Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 16 Welsh On The Agreement Alex coldly snorted, and before three of them could get within an inch of him, he had already raised his hand and slapped them across their faces. He had tolerated the Jennings family for too long. Hence, all his suppressed anger was channeled into the slaps. Three of them, including Jacob, were knocked to the ground by him. The others shook with fear as they looked at Alex with slightly dumbfounded expressions.

Alex, who had always been nothing but a weakling, had knocked down three of them so easily that everyone had thought that their eyes were deceiving them.

Alex, on the other hand, remained unfazed as he walked forward and stepped on Jacob's chest.

"How dare you!

" Demi was beyond infuriated.

She shot up from her seat in one motion and swung her walking stick at Alex's forehead.

"I'll beat this b to death if it's the last thing I do!

" Alex grabbed the walking stick before it could touch him.

His gaze sharpened and he emanated a murderous aura.

Everyone present felt a shiver run down their spine.

"You Jenningses better keep yourselves in check, otherwise, don't blame me for forcing all of you to the ground!

" Alex's eyes glinted coldly.

Even Demi, who had always been domineering, was intimidated by Alex's threat.

"That's enough.

Stop fighting!

" Heather shouted frantically, "I managed to borrow thirty million!

" She took out the check and angrily threw it onto the coffee table.

"It's a... A thirty million check!

"Heather, what's going on?

"Is Mr.

Wallace's stamina really that bad that he'd burnt out so soon?

"Everyone was shocked.

Demi couldn't even be bothered with her walking stick anymore as she bent down to pick up the check.

Brian couldn't care less about his son Jacob who was sprawled on the floor with Alex's foot pinning him down.

He immediately craned his neck to look at the check.

It was indeed a check of thirty million!

"Huh?

It's from Four Seas Corporation!

"Demi raised her head to look at Heather.

She could barely contain her excitement as she prodded, "Heather, why is this check written by Four Seas Corporation?

Tell me, quick!

"Four Seas Corporation was the largest corporation in Nebula City, and it was also among the Fortune 500 companies.

Seeing that Heather was able to obtain such a check from Four Seas Corporation, could it be that she was involved with one of the big figures there?

Everyone's eyes were glued to Heather now.

If that were really the case, their family could benefit from her relationship with the big figure with whom she was involved with.

If they were backed by Four Seas Corporation, even just a little bit, the benefits that would come with it could last them a long time!

Alex swept his gaze across everyone in the room, with no small amount of contempt in his eyes.

Then, he threw down Demi's walking stick and lifted his foot from Jacob's chest.

Jacob and the other three youngsters shot Alex several venomous looks.

However, they were soon interested in other matters.

They hurriedly pushed themselves off the ground to inspect the authenticity of the check.

Heather looked at these eager people with anger still burning bright within her.

"This thirty million was lent to us by the chairman of Four Seas Corporation.

He'd said that we'd have to pay him back within a year, or he'll charge us interest!

" she announced in a bitter tone.

"Heather, didn't you meet Mr.

Wallace?

How did the chairman of Four Seas Corporation suddenly get involved?

" Carmen queried with a mystified expression.

She was still fantasizing about how wonderful her life would be if her daughter and Alex would separate, allowing her to marry Walt.

She couldn't wrap her mind around it, now that he was suddenly switched out for another person.

Heather briefly glanced at Alex before sighing, "The Wallace family is destroyed.

I have no idea why the chairman of Four Seas Corporation would lend me money, seeing as I've never met him before.

" "This check was given to me by Mr.

Jack Sawyer, the richest man in Nebula City.

He's informed me that it was from their new chairman.

" They had also caught wind that someone had bought over Four Seas Corporation.

Everyone was speculating which big shot had acquired it.

Never in their wildest dreams did they expect that he would lend them thirty million.

They couldn't help but wonder if the Chairman of Four Seas Corporation had also taken a fancy to Heather.

The more they thought about it, the more convinced they were.

This was the only valid explanation for the chairman's overly generous act.

"What about the IOU?"

Did you write one?"

"Brian abruptly questioned.

"No.

I wasn't asked to write one at all.

"Heather shook her head.

"If there's no IOU, could this check be fake?"

"Jacob looked doubtful.

Everyone started to be plagued by doubts as well.

Why would someone lend money without asking for an IOU?

