

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 251

The alligator meat smelt delicious. Before it was even done grilling, it emanated an aroma that made everyone salivate.

When it was ready, Alex gave a piece to Jessica before distributing one each to all the other ladies. Finally, he tore a piece for himself.

When Kurt and Zachariah saw Alex and the others enjoying the meat, they couldn't help but drool.

Nevertheless, they were reluctant to beg Alex for any.

“Alex, you're finished! You have killed an alligator, the nation's second most protected species, you will go to prison for that or I will change my name,” Kurt suddenly sneered.

Stunned, everyone suddenly had the urge to chuck aside the alligator meat.

Alligator was indeed one of the nation's protected species. Thus, eating grilled alligator meat was also a crime.

"Idiot," Alex quipped without looking back.

"F, how dare you call me an idiot. You're a dead man. I'm going to get the police to arrest you now." Infuriated, Kurt took out his phone to call the police.

Carlene and the others couldn't help but frown. Instinctively, they threw the last piece of alligator meat onto the grassy ground.

They were worried about being implicated when the police arrived.

“Kurt, there’s no use making a police report,” Zachariah remarked.

“Hmm? What do you mean?” Kurt frowned as he turned towards Zachariah.

“This man has good connections. Gavin Wells from the provincial council is on good terms with him. Both of them are like brothers,” Zachariah explained.

Frowning, Kurt reconsidered his options. If Alex had such a connection, calling the police would just make a fool out of himself. He might even end up being humiliated.

However, it made him feel exasperated if he didn’t call them.

“Is this for real?” Kurt asked.

“Yes. My father and I were there. We were even sharing the same table,” Zachariah replied with a nod.

“Damn it. I didn’t expect him to have such strong connections. I really have underestimated him.”
Gritting his teeth, Kurt’s eyes were filled with anger.

The matter about the alligator meat wasn’t the real reason for his fury.

The crux of the issue was watching how Carlene and Alex chatting happily together.

He had not only abandoned Carlene and fled by himself earlier but also led the alligator towards her and the others. So, no matter how thick skin he was, he would never ever dare talk to Carlene again.

Watching the lady he had a crush on chatting happily with another man, he felt rather frustrated.

“Damn in. I will make sure he pays for this. Let’s go!”
Kurt snorted before leaving with Zachariah and the others in a huff.

He had already thought about how he was going to have his revenge.

He planned to convince his dad to bribe the Vice-chairman of Four Seas Corporation, Jack Sawyer to take action against Alex. Given his dad’s relationship with Jack, he was confident that Jack would definitely help out with his dad’s request.

As long as he could get Alex kicked out of the Four Seas Corporation, he would be free to teach him a lesson.

“Just continue eating. There’s nothing to be afraid about. The alligator was going to eat us and we killed it out of self-defense. Even if the police were here, they can’t do anything to us,” Alex explained to everyone.

“I’m almost done,” Susanna remarked.

The others gradually nodded to signal that they too were full.

When Alex saw that Jessica and Carlene were not eating, he ate their portion gladly.

Although alligator meat was known to replenish energy, it made no difference for ordinary people.

However, he was a martial art practitioner. By reciting a spell, he was able to absorb the energy from the alligator meat to great effect.

Furthermore, Alex wasn't going to waste the rest of the alligator meat.

He wanted to save them up for Charlie and Flynn.

As for the blood and innards, he would use them for making elixir.

Although he had recently learned about making elixirs, he never really tried it before. Therefore, he was ready to give it a go when he got back.

The subsequent programs were already meaningless especially since Alex had stolen Kurt's glory and became the hero. Kurt and his companions were no longer interested in playing and were preparing to head back to the city.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 252

“Dad, I found out who he is. That man is the Jennings family’s live-in son-in-law. His name is Alex,” Autumn informed her dad at the Jones residence.

Over the last two days, she had finally found out about Alex’s identity. When she knew that he was the Jennings family’s live-in son-in-law, she was shocked to her core.

