Chapter 171

Sasha was not worried about Alex making the Hale family bankrupt.

In truth, she did not care about anything that had to do with Leo Hale at all.

Also, Sasha was not intimidated by Alex per se. He was merely a powerless live-in son-in-law of the Jennings'.

A useless scumbag like him did not weigh on her mind at all.

What Sasha had qualms about, was that Alex and Kate would report to the superiors of the Four Seas Corporation about what happened, and they would take action against her family.

If the Four Seas Corporation was offended by her, the Taylor family might end up in shambles, let alone the Hale family whose prosperity relied on their connections with them.

“Leo dear, what do we do now?” Sasha asked in a frail tone as she hurriedly untied her husband.

Sasha had no idea how to handle such disputes. All she had in mind was fear. Leo was her only way out of the situation now.

“I have no idea too. Let’s hope that their superiors won’t be upset when they hear about what happened.” Leo was also on pins and needles.

Kate’s family was an influential family from the Lumenopolis. Although Kate was only working as an assistant director in the Marketing Department of the Four Seas Corporation, she for sure had a lot of power within the company too.

Now, not only did Leo spike Kate's drink with an aphrodisiac, but he had also shamelessly accused her of seducing him. By right, Kate would be enraged by him.

Even if the Four Seas Corporation chose not to take action against him, the Sutton family would certainly hound him for what he had done to Kate.

Damn it! If this old hag didn't show up, I would already be having my sweet time with Kate now and there wouldn't be this much trouble!

Leo was confident that once he had slept with Kate, he could talk his way into the Sutton family. The Taylor family would not be able to do anything to him then, given the status of the Sutton family.

Leo glanced at Sasha bitterly. In his mind, the woman had already died a million times at his hands.

“How about I give my dad a phone call? He should be able to help. For the time being, we will just apologize to them. Perhaps out of our sincerity, the Four Seas Corporation will not be so merciless towards us,” Sasha suggested.

Leo mulled over the idea for a second and agreed it was the best thing they could do now.

It seemed to him that they had no other options if they wanted to get out of this tight corner unscathed.

“Alright, I think your plan works. But remember to exaggerate the situation to your dad. Or else, he might not bother to show up,” Leo commented.

“Okay.”

Sasha nodded her head and took out her phone.

Just at this moment, Leo’s phone rung.

It was a call from his father.

“You rascal! Who gave you the nerve to provoke the executive staff of the Four Seas Corporation?” Right upon picking up the call, an angry voice came roaring from the phone’s speaker.

Leo stammered, “Dad, I-I... “

“What more do you have to say? The Four Seas Corporation have just informed us that we will be bankrupt in approximately twelve hours. How dare you toy with our family assets? Ugh! I want to kill you right now!” The head of the Hale family raged on.

“Dad, I will let Sasha get in touch with her dad right now. He might be able to help with our situation,” Leo hastily responded.

Now, it was all up to Philip Taylor, the head of the Taylor family, to save all of them.

Alex and Kate both left the Hale family company building.

Kate did not say anything. Alex did not pester her either, as he figured that she might need some time to herself after that incident.

But he soon realized there was something wrong with Kate.

Alex turned his head to look at Kate. He saw Kate tossing and turning in her seat with her face flushing red.

“Were you drugged by Leo?” Alex instantly knew what was wrong with Kate since he had experience with these kinds of situations before.

“Yes, please send me to the hospital!” Kate whimpered. She was feeling mortified, scared and enraged, all at the same time.

However, Kate realized the aphrodisiac was soon going to take full control of her body.

Her heart was thudding loud and fast in her chest, especially now that there was a decent-looking man sitting just a few inches away from her.

Moreover, that man was someone who could make ladies swoon over him had he exposed his real self to the world.

“Oh, okay.” Alex thought too that it would be the best for Kate if he sent her to the hospital.

“I-I’m warning you! D-don’t you dare touch me, or else I will...” Kate was already finding it difficult to verbalize anything. All of a sudden, she seemed to have lost herself completely.

Kate unfastened her safety belt and threw herself into the embrace of Alex.

“Uh, give it to me! I need you to do me right now! Please, I beg you!” Kate clung onto Alex’s body tightly and started to tear off his clothes.

