

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 46

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 46 Combat Alex looked at James who was still lying on the ground howling, then he looked at the middle-aged man. The man's name was Freddie Moore and Alex knew that he wasn't the strongest in the Jefferson family. "I didn't think a b*stard like you would be shrewd enough to escape to a small remote city like Nebula City. No wonder we couldn't find you for the last eight years," Freddie said to Alex with a hint of mischief in his eyes.

"Oh really?"

Didn't you stop to think about why I dared to expose my identity?"

" Alex snorted.

"Anyone who is used to living like a prince wouldn't be able to accept having to live like a pauper suddenly.

Like I said, you would use the money sooner or later, and once you do, your identity will be exposed," said Freddie mockingly.

Alex smirked, then changed the topic, "Has it not crossed your mind that Susan sent you to Nebula City to meet your death?"

" "Meet my death?"

You actually think you're capable of killing me?"

" Freddie laughed and said.

After hesitating for a while, he continued with a wicked look on his face, "If you do not want to experience physical suffering, you'd better leave with me right now.

If not, I'll start by breaking your legs.

" Freddie was arrogant by nature as he was one of the strongest men in Lumenopolis, so he didn't take Alex seriously at all.

In fact, he did not think highly of the entire Nebula City.

He was determined to bring Alex back to Lumenopolis.

It was an order from Susan, and Freddie didn't dare to disobey her.

Even if he dared to, he would never go against her.

“Break both my legs?

You?

” Alex sneered.

He then strode towards Freddie while exclaiming, “Didn’t you heard what I’ve said?

Susan sent you here to meet your death.

You won’t leave this place alive!

” He was only less than three meters away from Freddie the moment he finished his sentence.

Immediately after, he raised his arm and threw a punch at Freddie.

He moved at the speed of light, striking at his opponent with full force.

Freddie furrowed his brows when he saw how fast Alex was but he wasn’t bothered at all.

Instead, he countered Alex’s attack with a swift punch.

Bang!

Their fists collided head-on.

A gust of strong wind blew their clothes, and everything including the air seemed to freeze for a moment.

Thud!

Thud!

Thud!

After a round of fistfight with Alex, Freddie stepped back looking shocked.

“How could you be this strong!

” he burst out in disbelief as he felt his blood rushing through his veins.

Not only was Alex fast in terms of speed, but he was also significantly stronger than him.

It would be a lie if Freddie said he wasn't shocked by it.

Alex himself was equally shocked.

For the past few days, he had been practicing the Nine Heaven Scrolls, and his strength had increased tremendously.

At first, he thought he could defeat Freddie in a matter of seconds, but Freddie's strength exceeded his expectations.

Without saying another word, Alex charged towards Freddie again unrestrained.

Now that he knew how strong Freddie was, he finally got a clear idea about where the fighters of the Jefferson family stood.

Freddie is only a second-tier fighter and he is already this strong.

The others would be undoubtedly stronger.

It's impossible for me to be able to defeat the five first-tier fighters of the Jefferson family based on my current strength now.

Suddenly, a thought crossed Alex's mind.

No matter how injured he could get, he must kill Freddie.

Otherwise, he wouldn't survive if Freddie summoned the other fighters of the Jefferson family.

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 47

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 47 No Winner Seeing how ferocious Alex was, Freddie felt a little frightened. In terms of strength, Alex was a little stronger than him, coupled that with his determination, he would be at a disadvantage and would be forced to retreat. Nevertheless, Freddie was a veteran fighter, and his experience was far greater than Alex's. It would be easy for him to overcome his disadvantage in strength.

Even though Freddie knew that he could not defeat Alex today, he wouldn't make it easy for Alex to take him down as well.

Their attacks were as swift as lightning, overwhelming the spectators at the scene.

Jonathan and the rest simply could not make sense of their moves.

It was at that very moment, they realized that their boss was a legendary martial arts fighter.

Before this, they had only seen such brilliant moves on television and had never even heard of such moves in real life.

At the same time, Jessica, who had tried calling Alex earlier, walked out from the lobby and was stunned to see the scene before her eyes.

She widened her eyes in astonishment and took a good look at the fighters, only to realize that one of them was her boss.

She gasped and covered her mouth in shock.

Alex had always looked thin and scrawny to her, so she didn't expect him to have such a terrifying capacity for fighting.

Meanwhile, the two of them were still locked in an intense battle as they threw punches at each other in rapid succession.