For a live-in son-in-law to turn out to be a Master Geomancer, it was simply astounding. That was what Stefan thought.

“A live-in son-in-law?” Stefan frowned in disbelief.

“That’s right. But, I believe that he has the ability to solve our family’s problems,” Autumn firmly declared.

“Mmm, let’s get him to take a look first.” Stefan nodded. No matter what, their situation couldn’t be much worse than it already was.

Hence, regardless of whether his daughter spoke the truth, Stefan felt that seeking the help of that live-in son-in-law was worth a try.

“The problem is, Desmond, offended him previously. So I don’t think he would willingly help us,” Autumn commented.

Stefan replied with a frown, “Just pay him more.”

He didn’t believe that a live-in son-in-law would dare to bargain with the Jones family.

Autumn smiled wryly. “Dad, it’s not that simple. I think he is more than just a live-in son-in-law. From our conversation the other day, I feel that if you don’t personally see him or if Desmond doesn’t apologize, he would definitely not help our family.”

“Is he really a live-in son-in-law?” Stefan asked again with his eyebrows furrowed. How can he be so arrogant?

Stefan was not convinced.

“He really is the Jennings’ live-in son-in-law. By the way, he is also a Folk Hero,” Autumn explained with a nod.

“Folk Hero?” Stefan looked at his daughter quizzically.

“A few days ago, there was a robbery at the bank. He was the one who captured the eight robbers and solved the crime.”

Recalling more details, Autumn added, “Also, when I was watching TV, I saw him shielding someone else from bullets. Thus, the city council awarded him the title of ‘Folk Hero’ and it was even broadcasted live.”

“Furthermore, they even gave him a reward of ten million which he donated away on the spot and didn’t take any of it for himself. Therefore, I feel that if we used money to pressure him, our plan would backfire instead.”

“Is that so?” Stefan was shocked.

Is he really still a live-in son-in-law?

By refusing ten million and donating it out, he must be from a rich family.

Nodding in response, Autumn took out her phone and showed Stefan the video.

After watching the video, Stefan fell silent.

The Alex shown on the video didn't look especially impressive.

On the contrary, he looked unreliable due to his young age.

Usually, a geomancer could only master his craft when he reached between fifty and sixty years of age. Only those with an extensive grasp of geomancy could be considered a master.

Is this live-in son-in-law for real?

“Fine, I’ll go see him myself. I hope he doesn’t disappoint me.”

After giving it some thought, Stefan made a decision.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 253

That same night, Alex returned to Nebula City. The first thing he did was to deliver the alligator meat to Flynn and the others.

At the same time, he got Flynn to buy him an alchemy pot before heading home.

A short while after he returned, a knock on the door was heard.

However, Mrs. Jennings was watching TV in the hall so he didn't get to the door.

“Who are you looking for?” Carmen asked curiously when she opened the door and saw Stefan, Autumn, and Desmond.

As the three of them looked like influential people, Carmen didn't dare to be rude.

“Hello, I am Stefan Jones. May I know if Alex is home?” Stefan smiled politely.

“Are you the head of the Jones family, Stefan Jones?” Carmen looked at Stefan in shock.

The Jones family was famous in Nebula City as antique collectors. Everyone from the antique circle knew who they were. So, what do they want from that piece of trash?

“Yes, that’s me.” Stefan maintained his smile.

“Ah! So you are really the head of the Jones family. Please come in.” Carmen quickly welcomed them in.

Inside the house, Stefan and Desmond scrutinized the living room’s decoration. After that, they had an even lower opinion of Alex.

Meanwhile, it was especially tough for Desmond to accept that he had to apologize to a live-in son-in-law. The thought of it made his blood boil.

“Mrs. Jennings, may I know where is Alex?” Autumn asked.

Just when Carmen was about to shout for him, Alex came out from his room.

“Mr. Jefferson,” Autumn quickly greeted.

“Mmm.” Alex nodded as he looked towards Stefan and Desmond.