Chapter 172

Kate's eyes were foggy, yet at the same time, she looked like a beast in heat.

Alex, who was startled by Kate's sudden action almost rammed the car into the parapets at the side of the road.

If not for his somewhat decent driving skills, they might have gotten into an accident.

“Calm down! We're reaching the hospital very soon!”
Alex yanked one hand out of Kate's embrace and tried to push her away.

However, Kate was in such a frenzy that unless Alex drew energy from his Mortal Force, he would not be able to put her back in her seat.

Alex was carefully controlling the steering wheel at the same time as holding Kate back. Suddenly, he felt a cool sensation beneath his waist. Kate had unzipped his pants.

Out of panic, Alex tried to cover his lower body with one hand, but he suddenly felt a hand grabbing onto his member.

Alex managed to slowly drive the car to the side of the road and pull over.

Half an hour later, Kate finally regained her consciousness. She found herself on top of Alex's body. However, she was calm and collected at her discovery.

She got dressed and tidied her hair in the mirror. She then tilted her head to look at Alex.

Alex hurriedly put on his clothes.

“You sure have a lot of guts!” Kate blurted in rage after staring at the man in front of her in silence for some time.

“You can’t put all the blame on me.” Alex shrugged his shoulders. It was purely an accident. Alex did not have the intention to make love with Kate at all.

“Pfft, I thought you are a man of virtue, but who knew you are such a licentious monster! Have you thought of the consequences before you act just now?” Kate glared at Alex.

“You do know my family, right? If words get to my father that her precious daughter’s virginity was taken by a useless, live-in son-in-law like you, what do you think will happen to you?” Kate’s voice was getting louder by the second.

Kate had not been this worked up for a long time.

Alex slanted his eyes at Kate but he said nothing. Or rather, he did not know what to say.

Although the blame was not completely on his shoulders, the truth was that he could have pushed Kate away.

Kate stared at Alex for a while longer before she crawled back to her seat.

She took out two thousand s from her purse and hurled it at Alex. She threatened him, “This is your hush money. If you dare tell anyone about what happened, I will kill you.”

Kate snorted resentfully and left the car.

At that moment, Alex was just a disgusting pig in her eyes.

Her flawless body had now been tainted by another man before she could leverage it in a deal with the chairman.

It was very merciful of her to have suppressed her rage and not hire someone immediately to take Alex out for taking away her virginity.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 173

Alex was feeling quite amused when he picked up and counted the cash that Kate threw at him.

This woman is really something.

Too bad he wasn't interested in her, or else he could entertain the thought of being with her.

Alex kept the two thousand and watched Kate take a cab at the intersection ahead before leaving in his car.

Instead of heading back to the office immediately, he went for a spa and dinner first.

Panicked, the Hales begged Philip Taylor, the patriarch of the Taylor family, to ask for mercy from Fours Seas Corporation on behalf of them.

For the sake of his daughter, Philip had no choice but to bring Christian, Leo, and the rest to Four Seas Corporation.

In the reception room, Christian and Leo were feeling dejected, especially the former, who was the head of the Hale family.

When he knew that the whole incident was caused by Leo's attempt to harass the executive, he had to fight the urge to strangle his own son.

After waiting for a long time, neither the chairman nor the Four Seas Corporation's general manager showed up. Even Philip Taylor didn't know what to expect next.

“Mr. Jefferson, the three of them are still in the reception room. President Sawyer hasn’t arrived yet. What should we do now?” Jessica asked Alex in his office.

Immersed in his own thoughts, he took a while before replying, “Give Kate a call and see if she’s willing to forgive the Hales.”

Alex decided to consult Kate’s opinion since she was the victim of the incident. He would see to Kate’s demands and make sure she got what she wanted.

Nodding, Jessica took out her phone and called Kate.

“Hello, Ms. Sutton. Mr. Jefferson asks if you are willing to spare the Hales. If you don’t want to, he will make sure that their whole family becomes bankrupt at the end of the day. If you are willing to forgive them, he will get them to call you,” Jessica said when Kate picked up.