Aren't they afraid that the Jennings family will waltz on the agreement?"

"I'm sure all of you are aware of how powerful Four Seas Corporation is.

Even if you're given nine lives, would any of you dare to run off without paying?"

Alex asked a rhetorical question with sarcasm lacing his voice.

What he said made the others feel extremely uneasy, but none of them refuted him.

Four Seas Corporation was one of the Fortune 500 companies, and none of them were worthy of carrying the sandals of the big figures associated with it.

If they dared to waltz on the agreement, they would undoubtedly be wiped out within minutes.

“There was a bank on the way back, so I dropped by to have the check examined. It’s genuine and can be cashed any time,” Heather stated.

“Heather, you did well.

You really are a dear granddaughter to me.

” Demi patted Heather’s shoulder with a pleased look and took her walking stick from Brian’s outstretched hand.

Then, she gave Alex a withering glare and snorted loudly before leading everyone out.

“This piece of trash dared to hit me.

I’ll deal with you the next time I see you.

You can count on it!

” Jacob and the other two stared icily at Alex and followed Demi out.

“Heather, does the new Chairman of Four Seas Corporation fancy you?

” As soon as the others left, Carmen impatiently latched onto her and asked.

“How would I know?

I’ve never even met him before.

” Heather’s brows were furrowed as the question haunted her thoughts.

Heather shook her head, but deep down, she was certain that the chairman was interested in her.

It would be difficult to convince her otherwise.

“I’m sure that’s it.

Why would he lend you thirty million without asking for an IOU?

I think you should pay the Chairman of Four Seas Corporation a visit sometime, Heather.

If he really is interested in you, you need to seize the opportunity, understand?

” Carmen advised.

“Mom’s right, sis.

If you remarry the chairman of Four Seas Corporation, our family would want nothing more.

It’ll be ten thousand times more worth it than taking care of a piece of trash like Alex,” Lucas, who was beside them, quickly added in.

“Enough.

I don’t wanna talk about this anymore.

” Heather’s eyes darted briefly to look at Alex before she headed back to the bedroom.

In reality, her mind was in a mess.

If the chairman of Four Seas Corporation really is interested in me, what should I do then?

Divorce Alex?

“Forget it.

I’m not going to think about it for now.

I’ll take some time to visit him in a few days’ time and decide then,” she mumbled under her breath.

As curiosity filled Heather, she couldn’t help but wonder what the Chairman of Four Seas Corporation looked like and what kind of man he was.

Meanwhile, Alex watched Heather’s retreating back and wondered if she would visit him.

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 17

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 17 Who Exactly Is Alex Jefferson The next day, Alex sent Stanley to kindergarten before heading to work. Acquiring Four Seas Corporation was not the end; he still had to manage it well. “Good morning, Mr. Jefferson!” When James, who was on duty, spotted Alex, he immediately straightened and saluted the latter with a serious expression. After Alex demoted him, he had grown infuriated and wanted to switch over to Walt’s side yesterday.

However, the Wallace family had been completely destroyed.

Alex was the first person who came to mind when he heard that Four Seas Corporation the one was behind it.

Hence, he had obediently returned to being a security guard.

Alex did not spare James a glance.

Just as his electric scooter was about to come to a stop, a Maserati Executive GT collided with the rear of his electric scooter.

Fortunately, the driver stepped on the brakes in time, or he would have been run over.

Alex frowned slightly and checked his scooter.

The electric scooter which had served him well for four years was now completely ruined.

“I guess I’ll have to get a new car.

” Alex sighed softly.

He was a sentimental person.

Thus, he had stayed loyal to his electric scooter even after so long.

Looking at the car that had crashed into him, Alex assumed that the driver was an amateur, so he did not plan to hold whoever it was accountable.

Unexpectedly, a gorgeous woman alighted the Maserati.

The moment she did, she attracted the attention of countless people who were passing by.

She was wearing a bodycon dress and high heels, which accentuated her sexy figure.

A woman like her was the focus of attention no matter where she went.

“It’s the new rising star, Madison Zucker!

She’s so pretty!

” “Yeah!

I heard that she was cast as the female lead in the Flair of the City movie adaption.

” “As soon as the movie is released, she’ll no doubt become a hot topic again.

” The employees who had just arrived for work began chattering about it when they saw Madison.