“This is my father,” Autumn introduced. As for Desmond, she didn’t need to do any introduction as Alex already knew who he was.

As Alex was looking at him, Stefan smiled. “Mr. Jefferson, recently, the Jones family have been having a lot of problems. So, we would like you to conduct a purification ceremony at our home.”

“I’m not free. Please look for someone else,” Alex replied plainly.

As Autumn knew that Alex was still angry at Desmond, she shot a glance at him.

Despite being extremely reluctant, Desmond frowned and stepped forward. “Mr. Jefferson, I’m sorry. I was being impulsive that day.”

When Alex saw that Desmond’s apology didn’t even contain an ounce of sincerity, he sneered, “Who are you? I don’t know you. Please leave my home or else don’t blame me for chasing you out.”

Desmond was so arrogant that he crossed the line the other day. Therefore, Alex was in no mood to tolerate his presence.

As his expression darkened, Desmond said in a grim voice, “Aren’t you just a live-in son-in-law? Why are you being so arrogant? Uncle, please believe me. This man is a fraud, for he’s not a geomancer at all.”

He looked at Stefan as he spoke. As long as Stefan stood on his side, he wasn't afraid of Alex.

“You think I'm a fraud?”

Alex smiled as he took a quick look at the point between Desmond's eyes. All he saw was an Aura Cloud condensed with evil. He sneered, “Last night, you must have seen a ghost, am I right? In fact, it's a female ghost.”

Autumn and Stefan turned towards Desmond.

“H-h-how did you know?” Desmond cried out in shock and he looked like he had just seen a ghost.

He couldn't believe that Alex knew about the matter as he had never told anyone about it, including his parents.

How did Alex know?

At that moment, Desmond's eyes were filled with horror.

Chapter 254

As he looked towards Autumn, Alex sneered, “That day when your car malfunctioned, did you have a vision? But in reality, your car didn’t lose control.”

“That’s right!” Autumn was jolted by his revelation and no longer harbored any doubt towards him.

When the insurance company checked her car, they said that only the front bumper was damaged in the accident. There were no problems with the car itself.

Also, she had recalled that moment when the car 'malfunctioned', the fact was she was seeing things.

She hallucinated and mistaken the sidewalk for a road.

Then, Alex continued on to Stefan. The Aura Cloud between Stefan's eyes was also tinged with evil, but not as bad as Desmond's.

"Last night, you heard a woman crying tragically. However, you didn't know where it came from. It felt as if it came from right inside your head, am I right?" Alex plainly deduced.

The Power of the Inner Eye.

It was one of the Geomancy skills within the Nine Heaven Scrolls.

By using the Inner Eye to observe another's Aura Cloud, one could see any supernatural incidents from the past.

An ordinary Geomancer would not have the power to do that.

Just when Alex spoke, Stefan's expression changed drastically.

He was shocked to the core as he stared blankly at Alex.

He had never told anyone else about the incident, but Alex managed to see through him so accurately.

He is really a master!

All the doubts Stefan had about Alex were put to rest. When he was about to invite Alex to help him, Alex sneered, “Do you still think I am a fraud?”

“No, No, Mr. Jefferson, you are a powerful master indeed. My nephew is an ignorant brat. Please do not mind his silly behavior.” Stefan quickly bowed in respect.

Alex scoffed, “Let me be honest with you. Desmond will die within five days. While you, the head of the household, will soon join him. After Desmond’s death, you will be next. It will only be over when all the members of the Jones family are dead.”

He wasn’t trying to frighten them. The pendant Desmond possessed contained a demon who had grown by leeching on the Jones family. If the demon weren't killed, their whole family would have to die.

Stefan and his companions turned pale in horror.

“Mr. Jefferson, is my nephew's pendant the cause of all the recent calamities?” Stefan asked after a long pause.

“That's correct. The energy in the pendant has been turned by him into a demon. If the demon is not killed, it will feed on your whole family until all of you are dead,” Alex explained.

