

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 1071

Stanley was already asleep when Alex arrived home. As Alex was lazing on the couch, he couldn't help but think about how Jule looked when he saw her at the eatery.

She seems so familiar, but she's definitely not Juliet. I can't tell what is missing. Alex felt an inexplicable sense of familiarity.

However, Alex knew how much Flynn liked the girl who looked identical to his late wife, Juliet. Despite his doubts, he felt happy for Flynn to have found that girl to keep him company.

Alex stopped thinking about the matter and went to his study desk to flip through the Nine Heaven Scrolls.

After that, he'd also studied the Casdisca that Flynn risked his life to bring back.

In the end, he couldn't figure it out, so he decided to bring that along with the millennial ginseng to get Tyrael to check them out. After all, Flynn had heard about the Casdisca from Auriel.

The next morning, Alex woke up and went to wash up. Suddenly, he received a call from Flynn.

Flynn was stumped. Could this be about the girl who looks like Juliet? Is Flynn in trouble?

“Hey! Are you awake yet, Alex? I need your help.”
Flynn sounded normal, and he didn't sound like he was in any danger.

“Even if I was still asleep, I would've been woken up by your call! What is it that you need my help with?”

Alex held his head in helplessness. It seems like this has something to do with Jule.

“Jule's dad has leukemia, and he's not doing well. Since you're so capable, you should be able to cure him, right? I've already told Jule that you could definitely do it! So don't embarrass me, okay?” Flynn asked.

Considering how good a friend Flynn was to Alex, he couldn't say no to him. “Since you've found someone you like, I'll help as much as I can. Send me the address, and I'll head over as soon as possible.”

Soon, Flynn sent Alex the location he was currently at. Initially, Alex wanted to send Stanley to school. Oh well, it looks like I can only pick him up after his school now.

After getting ready, Alex headed toward the location

Flynn sent to him and arrived at a remote alley.

The alley was shabby, and it was filled with trash. The people there were also looking at Alex strangely when he was walking through the alley.

Seeing that the people there weren't fond of conversing, Alex didn't bother to interact with them. He followed the location and arrived at a shabby-looking house.

Before he went in, he heard Flynn saying from inside the house, "Mister, don't worry. My friend will surely be able to cure you because he's a divine physician! Once you're cured, I'll bring Jule to look for a house in town so that you can get out of this place."

Upon hearing Flynn's voice, Alex was sure he'd arrived at the right place. When he pushed the door open and stepped inside, he noticed the house was rather cramped, and it had four small rooms and a living room.

“Alex! We've waited for you for so long! Why have you only arrived now? Don't just stand there. Come in and quickly check the patient!” When Flynn saw Alex, he rushed toward Alex and dragged him toward the patient.

Alex was rendered speechless. Why is he rushing me to treat Jule's dad? Didn't they just meet last night? Things are developing too fast between them, no?

“Well, this illness is curable. Let me have a look,” Alex uttered.

Since the elixir Alex had created was magical, he could definitely cure a commoner like Jule's father.

The bedridden elderly man with white hair was overjoyed when he heard Alex's words. Jule, however, didn't have much reaction. It was as if she'd seen that coming.

Chapter 1072

“My friend is very capable! In fact, he's like an immortal who had descended into the human world. If he says he can cure the disease, then he'll surely deliver. Don't worry anymore, okay, Jule?” Flynn smiled.

Upon hearing Flynn's words, Jule retracted her gaze from Alex and acted like she was over the moon. With a wide smile on her face, she said, “I'd be so grateful if you guys can cure my dad! I'm willing to do whatever it takes to repay you guys.”

“That's not necessary.” Alex walked up to the old patient and took his pulse. After a while, he'd figured out what to do next.

“I'll come back in two days' time to cure him completely.” Alex tucked the old man back in after taking his pulse.

He then approached Flynn and tapped on his shoulder. “Follow me. I have something to tell you,” he whispered.

Without knowing what Alex was going to say, Flynn just followed him down the stairs to a secluded area. Curious, he asked, “What is it, Alex? Is Jule's dad's disease too hard to cure?”

“It's not that. Instead, I have to warn you about Jule. Something's up with her. Be careful, okay? I don't think she's as innocent as she looks,” Alex warned earnestly.

Alex had already had a weird feeling about Jule ever since the night before. What happened today is even weirder! There wasn't a single photo of Jule in the room just now. In fact, she doesn't even look like the sick old man. Is she even his daughter?

