

Chapter 0025

The Morris family's residence.

The atmosphere was more somber than usual, with everyone wearing a solemn expression.

When everyone saw Renea enter, they all looked at her coldly, especially Susan. Her expression was so contorted with anger as if she wanted to skin Renea alive.

"Renea, you are back." Kailey stood up and greeted her. Then she said, "Come and sit with me. Tia is also here today."

Hearing that, Dylan sneered and said, Kailey, stop calling her. She is very mighty now. She even dared to frame the daughter of the vice principal. How can she sit with us?"

"What? Who framed the vice principal's daughter?" Leon, who just returned, heard this sentence and asked.

Seeing Leon, Kailey immediately pretended to stop him, "Dylan, please stop talking."

The more mysterious they acted, the more intriguing the matter became.

"Kailey, she has done something like this, yet you are still defending her!" Dylan scolded.

Leon inquired, "Dylan what exactly happened? Tell me the whole story."

"Dad, you might not know yet, but Renea fabricated a voice recording and publicly framed Mr. Miller's daughter during the school opening ceremony at Dream High Academy. The whole incident had spread throughout the academy," Dylan said coldly.

"I have received message from my peers in the entertainment industry asking if Renea is my younger sister. I was too embarrassed to respond to that. If people were to find out she is my younger sister, it would affect my career in the industry," Dylan continued indignantly.

The face of Leon, who had always valued reputation, instantly turned pale and he asked coldly, "Renea, what exactly is going on?"

"Mr. Morris, I am here today for this matter." Tia said as she wiped her tears and sobbed, "Renea forced Ria to create a false recording for her to frame Sophia. Now that the matter has gotten out of hand, Ria feels very guilty. She risked being taken revenge by Renea and told the truth."

With the veins of his forehead popping out, Leon raised his hand and intended to slap Renea. However, before his hand could descend, Renea grasped his wrist.

"What's wrong? Do you believe them just like that?" She asked with a cold voice.

"Do you know who Shane is? How dare you offend him?" Leon berated.

When Leon needed to recruit outstanding artists for his company, he still relied on Shane's recommendation.

Shane held a certain status within the country's entertainment industry.

"Since you are so concerned about it, how about I move out of the Morris family's residence?" Renea shrugged off his hand and said calmly.

Upon hearing that she wanted to move out of the Morris family's residence, Kailey and the others were overjoyed.

"You can leave. However, leave behind the inheritance that Sir Morris left for you, as that's not yours." Susan said coldly.

"Is that so?" Renea sneered and continued, "Even if I am the adopted daughter of the Morris family, Grandpa still left the inheritance for me. Which means, it is given to me, not the Morris family. So, why wouldn't it be mine?"

"You!" Susan was so angry that she was at a loss for words.

Leon's expression changed instantly, and his tone became calm, "Kailey, what did the academy say?"

"Um..." Kailey bit her lips and spoke softly, "Mr. Miller only mentioned that the recording was synthesised, and what Ria said was just one side of the story. Everything was only speculation from our classmates."

"I will contact Mr. Miller to inquire about the situation. Rene if someone intentionally, falsely accused you, I will certainly stand up for you." Leon Morris assumed a fatherly stance.

After that, he did not forget to cast a cold glance at Tia.

Dylan's expression slightly changed as he suppressed her dissatisfaction.

Renea ignored them and walked straight to the sofa to sit down.

Leon immediately called Shane. However, Shane only mentioned that Sophia had been framed and nothing about Renea's involvement.

Moreover, Shane's attitude toward Leon improved significantly compared to before. Shane even praised Renea for her exceptional talent, deeming her a promising candidate for the entertainment industry.

Leon hung up the phone with a sense of bewilderment. On the other hand, Susan and the others looked at him, hoping to hear the outcome they desired.

"Dylan, where did you get the news from? How could you accuse your younger sister like this?" Leon berated.

Dylan was utterly stunned.

Then, Leon looked at Kailey and said, "And you, don't simply bring anyone home."

Kailey was at a loss for what to do either.

'What exactly is going on? The matter is so clear. Could Mr. Miller be protecting Renea?' Kailey thought to herself.

"Renea, rest assured. Your grievances won't be in vain. I won't let you suffer unjustly. Here take this card." Leon said as he handed a credit card.

"Buy whatever you want. I will cover the expenses." he added.

Renea accepted the credit card without hesitation.

Dylan and Kailey were filled with resentment at Leon's actions.

Susan attempted to speak several times but ultimately had to swallow her dissatisfaction.

The incident of Sophia getting framed had already stirred up a commotion within the school, and naturally, suspicion fell on Renea.

"I never expected this faux heiress to be cunning. She had resorted to such methods just to gain everyone's sympathy."

"If she didn't use tactics, how could she continue to be living as a wealthy heiress in the noble social circle?"

"What nonsense are you spouting?" Stella blocked the path of these people furiously.

Stella's contemporary attire exuded an aura that she was not one to be trifled with. Therefore, they all avoided her.

"Stop right there!"

Stella wanted to chase after them when Renea pulled her back and said, "Forget it."

"Aren't you angry?" Stella asked. "Even as an onlooker, I am angry upon hearing those words! How could the person involved seem so fine about it."

Renea smiled in disapproval and said, "What's there to be angry about?"

Since she had experienced death once, these matters weren't a big deal for her.

Stella's adoration for Renea intensified,

"I will go first. I still have classes in the afternoon."

Renea headed off, however, Stella caught up with her and said, "Do you know that Ria has gotten suspended?"

"I am not surprised," Renea scoffed.

Since Shane wanted to quell the situation, he had to sacrifice Ria.