As the three of them felt a chill down their spine, Stefan clenched his fist. “Mr. Jefferson, please tell us what to do.”

Lifting his gaze towards the ceiling, Alex didn't respond.

Seeing this, Stefan understood immediately. He turned towards Desmond and gave him a slap and bellowed, “You’re the cause of all this. Why aren’t you on your knees begging Mr. Jefferson for forgiveness?”

Desmond was indeed paralyzed in horror.

He did not expect the recent calamities that had befallen his family and himself to have been caused by the pendant. Not only was he at fault, but he also offended the only person who could help them. He was worried that when he got home, every other family member would beat him to death.

Hence, he fell to his knees as he trembled and bowed to Alex. He pleaded, “Mr. Jefferson, I’m sorry, it’s all my fault. I was blind and didn’t know any better. Please forgive me and save my family. I’ll do whatever you want...”

Just as he spoke, Desmond banged his head on the floor in a bow.

The thump that reverberated through the house gave Carmen a fright.

Gaping, she didn't know how to react.

Chapter 255

This is the famous Jones family who is renowned throughout the world of antiques. And yet, they are kneeling before that piece of trash.

What kind of master is he?

After recovering from her shock, Carmen looked at that piece of trash son-in-law of hers in disbelief.

What happened today was simply astounding. Who is Alex really?

“I have already said I don’t know who you are,” Alex replied coldly.

Alex didn’t budge but yet, Stefan dared not show any displeasure.

Before he arrived, he had looked down upon Alex simply because he felt that a live-in son-in-law could never be a Master Geomancer.

However, Alex’s words had changed his mind.

Furthermore, he was convinced that only Alex could save the Jones family.

“Mr. Jefferson, I apologize on behalf of this useless nephew of mine. Please help save the Jones family.”

Just as he spoke, Stefan dropped to his knees with a thump.

By then, Carmen’s mind was blown away.

This is the head of the Jones family, and yet he is kneeling before that piece of trash.

Covering her mouth, Carmen’s eyes were filled with disbelief.

Is this piece of trash really our live-in son-in-law?

At the same moment, Stanley happened to be standing by the door. When he saw what unfolded, his eyes sparkled.

The thought of how amazing his father was now made him feel emotional.

Up till now, Alex wasn't really respected at home. Even Stanley was worried for him.

But, now that he saw how awesome his father was, he beamed with pride.

Thump!

Autumn too dropped to her knees and pleaded, "Mr. Jefferson, whatever happened previously was indeed Desmond's fault. He is a piece of shit, so please treat him as such and forgive him. As long as you are willing to help us resolve this problem, we will fulfill any demand you have of us.”

Autumn had gone all out for the sake of saving her family.

At that moment, her family was everything to her.

She was willing to sacrifice anything for their survival.

Alex frowned.

In truth, although he hated Desmond, he didn't bear any grudges towards Autumn and Stefan.

They hardly interacted with each other hence didn't have any conflict at all.

When he saw both father and daughter on their knees, his heart wavered.

“Mr. Jefferson, this is the most expensive bracelet from our jade collection. It is worth more than five million. Please accept it.” Stefan took out an exquisite box from his bag and offered it to Alex.

Although he didn't believe in Alex initially and even thought that he may be a fraud, Stefan still came prepared due to his meticulous nature.

He didn't expect that his gift would come in handy.

The moment Carmen heard that the bracelet was worth five million, her eyes sparkled. Before Alex could receive it, she intercepted and took the box instead.

“Alex, you should quickly agree to help Mr. Jones.” Carmen coaxed Alex as she hugged the box tightly.

Shooting a glance at the box, Alex didn't say a thing.

That jade bracelet meant nothing to him. If Carmen wanted it then she can have it.

“Thank you, Mr. Jefferson.” When Stefan saw that the box had been accepted, he heaved a sigh of relief.

Alex had something else to say but chose to sigh in the end. “Since you have shown your sincerity, it would reflect badly upon me if I don’t help you. Come on, let’s go out and buy some stuff while the shops are still open.”