Flynn wasn't fazed by Alex's warning. Instead, he leaned closer and whispered into Alex's ear, “I've already checked Jule out last night. She's actually a nice girl!”

Suddenly, Flynn blushed, and he couldn't help but smile when he added, “Scrap that. She's a good woman! In fact, she'd given her pure self to me last night. What kind of man will I be if I were to get suspicious of her now? I'm sure she's a nice person. She told me she'd been an orphan since she was young, and she'd grown up in an orphanage. The old man in there had supported her throughout her life after adopting her. Can you please do your best to cure her dad for my sake?"

Alex was stunned, and he nodded hesitatingly. Not only are things developing quickly between them, but they've also slept together after knowing each other for a day. Perhaps, I'm just overthinking. Jule doesn't look like her dad because she isn't even his biological daughter. It's actually a good thing that Flynn had found a person he likes, and he doesn't have to grow old on his own. If he says Jule is all right, maybe I should just back off.

Although Flynn would usually seem like a man who didn't care about anything, he was rather sweet and thoughtful when Jule was concerned.

In no time, they'd really gone to town to buy a house for Jule and her father. At first, Jule had rejected Flynn's kind gesture, but he insisted on buying the house for them.

Flynn would actually open car doors for Jule. When they went out for a meal, he'd also pull out her chair for her, and he'd get food on her plate. Indeed, he was very attentive.

He went from the usual intimidating King Class warrior to a simp that day.

Alex noticed how much Flynn cared for Jule, and he was happy for him. At the same time, he was impressed by how good she was at pleasing him. She'd gotten control of him in such a short period of time!

While Flynn and Jule were filled to the brim after the meal, Alex was getting sick of their display of affection in public. He bade them farewell and went back to his office.

He went into his office and saw a woman sitting in his seat. From her back, he felt the woman looked somewhat familiar.

Chapter 1073

“Helen, why did you come to my office without my permission?” Alex asked unhappily. I have confidential files on my computer! Although no one knows the password to my computer, the security guards shouldn't have let someone into my office without my knowledge! I've got to address this issue later.

Helen stood up when she heard him. With a gracious smile on her face, she asked, "What's wrong? It's not like I'm a corporate spy or something! Why can't I come into your office?"

Alex was rendered speechless. Instead of answering Helen's questions, he asked coldly, "Why did you come to my office to look for me? You could've just called me, no?"

Helen pursed her lips and grumbled, "Are you sure? You don't even pick up my calls, so I've come to give you a surprise. Now, there's no way you can avoid me!"

“Ms. Storm, get a grip, okay? There's nothing going on between us. If you keep doing this, don't blame me for being ruthless.” Alex was having none of it.

Although many women had pursued him before, he'd never despised a woman so much.

It was mostly due to the fact that Helen was Elsa's best friend. She knows Elsa is into me, so how could she do this to her best friend? Doesn't this girl have issues with morals or ethics?

The smile on Helen's face froze. She then walked up to Alex and asked pitifully, “How could you just blatantly reject a beautiful girl like me? Do you find me disgusting or something? I came here to tell you that Mr. Ogawa had opened a new shop, and he'd invited Elsa over to the opening ceremony. You're well aware of how he feels toward Elsa, right? He must be planning on something nasty! I'm worried about her, so I wanted to ask you to go with me.”

Alex smirked in response. I know how Ichiro feels toward Elsa, but I am sure Helen would have come up with her own scheme as well!

“You have something else on your mind, don't you?”

Alex asked flatly.

“You're such a ridiculously stubborn man! How could you blame me for liking you when you're so incredible? What kind of person do you think I am? Screw this! You can go if you want to. Hmph!” Helen huffed aloud and stomped her feet before heading out of the office. It seemed like she was angry.

Alex couldn't be bothered. My life is rather peaceful now, and I don't want to complicate things with a girl like her. She's so cunning!

However, Ichiro's new restaurant had piqued Alex's interest. He was surprised by the fact that Ichiro had opened his own restaurant there. Before this, that man from Jetroina came to me, and he was so desperate to work with me. Since I've rejected him unhesitatingly, I thought he'd give up on doing anything in Eurasia.

At that thought, Alex saw a brochure on his desk from the corners of his eyes. Obviously, this was brought here by Helen.