“I don’t care if the Hale family goes bankrupt, but Leo Hale has to go to jail!” Kate gritted her teeth.

“I understand, Ms. Sutton. I will tell that to Mr. Jefferson.” Jessica looked at Alex after hanging up.

Given that Jessica put the phone on a loudspeaker, Alex understood Kate clearly.

“Tell the Hales that Leo has to turn himself in, serve for at least three years in jail, and compensate Kate with three hundred million. These are all we ask for. Tell them to beware of our wrath if they do not agree to our conditions.”

“Yes, Mr. Jefferson.”

Jessica felt slightly shocked because she didn't expect Alex to be so considerate and responsible that he would ask for a compensation of three hundred million that Kate didn't request.

Kate Sutton is indeed lucky! With the three hundred million, will she still work here?

In fact, he had requested compensation on behalf of Kate as he was guilty about the money he received from her earlier that day.

Finally, Jessica's arrival at the reception room saved the Hales from further despair.

"Ms. Saffin, what did your chairman say?" Philip Taylor stood up and asked hurriedly as Christian and Leo looked at Jessica with anticipation.

"I'm here to convey his message. He said that if you want your family to come out of this unscathed, Leo Hale has to turn himself in, spend at least three years behind bars, and compensate Ms. Sutton with three hundred million. If you don't do so, there will be worse consequences," Jessica repeated Alex's words.

When she finished, the father-son duo turned pale, and Leo almost fainted from shock.

Chapter 174

What will become of me after I'm released from jail?
The Taylors won't help us anymore, will they?

Kneeling in front of Philip, Leo pleaded, “Dad, I don’t want to go to prison! Please help me!” Panic was written all over his face.

“What will happen to me if Leo goes to jail? Please think of something, Dad!” Sasha cried out.

Philip would have sent Leo flying downstairs with a kick if Sasha hadn’t married this jerk. Sighing, he turned towards Jessica and asked sincerely, “Ms. Saffin, can I meet the chairman?”

Jessica knew that the Taylors were powerful as well, but she shook her head when she recalled Alex’s order. “Mr. Taylor, our chairman has made it clear that he will not accept any bargain. Leo Hale must be punished by the law.”

After pausing for a moment, she continued, “Our chairman also said that he does not wish to see anyone today. However, if the Taylors are interested in a collaboration with our company, he would meet you another day to discuss the project over dinner.”

“Really?” Philip was stunned.

“Yes. You are welcomed to invite him for business discussions in the future. I think it may be helpful for you to know that he is going to be quite busy for the next few days.”

“All right. Please help me thank Mr. Jefferson and tell him that I will do as he wishes. I will treat Mr. Jefferson and Ms. Sutton to dinner some other day and apologize to Ms. Sutton personally.” Philip only hesitated for a few seconds before agreeing to Alex’s conditions.

Obviously, he would send Leo to jail in exchange for a business opportunity with Four Seas Corporation rather than offending the company by protecting Leo.

It was a rare opportunity for the Taylor family to expand their business ever since they had reached their maximum potential.

“Dad, I...” Leo almost fainted when he heard Philip’s decision.

Meanwhile, Sasha was dumbfounded because she could not believe that her beloved father would send her husband to jail.

“Dad! How can you do this to me? How am I supposed to live alone?” She burst into tears.

“Sasha, your husband is an a**hole! If we don’t teach him a lesson, he will eventually have an affair in the future.”

Philip glared at Leo coldly before turning to Christian.
“What do you say, Christian?”

Christian laughed bitterly. “I agree with you. This a**hole son of mine deserves a punishment indeed, but...”

“Tell me.” Philip nodded as a gesture for Christian to go on.

“But it’s difficult to get three hundred million in such short notice.” Christian finished with a helpless expression.

“How much money can you get today?” Philip asked.

“Three hundred million. It’s the most I can get,”
Christian replied.

“Okay. I can lend you one hundred million. I’ll not charge any interest from you as long as you return the money to me in three years,” Philip said to Christian before turning back to Jessica.

“Ms. Saffin, please tell Mr. Jefferson that we will bring the money at eight o’clock tonight and hand Leo over to the police.”

“Alright.” Jessica nodded and went back to the office to report to Alex.