Just as he spoke, Alex stepped out followed by the Jones family.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 256

Carmen rushed out too. But when she saw that no one bothered about her, she left it at that.

Holding the exquisite box in her hands, she quickly closed the door and opened the box.

The moment Alex and the group reached the ground floor, Desmond rushed to open the door of their X7 for Alex. He wanted to demonstrate his change in attitude to Alex.

After shooting Desmond a glance, Alex took out the keys of the R8 parked beside, unlocked the car, and got in.

Seeing what just happened, Stefan, Autumn, and Desmond gaped in disbelief.

Isn't Alex the Jennings family's live-in son-in-law? How can he afford a car as expensive as the R8?

It costs more than two million!

However, when they remembered how Alex donated away the ten million reward the city council awarded him, driving a car that cost two million wasn't so unbelievable.

Besides, the R8 might have been his wife's.

But wait, wasn't the Jennings family business bought over by the Four Seas Corporation? How can his wife still afford such a luxurious car?

Autumn had done her homework on Alex's background. Both Alex and Heather were not valued within the Jennings family. Hence, there was no way they could afford such an expensive car.

“It appears that Mr. Jefferson has a secret identity,” Autumn remarked.

“Of course. I know the Jennings Corporation well. Even Demi Jennings only drives a four hundred thousand Volkswagen. The rest of the Jenningses drive cars that cost less than five hundred thousand.”

Therefore, he did not believe that Alex was purely a live-in son-in-law.

“You guys should head home first. I’ll drop by an occult shop to get some supplies,” Alex instructed after winding down the window.

“Oh, alright. Sorry for the trouble,” Autumn replied with a nod.

However, Stefan quickly tugged at her sleeve and gave her a look.

Realizing what he meant, Autumn quickly walked towards the R8 and suggested with a smile, “Mr. Jefferson, why don’t I come with you. I can show you the way to our home later.”

Alex nodded as he didn’t know where the Jones family mansion was anyway.

After Autumn got in, Alex started driving.

“Mr. Jefferson, what are you going to buy?” Autumn asked.

“Items for exorcism,” Alex replied.

Raising her eyebrows, she smiled wryly in her heart.

Mr. Jefferson, as a Master Geomancer, don't you have these items on hand?

Autumn wasn't aware that although Alex knew geomancy, he was not a Master Geomancer and didn't do it for a living. Hence, he did not have those supplies ready.

When he saw Autumn's expression, Alex could guess that she was having some doubts but he didn't explain.

Strength could only be conveyed by actions instead of words. There was no point in being vocal without showing any results.

Soon, they arrived at an occult shop. After grabbing a bunch of holy paper, cinnabar ink, and other items, he returned to the car.

“Do you have cocks at home?” Alex asked.

“A few,” Autumn replied with a nod.

Ever since their house was haunted, someone suggested to them that cocks could help drive away demons. Hence, they bought a couple of them.

Little did she expect they would actually come into use now.

“Alright, let’s go then.” Alex nodded and drove towards the Jones family villa.

Along the way, Autumn gave him directions and they arrived in half-an-hour.

If you find any errors (broken links, non-standard content, etc..), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 257

The Jones family was also one of the prominent families in Nebula City.

Ever since their house was haunted, they have gotten many different exorcists to deal with it but to no avail.

At nightfall, an evil aura would descend above their house and a burst of agonizing laughter could be heard ever so often.

Many self-proclaimed expert exorcists fled when they heard the tragic wails.

When they arrived at the Jones family villa, Stefan and the others were already waiting at the entrance.

The rest of the Jones family had heard that a Master Geomancer was coming, so they were curious to see who he was.

However, when a twenty-something-year-old man alighted from the car, everyone felt rather disappointed.

But, when they thought that it was Stefan who hired him, their doubts were laid to rest.

Although, they didn't believe in Alex, they trusted Stefan.

"Mr. Jefferson." Stefan opened the door for Alex.