Just then, a young woman in her thirties stepped down from the passenger seat with a crease between her brows.

Madison, who was very much enjoying being in the limelight, pointed angrily at Alex.

She gave him a piece of her mind.

“Hey, loser!

Do you even know how to ride a scooter?

” Alex frowned and retorted coldly, “I should be the one asking you that.

Can you even drive?

Look at how your car is parked.

” Not only was the Maserati sixty degrees slanted, but its wheels were also completely out of the parking box.

“Who do you think you are to criticize my driving skills?

Do you know who I am?

” Madison’s embarrassment turned into annoyance.

She had only just obtained her driver’s license, so being judged by Alex in that manner made her immensely displeased.

“Who you are has nothing to do with me.

I’m just wondering if you got your driver’s license through improper means because I doubt you could’ve passed with the way you drive,” Alex said sarcastically.

Madison was enraged.

Not only did this loser not recognize a popular celebrity such as her, but he also even ridiculed her for using improper means to obtain her driver’s license.

Her chest heaved with anger boiling in her.

“Be careful with what you say.

Believe it or not, I can sue you for defamation.

” The young woman beside her threatened Alex with an aggressive look on her face.

“Go ahead.

I’ll wait to receive a court summons,” Alex scoffed.

“Which department are you from?

What’s your name?

” The young woman’s eyes flashed with viciousness.

For her own peace of mind, she wanted to get rid of this loser through her connections.

“Yes.

Just tell me which department you’re from and your name.

” Madison grasped her manager’s intention and stood with her hands akimbo as she glared at Alex.

“His name is Alex Jefferson.

He’s from the security department.

” Someone next to them suddenly answered.

“So, you’re a security guard.

Hmph!

Get ready to pack up your things and leave by the end of the day!

” Madison aimed a taunting look at Alex before getting into her car to readjust its position.

In response to Madison’s threat, Alex’s mouth lifted at the sides to form a sneer.

Then, he parked his electric scooter and turned to head into the company building.

“Alex, isn’t your wife accompanying Mr.

Wallace as we speak?

How do you still have the mood to come in for work?

” A front desk employee glanced at Alex with derision.

She was a fan of Madison’s.

Hence, she found it preposterous when Alex did not apologize to her idol after offending her.

“Does a man who lives off his wife have a say in what she does with her life?

” “Even if he has balls of steel, he has no say in anything.

” “That’s why men like him should expect to get cheated on.

” The others burst into fits of laughter, completely disrespecting Alex.

Alex’s glanced at those people, his gaze turning frosty.

Smack!

Smack!

Smack!

Suddenly, James rushed over and slapped those people across their faces with a fierce glint in his eyes.

“How dare you make fun of Mr.

Jefferson?

You’re all courting death!

” “James, what the hell did you do that for?

Do you think you’re still the manager of the security department?

” The ones who had been hit were furious.

Although they did not dare to retaliate against James, they were quite ferocious with their words.

“So what if I hit a bunch of brainless fools?

” James growled angrily before raising his hand to slap them again.

There were those who wanted to strike back, but none of them were a match for James.

Hence, they could only suck it up and allow themselves to be slapped by him.

Alex glanced at James and casually said, “Not bad.

Call Jack and tell him to fire these people.

Just say that the order came from me.

” Without looking at the other employees, he swiveled around and walked into the building.

“Have a good day, Mr.

Jefferson!

” James was euphoric upon receiving a compliment from him, and he could finally breathe a sigh of relief.

He had, in fact, acted on impulse earlier and was slightly worried that he had made a decision that would invoke the wrath of Alex.

However, he knew that he had made the right call now.

“W-W-What did you call him?

” The others stared at James in wide-eyed disbelief.

James had actually called Alex in such a respectful manner.

They were completely stunned, thinking that they had heard it wrong.

James shot a cold glance at them and said, “What I did just now was actually for your own good.

Otherwise, the lot of you would’ve suffered a fate worse than death.

Look at what happened to the Wallace family.

They’re in deep sh*t now all because they got on Mr.

Jefferson’s bad side.

” “What?

The Wallace family is done for?

” The notion of this seemed extremely inconceivable to the others.

The Wallace family was rather well-known in the Nebula City business industry.

Just who in the world has the power and influence to take them out?

“Hmph!

