

Finding Out The Billionaire Chapter 146

Madison immediately saw Ginny when she arrived at his office. "Hi sweetheart, is the Chairman in?"

"Yes, he is. He's inside waiting for you. Please go ahead." As Ginny looked at Madison, she couldn't help but wonder if that photo really was photoshopped.

As per her intuitions, she had a suspicious feeling that Madison Zucker and her boss were closer than they let on. The news that was flying around might not necessarily be fake.

"Thank you," Madison said before walking up to the door and giving it a knock.

join telegram for latest update

"Come in."

Madison took a deep breath, opened the door, then walked in hesitantly.

"Sir, I... I really don't know where the photo came from. My PR team is working on it, so please be rest assured that we will minimize all damages towards you, Mr. Jefferson," blurted Madison. She didn't want Alex to think that she was behind the photo.

Alex glanced up at Madison and noticed how anxious she looked. He soon realized that Madison had misunderstood him.

He chuckled. "Calm down. I asked you here to tell you that I've heard about the scandal and that I've already asked my people to investigate. You don't need to worry about this. We're working on minimizing all repercussions..."

Huh?

Madison stood there in disbelief. He's not only not blaming me, but he's also extending a helping hand?

"Oh, yes. Our company is planning a large-scale variety show. You'll be in the front and center, and we'll audition some new talent. So you go get yourself prepared," continued Alex.

This scandal would, without a doubt, negatively impact both the company and Madison.

Thus, he wanted to stage this variety show to discover new talent while bringing in some ratings.

At the same time, it would also be a way to shift attention away from the scandal.

"R... really?" Madison felt a wave of emotions hitting her.

Joining a large-scale variety show meant that she would be able to stabilize her current fanbase and bring in new fans.

All sorts of emotions were running across her face as she stared at Alex. If not for the fact that she was worried it would piss Alex off, she would've leapt onto him and gave him a big kiss.

He not only didn't blame her for the scandal, but he was even going to help build her career to new heights. How could she not feel emotional over this sudden development?

"Of course, it's real. We'll start next month at the latest." Alex smiled.

"Thank you, Sir! Thank you! You're amazing!" chirped Madison ecstatically.

"I've said before that as long as you all work hard, I'll treat you well."

Madison hurriedly pledged her loyalty. "Don't worry, Mr. Jefferson. I'm willing to do anything and everything for the company!"

"It's not like the company will actually ask you to do anything illegal." chuckled Alex. "Alright, you can go now."

Madison looked at him before she bit her lip hesitantly.

Alex noticed her odd expression. "Is there something else?"

"Yes, Sir. I... I really want to treat you to dinner...," Madison stated, looking at Alex imploringly.