The air was filled with violent crackling sounds of fists pounding on flesh.

"So this is what a legendary martial arts expert looks like!

It's way better than what is shown on TV, it's amazing!

Alex, you must win!

" Jessica exclaimed.

Though she worried about Alex's safety, her eyes sparkled as she stared at his blurring figure in a daze.

Her heart pounded wildly as she watched on.

How handsome!

What a hero he is!

A few minutes later, there was a loud crash.

Boom!

Alex and Freddie finally retreated from each other.

As Freddie stepped back, he spat a few mouthfuls of blood which seemed to be mixed with pieces of flesh.

Alex, on the other hand, trembled violently and his face was as deathly pale although he did not spit out any blood.

Freddie staggered and his eyesight turned blurry, signaling that he was on the brink of collapsing.

However, just before he collapsed, he bit down hard on the tip of his tongue, forcing a boost of energy into his weakened body.

“Alex, you’ve really surprised me this time, but you won’t be able to live much longer.

In a few days, when the others come looking for you, it will be the end of your life!

” he said as he looked at Alex coldly.

Right after that, he bolted out from the Four Seas Corporation building.

“Alex!

” “Mr.

Jefferson!

” Jonathan and Jessica exclaimed as they rushed towards Alex.

Ptooy!

Alex could no longer hold in the blood that was building within him, and he spat out a mouthful of blood.

“Mr.

Jefferson, how are you feeling?

” Jessica asked as she looked at him worriedly.

She then took out a piece of tissue paper to wipe the blood on the corner of his mouth.

Alex took a slow and deep breath to calm himself down.

Then he looked at Jonathan and instructed, "Send James to the hospital and get him the best orthopedic surgeon.

Make sure you book him the first-class ward.

"Okay," Jonathan answered immediately.

One of the security guards then helped James up.

"Thank you, Mr.

Jefferson!

" said James gratefully as he clutched onto his fractured arm.

"I hope you'll recover soon.

The company will take care of all your medical expenses," Alex said and he patted James on the shoulder.

As he spoke, he could feel blood started building within him again, and he spewed another mouthful of blood.

"Mr.

Jefferson, please stop talking!

" Jessica cried out as tears filled her eyes.

James and the others were equally worried about Alex, and they tried to prevent him from speaking.

But Alex sighed and emphasized, "What happened here today stays here.

You cannot tell anyone else about this, not even your own families.

Also, Jonathan, please delete the surveillance footage in the control room.

" Seeing how serious Alex's expression was, Jonathan and the others knew the severity of the situation.

If the public found out about today's incident, the stock prices of Four Seas Corporation would definitely be affected.

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 48

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 48 Going To The Hotel “Take me away from this place,” Alex said to Jessica. “Okay,” she nodded in response. He handed his car keys to her and started walking towards his car. However, as he was badly injured, he lost his balance after taking two steps and almost fell down. Alex had slightly greater strength than Freddie, but Freddie was a lot more experienced and his combat style was relentless.

Although he had managed to wound Freddie severely, he had also sustained numerous injuries himself.

Jessica rushed over to prevent his fall as her heart ached for him.

After getting into the car, Jessica asked, “Mr.

Jefferson, which hospital would you like to go to?”

” “Take me to a hotel,” said Alex.

“Huh?”

” Jessica answered in a confused tone.

Mr.

Jefferson is injured so badly but he doesn’t want to go to a hospital?

Why does he want to go to a hotel instead?

That being said, she wasn’t the least worried about what Alex might do to her; she was simply perplexed.

“I said take me to a hotel,” Alex repeated himself with a frown.

“But...” Jessica stammered.

“Don’t question me,” he said impatiently.

Jessica had no choice but to drive him to a nearby hotel.

Alex then took out his phone and called Flynn.

“Hunt down a man named Freddie Moore.

He’s a martial arts fighter in his forties and around 180cm tall.

He's also wearing a blue training suit and is severely injured.

It doesn't matter what you do.

Just make sure he does not leave Nebula City alive," he instructed Flynn.

When Jessica heard that Alex wanted to kill someone, she panicked and almost hit another car.

More questions and doubts surrounding Alex's identity surfaced in her mind.

"Drive carefully, and don't reveal anything you see or hear today to anyone, especially Heather," Alex said while scrunching his brows.

"Understood," Jessica answered.

Spooked by the heartless look on his face, she quickly concentrated on driving.