Alex picked up the brochure and had a look at it. Not too bad of a ceremony! Since I'm free, perhaps I should head over and have a look. Besides, Elsa is going to be there.

Alex didn't bother to get changed or get dressed for the occasion. He merely got into his car and drove there. When he arrived, the place was already packed.

When Alex was sizing the restaurant up, a woman showed up beside him and held his arm. With her head leaning on Alex's shoulder, she exclaimed, “You're such a softie! I knew you'd come!”

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 1074

“You were treating me coldly in the office just now, right? Why did you suddenly change your mind and come here?” Helen was overjoyed when she saw Alex showing up at the event.

Alex was slightly annoyed. I've only gotten here, and she'd already shown up before I could even check this place out. He instinctively tried to shake her off, but Helen ended up grabbing his arm even tighter.

“I'm still a very beautiful girl, after all. I think you'd look great with me standing by your side. If you reject me again, I'll tell everyone you've molested me.” Helen resorted to making threats seeing what he was trying to do.

Alex was unperturbed. So what if she tells everyone I've molested her? I can deal with how everyone here might think later. I can't let her have her way!

“Mr. Jefferson! Who would've thought I'd bump into you here? What a pleasure!” Right then, a middle-aged man approached Alex and greeted him. Alex knew that man because the man had just had a discussion on the collaboration with Four Seas Corporation a few days prior.

“Likewise,” Alex answered politely.

The man then shifted his gaze toward Helen and started making assumptions about their relationship when he saw their intimate interaction.

Considering the situation, Alex had no choice but to consider his options. I wonder what Helen is going to do if I push her away now? I know how good she is at acting. If she starts acting pitiful, everyone's going to believe her. Fine, then. I'll just let her hold my arm. It's not like she's going to break it or something.

On the second floor, Elsa was looking at both of them with a complicated expression. She saw her best friend approaching Alex with her own eyes. Since she was standing far away from them, she couldn't hear their conversation. However, she was sure something was going on between them.

Elsa clenched her fists tight. She didn't even know that her nails had dug deep into her palms—she was heartbroken.

In fact, Helen had told her before that she wanted to pursue Alex. Elsa already felt horrible when she heard her saying that. However, she thought she knew Alex well enough to know that he wouldn't fall for a girl like Helen.

Who would've known their relationship would develop so fast? I don't get it. How am I any worse than Helen? Not only am I prettier than her, but I've also known Alex longer. With those thoughts in her mind, Elsa felt even more displeased.

When Elsa was sulking, Ichiro suddenly put his arm over her shoulders. “Elsa! Don't dwell on it anymore, okay? Mr. Jefferson and Helen are acting out of line! How could they get together without your knowledge? They don't respect you at all! Elsa, I'm so upset when I see you getting mistreated. No matter how capable Mr. Jefferson is, I ought to talk to him about this. How could he do this to you? He has gone too far!”

Ichiro sounded more and more emotional as he spoke. When he was about to confront Alex about it, Elsa quickly stopped him because she was worried that he might cause a scene.

After all, it was Ichiro's opening ceremony. She couldn't let him ruin his special day just because of how she felt.

“Thank you for your kind gesture. However, you don't have to do such a thing for me. Besides, it's just a one-sided relationship at the moment. Although I'm into him, he has the freedom to choose who he wants to be with.” Elsa was rather dispirited.

Upon seeing that, Ichiro knew his chance had arrived, so he quickly comforted her, “I'd dreamt of having a girlfriend like you, Elsa. Alex had definitely taken you for granted. If I were him, I'd never let you get hurt.”

Elsa eventually felt better after hearing Ichiro's words. Although she'd always acted like a strong woman, she was rather fragile when it came to relationships.

No matter how strong she was, she'd still need a man she could rely on. It was a huge blow to Elsa's ego after getting rejected by Alex a few times.

She was overwhelmed by jealousy because Alex had gone behind her back to be with Helen. Right then, an audacious idea flashed across her mind. I'm going to do something to upset him in return.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 1075

Numerous prominent people attended the opening of Ichiro's restaurant. It was a grand and upscale establishment where a meal would cost ten thousand easily.

Its interior design was in Jetroinian style, and everything was made of wood. Moreover, there were exquisite murals in the private rooms. The waiters serving them were dressed in traditional clothes and had their faces painted white like geishas.