You can check it out on the internet so that you’ll understand the consequences of crossing Mr.

Jefferson,” James spat.

They took out their phones, doing as he had suggested when their expressions suddenly took a drastic change.

“The... the Wallace family was destroyed by Mr.

Jefferson?

” One of the female employees asked in a shaky voice.

“What do you think?

” James challenged.

Then, he fished out his own phone and scrolled through his contacts to call Jack.

“President Sawyer, Mr.

Jefferson said to inform you to fire Josie Wright from the front desk, Diana Cook and Zeke Hoding from the Project Management Department, and lastly Sophie Gardner from the Public Relations Department.

” “I’m guessing that these four people have offended Mr.

Jefferson?

” Jack’s voice came from the other end.

“Yes.

They disrespected Mr.

Jefferson earlier and made him very angry,” James answered truthfully.

“Alright.

I’ll immediately send them packing.

” With that, Jack ended the call.

James had his phone on speaker.

Hence, the employees were shocked when they heard what Jack said.

Regret clawed at their chests.

They never expected Alex to be so influential, seeing as he was a mere security guard.

Since when was he held in such high esteem?

“Mr.

Langdon, who exactly is Alex Jefferson?

” Sophie blurted out, unable to accept how things had taken such a huge turn.

“Someone even President Sawyer can’t afford to offend!

” James shot the four of them hostile glances before returning to his post.

Sophie’s face blanched in horror, still unable to wrap her mind around it.

Meanwhile, Madison had just parked her car, and she was walking into the company building with her manager in tow.

“Madison, we’ll be meeting the new chairman later, so you must be on your best behavior.

If you can win his favor, all the female lead roles for the entire year will be yours.

I’m certain of it!

” Her manager whispered to her.

Madison nodded solemnly and replied, “Don’t worry, Felicia.

I'll seize all three major female lead roles this year.

The title of the best actress will be mine and only mine!

"Good.

I've already discussed it with President Sawyer.

He said he'll make the necessary arrangements for us.

Let's go.

" Felicia nodded in satisfaction and led Madison towards the elevators.

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 18

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 18 At Least Try To Be More Sincere When Apologizing Four Seas Corporation was a new second-generation internet integration company in the country. It had three distinctive video streaming platforms – a film company, a media company, and a recommendation engine based on data mining. Under the leadership of Jack over the years, the company had managed to seize a considerable amount of market shares. However, compared to big internet companies such as Amazon, Facebook, Microsoft... there was still quite a gap to be closed.

After Alex acquired Four Seas Corporation, he wasn't going to sit back and watch as it continued to fall behind these major internet companies.

Seizing market shares was equivalent to spending money, and what he had was money to invest.

At that moment, outside Alex's office.

"The chairman isn't a very amicable person, so please mind your tones when you speak to him later.

If you upset the chairman, even God won't be able to save you.

" Jack warned Madison and her manager.

His eyes swept over Madison's sexy appearance, and a hint of regret flashed in them.

He had initially planned to sign Madison, but her manager, Felicia Scott, had unexpectedly vetoed his offer.

“Sure.

” Madison nodded.

Felicia abruptly said, “By the way, a security guard named Alex Jefferson ran into Madison’s car earlier.

He was quite an arrogant prick too.

Please get rid of him.

Just the sight of him disgusts me.

” What?

Jack was taken aback, and his face stiffened.

He was about to stop the two of them, but Madison had already knocked and entered the room after.

He had stretched out his hand, but it was too late.

Jack cursed in his heart before hastily following them in.

“It’s you!

” Upon pushing into the office, she was shocked to see Alex leaning back in the chairman’s seat while smoking a cigarette.

“You really have some guts to smoke in the chairman’s office without permission!

” Felicia immediately upbraided Alex the moment she realized it was him.

“Oh, so you came in here to smoke without permission?

You scared me for a second there.

A loser like you sure has the guts to sneak into the chairman’s office.

” Madison’s initial shock subsided, and she came back to her senses.

She joined Felicia in castigating him.

“Fess up now!

Are you a mole placed here by another company to steal the chairman’s documents?

” I’m a mole?

Alex lazily blew out a puff of smoke and glanced at the two of them with amusement in his eyes.

Jack, who came in after them, instantly turned pale.

“Both of you, shut up!

” He quickly yelled before things spiraled out of control.