Philip and the others in the room left Four Seas Corporation after that.

At last, the incident was resolved peacefully.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 175

At night, when Kate heard the news that Alex demanded a three hundred million compensation for her, she felt an inexplicable warmth in her heart.

The only thing that annoyed her was the fact that her virginity was taken by that piece of trash named Alex.

It was a traumatic experience for her, and she couldn't forgive him for that.

She took five days off to travel back to Lumenopolis, somewhere she was familiar with where she would feel better.

After knocking off, Alex fetched his son from school. While he cooked dinner and accompanied his son to do his homework, Heather was sitting at a reserved table at Happy Living.

However, she didn't see the chairman even though she waited until eight o'clock.

At first, she didn't message the him as she thought that he was still working.

When the waitress came by her table for the fifth time to ask if they could start serving food, she finally took the courage to message the chairman and ask him the time of his arrival.

Heather felt nervous as she was already seeing another man before divorcing Alex.

She stared at her phone for another half an hour, but the chairman didn't reply.

When Heather saw that it was already half-past eight, she started panicking. After hesitating for some time, she finally called the chairman.

At that moment, Alex was teaching Stanley to read when his other phone rang. He recognized Heather's phone number immediately and smirked as he picked it up.

"Chairman, are you on the way?" Heather probed.

Smiling mockingly, Alex put up a hoarse voice. "Oh! I'm so sorry. I completely forget about our appointment. I'm afraid we have to cancel this today since I've already reached home."

There was no way Alex would attend that date today since he had intended to ditch Heather from the start.

"Oh? I see. Then we shall meet next time." Although Heather was displeased, she still tried her best to sound cheery.

“Sure. I have something to do now. I’ll hang up first.”

Heather felt dejected when the ‘chairman’ hung up on her.

Although she made the first move to ask a man out and was stood up by him, she didn’t dare to get mad at the man. Instead, she found herself finding excuses for him. How ironic!

In the end, she asked the waitress to serve dinner.

After finishing a whole bottle of wine by herself, she was so drunk that she had no choice but to call Alex to fetch her home.

Alex took a cab to Happy Living. Upon arriving, he saw Heather sleeping soundly in the passenger seat of her car.

He knocked on the window for quite a while before she woke up and opened the door for him.

On the way home, Alex glanced at Heather and asked casually, “Why did you drink so much?”

Heather didn’t even open her eyes when she lied, “I had dinner with a client.”

Alex smirked knowingly and said nothing more.

When they reached home, Alex carried her upstairs and placed her on the bed. He was about to leave when she suddenly hugged him tightly.

Alex was startled for a moment before he eventually reached for her hand and took it off him. “You should rest.”

“Please don’t leave me... We haven’t made love to each other in such a long time... Do you really want us to sleep separately forever?”

Chapter 176

“I’m in a bad mood today. Get some rest.” Alex pushed Heather away and walked out of the bedroom.

Heather stared blankly at Alex’s retreating figure as she became sober. Only then did she realize that it was the first time Alex refused her in so many years of their marriage.

Her heart hurt at the thought of his ruthless expression when he pushed her away.

Alex had always doted on her and listened to whatever she said until today when she discovered that he did not love her as much as before.

It was as if he became a distant stranger to her.

Heather sat on her bed, allowing herself to immerse in her conflicting emotions.

When she discovered that the person who loved her the most became aloof, she was too emotional to realize that she was the one who drove him away by betraying him in the first place.

“B*stard! You piece of leeching trash! Go to hell!”

After smashing her pillow on the bed like a madwoman, she eventually broke down in tears and cried herself to sleep.

In the following days, Alex and Heather were still not talking to each other.

At times, Heather wasn't even willing to eat what Alex prepared for dinner.

Besides working, Alex spent the rest of his time with his son and didn't show any concern for Heather.

As for Carmen and Lucas, Heather gave them jobs at the company so that they would keep their mouths shut about Alex.

Alex hadn't felt so peaceful in a long time.

Love sure was a funny thing. When in love, people couldn't stand being away from their lovers, even for just a day. But when lovers fell out, they had no issues living without each other.