However, Alex had difficulty appreciating such a unique aspect of Jetroina's culture. Furthermore, there was no chair in the private room. Thus, he found it rather uncomfortable, as he had to sit cross-legged on the floor.

Alex also found it hard to appreciate the food. Most of the food on their table was uncooked meat. He found them unpalatable and felt repulsed by Jetroinian culture.

“What's wrong? Are you not used to the food?” Helen sent Alex a charming glance. She leaned her figure toward Alex, exposing a generous expanse of her fair chest.

Alex was unprepared and saw everything. He cleared his throat and leaned his head to the other side before saying coldly, “Helen, don't assume you can get away with everything just because you are Elsa's friend. I don't care that you are a woman. If you dare threaten me again, I will beat you up too!”

As expected, Alex had snubbed Helen again. Initially, Helen would feel sad about it, but she gradually got used to it.

She was not in love with Alex but was attracted by his power and wealth. Nothing mattered to her as long as she could marry into such a family.

Helen pursed her red lips, held Alex's wrist, and said in a sickeningly sweet tone, “Fine, it was my fault. I like you and wish to get to know you more. Why do you always have to behave so coldly? You make me sad.”

Alex's expression remained stern as he pushed away Helen's hand. “I'm only here to check this place out, so you would better behave yourself. If you touch me again, I will not hesitate to kick you out of this room.”

Alex gave Helen cold shoulders whenever she tried to be friendly. Although Helen had a lot of patience, the constant coldness wore it down, and she could not help but feel annoyed. However, Alex did not sound like he was joking. Thus, Helen had no choice but to stop touching him.

Suddenly, someone opened the sliding door. It was Elsa and Ichiro. Elsa held Ichiro's arm as they walked together into the room. They stuck close to each other and looked like a pair of lovebirds.

Alex was puzzled by what he saw. He remembered Elsa was not interested in Ichiro. Thus, Alex could not understand why they were now so close.

Suddenly, he recalled what Helen had told him in the office. She said that Elsa took the initiative to attend this opening ceremony. It seems Elsa and Ichiro have become closer.

Alex did not like Ichiro. But since Elsa could accept Ichiro with a sincere heart, Alex felt that an outsider like him should not get involved.

“Wow, Elsa. I didn't expect to find you with Mr. Ogawa! To be honest, both of you look good together. Furthermore, Mr. Ogawa loves you, so I believe you will be happy.” Helen looked on enviously and deliberately raised her pitch.

“Congratulations.” Alex congratulated them because it would be strange if he said nothing. He did not know what else to say. In actuality, he felt jealous and uncomfortable.

He kept feeling that Elsa was too hasty in choosing to accept Ichiro. Instead, she should have searched more carefully for someone worthy of her. Alex always felt that Ichiro was not good enough for Elsa.

Meanwhile, Elsa's expression darkened upon hearing Alex. She realized that she was about to lose it and controlled herself.

“Thank you. I hope you and Helen will have a lasting relationship,” Elsa said with a smile that did not reach her eyes.

It felt a little awkward when the four of them sat together. All the while, Ichiro took care of Elsa attentively. It reminded Alex of how Flynn took care of Jule.

After some time, Alex found that life seemed rather pathetic as he kept having to witness couples acting all lovely-dovey before him.

As he was still in a daze, Helen placed a slice of Jetronian premium beef on his plate and smiled. “Since you are not used to raw meat, you should try this.”

“Thank you.” Alex thanked her and began to eat the beef.

After Alex finished chewing the beef, he instinctively focused on Elsa and Ichiro again. However, he suddenly felt something soft and slippery gliding across his lips.

Alex was shocked and immediately looked at Helen.

Helen licked her lips with a satisfied expression. It looked like she had tasted something delectable.

Then, she noticed everyone staring at her. It made her unhappy because she believed she had done nothing wrong. Thus, she spoke with her head held high. “Why are you all looking at me like that? I saw a sauce stain on Alex's lips and licked his lips to taste it. We are a couple, so what's so strange about it?”

Then, Helen looked at Alex pleadingly and fluttered her lashes from an angle that Elsa and Ichiro would not notice.

Although Alex was uncomfortable that Helen took advantage of him, he was not angry. Furthermore, Alex was unhappy that Elsa suddenly got together with Ichiro. Therefore, he did not expose Helen and planned to play along with her.

“Hmm, let's eat. There are many people around us. Don't be so naughty next time,” Alex said calmly.

