.

LV's market value was about 32.2 billion USD. Converted to RMB, it was equivalent to 225 billion yuan.

225 billion yuan was already a number that countless rich people looked up to.

To be able to sign in to receive the shares of two luxury brands at the same time, Lin Fan had already become the second-largest shareholder of two luxury brands.

After seeing this news, this was the first time Lin Fan felt excited.

It had been almost a few months since he had signed in for something good.

Now, he had finally become a major shareholder of two major luxury brands.

Furthermore, there were two branches of these luxury brands in Shanghai.

When Lin Fan signed in for the shares of these two companies, he only had one feeling.

I'm rich!

He was going to be rich!

If he became a shareholder of these two companies, he would not lack money to spend in the future.

However, Lin Fan didn't really care about money. The first thing he thought of was that Xia Wanqiu hadn't signed many endorsement deals recently.

Then these two companies were just right.

After signing in for the shares of the two companies,

The headquarters of LV and Chanel were all deeply shocked.

(For the sake of convenience, foreign brands are also written in Chinese, not English.)

"What the f*ck?"

"How is that possible..."

"Have you heard? The major shareholder of Chanel has changed!"

"Someone has become our company's second-largest shareholder and has 10% of our company's shares!"

“Oh my god, who is this tycoon? He can actually buy 10% of our company’s shares. That must be worth tens of billions.”

“I’m stunned. Could it be Alibaba’s CEO Ma? That shouldn’t be the case. When did such a rich boss appear in China? He took out tens of billions at once.”

“I’m stunned. This boss is really rich.”

“I found it. I finally found it.”

“The big boss who bought our company’s shares, the second-largest shareholder of our company, his name is...”

“Lin Fan!!!”

Chapter 168: The Overseas Executives Are Shocked, The CEO of Chanel Is Stunned!

At Chanel’s headquarters.

The company’s higher-ups were shocked.

Because Chanel was the world’s top luxury brand, the amount of shares each major shareholder held had not changed for a long time.

If one wanted to buy the shares of a major shareholder, they had to pay a huge price.

Ten billion yuan in cash was not a small number.

Even if many big bosses in China had so much money, most people did not have so much cash.

Many fixed assets, shares, and company valuations could not be converted into cash so easily.

There were very few people who could afford so much money.

Furthermore, the major shareholders of these luxury companies would not sell so many shares so easily.

They could earn an astronomical figure in dividends every year even when lying down. They would have endless money to spend for the rest of their lives.

But today, the company's second-largest shareholder announced his withdrawal.

And his shares had been transferred to a young man from China, Lin Fan.

Everyone in the company was guessing Lin Fan's background.

But no one could guess.

To be able to obtain so many shares, Lin Fan was definitely not a simple person.

From now on, Lin Fan would be a higher-up in Chanel's headquarters.

The second-largest shareholder was the big boss second only to the largest shareholder.

"Everyone, no matter what, from today onwards, Lin Fan will be the second-largest shareholder of Chanel. He has the right to hold a board meeting in the company. Lin Fan also has a lot of decision-making power in the company."

"In the future, no matter who it is in the company, they have to be very respectful to Lin Fan. Lin Fan will be the second-largest shareholder of our company in the future. Everyone has to do this."

"Also, everyone has to keep Lin Fan's identity a secret. All the employees have to sign a confidentiality agreement and can't reveal his identity."

"If Lin Fan comes to any branch company in the world, he has to be received with the highest etiquette and scale. At the same time, especially in China's Shanghai branch company, you have to be especially careful," the CEO of Chanel said.

All the members of the company's board of directors nodded.

Although 10% of the shares was not a lot, in a company, it was equivalent to one-tenth of Chanel's market value.

Such an amount of shares was already terrifyingly high.

Lin Fan even had a lot of decision-making power in some meetings.

Of course, the other shareholders of the company could also oppose Lin Fan. However, Lin Fan had so many shares. In the future, when the company made any decisions, he would have the right to veto!

Chanel was special. It was different from domestic equity companies. Domestic equity companies needed a shareholder to hold 33.4% of the shares before they could have veto power.

But it was different in Chanel.

Lin Fan was an absolute high-level member of the board of directors. Ordinary members of the board of directors wouldn't reject Lin Fan.

Lin Fan's decisions could even affect the fate of the entire Chanel brand!

After the CEO of Chanel finished speaking, Lin Fan's photo was secretly sent to many employees of the company.

For a luxury brand like Chanel, no employee would directly violate the orders of the headquarters.

Furthermore, all the employees would sign a confidentiality agreement. This way, Lin Fan's identity wouldn't be discovered by outsiders.