After Alex got down, he opened the boot and passed everything he had bought to Autumn. “Please put them somewhere for me.”

Autumn nodded and brought the items into the house.

It was only 6.30 p.m. and it would be a while before the sky got dark.

However, Alex could see that the whole villa seemed to have a large evil cloud hanging over it which gave off an opaque yet suffocating feeling.

Of course, the Jones family didn't notice it as they did not have the Mind's Eye.

Unless the demons allowed themselves to be seen, ordinary people would not be able to see them.

Awakening the Mind's Eye was also one of the magical skills in geomancy.

That was the reason why only a Master Geomancer can see demons as they would have to awaken the Mind's Eye in order to become one.

As Alex walked around the villa, Stefan and the Jones family followed behind him.

“There's nothing wrong with your villa's spiritual condition. In fact, it sits in a very auspicious location. Your problem stems from the demon within the ancient jade pendant.” After going around the villa, Alex didn't find anything else that was strange.

Stefan and the others nodded as if they understood what he said. Nevertheless, they simply agreed with Alex's words.

They had built their house and even engaged a geomancer to purify the location before the construction started. Therefore, they never faced any problems all these years and their business had never been better.

“Where’s that piece of ancient jade?” Alex asked Desmond.

“I-I buried it,” Desmond replied meekly.

“Mr. Jefferson, do we still need it?” Stefan asked carefully.

“Mmm.”

Alex nodded and replied, “The demon is no longer confined to the piece of ancient jade, hence burying it is useless. However, its roots are contained in the jade. In order to perform an exorcism, we must use the jade still. Where did you bury it? We have to dig it out.”

“Where is it buried?” Samuel Jones asked.

Samuel was Desmond father and also Stefan’s brother.

“Behind the hill,” Desmond replied.

“Go dig it out then,” Samuel ordered.

Earlier, he found out from Stefan that all the recent family calamities were caused by his son. He was so infuriated that he slapped Desmond a few times.

“Alright, I’ll go at once,” Desmond quickly replied as he was afraid of his dad’s bad temper.

“Bring a few men with you,” Samuel reminded him.

“Mmm,” Desmond grunted in acknowledgement. After

As Alex took a seat, Autumn brought him a cup of tea.
“Mr. Jefferson, please have a drink.”

“Mmm, please put it down here.” Alex pointed to the table as he took out the cinnabar ink and other items he bought earlier.

“Please bring me some blood from the cock’s crown,” Alex instructed Stefan.

“Mr. Jefferson, how much do you need?” Stefan asked.

“Ten drops should be enough.” As he spoke, Alex brought out a small scissors and started cutting the holy paper.

In a short while, he had arranged the holy paper into some sort of talisman.

Then, he dipped a brush onto the cinnabar ink and started drawing.

Although the symbol he drew wasn't complicated, Stefan and the others stared at it blankly as they had no idea what it was.

Finally, he inscribed the words "Begone" onto the holy paper. When he was done writing, the paper started to take a life of its own.

Everyone including Stefan could see that the holy paper was suddenly emitting dim rays of golden light.

It was a talisman to destroy the demon.

Alex continued to draw a few more and finally stopped when he had ten.

Coincidentally, Desmond returned at that same moment.

“Mr. Jefferson, here’s the ancient jade that you wanted.” Desmond meekly passed the jade to Alex.

Holding the jade in one hand, Alex pasted one of the talismans on top of it. The moment he tapped on it with his right finger, the talisman let out a golden flash before quickly fading out.

Watching the magical sight unfold, the Jones family no longer doubted Alex.

In fact, they were all excited to know that he was a real Master Geomancer.

Prior to this, they had engaged many other geomancers and exorcists. Although all of them were pretty dramatic, none of them was able to fire out a magical flash of light.

Despite looking young, Mr. Jefferson had demonstrated impressive skills.

This was the first time they saw a method like that.

In a short time, Stefan and the rest had formed great respect for Alex on his skills.