By now, Alex already made peace with the cold war between them and was prepared to give up their marriage, but Heather was merely angry at him for not coming to her.

The wait lasted for a month, but Alex still showed no sign of wanting to reconcile with her.

One day after work, Alex was going to pick up Stanley from school when he got a call from Kate.

"Where are you now?" Kate's tone was icy.

Frowning, Alex wondered the reason Kate suddenly called him after a month of not seeing each other. “I just finished work. I’m on my way to fetch my son.”

“Come to my house at once, or you will pay for it!” Kate demanded in a flat tone and hung up.

A minute later, Alex received Kate’s location.

He didn’t understand why she suddenly wanted to meet him, but he decided to drop by her house because of the hostility in her voice.

When Heather received Alex’s call, she thought that he wanted to reconcile with her.

However, when she heard that he was only asking her to pick up Stanley from school, she hung up on him angrily.

Trusting Heather to pick up Stanley, Alex headed to the location Kate sent. In no time, he arrived at the destination.

When the door was flung open, Kate gave him a tight slap across his face before he got to say anything.

Chapter 177

“What’s going on?” Alex gripped Kate’s wrist tightly because he didn’t want to be slapped again.

“I’m pregnant, you bastard!” Kate gave him the death stare and gritted her teeth angrily.

What?

Alex was stunned because he thought Kate would get a contraceptive pill after she left him that day.

“What? You don’t believe it’s your child? You’re the only one I ever had sex with!” Kate glowered at Alex as tears streamed down her face.

“No, I believe you. I’m just wondering, why didn’t you take a contraceptive pill?” Alex said bitterly.

“How am I supposed to know that I will get pregnant so easily? What should I do now?” Kate yelled at him helplessly.

She was horrified and flustered because she had no experience at all.

“You should abort the baby.” He shrugged, believing that Kate wouldn't give birth to the child.

“B*stard! You jerk! You are the reason that I'm in this state! I hate you!” Kate cussed while hitting him in the chest.

This time, he did not stop her as he felt frustrated too.

This is too f**king ridiculous! We only did it once!

Kate finally stopped hitting him when she got tired. She was definitely not going to give birth to Alex's child, so there was no choice but to abort the baby.

Alex brought her to a remote hospital to avoid being seen by acquaintances.

After doing an ultrasound, electrocardiogram, and some tests, the doctor advised Kate to abort the baby after a week because she wasn't in a good state before prescribing her some medicine.

It was past seven o'clock at night when they left the hospital. Alex invited Kate to join him for dinner, but she rejected him in disdain, saying that he could not afford expensive dinners.

Smiling politely, Alex sent Kate to her home and ate dinner at a roadside stall before going back.

That night, Alex tossed and turned in bed but couldn't fall asleep.

The fling with Kate and her pregnancy was totally a mistake. However, he felt an inexplicable feeling when he thought of Kate aborting his child the next week.

He finally fell asleep after a long night of wild thoughts.

The next day, Kate called and asked him to take her to the hospital again because she wanted to do another checkup to make sure everything was fine.

Alex went to the bank to fetch Kate, who was there to do some transactions.

When he reached the bank and didn't see Kate, he called her. "I'm in the bank. Where are you?"

"I'm in the VIP room. Come over now." She then ended the call.

Alex kept his phone and started striding towards the VIP room. Right then, an attractive woman dressed in a formal suit smiled politely at him. "Sir, how can I help you?"

Alex returned the smile and said, "I'm looking for a friend who is in the VIP room.”

The VIP room? He’s obviously nothing more than a white-collar worker with those shabby clothes on. How can someone like him enter the VIP room?

Chapter 178

The woman smiled vaguely, but the coldness in her eyes was evident. “I’m afraid you can’t go to the VIP room. If you are looking for someone, please wait in the lobby.”

Alex froze for a moment and raised his eyebrows before saying, “I want to do a transaction in the VIP room.”

Remaining the polite smile on her face, the woman scrutinized Alex as she said, “You can do that in the lobby. Feel free to withdraw and deposit money at the counters or ATMs. VIP rooms are only for distinguished clients.”

The VIP room is only for transactions exceeding a million. I don't think he even has a hundred thousand!

