

Chapter 17 Done

"That's old news who doesn't know that? Now if that was why you are calling me, you better get off my phone." Lucas replied.

Kelvin was shocked because he was not aware of Lala's return and to think that Lucas never mentioned her sudden appearance after five years hurt him.

Even though her news was all over the internet recently, Kelvin was trapped in the problem of Donald's group. He never has time to listen to the gossip on the Internet. How can his boss know about her return without informing him, because of that he continued talking without minding his mood.

"You will not believe who she was having lunch with," he said.

"She probably eating with Ellis. You don't have to tell me that I know" Lucas answered

Kelvin was more shocked than surprised at Lucas's indifferent responses. He knew that Lucas can fool everybody but certainly not him. Only he knows how he feels about Lala, but to hear him talk like this broke his heart. So he thought of what to say to make him get upset.

"I see, no wonder Ellis is kissing her so passionately like this, it's probably because you gave him your blessing to do so. He was even squeezing her breasts like a hungry..."

"Shut up, You idiot. Where are you right now? Which restaurant are they" Lucas yelled at him in frustration?

"What is cooking you up, man? I thought you never care" he asked.

"Shut the hell up. Where are you?" He asked again ferociously.

"At Blue Berry. Just come over quickly if you don't wanna miss the fun" Kelvin said.

"You are just an idiot," Lucas said and cut off his phone. He gets up from the floor and hurried out of his office. Meanwhile, Kelvin was happy about making Lucas angry.

"That serves him right. Why didn't he tell me about Lala's return?" He murmured and sat down carefully waiting for what will happen next when Lucas will finally come. He smiled and continued with his drink.

Shortly after, Lucas came into the bar and saw Lala chatting with Ellis. He rushed to Ellis and landed a heavy blow on his nose. Ellis was taken unaware but he managed to dodge the second punch that Lucas throw at him.

Kelvin was surprised at Lucas's actions. He quickly rushed to Lucas and held him by the waist and he tried to drag him out from Ellis.

"What are you doing with my wife? You animal? I will kill you for putting that stinky mouth of yours on her lips. You idiot" Lucas shouted at Ellis while struggling to get out of Kelvin's grip.

Ellis was surprised at his accusations, he did not know where they came from. Kelvin was laughing in his head when he looked at Lucas's reactions.

"She is not your wife. You lost that title of being her husband many years ago. Any day you harassed her again I will lock you up" Ellis yelled at Lucas. His words provoked Lucas more that he broke free from Kelvin's grip and rushed to Ellis to hit him more, however, Lala's cold voice stopped him instantly.

"And who gave you right over me? Whom I kiss and who I don't kiss does not concern you. I would not tolerate you mingling with my life again. Any time you try that I will make sure you rot in jail. Useless man." Lala said with so much hatred and bitterness.

Lucas turned and look at her. This was the first time he has looked closely at her in the past years since they became husband and wife. What he saw shocked him and hurt him to the core. His once adorable timid, wife is now a vicious woman, who stares back at him with so much contempt. He took his eyes away from her brutal gaze and left the place without looking back. Kelvin followed him. While Lala rushed to Ellis to take a look at his wound.

"Molly, I know how much you love Lucas, as you can see, Lala is no longer interested in him. And Dolly is a silly bitch am sure you know that." Nancy told Molly.

"What are you instigating? Molly asked.

"Don't you think that you're the best person to marry Lucas, even though you are crazy sometimes I still think you are better than Dolly?"

Nancy said looking intensely at Molly to consider her reaction. But Molly did not object to her words so she continued.

"If I were you, I will do something about it. Ok, look at the way Dolly abandoned Nadia in the police cell, you told me that you are the one that helped her out. Do you still call such a person your friend? She will do the same to you." Nancy said.

Molly considered Nancy's words carefully. Dolly was a selfish bitch. She only thought about herself and never considered anyone worthy. She feels it's a privilege to allow anyone to talk to her. She was so prideful and shows out all her expensive gifts which Lucas always showers on her.

"Why are you telling me all this?" Molly asked.

"Nothing just for you to think clearly with your head. If Dolly who is not as beautiful as you are can hook up with someone like Lucas, don't you think you can do the same? Anyway, I will leave you to think about it. I will be on my way." Nancy said and left Molly with her wild thought.

Molly's mind started racing. She was the one Nadia first introduced to Lucas but Dolly smartly snatched him away from her. But because they were all afraid to offend Dolly who came from a richer family, she and Nadia kept quiet. Lucas doesn't love her if not why hasn't he put the ring on Dolly's finger? Not even an engagement.

"I will do something about this," Molly thought in her mind.

"Done,"

Nancy said as soon as she joined Lala in her car which she parked at the far end of the restaurant where Molly and Nancy met.