He was seething with fury.

Both Madison and Felicia’s hearts leaped into their throats as they whipped towards him with confusion sprawled across their faces.

“President Sawyer, he’s the disgusting security guard I just told you about!

” Felicia spoke in a righteous manner.

Smack!

Jack gave Felicia a tight slap and roared with unadulterated rage, “Are you fing blind?

That is our chairman!

” “Ahh?

” Felicia and Madison’s eyes bulged out of their sockets in utter disbelief.

Smack!

Jack slapped himself across the face and bowed his head, speaking in a voice heavy with fear, “I’m so sorry, Mr.

Jefferson.

I had no idea that these two offended you.

It’s all my fault.

I’m willing to accept any punishment you give me!

” Isn’t... Isn’t he just a security guard?

How is he the chairman all of a sudden?

Madison and Felicia trembled in their places and seeing Jack's frightened look intensified the fear creeping into their hearts.

Smack!

Felicia reacted quickly, slapping herself just like Jack did before lowering her head to apologize, "I'm... I'm sorry, sir!

We were both ignorant fools for crashing into you earlier.

Please give us a chance to make it up to you, sir!

" As Felicia spoke, she tugged on Madison's sleeve, which resulted in a yelp from the latter before she dipped her head to apologize as well.

"S-Sir, I'm sorry.

I made a mistake.

I-I..." Seeing the trio bowing their heads in pure terror, Alex's lips curled slightly.

"You should at least try to be more sincere when you're apologizing, don't you think?

" Felicia's blinked in fright, and she quickly motioned for Madison to slap herself.

Only then did Madison snap out of her daze to slap herself, and her cheek immediately flushed a deep scarlet red.

"I'm sorry, Sir.

Please don't be bothered with my foolishness from earlier.

All I ask is that you give me a chance to redeem myself!

" Madison pleaded in an unsteady voice, not brave enough to raise her head.

Alex glanced at Madison and Felicia, drawing a long puff of his cigarette before speaking with indifference, "Speak.

Why have you come to see me?

" "It's nothing.

It's nothing!

" Felicia answered quickly, "We only came to pay you a visit, Sir.

If you have some free time, Madison was planning to treat you to a meal.

” “Yes, yes.

We came to invite you for lunch!

” Madison nodded profusely.

Alex gave them both a flat stare before directing his gaze at Jack.

Jack hurriedly explained, “Mr.

Jefferson, Madison Zucker is a contracted artist under our subsidiary company, Volcano Media Group, and Felicia Scott is her manager.

When they heard that the company had a new chairman, they contacted me to set up a meeting with you, and they wanted to treat you to a meal if you happened to be free.

” Alex transferred his gaze back to Madison and her manager, stating in a grave tone, “A meal is nothing special.

All I expect from my employees is honesty and practicality.

Having these values will earn you my respect rather than treating me to a dozen meals.

” “Especially you.

” The temperature in the room dropped drastically.

Alex pinned Madison a stare and spoke in a frigid voice, “As a public figure, not only did you neglect your image, but you also even stubbornly refused to admit to your mistakes.

Do you think you’re immune to the negative impact the media can cause you just because you’re a superstar known across the globe?

” His jaw clenched as he continued, “The company spent a lot of money to nurture you so that you can bring in more profits, not so you can throw a tantrum whenever and wherever you please!

” His last few words were said in a rather intimidating tone, causing Madison to shake like a leaf.

“S-Sir, I was wrong.

I won’t act so rashly again!

” Madison stuttered.

“I’ll give you two one last chance since I can sense that you’re sincere.

If I catch a glimpse of your bad attitude again in the future, don’t blame me for blacklisting you!

” Alex then waved his hand, gesturing for them to leave.

Both of them wasted no time and retreated from his office.

“Mr.

Jefferson, I…” Jack still had his head lowered, afraid to meet Alex’s eyes.

“It’s fine.

The matter has been settled.

Yesterday, I told you to inform the other shareholders about having a meeting today.

Have you informed them?

” Alex asked.

“Yes.

All of them have arrived and are currently waiting for you in the conference room,” Jack replied courteously.

“Good.

Let’s head to the conference room.

” Alex nodded.

He got to his feet and walked out while Jack trailed after him.

Meanwhile, the two women were still in shock.

“What should we do now, Felicia?