“But I want to withdraw money.” Alex was starting to feel annoyed by the woman's disdainful expression.

Frowning, the woman replied impatiently, “I've already told you that you can do it in the lobby.”

What's the matter with him? Is he nuts? Do I need to spell it out for him? The sight of him in his shabby clothes in front of the counters is already affecting our bank's image!

Alex looked at his own clothes and scoffed. F**k! Do I really need to get a new set of clothes? Why is everyone judging me from what I'm wearing? These clothes may be cheap, but they're frigging comfortable!

"Fine. I'm not going in there, so please stop following me." Alex couldn't be bothered to explain to her anymore, especially when he saw the woman rolling her eyes.

He then fished out his phone to tell Kate that he would be waiting in the lobby, but the woman stopped him, "Sir, please make the phone call outside to avoid disturbing other customers." She gestured to him to walk out of the building.

At the same time, she waved at the security guard.
“Please show this man out and keep him away from the VIP room. He might disturb the VIPs in there.”

The security guard walked towards Alex and said, “Sir, you cannot loiter around the VIP room. Please leave now.”

The guard’s booming voice attracted the attention of the people who were doing transactions in the bank. Everyone cast their glances in Alex’s direction curiously.

“Haha! Where is this poor chap from? Funny that he thinks he can go into the VIP room with clothes like that.”

“Maybe he’s too lazy to queue up and wants a shortcut. The only problem is he forgot to look at his own reflection!”

The group of onlookers laughed and gloated over Alex's embarrassment.

"Wait, isn't he the live-in son-in-law of the Jennings family?"

"Ha! That explains why he's so thick-skinned! What a loser!"

The attractive woman named Tina Tones glared at Alex disdainfully.

No wonder! He's a good-for-nothing who lives off his wife. He probably never goes to work.

"Guard, please get him out of here at once! He's disrupting our operations," Tina ordered.

"I said I want to withdraw money!" Alex raised his voice in frustration.

Tina glanced at Alex scornfully while lamenting her bad luck of meeting an unreasonable guy.

She scoffed, “How much do you want to withdraw? Ten thousand or twenty thousand? Give me your card!”

“I want to withdraw ten million!” Alex handed Tina his diamond black card.

Tina was dumbfounded because she had never seen a card like that.

Is this even a real bank card?

Everyone laughed hard when they saw Alex taking out a black card and demanding to withdraw ten million.

This poor guy is so hilarious! Has he become cuckoo because of the bullying by the Jennings family?

However, a manager, who just walked out of the VIP room, scurried over after noticing the black card in Tina's hand.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 179

“Sir, is this your diamond black card?” The bank manager, Bruce Winston, took the card from Tina and looked at Alex respectfully, for he recognized the customized bank card from International Amethyst

Bank.

There are only a thousand diamond black cards worldwide, and less than a hundred in Eurasia!

“Yes.” Alex nodded calmly.

Bruce was startled by Alex’s low profile and his white-collared worker appearance. A wolf in sheep’s clothing indeed!

“Sir, I’m Bruce Winston, the bank manager of this branch. Please allow me to assist you!” Bruce said with such a respectful manner that everyone was stunned instantly.

What the hell is going on? Don’t tell me that the bank manager is acting so courteous to the live-in son-in-law of the Jennings family just because of that little black card?

Tina almost peed in her pants. She realized that the black card must mean something important for the manager to be so respectful to him.

Staring at Alex's shabby appearance, her legs almost gave way when she thought of her attitude towards him just now.

Sh*t! I've offended a big shot! This might be the last day I'm working here!

"Never mind. I just want to withdraw money. She can do it for me." Alex looked at Tina mockingly.

"Sir, it's my pleasure to serve you!" Bruce hurriedly offered his own service.

"I don't want you to do it. She can withdraw the money for me. Have I not made myself clear enough?” Alex frowned as he spoke.

Shocked by Alex’s icy tone, Bruce nodded obediently and handed the card to Tina. “Alright, sir. I will let Tina do it for you!”

His eyes glowed with envy as he signaled Tina to help Alex with his withdrawal.

Taking the black card with her shaking hands, she turned to Alex and showed him the way to the VIP room respectfully. “Please follow me, sir.”