“Burn the incense every day for forty-nine days consecutively. Then, the demonic energy will dissipate itself.”

“Within these forty-nine days, avoid any form of killing and the sight of blood. All family members must bathe before burning this special incense. You must remember this.”

“By the way, do not remove the talisman especially on the fifth day. Or else, Desmond will die.”

Alex then passed the ancient jade with a talisman stuck on it to Stefan.

As Stefan received it, his heart trembled anxiously.

Meanwhile, Desmond was even more afraid of dying. He knew that his life depended on the talisman stuck on the ancient jade for the next five days.

Samuel had the same opinion. Even if they had to stay awake without any food for the next five days, they had to guard the talisman.

“We will follow your instructions to the letter,” Stefan replied with the utmost respect.

“As for the rest of the nine talismans, paste one each on every bedroom that is inhabited. For the rooms that Desmond never entered, you don't have to.”

Desmond passed the rest of the talismans to Stefan.

Stefan quickly passed the jade he was holding to Samuel before receiving the talismans.

“Mr. Jefferson, what if Desmond had entered more than nine rooms in the house?” Samuel inquired.

“It doesn't matter. The nine will end up becoming one. Pasting the nine talismans in the most important bedrooms will be enough. In the end, the demonic energy will be destroyed by the talismans and return to the ancient piece of jade.”

“At twelve midnight on the forty-ninth day, you should keep some distance from the jade pendant as it will explode. Only after it explodes, can the matter involving your family be considered resolved. Remember that.”

When he finished, Alex got up to wash his hands.

“Thank you, Mr. Jefferson, for all you have done for us. We will never forget it.”

“The Jones family is considered a well-known family in Nebula City. If there’s anything that you need of us, we will definitely help you unconditionally.”

With that, Stefan bowed respectfully to Alex.

If you find any errors (broken links, non-standard content, etc..), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 259

His words were said from the bottom of his heart.

By helping him solve their problem, Alex had saved the whole Jones family.

To the Jones family, this was as good as God's grace.

When Alex saw how sincere Stefan was, he paused a while before saying, "Actually, there is a faster way where you don't need forty-nine days. You can clearly resolve this within three days."

As he spoke, he walked toward the wash basin.

Delighted to hear what Alex said, Stefan caught up.

"Mr. Jefferson, what do you have in mind?"

"You need to find a Monoceros bone," Alex explained as he washed his hands.

“What is a Monoceros bone?” It was the first time Stefan had heard of something like that.

After shaking his hands dry and wiping them with the towel Autumn had passed him, Alex continued, “It’s a legendary beast. It is as big as a cow but the smaller one is the size of a goat. It looks like Chimera and its body is covered in thick black fur. It has bright and spirited eyes with a horn on its head. Sometimes it is also called a unicorn.

The Monoceros actually exist in reality. If you can find its bones, a single fragment would be enough to destroy the demonic energy.

The Monoceros was a highly intelligent beast that could recognize men’s speech and understand the human character.

Legend had it that its fearsome glare can see through men's hearts and it was able to tell good from evil. When it saw an evil man, it would pierce him with its horn and then ate him.

Due to its ability to judge, it was also known as the "Holy Goat". Its bravery and good judgment made it a symbol of justice.

To place a statue of the beast someplace high up, would symbolize the destruction of evil and the upholding of justice.

Ever since the olden days, it was used to destroy evil and was a rare and precious beast.

"You may find it at an auction house. But, its price will be very expensive as it is highly sought by other Master Geomancers for other purposes." Alex reminded.

After giving it some thought, Stefan suggested, “Mr. Jefferson, why don’t I give you a card. When you come across it, you can buy it on our behalf.”

Just as he spoke, he passed a black card to Alex. “Mr. Jefferson, this black card is the Jones family’s only comprehensive credit card. Its limit is one billion. I’ll leave the matter at your discretion.”

His black card was different from the one Alex had.

His card was only valid for domestic use only while Alex’s card could be used globally.