We’ve offended the chairman, big time!

Do you think he’ll really blacklist me?

” Madison frantically questioned.

She genuinely did not understand why Alex would dress up like a penniless loser when he was the chairman.

If she had known that he was the chairman, she would never have dared to be so rude to him even if she was given nine lives.

Felicia was silent for a moment before responding, “I don’t think he will.

Blacklist you, I mean.

” She continued speaking, “Even though he seems cold and detached, based on my years of experience mingling with people and also from what he said to us, I think that beneath his hard exterior is a gentle-hearted man.

” “Madison, trust me.

Just behave well from now on.

We’ll wait for the chairman’s anger to die down and visit him again after a few days.

Then, we’ll invite him to a meal and test the waters to see if he’d be interested in you in that way.

If it’s a firm yes, you’d rise up in the popularity ranks like nobody’s business.

” “Okay.

We’ll come again after a few days.

With what I have to offer, I’m sure the chairman won’t be able to reject me.

” Madison nodded firmly, having absolute confidence in her own abilities.

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 19

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 19 I Will Call The Security The board meeting focused on gaining market share went smoothly. At that moment, Alex had planned to invest ten billion to sway the loyalty of the customers from their three other competitors. Among the shareholders, five of the smaller ones could not fork out such a large sum, so they sold their shares to Alex, amounting to ten percent in total. Consequently, Alex held sixty-one percent of the shares and invested six billion and one hundred million.

The next largest shareholder, Jack, contributed two billion, while the other shareholders pooled together one billion and nine hundred thousand.

Of course, not all of the ten billion would be used to gain market share.

Alex understood the situation and suggested buying a large-scale online novel platform to compensate for the company's weakness of not having enough local works.

This would allow the Four Seas Corporation to expand into the pan entertainment industry.

It would be called Four Seas Entertainment for short.

Alex's aim was clear – if he wanted to do something, he would do his best.

After the meeting ended, Alex called Jack into his office.

There, they discussed the plans for Four Seas Entertainment's future.

Jack nodded through most of it.

The idea of pan entertainment had already been mentioned by two major firms a year back.

However, one of them gave up after half a year, whereas the other one did not manage to achieve much.

He had also explored the idea of pan entertainment but eventually gave up on it.

Now that Alex had brought this up again, he had mentioned a lot of details and crucial points that Jack had not considered previously.

It was as though he was listening to a revelation.

Just then, someone knocked on the door to the office.

Alex allowed them to enter, only to see a thirty-year-old beautiful lady enter with a file in her hands.

She was the overall manager of this project, Melanie Lewis.

She greeted them, "Mr.

Jefferson, President Sawyer.

" She then proceeded to her agenda, "Audi's regional manager has asked us when we are going to sign the contract for them to be the sponsors for Flair of the City.

That way, they can start working on their advertisement.

” Flair of the City was a movie adaptation of a web-novel.

It would be aired under Volcano Videos, a streaming site under Four Seas Entertainment, two months later.

Many companies had fought to be its sponsor, but because Jack was on good terms with Audi’s CEO, he sold the best advertising slot to Audi for one billion.

However, both sides had yet to sign the contract.

“Tell them that I’ll meet them at two in the afternoon to discuss the details of the contract.

I’ll be buying a car in the afternoon anyway,” Alex instructed.

“Alright, here’s the contract,” Melanie replied as she placed the file on Alex’s desk and left.

Alex did not look at the contract.

Instead, he lit a cigarette and continued discussing pan entertainment with Jack.

In the midst of their discussion, Jack even poured two cups of tea for Alex.

The two of them continued chatting until noon and had come up with the framework for the proposal.

“Mr.

Jefferson, let’s have lunch together,” Jack invited Alex excitedly.

After chatting with Alex for a few hours, he realized that Alex’s mind for business was one of the best he had seen.

Alex’s forecast of the market and his plans for the future were something he would never be able to achieve even if he worked for his entire life.

Initially, when he heard that Alex had intended to invest ten billion into pan entertainment, he was worried that his two billion would go down the drain.

Three of the shareholders had pulled out because they did not trust Alex.

After all, the two firms that tried pan entertainment previously had both ended in failure.

After chatting with Alex, he was filled with hope.

Alex nodded and joined him for lunch.

After having lunch with Jack at a five-star hotel, Alex returned to his office.