Everyone felt a chill running down their spines when they saw Tina’s change in attitude.

Wow, this live-in son-in-law is really something!

“I’ll just wait here while you get the money for me.”
Alex sat haughtily on a bench beside him.

Tina asked carefully, “Sir, are you sure you want to withdraw ten million?”

“Yes.” Alex nodded.

The sound of Tina’s high heels echoed through the corridor as she strode towards the VIP room.

Shortly after, she came out with a black briefcase that was a bit heavy for her to lift, which made sense since it contained ten million worth of cash.

“Sir, this is your ten million.” Tina handed the briefcase to Alex with difficulty.

Everyone looked at the briefcase curiously. When they saw the red notes inside the case, they gasped enviously.

Ten million! That's an amount that I'll never be able to earn no matter how hard I work!

Closing the briefcase, Alex ordered Tina, "Deposit this and leave five thousand for me."

Tina kept her expression as calm as possible. Although she knew that Alex was making trouble for her on purpose, she couldn't throw a tantrum or do anything else but obey him.

Everyone was rendered speechless as they watched Tina lift the briefcase back to the VIP room. He's purposely making things difficult for her!

A few minutes later, Kate walked out of the VIP room and saw Alex.

“Let’s go,” said Kate calmly.

“Give me two minutes. I have to go withdraw some cash.” Alex had to head to the ATM.

Kate then stood quietly beside waited and waited for him.

Those on the scene thought that the stunning woman was Alex’s wife.

Shortly after, Tina took handed Alex the cash and the card in a respectful manner, “Here’s your five thousand, sir.”

On the inside, Tina was praying to god that he would stop giving her a hard time. She just found out in the VIP room that there were at least tens of billions deposited on the black card.

I'm not going to be able to do it if he wants me to get another hundred or thousand million.

Alex was putting away his card and money when Kate exclaimed, "You're only withdrawing five thousand yet they let you into the VIP room?"

She was here to take care of some business and it was clearly stated to her that only transactions above one million were allowed into the VIP area.

This doesn't make any sense!

Alex responded with a smile when he was done,

“What can I say? They have excellent service. Especially this lady who insisted that we do business in the VIP area.”

Tina was blushing when Alex teased her.

“She provides excellent service, you say?”

Kate looked at Tina before scoffing, “She was the one who denied my access to the VIP room.”

Kate’s glare scared Tina out of her wits as she quickly apologized, “I’m so sorry. Please, I... “ “Did you just despise me?” Kate asked in a serious tone.

“No, that’s not what happened. I’m truly sorry!” Tina was on the verge of crying.

Bruce looked daggers at Tina before walking up to help her avert the crisis.

“Sir, madam, please accept my sincere apology. Tina is new here so there are a lot of things that she is not familiar with. Please forgive us for the inconvenience caused, “ Bruce apologized personally.

“Forget it. We’re not going to waste our time dealing with something as petty as this. You may return to your duty.” Alex dismissed them and was about to leave with Kate when a tall and attractive woman walked in.

She was wearing a pair of wide-brimmed sunglasses. Her sexy figure only served to match her long and slender legs that looked like they belonged to a fashion model. People around them were instantly attracted by her presence.

As the woman walked past Alex, she took off her sunglasses and exclaimed in delight, “It’s you! I can’t thank you enough for what you did last time!”

Alex was startled at first but quickly remembered meeting her in Xiuwen County when he went there with Flynn to bury his wife. She was the captain of the criminal investigation team, Elsa Sawyer. They first encountered when Elsa was trapped by the tomb raiders.

“Don’t mention it. I just did what I had to.” Alex smiled gently. Actually, he had Elsa to thank for getting the Nine Heaven Scroll.

“The name’s Elsa Sawyer. What’s yours? I haven’t had the chance to thank you properly yet.” She was sincere about thanking Alex for what he had done.

Had she fallen into the hands of the raiders, god knew what kind of nightmare would it be for her.

Alex was about to respond when a few masked robbers in black rushed in and shouted, “Those of you who want to live, get down now!”

Seeing as the robbers were armed with AK47, the crowd screamed and quickly got down on the floor as instructed.