“Very well. If I don’t come across the Monoceros bone in one month, I’ll return the card to you.” Alex nodded as he kept the card.

Since Stefan had such a high opinion of him, Alex decided to help.

As the rest of the Jones family watched Alex keep the card, they held their breath one by one.

That card had a limit of one billion and Stefan seemed to have acted so recklessly when giving it out.

Many of them gaped as if they had something to say.

When Desmond saw the black card in Alex's hands, he felt a wave of inexplicable anger swell within him.

He had aimed to get his hands on the black card for a long time and didn't expect for it to fall into the hands of a stranger. It was too much for him to bear.

After having dinner with the Jones family, Alex went home.

When he arrived, he was surprised to see Carmen not at home. Instead, Heather was sitting in the living room watching TV with Stanley.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 260

“What happened with the Jones family? Mom said that you were some master.” Heather looked at Alex curiously.

When she returned from work, Carmen told her that the Jones family went on their knees and begged Alex for his help. Furthermore, they gave him a bracelet worth five million.

After being married for so many years, this was the first time she noticed how capable Alex was.

Of course, this didn't include the time when he subdued the robbers at the bank.

"They wanted me to conduct a purification ritual for their house," Alex plainly replied.

"You are a Master Geomancer?"

Heather frowned and started to be concerned. "Since when did you become a fraud?"

"A fraud?"

Alex laughed before replying, "It doesn't matter so long as they trust me. Whether I'm a fraud or not depends on your belief in me."

“Do you know who the Jones family are? How could you try to cheat them? Will you be able to bear the consequences?” The more she thought about it the more worried she was. Alex had dared to scam the Jones family. Is he already tired of living?

Glaring fiercely at Alex, she gave Carmen a call.

Her mother was showing off the expensive bracelet all over town. If she accidentally damaged or lost it, they would be in big trouble if the Jones family came to reclaim it.

When Alex saw that Heather didn't believe him, he was dumbfounded and left speechless.

Shaking his head, he went back to his room.

“Stand right there!” Heather shouted.

Alex frowned as he looked at her.

At that moment, Heather's phone rang and she answered it.

"Mom, come home this instant. Don't lose the bracelet!" Heather coaxed.

"What's wrong?" Carmen sounded upset over the phone.

At that moment, she was showing the bracelet off to her friends from her line dancing class. And when Heather insisted that she bring the bracelet home, it made her look bad.

"Don't you know Alex was scamming the Jones family? When they return to reclaim it, what are you going to give them? That bracelet is worth five million!" Heather said in a grave tone.

Her words jolted Carmen. Though she loved the bracelet a lot, it did cost five million.

If the Jones family were to come and reclaim it, she would have to give it back.

More importantly, if the Jones family were to return, it wouldn't just end with the bracelet.

With that thought in her mind, Carmen didn't dare delay a second longer and rushed home.

After the call ended, Heather glared at Alex angrily. "I won't stop you from doing anything nor interfere with your life. But, can you please think about your son before you do something the next time?"

"Do you know that cheating is against the law? Do you want our son to have a father that is labeled as a convict?”

Heather’s tone was grim as she was outraged.

She would not interfere with whatever Alex did, as long as it wasn’t against the law and didn’t affect the family.

However, something like cheating the Jones family was a behavior she had to put her foot down.

She couldn’t allow Alex’s impunity to affect the family’s daily life.

“Don’t worry, the Jones family will not come seeking retribution.” Alex shot Heather a knowing glance as he prepared to return to his room.

“How do you know they won’t?” Heather asked curiously.

“Because I didn’t cheat them. That’s why,” Alex replied.

“You pretended to be a Master Geomancer to purify their home. And yet, you claim you didn’t cheat them?” Heather mocked.

“When I said I didn’t cheat them, I meant it,” Alex retorted.

“You... do you want to destroy all of us?” Heather was furious. Hence, she stood up immediately and glared at Alex.

She was worried that Alex wouldn’t repent and went on to scam someone else.