When they saw Lin Fan's photo, all the employees in various branches around the world, especially in Shanghai, were shocked.

"D*mn, d*mn, the second-largest shareholder of Chanel is actually Lin Fan!"

"I know Lin Fan. He acted in the Legend of Sword and Fairy. It's too good!"

“Watch your words. You have to call him Boss Lin. So Boss Lin is so awesome.”

“That’s right. Boss Lin will be a big shareholder of our company in the future. We have to welcome him well.”

Everyone from the Shanghai branch company exclaimed. After all, Lin Fan’s current identity had already exceeded everyone’s imagination.

The Chanel headquarters was shaken!

At the same time, the CEO of Chanel personally said, “Prepare my private plane immediately. I want to personally make a trip to Shanghai to meet our company’s second-largest shareholder, Lin Fan!”

“If Lin Fan gives any different opinions on the company’s development, I have to listen carefully. At least I have to see if Lin Fan has any new direction for the company’s development.”

After the CEO of Chanel made his decision, he personally boarded his private plane. He traveled through the night, preparing to head to Shanghai to meet the company’s second-largest shareholder, Lin Fan.

Seeing the attitude of the CEO of Chanel, all the higher-ups in the Chanel headquarters were shocked.

“Our CEO is too surprising. His time is so precious and he’s usually unwilling to meet anyone. But this time, he’s going to China personally to meet Lin Fan.”

“Of course he has to meet him. Lin Fan is our company’s second-largest shareholder. It’s no exaggeration to say that Lin Fan is very useful to our company’s future development.”

“You have to know that our CEO only has 11.3% of the company’s shares. If Boss Lin wants to interfere in the company’s affairs, even our CEO won’t be able to stop him!”

“Of course, the CEO can work with the board of directors to target Boss Lin, but this way, he will completely offend Boss Lin. If he offends the company’s higher-ups, it will have an important impact on the entire company’s future!”

“Although the current CEO of our company is Bruno Pavlovsky, if Boss Lin really wants to fight, our company’s CEO might be replaced.”

“That’s right. Boss Lin is extremely important to our company. Therefore, even the CEO has to personally meet Boss Lin. At the very least, he has to know CEO Lin’s attitude towards our company’s development.”

“How awesome is Lin Fan in China? I just found some information. I heard that he’s an actor and a screenwriting master. He’s also a directing master. ‘The Legend of Sword and Fairy’ he directed is very good.”

“No, no, no. You thought too simply. This is only Boss Lin’s identity on the surface. You won’t be able to find out his true identity. It’s just like how outsiders will know that Boss Lin is an actor when they see him. However, outsiders will definitely not know that Boss Lin is also a major shareholder of Chanel!”

“Therefore, we don’t know if Boss Lin has another identity. Of course, we can be sure of this. If not, Boss Lin definitely wouldn’t be able to buy such a big share of our company.”

“From the looks of it, not only does Boss Lin have status, he also has a very high status!”

Therefore, today, Lin Fan had just become the second-largest shareholder of Chanel. The CEO of Chanel personally set off and took a plane to Shanghai.

He wanted to see Lin Fan and see his attitude towards the company’s future development!

Lin Fan’s importance to the entire Chanel company was self-evident!

Chapter 169: Alarming the LV Headquarters, Lin Fan’s True Identity!

On the other side, the headquarters of LV was also shaken.

LV, as the top luxury brand in the world, became the symbol of fashion and art with outstanding quality, creativity, and exquisite craftsmanship. Its products included handbags, travel goods, small leather equipment, accessories, shoes, clothes, wristwatches, high-end jewelry, and personalized customization services.

LV’s headquarters were in Paris.

Normally, they would not hold a board meeting, much less gather all the higher-ups of the company.

Unless there was a special situation, a huge matter, or a new decision in the company.

Today, the LV headquarters held an emergency board meeting.

The reason was simple. In LV, the second-largest shareholder had also left the company.

And his shares were handed over to Lin Fan.

Lin Fan had also become one of the major shareholders of LV.

A change in the company's major shareholders was a very important matter.

Even the CEO of LV, Bernard Arnault, was alarmed.

The company's major shareholders had changed!

And he was Chinese.

All along, the shares of LV had been handled by his countrymen.

But today, Lin Fan had become a major shareholder of LV.

The entire company had to hold an emergency meeting to understand who Lin Fan was.

"Did you hear? F*ck, our company's shareholders have really changed!"

"What the f*ck? What's his name? Which shareholder changed?"

"Don't you know? There's a Chinese called Lin Fan. He bought 10% of our company's shares. Our company's market value is 225 billion RMB. Lin Fan spent at least 22.5 billion RMB."

