Chapter 0052

"How is it going?"

"Miss the matter you want me to investigate is something that had passed 18 years. Many clues have been long gone. It's hard to investigate. You have to give me some more time."

"You are the best private detective in our country."

"Even if we have the ability, we still need to find some clues. The information you provided was a;; erased back then. Besides, the Internet at that time, was not as developed as it was now. And many visible traces were gone."

Renea's brows knitted slightly. She knew that it was difficult to investigate after so many years. Yet, she didn't expect them to still have no clue at all after taking so long.

On the first night of her rebirth to the Morris family, she had asked the best private detective agency in the country to help her investigate the incident about what happened 18 years ago. Renea was sure that her coming back into the Morris family was not as simple as this look.

Now, the more difficult it was to investigate, the more it made her think there was a big conspiracy in this.

Renea had looked into the orphanage where Morris's family said that they adopted her, but there was no clue or records about her. And Renea had a strong feeling that there was a big reason behind why she was in the Morris family.

As if everything was planned before. 'And if it was, then what was the purpose of the Morris family?' She thought.

● The knocking sound on the door brought her back to reality.

purpose of the Morris family?' She thought.

The knocking sound on the door brought her back to reality.

Renea then stood up to open the door, only to see the Butler standing at the door with a letter in hand. "Miss, your brother has sent you a letter."

"For me? Are you sure?"

Renea was shocked when she was told that Dylan had written her a letter.

However, when she thought that Dylan was locked up in the villa and couldn't go anywhere, she didn't find it strange anymore.

"He had told me that the letter has to be handed to you personally."

Renea returned to her room after taking the letter from the Butler.

"My dear sister, you gotta help me. I'm going crazy in this damn place. I remember that, you know, Aaron, the president of the AK Group. So you have to help me."

There were only a few sentences in the letter, but it was enough to show how desperate Dylan wanted to leave.

The corners of Renea's lips curved up to the thought of Dylan unable to bear the loneliness. She put away the letter as a devilish smile appeared on her face. Then, she reached out to open the drawer and took out a small fish tank filled with blood. After that, she threw a dried fish head from another box into the tank of blood, and soon the fish head was submerged in blood.

There were only five dried fish heads left in the box.

The next day...

Early in the morning, Susan received a letter. After reading it, Susan's face turned pale.

She looked around to make sure no one was there. Then she quickly put the letter away and strode out.

Dylan, who was banned, once again committed the inhumane act of assaulting a maid. He has been arrested and the matter is now under further investigation.

The news broke in Z City. The victim complained about Dylan's hateful behavior tearfully.

Later, the police came to arrest Dylan and took him back to the police station for interrogation.

The Morris family was also surrounded by the reporters.

"Tell me did you go to see that * Dylan?" Leon questioned angrily.

Susan lowered her head guiltily and retorted in a low voice, "I just sent him something to eat and use."

"You..." Leon raised his head intending to hit her, but he didn't do it in the end.

Susan was so frightened that she quickly explained, "honey, I really just dropped off some food for Dylan."

"Then why did he bully the maid in the manor?" Leon continued to question.

Susan was at a loss of words. She didn't know what exactly had happened as well. When she went there, Dylan was still fine. He just begged her to get him out.

He even asked her to go and beg Renea. Since Dylan was so eager to leave why would he do something that would get himself ruined?

However, the investigation results showed that what the maid said was true. Dylan lost control after he took some antibiotics. So, he took advantage of the maid.

The reporters outside the door were all demanding Leon to come out and give them an explanation.

In the end, Leon had no choice but to go out to deal with it.

"Everyone I apologize to taking up the public resources. Regarding Dylan, I am including the Morris family are not very clear about it. As early as when Dylan did something that was disgraceful to our family, he no longer belongs to one of us. He had nothing to do with the Morris family anymore."

Leon cut off his relationship with Dylan directly, not showing any sympathy at all.

He even denounced Dylan's abhorrent behavior in public, saying that whatever sentence was given to Dylan was reasonable and he would not make any defense for the younger.

Reporters and online users who were following the story automatically turned their attention to Dylan. Now that Leon has spoken so extensively about it.

After investigation, it was revealed that Dylan had toyed with a girl's feelings in high school and got her pregnant later. He threatened her as well as abandoned her Irresponsibly, which ultimately led to the girl's suicide.

Such a shocking truth caused public indignation.

They were all demanding a strict investigation to determine whether the girl committed suicide or was a victim of Dylan's persecution.

Public opinion on the Internet was so powerful that the authorities were forced to pay heed to it and looked into the suicide case five years ago.

Dylan was later taken to the police station for investigation.

"Dylan someone is here for you."

The police took him to the visiting room.

Since he was locked up in prison, no one came to visit him. Even if he wanted to call his family, no one paid attention to him."

The moment he saw Renea in the visiting room, Dylan felt as if he had seen hope.

"Renea, my dear sister. You are here to help me, aren't you?"

Renea faked a smile. The way he addressed her was too ironic to her.

"Did you find a way to get me out? Listen, I didn't assault her. She... seduced me first. Besides, I didn't even touch her." Dylan explained hastily.

Renea then spoke slowly. "I know you wouldn't do something like that at a time like this, even if you were desperate."

"This is great. Renea, I know you trusted me." Dylan said as if he had seen hope.

Chapter 0052

Renea looked at him with a smile.

“Renea can you go and beg Aron? He is so powerful he must have a way.”

Hearing that Renea scoffed, “Why would I beg him for you?”

As he looked at Renea’s sneering expression, Dylan was in utter disbelief.