Helen was delighted. She behaved coyly and leaned her head on Alex's shoulder before saying in a sickeningly sweet tone, “All right, I understand. I'll kiss you again when no one is around.”

Alex did not say anything but let her continue with her act.

On the other hand, Elsa could not stand watching it anymore. She looked livid when she said she was unwell and got up to leave.

and thought Elsa was unwell. He offered to check her health.

“No need, it's nothing serious. I'll be fine after some rest. Please continue the meal without me. I'm going home.” Elsa left immediately after saying that.

Ichiro excused himself and left the room with Elsa.

Meanwhile, Helen, the instigator of this incident, did not feel she had done anything wrong. She propped her chin on her hands and smiled as she stared at Alex. “You are not as uptight as I thought. I like it when you told me not to be naughty.”

Alex was rendered speechless. He put down his cutlery and said, “Helen, from how you dress, I can guess that you come from a well-to-do family. Did your family not teach you something called shame? I have clearly rejected you, but you insist on coming closer. How can you be this shameless?"

Helen's smile gradually faded. Even though she was thick-skinned, she could not help but felt embarrassed by what Alex said.

"Is it wrong to like someone? I like you, so I wish to pursue you. What's wrong with daring to pursue someone I like? Why do you have to humiliate me like this?" she retorted.

Alex smirked and did not plan to show Helen mercy.

"Why don't you ask yourself this? Do you like me, or do you like my status and power? You seemed to care what was best for Elsa when we first met.

However, you changed after finding out about my identity. Do you think I am stupid? I am not interested in a gold digger like you. I wouldn't want you even if you offer yourself to me."

Alex's words severely trampled Helen's dignity. Initially, Alex did not wish to say those cruel words. However, he had had enough of her nuisance.

“Yes, I like your status and power. What's wrong with that? Isn't Elsa the same as me too? She got together with Mr. Ogawa after she failed to have you. I only want to make my life easier and help my mom so that people would stop bullying her in that house. What is wrong with that?” Helen argued.

She took a deep breath and added viciously, “Alex, your heart is as hard as a stone. I hope you will be alone forever and never meet someone who loves you. Even if you meet someone, I hope you will never be with her.”

Then, Helen got up and left. Tears fell profusely from her eyes as she turned away. She had never suffered so much shame all her life and felt terrible.

Alex did not chase after her. He looked at the food on the table and lost his appetite. Then, he wondered if he would end up like what Helen said and live a lonely life forever.

Previously, I loved Heather for ten years, but she fell in love with someone else. Even Kate, the mother of my child, was using me all along. Perhaps, Maggie had truly loved me, but what can I do? I ended up hurting her so much that she went overseas. Now, even Elsa has gotten together with Ichiro. Everything seems to be as Helen said. Perhaps, she is right.

Alex mocked himself as he left the restaurant.

Recently, Alex had met a few couples and felt that it had affected his mood. However, he understood that one could not force love. Since things had turned out the way they did, he decided to make the most of it.

Thinking about this made Alex feel much better.

Alex planned to get into his car and leave. However, he suddenly noticed a couple making out in another car. The couple looked familiar—it was Elsa and Ichiro.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 1077

“No... Please no...” Elsa had a dazed look and barely had any strength to speak. Her weak voice sounded like an invitation to the man's ears.

Meanwhile, Ichiro began touching Elsa inappropriately and pulled at her clothes impatiently. Elsa was strong and had good fighting skills. Therefore, he must have put something in Elsa's drink during the meal. Otherwise, he would not have been able to pull this off against her.

Initially, Ichiro planned to bring Elsa to a room. However, Elsa refused to go there no matter how he coaxed her. She insisted on going home.

Therefore, Ichiro did not have a choice. He feared that Elsa would get angry and abandon him if he continued to insist. Then, he would lose his chance to take advantage of her. Thus, he had to go along with what she wanted and send her home.

Then, Ichiro led her into his car and started the engine to send her home. Suddenly, Elsa began to succumb to the effect of the drug. Since Ichiro had been lusting after Elsa's beauty for some time, he could not bear to wait and found it too troublesome to bring her to a room. Thus, he decided to take her in the car.

“My Eurasian friends told me that Eurasian women never say what they mean. Although they say no, it means they want it. Elsa, don't worry. I will make sure I satisfy you. If you remain with me, I promise you that you will be happy,” Ichiro said and kissed Elsa's neck.