“D*mn, he’s so rich. Lin Fan bought so many shares directly. He’s richer than us.”

“Needless to say, our company is going to be in an uproar. Maybe Lin Fan’s appearance will make our company focus more on the Chinese market. I don’t know what the new boss will say when he comes. It’s said that a new official makes a name for himself.”

“That has nothing to do with us as long as we can earn money.”

“I wonder what our CEO wants to do.”

Just like Chanel, the CEO of LV had already found some information about Lin Fan.

Ordinary people wouldn’t be able to find such information, but what kind of person was the CEO of LV? He had staff everywhere. It was very easy to search for information about Lin Fan.

It was fine if he didn’t search for it, but once he did, he was shocked.

To the LV CEO, although Lin Fan’s identity as a director and actor was not bad, it wasn’t that important.

At least, he didn’t have the right to be liked by the LV CEO.

When the LV CEO continued to search, he realized that Lin Fan was a major shareholder of many companies in China with a market value of billions.

To the LV CEO, a few billion was not a lot.

The LV CEO had always been curious. Why couldn’t he find any other information about Lin Fan?

Could it be that Lin Fan had businesses overseas too?

The LV CEO immediately mobilized all the resources he could and found a shocking truth.

Lin Fan had become the second-largest shareholder of LV. Bullsh*t, idiot author. Was there a need to search about that? The CEO of LV didn't need to check to know that.

Most importantly... Lin Fan was the second-largest shareholder of Chanel as well!

This information shocked the LV CEO.

Because... LV and Chanel were both top luxury brands.

The market value of the two companies was also more than a hundred billion USD.

If a tycoon suddenly wanted to buy 10% of the shares of LV, it was understandable.

After all, there were too many rich people in this world. No one knew what this person's background was.

However, Lin Fan had bought the shares of two luxury brands at the same time.

What did this mean...

Lin Fan had to have at least 40 billion in cash!

To be able to take out 40 billion in cash to buy the shares of two companies at once, what did this mean? Lin Fan's assets had to be at least 100 billion!

To put it simply, how many assets did Lin Fan have across the country if he could casually take out 40 billion in cash? How many companies was he a shareholder of?

Now he was just in Europe, he casually checked and found out that Lin Fan was a shareholder of two luxury brands.

What about Africa, Asia, North and South America? There were so many countries. He could invest anywhere. It was too difficult to search for information about Lin Fan.

If a person with hundreds of billions of assets suddenly wanted to become the largest shareholder of LV, he could do it!

In an instant, the LV CEO felt a sense of danger.

This Lin Fan wasn't simple.

Lin Fan was like a big boss who had suddenly appeared in front of the CEO of LV.

Most importantly, he couldn't find any other information about Lin Fan.

Other information was all top secret!

To be able to have his information classified as top secret, one could imagine what kind of person Lin Fan was.

Of course, this was also because of the system. When protecting Lin Fan, everything the system did was reasonable. That was why people couldn't see any flaws.

The LV CEO was extremely shocked.

Lin Fan's identity was definitely not as simple as it seemed.

Why did Lin Fan suddenly buy the shares of two luxury brands? No one knew.

However, the LV CEO received a very important piece of information.

That was, no matter what, he couldn't offend Lin Fan.

Not to mention Lin Fan's background, just his identity on the surface alone was enough for the LV CEO to not underestimate him.

Therefore, the LV CEO made the same decision as the Chanel CEO.

No matter which LV branch Lin Fan came to, he would receive the highest level of treatment!

It was equivalent to the company having to put in 120% effort to deal with a CEO personally coming to the branch.

At the same time, Lin Fan's photo had already been sent to the people in charge of the various branches. They also requested that Lin Fan's information not be leaked.

This was already the first step of the LV CEO trying to please Lin Fan.

Once they revealed Lin Fan's information, he might get angry.

Immediately, the LV CEO prepared a plane and took it to Shanghai.

Even after LV held a board meeting, the CEO only said a sentence.

From now on, Lin Fan was the second largest-shareholder of LV. When they saw Lin Fan, it was as if they were seeing the CEO in person. They had to treat him with the highest level of etiquette.

In other words, he had to rope Lin Fan in.

Even if Lin Fan needed a designer from LV to personally design clothes and bags,

Or perhaps Lin Fan had fallen for a girl. There were all sorts of conditions. As long as they were not illegal, the people in the company had to satisfy Lin Fan as much as possible.

Before the LV CEO could say anything else, he had already taken a plane to Shanghai.

After the LV CEO left,

The board of directors of LV was completely shocked.

Oh God.

What kind of person had come to their company?

The CEO had to personally receive him!!!