Nevertheless, she still could not shut out the doubts in her mind.

A while later, Alex took out his phone and made another call, "Charlie, Susan has found me.

Can you think of a way to hold them off for a few months?

"Mr.

Jefferson, Susan is backed by the powerful Morrison family.

I'm afraid we can only hold them off for a few days.

Even if your grandfather personally makes a move, the longest we can delay them is probably a month at most.

However, it is unlikely that your grandfather will be willing to take action," said Charlie.

"Alright, don't bother the old man then.

Just hold them off for as long as you can," said Alex before he hung up.

If his grandfather were willing to take action, Susan wouldn't even think of coming after him.

But he knew very well that his grandfather wouldn't help out in matters pertaining to his mother.

He then made a third phone call.

This time to Heather.

When the call connected, he said, "Something popped up today and I probably won't make it home tonight.

Please get off work earlier and pick Stanley up.

"What are you so busy with that you can't even go home tonight?"

" answered Heather in a displeased tone.

"I'll tell you tomorrow.

I have to go now," Alex replied.

Before Heather could say anything, he hung up.

He then switched off his phone.

Upon arriving at a five-star hotel in the vicinity of the Four Seas Corporation, Alex booked the presidential suite.

Jessica tried to help him into the elevator but he refused.

He simply couldn't let anyone in the hotel know that he was injured.

In the hotel room, Alex grabbed a pen and paper, then jotted down a list of ingredients and medical apparatus.

After that, he passed the sheet of paper to Jessica and said, "Go and get me these items as soon as possible.

" When she saw the list of items, she blurted out in surprise, "You know how to practice alternative medicine?"

" Alex nodded in response, surprising Jessica once again.

She gazed at him with awe.

Despite how surprised she was, she quickly left and shut the door behind her.

Meanwhile, Alex sat on the bed with his legs crossed as he regulated his breathing and internal energy.

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 49

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 49 Self-Healing After Jessica bought all the items specified by Alex, he showed her how to prepare the medication. The formula was a remedy for internal injuries that he read in the Nine Heaven Scrolls, and its efficacy was excellent. He drank a bowl of the medication once it was ready, then signaled for Jessica to leave.

However, she insisted that she stayed back to look after him, and he gave in to her.

Later on, Alex took off his shirt and prepared to perform acupuncture treatment on himself.

Seeing how solid Alex's muscles were, Jessica blushed as her heart started beating wildly.

"Light the alcohol lamp," said Alex.

"Huh?"

Sorry, what did you say?

" Jessica fumbled to regain her senses after drooling over Alex.

Alex quickly raised his head to catch a glimpse of Jessica, and he was amused to see how much she was blushing.

Does she think I'm trying to make advances on her?

"Relax, I'm not into younger girls," he said while laughing.

That very instant, Jessica felt embarrassed and angry at the same time.

Hmph, is he implying that I have small boobs?

Idiot!

I'm at least a B cup.

Do I look that flat-chested?

"Hmph!

Even if you were into younger girls, I wouldn't go after a married man like you!

” Jessica huffed.

“Alright, alright.

Just light the alcohol lamp now,” Alex said.

Although Jessica was still feeling rather annoyed, she quickly lit the lamp and put it on the coffee table.

Alex used the lamp to sterilize a silver needle, then he started performing acupuncture on himself according to the methodology found in the Nine Heaven Scrolls.

However, this was the first time in his life performing acupuncture.

Even though he had learned the art of acupuncture in theory, performing it physically was a lot more challenging.

He missed his pressure points several times and ended up piercing other parts of his flesh, resulting in agonizing pain.

Jessica, who was standing next to him, looked apathetic on the surface, but she actually felt a great deal of distress inside.

After more than an hour, Alex finally completed his acupuncture treatment.

It was already nighttime by then, so Jessica asked the hotel staff to serve them dinner through room service.

Later on, Alex continued with more breathing exercises to regulate his internal energy.

After a series of exercises, he opened his eyes, only to find Jessica gazing at him doe-eyed with her cheeks propped against her hands.

Alex checked the time and was stunned to find that it was already eleven o'clock at night.

“Why are you still here?

Don't tell me you're going to stay the night with me?

” he said to her.

Jessica was very much angered by his remarks.

I kindly stayed back to take care of him, and this is how he responds?

How rude and ungrateful!

“In your dreams!

I would never go after a married man like you!