He inhaled the light fragrance on her skin and grew mad with desire. Never did he expect to find Elsa still pure and untouched. He was excited to finally do what he had wanted to do to her for so long.

However, someone opened the car door before he could do the deed. The person used so much force that he tore the door from the car.

Ichiro was stunned. His car was a high-quality car made in Jetroina. Since the person could pull the door off, it showed how strong that person was.

The thought instantly deflated all his sexual urges. Ichiro turned to look at the person who destroyed his car door and was so shocked that he stopped himself from cursing out loud.

“Mr... Mr. Jefferson, what brings you here? Shouldn't you be in the restaurant with Ms. Storm?” Ichiro sounded guilty, but he forced himself to remain calm to not expose himself.

However, Alex ignored Ichiro and looked at Elsa instead. Elsa looked dazed and lost, so Alex immediately guessed that someone had drugged her.

He had no doubt it was Ichiro. Thus, Alex's expression turned cold, and he dragged the half-naked Ichiro out of the car.

The commotion quickly attracted the attention of many passersby. They quickly took out their phones to take photos of the naked Ichiro.

Ichiro quickly covered the critical part of his body with his hands and shouted at the people not to take photos. However, no one bothered to listen.

Meanwhile, Alex took off his jacket and covered Elsa's body with it before carrying her out of the car.

“Ichiro, it seems like I have been too kind to you. Just you wait! I will make you lose everything!” After saying that, Alex carried Elsa and left.

However, Ichiro would not let Alex leave with Elsa that easily, especially since he had drugged Elsa with an aphrodisiac. If she and Alex became intimate, all Ichiro's efforts would come to nothing.

Therefore, Ichiro rushed to block Alex from leaving. However, he did not have a chance to speak before Alex kicked him and sent him flying. The crowd fervently snapped photos of the scene.

Once Ichiro regained consciousness, Alex and Elsa were already gone.

Chapter 1078

Alex carried Elsa and saw the unnatural flush on her face. It made her seem unusually alluring that men felt the urge to ravage her.

It was not Alex's first time dealing with such a situation, so he handled it deftly. He knocked Elsa out to prevent her from doing anything that could ignite his urges.

Elsa was a beautiful lady and had a lovely figure. She had perk breasts and slender legs. Looking at how gorgeous she looked, Alex could not help but feel attracted to her.

However, Alex was determined not to take advantage of Elsa in her weakened state. He had learned his lesson with Kate.

Thus, he brought Elsa to a hotel and used a few techniques to remove the drug from her system. Hopefully, she would wake up soon.

After that, he did not leave but chose to remain with her in the hotel room. He needed to explain some matter to her after she woke up and let her know Ichiro's true character.

About an hour later, Elsa finally regained consciousness.

“Argh, my head hurts! Alex... Why are we in a hotel.” Elsa rubbed her forehead and scrunched her face in pain.

Then, she suddenly thought about something and pulled the blanket away. She breathed a sigh of relief when she saw that she had her clothes on.

“I remember Ichiro saying that he would send me back. Then, I felt unwell, and my body became unbearably warm. After that he...” Elsa suddenly felt too ashamed to continue speaking. She swallowed the rest of her words and looked at Alex with confusion. “Alex, what happened?”

Alex explained the whole matter to Elsa. Then, he patted her shoulder and comforted her, “I know you are a strong person, so I hope this incident won't leave you with any trauma. Don't worry. I will make sure to punish Ichiro. You need to get some more sleep. I will stay here with you if you are scared.”

Elsa nodded and seemed a little doubtful as she looked at Alex. Although Alex was good to her, he was still Helen's boyfriend. Thus, Elsa had no chance of being with him.

“Alex, may I ask you a question?” Elsa asked.

Alex wanted to get Elsa a glass of water but paused his step when he heard Elsa. “What is it?”

“Why do you like Helen but not me? Is it because I seem unladylike from having to fight crimes daily? Is it because I'm not as gentle and considerate as her?"

Elsa asked Alex.

She had always been curious about this. Therefore, she wanted to know why Alex liked Helen more than her.

Alex did not know what to say. He could not tell her it was due to jealousy that prompted him to pretend as a couple with Helen.

After some consideration, Alex still decided against telling her the truth. "That's not true. You are outstanding and have unique charms that no one else has. Anyway, I should let you rest. You have just awoken, so don't worry too much. I'll get you a glass of water."

