

Chapter 0013

The Dream High Academy...

On the first day of the academic term, the campus was bustling with people.

Renea walked into the campus with a backpack on her back. She navigated through the crowd and headed straight to the new student registration office.

In her previous life, because she had given her seat to Kailey, Renea never got the chance to attend school. However, it didn't mean that she didn't come here. She frequently appeared here during the four years Kailey was studying, as her housemaid.

Because Susan said, 'Renea, Kailey can't eat the food in the cafeteria, so as her sister, you should bring some food for her.'

And just like that, Renea became Kailey's housemaid.

Regardless of the weather or her availability, she had to be there on time every day.

Because Renea used to think too highly of family affection that didn't belong to her until she lived like a fool and died in Kailey's hands.

However, in this life, Renea will live for herself.

"Ouch!" Renea came back to her senses as she bumped into someone. She rubbed her painful nose and looked at the man in front of her.

"I am sorry." Stella Kingston said perfunctorily before rushing to hide in the classroom beside her.

After a while, two men in black suits came over with a poker face.

Based on their imposing auras, one could tell that they were not ordinary people at first glance.

The man standing behind these two men was the one with the most powerful aura. He had stern facial features with eyes exuding mystery and coldness, carrying an air of dominance that could rule over the world.

"Did you see a girl with two ponytail and wearing a leather jacket?" Aron Kingston asked.

His voice was deep, magnetic, and particularly pleasant to the ear.

Renea pointed to the classroom next to her.

Aron looked in that direction and said, "Thank you!"

After saying that, Aron walked past Renea and headed straight for the classroom.

"What a familiar sent!" Renea thought to herself.

Renea looked at Aron's back and frowned. She felt very familiar with the scent coming from his body...

"Why is this scent felt so familiar?" She thought.

Renea had a strong feeling that she had smelled this scent somewhere before, however where it was, she didn't remember.

After that, the commotion at the door disrupted her thoughts.

Renea turned around and saw a group of women surrounding Kailey and Dylan not far away.

Dylan was currently a popular young actor in the entertainment industry. Thus, he could create sensation wherever he goes.

He was showing Kailey enough respect for sending her to campus in such a high-profile manner.

Then, Dylan and Kailey walked past Renea, as if they were strangers.

No one cared about Renea's presence.

"This is too much! How can they do this?"

"Exactly! Although if they are not biological siblings, they shouldn't have ignored her like this!"

Ria Brown and Tia Hughes appeared behind Renea and felt indignant for her.

Renea looked at the two of them but didn't say anything.

Ria wrapped her arm around Renea's shoulder and said righteously, "Renea, it's fine. You still have us."

Renea looked at her and smirked. Then, she stepped to the side and maintained some distance between herself and Ria.

Ria and Tia were her two 'so-called' best friends in her past life. Renea always treated them with sincerity and trusted the most. However, they were also the ones who betrayed her most ruthlessly.

In her previous life, Renea was almost sold by two of them to the Mafia boss.

"Renea, are they your best friends?" Kailey walked toward them and asked.

Renea didn't say anything.

"Hello, I am Kailey, Renea's younger sister." Kailey said.

Ria nodded.

Tia smiled.

"Renea, are you upset? There were too many people earlier, so both Dylan and I couldn't greet you. After all, your identity is sensitive," Kailey said apologetically.

With a sneer and composed expression, Renea leisurely asked, "How did you get accepted?"

Hearing her words, Kailey's expression darkened and turned unpleasant.

Renea scoffed, "Well, my identity is indeed sensitive. Everyone knows that Dylan's younger sister got accepted to Dream High Academy. If you guys had greeted her just now, wouldn't it make people suspect which younger sister of his got accepted?"

At this moment, Kailey's face was ashen.