” she yelled, then she grabbed her handbag and left.

The door slammed shut with a loud bang as though it were reflecting her annoyance and displeasure.

The corners of Alex’s lips curled up into a faint smile, then he got off his bed.

After recuperating for five to six hours, his internal injury was half-healed.

The medical knowledge found in the Nine Heaven Scrolls indeed worked wonders.

If he had gone to the hospital with such severe injuries, he would have to be hospitalized for at least ten days.

But with the scrolls’ help, he would be able to achieve full recovery in two to three days.

A while later, he took a warm shower, then he finally switched on his phone again.

He found that there were several missed calls.

One was from Heather, and the rest were from Flynn.

Without any hesitation, he called Flynn back.

As soon as the call connected, Flynn said, “I’ve caught the person you mentioned earlier, but he’s incredibly strong and he has injured over twenty of my brothers.

If I hadn’t brought along that tool of mine, I wouldn’t have been able to catch him.

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 50

Finding out the Billionaire Chapter 50 Where Is He “Send me a picture of him,” Alex said before hanging up. He was pretty sure that Flynn was in control of the situation. Now that Flynn had regained control of Nebula City’s underworld, he had lackeys in every corner of the city. Freddie wouldn’t be able to escape once Flynn took action. This was part of the reason why Alex didn’t continue hunting Freddie down after he got injured.

Very soon, Flynn sent Alex a few pictures through a messaging app.

It was indeed Freddie Moore.

Alex replied with a voice message: That's him alright.

Make sure he doesn't escape and don't underestimate him.

He's a martial arts expert after all.

Right after that, he lay on the bed and continued reading the Nine Heaven Scrolls.

He had to improve his strength as soon as possible.

Otherwise, he wouldn't stand a chance when the fighters of the Jefferson family hunt him down.

The next day, Alex didn't go to his office.

He stayed at the hotel until noon, then he went to pick Stanley up from school.

When they reached home, Alex felt at peace that the house was quiet and empty.

Stanley went to watch some cartoons on TV while he prepared dinner in the kitchen.

When Heather returned from work and saw Alex, she merely snorted and ignored him completely.

During dinner, Heather said, "Tomorrow is Granny's seventieth birthday.

Go and get her a birthday present and send it over to her tomorrow morning.

" She then took out a credit card and passed it to Alex.

"I have money," he said as he refused the card.

"The present has to cost at least twenty thousand.

Can you afford it?

" she asked sarcastically.

"Yeah," he nodded and continued eating.

"I swear, if you buy something that only costs a few hundred, you and I are done," she sneered and kept the card.

After dinner, Alex left the house immediately.

He didn't go looking for Granny's birthday present.

Instead, he went to Sakura Club to meet Flynn.

In Sakura Club's basement, Alex saw a half-dead Freddie.

Freddie was chained to a pillar and his face was pale and he looks exhausted.

Every now and then, he would cough out mouthfuls of blood.

His internal organs had been wounded by Alex previously, then he got into a violent fight with a group of gangsters.

Finally, he was shot in the thigh by Flynn.

It was a miracle that he was still alive right now.

If it weren't for the fact that he was an elite fighter with immense Mortal Force and self-healing capabilities, he would have died a long time ago.

Nevertheless, he would only be able to survive a few more hours at most if he continued being tied up like this without food and water.

When he saw Alex enter the basement, a glint of rage flashed across his eyes as his whole being emitted a murderous aura.

He didn't expect his actual captor to be Alex.

"You little b*stard, your so-called victory will only last for a few days.

When the madam is unable to reach me, she will definitely send other fighters here, and you will be dead for sure!

" Freddie yelled while clenching his teeth.

"Relax.

In ten days' time, they wouldn't have any energy left to look for me," Alex snorted.

"Hmph, you think those few degenerates under your father will be able to turn the tide?"

Don't forget, the madam is backed by the powerful Morrison family.

Charlie and the others will definitely be killed the second they show up.

Those degenerates will also be killed in their attempt to save Zachary," said Freddie scornfully.

Alex's heart suddenly skipped a beat.

"My father is still alive?

" he asked in a deep tone.

During his escape from Lumenopolis, he remembered Susan saying that his father had died.

So what Freddie just said shocked him to the core.

"Of course he's still alive, but he's no different than being dead though.

Haha," Freddie said smugly.

"Where is he?

" Alex raised his voice as he squeezed Freddie's neck and gave him a death stare.