Elsa was rather disappointed with his answer. She had posed the question to Alex clearly, but he refused to answer it directly. It seemed she had no place in his heart.

Thus, Elsa felt sad and heartbroken. Having Alex with her made her feel even worse. Therefore, she told Alex she wanted time alone and asked him to go home.

Alex left the hotel as she requested. His expression turned stern upon stepping out of the hotel. He called Jack and gave him a series of instructions before hanging up.

Meanwhile, Ichiro went for a full-body check-up at the hospital.

It turned out Alex had broken his rib, causing him severe pain. Thus, Ichiro was furious. Alex had not only snatched Elsa from him but had also injured him.

However, as he was thinking about how he could exact revenge, his phone rang suddenly.

Chapter 1079

“What? They sealed up the restaurant?” Ichiro sat up in shock upon hearing the news. The sudden movement triggered the injury at his waist. It hurt so much that he nearly passed out from the pain.

Someone sealed up my restaurant on the first day of opening. How can I be that unlucky? Didn't I spend money to butter up the relevant authorities? How could this happen to me?

Ichiro could not understand what was going on. He had just hung up the call when he received another one. It gave him a bad feeling.

“Mr. Ogawa, there are serious problems here in Jetroina. Can you make a trip back here?” This time, Ichiro received a call from the person in charge of his restaurants in Jetroina.

“I'm now in a hospital for treatment. Just tell me now if there is anything!” Ichiro gripped his phone tightly. He could not express the immense anxiousness he felt at this moment.

“Ichiro, all our ingredients suppliers now refuse to supply to us. Furthermore, the bank has frozen our loan, and we can't access our funds. If this continues, many of our restaurants will have no choice but to close down. Thus, we need you back here to take charge of the crisis,” the person in charge of Ichiro's restaurants explained urgently.

It was bad enough that his newly opened restaurant in Eurasia was in serious trouble. He never expected his restaurants in Jetroina to face a similar predicament. Therefore, he believed someone was behind this.

However, this was not the end of the bad news. There were more to come. Someone had dug up all the shady things Ichiro had done in the past and published them in Jetroina's most popular magazine.

Many successful businessmen had secret shady dealings. Ichiro had also committed many unsavory matters and thought no one would find out about them. Unexpectedly, someone managed to discover them and turned them against him.

They exposed his shady dealings one by one.

Furthermore, the reporters deliberately spiced up the matter and made them seem even more dramatic.

The article made Ichiro sound like someone who had committed every evil deed known to men.

Ichiro hung up one call only to receive another. It went on continuously, and all the calls he received were bad news.

Bam!

Ichiro could not stand it anymore. He smashed his phone against the wall and sat on the bed in despair. His face was ashen, and his eyes seemed dead with hopelessness.

“I'm doomed! Everything is over...” Ichiro mumbled softly.

Within a day, everything he owned fell apart, and his reputation was ruined. He had nowhere to hide even if he returned to Jetroina.

Suddenly, Ichiro remembered a young man and recalled that he had said, “Just you wait! I will make you lose everything too!”

That man, Alex, fulfilled his threat. In merely three hours, Alex destroyed all the businesses that Ichiro had worked really hard to build all his life.

Even though Ichiro knew that Alex was powerful, he still allowed lust to blind him and messed with a woman who was important to Alex. Unfortunately for Ichiro, not only had he failed to win the woman but he had lost his business empire and reputation instead.

Still, Ichiro could not accept it and got off the bed to look for Alex. He was willing to kneel before Alex to beg for his mercy. As long as Alex could forgive him, Ichiro would not hesitate to do anything.

However, a nurse stopped Ichiro the moment he opened the door.

“Sir, you can't get down from bed! The doctor had only just set your fractured rib, so you must lie down to rest for the recovery,” the nurse advised.

“I want to discharge from the hospital now!” Ichiro had lost his company, so he was not in the mood to recuperate in the hospital. He could only think of looking for Alex to beg him for forgiveness.

Seeing that Ichiro was stubborn, the nurse stopped trying to dissuade him but said, “Sure, you can leave after settling your hospital bill.”

Ichiro immediately took out the Gold Card issued by Global Bank. The hospital staff looked at him with an astonished expression.

Previously, Ichiro would have been delighted to explain how exclusive his card was. However, he was pressed for time and did not feel like explaining.