He then stood by the window and looked down upon the busy streets and bustling cities, lost in thought.

It's about time they arrived.

He knew that from the moment he activated his bank card, the Jefferson family would start to investigate what he was doing.

With the power and influence of the Jefferson family, they would be able to locate him within five to ten days.

The influence of the Jeffersons was beyond what many had imagined, but he had not regretted his choice.

He had had enough of living in fear and hiding.

It was time he got up on his feet.

"Bring it on.

Show me how much you've improved these six years!

" A glint flashed across Alex's eyes as he reclined against the back of his seat.

He then closed his eyes to rest.

At half past one, Alex took the contract and left.

He rode on his electric scooter as usual.

However, after Madison rammed against it earlier in the morning, the back tire had become slightly deformed.

If he were not an experienced rider, he would not be able to control the vehicle at all.

Twenty minutes later, he finally arrived at Audi's main branch in Nebula City.

When the dealers saw that Alex was dressed plainly and arrived in an electric scooter that was nearly breaking apart, none of them approached him.

Anyone who could afford a car here would be able to drive here or at least call a cab.

No one had come in an electric scooter before, much less a broken one.

“Hold it!

Where do you think you’re going?

” a beautiful car dealer stopped Alex.

That woman was beautiful and a hundred and sixty-five centimeters in height.

She had fair skin, and even though she was wearing a blazer, one could tell that she was well-endowed.

“I’m buying a car,” Alex replied.

“Scram!

I know exactly what you’re here for!

” the lady snapped.

“What else can I do here other than buying a car?

” Alex asked in confusion.

“Tch, who do you think you are?

A street rat like you will never be able to afford a car here!

” the lady scoffed.

“The cheapest car here will cost you three hundred grand!

Even if you opt for installments, the down payment will be over a hundred thousand.

Can you afford it?

I’ve seen many people like you before.

You come in pretending to buy a car so that you can take a selfie to show off on your social media!

” Alex burst into laughter.

Isn't that being a bit too judgmental?

"What are you laughing at?

Am I wrong?

" the lady scrutinized Alex and sneered.

"Someone like you won't even be able to afford a tire here!

" A few other dealers sniggered and glanced at Alex in contempt.

"Is Audi really that great?

I didn't know that clients aren't even allowed to smile here," Alex spat in rage.

This dealer must be mad!

"I don't care if you're laughing or not, but you have no right to set foot in this building.

So if you don't leave now, I'll be calling security on you," the lady threatened.

Mr.

Stanton had instructed them time and again that the new chairman of the Four Seas Corporation would be arriving soon to discuss a contract with them.

Hence, they had been stationed here to welcome him later on.

If we let this street rat put off the chairman of Four Seas Corporation, we'll be fired the next day!

Just as Alex was about to burst out in anger, Heather walked over with a man dressed in a suit.

When Alex saw the two of them chuckling happily, his blood started boiling.

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 20

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 20 Is This Your Useless Husband When the lady saw the man beside Heather, she ignored Alex and greeted him, "Mr. Stanton!" The other dealers rushed to greet him as well. That man was Luke Stanton, the branch manager of Audi's main branch in Nebula City. He was also in charge of the partnership with Four Seas Corporation. "Has the chairman of the Four Seas Corporation arrived yet?" Luke inquired. "Not yet. We've been waiting here all this time," one of them replied.

Luke nodded and turned to Heather, "Let's wait in the office then.

" Luke had a divorce recently and was interested in courting Heather, who used to be the school belle.

When he learned from Carmen that Heather wanted to divorce Alex, he was overjoyed and started to take action.

That day, he encountered Carmen and Heather by chance and mentioned the new chairman of Four Seas Corporation.

After a round of bragging, Carmen was excited and got him to introduce Heather to the new chairman.

When Luke learned that the chairman would be visiting the Audi main branch at two in the afternoon that day, he invited Heather to join them.

Heather did not want to come, but Carmen had egged her on.

She was interested in seeing the chairman of the Four Seas Corporation as well, so she agreed.

However, she had no idea that the person she wanted to see this whole time was the husband she had looked down upon.

From their conversation, Alex surmised that this 'Mr.

Stanton' would be the man in charge of negotiating with him later on.

He scoffed and headed over.

"Why haven't you left yet?"

