

Finding Out The Billionaire Chapter 145

Madison's new TV series was going to premiere in a few days. Being caught up in such a scandal at such a point in time would greatly affect her popularity. That would, in turn, affect the viewership ratings for her new series.

Jack's forehead was also creased in a frown when he caught sight of the photo.

It was obviously doctored, but no one would care about that. Many would assume that everything on the news was real.

"Did a competitor do this?" asked Jack grimly.

join telegram for latest update

Alex shook his head. "I'm not sure. But whoever it is, we need to dig them out!" He seethed as his eyes flashed with anger. He was more concerned for Madison rather than for himself.

She was one of the biggest stars under their agency, and her huge fanbase guaranteed her success in everything she did. If she really did become ruined, that would undeniably be a major loss to the company.

"Leave this to me. I'll find out who's behind this within three days," said Jack resolutely.

"Alright. Get to it."

Jack stood up and turned to Linda. "Use all our resources to remove these stories from the internet. We need to minimize the damage."

"Yes, Sir," answered Linda before both she and Jack stepped out of Alex's office.

Alex then placed a call to his secretary, Ginny. "Get Madison Zucker to come to my office right now. I don't care what she's in the middle of. I want her here ASAP."

The biggest victim of all of this was Madison. Her whole career might very well blow up in smoke because of it.

Alex wanted to see her to offer her some consolation and provide her with some assurances.

Meanwhile, Madison had already seen the photo of her and Alex too. All the comments under the photo, along with her fans' grilling, were driving her up the wall.

Her manager, Felicia, and her team were busy trying to clarify that it was all but fake news.

However, most of the public believed the news. Hardly anyone noticed that the photo was photoshopped. That was why the team was having a difficult time clearing Madison's name.

Most importantly, those that believed the rumor were being especially vocal. They were easily swayed by everyone else's judgement.

Right then, Madison's phone rang. It was a call from Ginny.

For the average person, the protocol was to call Felicia first before getting passed along to Madison.

However, this was a call that came directly from the chairman's office, so it naturally went straight through to Madison.

"Hello," Madison answered.

"Hello, I'm Ginny, the Chairman's secretary. The Chairman requests your presence in his office straight away."

Madison's heart jumped into her throat. Is he planning to dump all the responsibility onto me? But this was a rumor started by someone else!

She could feel her heart beating erratically as she fretted about why the Chairman wanted to see her. Is he going to end my career because of this?

When Ginny didn't hear a response, she continued to press the matter. "Ms. Zucker, the Chairman has asked that you come to see him immediately, regardless of what you're in the middle of."

Even though Ginny was a huge fan of Madison Zucker, she was still first and foremost loyal to the chairman.

"Alright, alright. I'll head over right now!" said Madison as she anxiously hung up the call.

Ginny's tone made her even more certain that the Chairman was very upset with her.

But... I didn't do any of this! I'm a victim too!

Why's the Chairman blaming me?

Feeling very uneasy, Madison decided to go to Four Seas Corporation by herself. She didn't even bring Linda with her.

After parking her car, she rushed straight to Alex's office.