“Sir, you have exceeded your card limit,” the hospital staff said.

Ichiro was stunned and asked in disbelief, “That is impossible. This card is a Gold Card from Global Bank. The card limit is at least a few billion!”

The hospital staff did not reply to Ichiro but showed him the screen. Ichiro looked at it and nearly fainted when he saw that the card's available balance was zero.

Then, he recalled that this card was tied to his businesses in Jetroina. Those businesses had gone bankrupt and owed a lot of debt. Thus, he had no money left on his card.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 1080

“Mr. Jefferson, I've done everything as you instructed. As for Ichiro Ogawa, I've already sent someone to deal with him,” Jack reported to Alex over the phone.

Alex murmured an acknowledgment, then hung up immediately.

I was too merciful to him in the past and gave him a second chance. However, he failed to cherish it.

Instead, he crossed me repeatedly and even did something so despicable to Elsa. He's nothing but a scumbag from Jetroina! I don't care what he did in his country, but only death awaits those who dare to cross me.

After the matter regarding Ichiro had been resolved, Elsa never went to look for Alex again. In fact, she did not even call him anymore.

Alex could not fathom a lady's complicated thoughts, nor did he have time to mull over the matter.

Whatever it is, Jasper is still a problem. They'll surely come looking for me.

Because of that, he dared not let down his guard in the slightest, and it was only after one month had passed with no sign of those people appearing at his door that he finally felt at ease.

Although I don't know why they didn't come to cause trouble for me, it's definitely a good thing. It's not that I don't want to help Flynn seek revenge, but I want to improve my cultivation and make sure we have a good chance of succeeding before exacting revenge.

As he was walking home, his phone rang.

“Alex, I have some good news to tell you,” Flynn said vaguely, feigning an air of mystery.

“What is it?” Alex could not figure out what it could be, but he guessed it was probably something to do with Jule.

He has been wrapped up in Jule ever since he met her. He said he wanted me to teach him martial arts, but in the end, he clean forgot about it because of her. Well, since he seems to have finally found happiness, it's not my place to say anything. All I want is for him to be happy.

“I'm planning to marry Jule!” Flynn announced excitedly, his happiness evident in his voice.

Alex could not help thinking that love was truly capable of blinding one. Ever since Flynn met Jule, it was as though he had become a completely different person. He seemed to have practically lost all sense and rationality, and the only thing he could think about was that woman.

They've only known each other for a month; yet, now he's saying he wants to marry her! I don't even know what to say, nor can I figure out what's going through his mind.

“Where are you now? I'll come to meet you.” Thinking that he had many things he wanted to say but could not explain well over the phone, Alex decided to meet up with Flynn so they could have a good chat.

By the time he arrived at Sakura Club, it was already past two o'clock in the afternoon. Flynn sat on a couch by himself, holding one of those handmade knitted bags available online.

It boggled Alex's mind to see that Flynn, the king of the underworld who wielded much influence, was actually knitting a bag.

He was so shocked that his jaw almost dropped to the floor. “Flynn, this is truly an eye-opener. Are you still the same Flynn Dunn I know? Why do I feel that you've changed into a completely different person after getting to know Jule?”

Flynn was unruffled by the remark, merely glancing at the former and saying, “You don't understand. All I want is for Jule to be happy. I'm willing to do anything as long as it makes her happy.”

Alex did not know what else to say. If possible, he wanted to crack open Flynn's head and see what was going on in his mind.

“Where's your beloved Jule? Why isn't she with you?”
Alex asked.

Flynn stopped what he was doing and answered,
“She went to buy some things before going to see Stanley and Emma.”

Alex's chest tightened when he heard that. He had sensed something odd about Jule from the beginning, and he felt she did not seem as innocent or pitiful as she appeared. Now that she had suddenly gone looking for Stanley and Emmalyn, he was sure she harbored some ulterior motive.

“I'm going to check on them.”

With that, Alex dashed out immediately, worry for Stanley's safety flooding his mind.

Flynn could not understand Alex's behavior. Before Jule left, she told me there was nothing much she could do to thank Alex for treating her father. Hence, she wanted to buy something for the two kids and bring them over. That seems absolutely reasonable to me, so I don't know why he's so anxious. He's making a big deal out of nothing.

Nonetheless, he rose to his feet and hurried after Alex. “I'll come with you.”