" the lady who confronted Alex frowned.

Luke scrutinized Alex.

He looked poor, so he did not think much of him and chided the dealers, "How could you let this piece of trash in?"

What if this makes the chairman of Four Seas Corporation unhappy?"

" The dealers glared at Alex and felt like chasing him out immediately.

“Well, what are you staring for?

Chase him out, now!

” Luke commanded.

“R-Right!

” a few ladies nodded and proceeded to drag Alex out.

“Alex!

” Heather exclaimed.

She finally noticed Alex’s presence and seemed distraught.

What on earth is Alex doing here?

“Alex, don’t misunderstand.

This isn’t what it looks like...” Heather tried to explain.

She did not want to divorce Alex for now, so she hoped that he would not misunderstand.

But Alex remained silent, so Heather continued, “My mom forced me to come.

Luke said he knew the new chairman from Four Seas Corporation, and my mom made him introduce the chairman to me... I have to meet him at least once, you know, because of that thirty million.

” For some reason, Alex had calmed down a lot when he saw Heather nervously attempt to explain things to him.

Even though the incident with Walt had driven a wedge between the two of them, Heather was the woman he had loved for five years after all.

Thus, he could not bear to hurt her.

“I understand,” Alex nodded.

He knew Carmen like the back of his hand.

“Heather, who is this man?

He looks like a trash collector!

How did you get to know him?

” Luke inquired.

He had already guessed Alex’s identity from their conversation, but he wanted to embarrass Alex in front of Heather.

Alex’s eyes narrowed.

Before Heather could speak, he introduced himself, “I’m her husband, Alex.

That’s my wife you’re talking to, so please watch yourself.

” Luke chuckled, “So you’re Heather’s good-for-nothing husband.

I was wondering who it was.

” He took a step forward and glared at Alex, “Mrs.

Jennings has told me about your situation.

Soon, you’ll be chased out of the Jennings family.

Heather may be your wife, but not for long.

” He had a scornful gaze and contemptuous tone.

Normally, he would not have bothered talking to a good-for-nothing.

However, Alex was Heather’s husband.

And since he was interested in her, he treated Alex with animosity.

“Luke, what on earth are you saying?

” Heather scowled.

This Luke – he has tried to court me since our university days.

Back then, I didn’t even care about Walt, much less Luke, who didn’t have a good family background.

If mom hadn’t forced me, I wouldn’t even have come at all.

“Trash, I won’t make life difficult for you on Heather’s account, but sometimes, you need to know your place,” Luke spat.

He hoped that by taunting Alex, Alex would become violent so that he could show off in front of Heather.

Yet to his dismay, all Alex did was stare at him expressionlessly.

He was not affected emotionally at all.

“Ah, Heather!

Are you here to buy a car as well?

” a crisp voice called out.

Everyone turned around to see a lady just as beautiful as Heather walking in.

The lady was dressed fashionably and gave off an elegant yet aloof vibe.

Although her figure was not as voluptuous as Heather’s, she still looked good.

“Jessica, you’re back from studying overseas?

” Heather exclaimed.

This woman was her high school classmate and best friend, Jessica Saffin.

Although they had not contacted each other in recent years, they were extremely close in high school.

Usually, friendships formed in high school were more sincere than those formed in college.

Although the two of them had lost contact in years, they were still happy to see each other.

“That’s right!

Try guessing where I’m working at?

” Jessica smiled at Heather excitedly.

Heather shook her head.

Jessica quipped, “I’m working as the secretary to the chairman of the Four Seas Corporation!

My base yearly pay is one million and five hundred thousand, and I'm still entitled to bonuses and the like!

"Whoa!

You're earning five hundred grand more than me, and I'm working as a manager!

The Four Seas Corporation is on a whole new level!

Luke was taken aback and felt envious.

Alex's eyes twitched and scrutinized Jessica.

So this is the secretary Jack got me?

"Congratulations!

It must be nice to be able to study abroad.

The moment you return, all major companies are looking to hire you!

I'll treat you to a meal someday," Heather nodded happily.

Jessica chuckled and inquired, "Oh right, I heard you got married to a good-for-nothing?

"Heather's smile froze and glanced at Alex in an awkward expression.

Right then, Jessica followed her gaze to Alex and exclaimed, "Don't tell me that brick-layer guy right there is your husband!
