

Chapter 0059

Renea swept her gaze around the crowd and an evil smile flashed on her face.

“Tia, I hope you won't regret your decision today.”

A statement so casually spoken accused Tia of experiencing an unseen pressure, causing her face to grow increasingly pale.

“I didn't expect my sister to become like this. Tia, don't worry, if Renea really wants to find a lawyer, I will help you. I won't let her accuse you like this.” Kailey said, righteously.

She wanted to see how Renea was going to make a big deal out of this matter. To Kailey, the bigger the matter, the better it would be for her.

Tia then held Kailey's hand gratefully and thanked her, “Kailey, thank you. You are so kind.”

“Don't say that. We are friends.”

The two of them put on a show for their touching friendship in public...

After the bustle ended, the crowd dispersed.

However, things had not passed. The scene just now was soon uploaded on the Internet.

People paid attention to such a civil fight in an instant. The video had received over 1000 retweets in just ten minutes after it was posted.

However, the video had been edited. Apart from keeping the scene of Tia begging Renea, and Kailey's words, the part of Renea showing that she had evidence was cut off.

It had already been trending on Twitter for less than an hour. Someone was secretly controlling everything behind it, or else the video would not have gone viral.

“If this fake daughter was not kept as a mistress, her behavior would be too shameless. Even if the inheritance was given to her, she was no longer a member of the Morris family. What right she had to use the money of the Morris family?”

“This woman was really cruel, even if they are just classmates that someone lives too. How could she be so calm?”

“That’s right, the girl is already begging her yet, she still does nothing.”

Many people who consider themselves to be morally upright humans chastised Renea on the Internet. Various derogatory remarks were made about Renea.

As Kailey Reed through the disparaging remarks written about Renea on the Internet, she grinned smugly.

Given how awful things had gotten, she was curious how Renea would be able to continue staying with the Morris family.

Even if Renea wanted to leave, she had to leave without her grandfather’s inheritance.

Kailey reasoned that her father would undoubtedly focus all his attention on her if she reclaimed the inheritance for him.

Now that Dylan was in trouble and Renea was a fake daughter, Kailey believed that the Morris family and Blue Records would belong to her.

After she got money and became a capitalist, whatever movie she wanted to shoot and what she wanted to do, would be all up to her.

****

“Damn it! What the hell?” Looking at the news on Twitter, Richard couldn’t help but swear.

The assistant on the side was stunted. ‘Did Mr White just curses?’ he thought, “Mike give me the password of my Twitter account. I want to clear Renea’s name for her.” Richard ordered immediately.

Mike was speechless. After that, he said, “Richard, are you sure you can clarify for Miss Morris?”

“It’s obvious that someone deliberately edited the important part of the video and tried to slender Renea.”

“Even so, you are not suitable to speak now. Don’t forget that you are a public figure.”

After being remanded by Mike Richard, they finally, calm down. After pondering for a while, he took out his private mobile phone and dialed a number.

“Who is hay?”

Richer then called out reluctantly, “Darren, can you do me a favor?”

“I can’t believe, my younger brother is actually asking for help.”

“Help me check the owner of this ID and her detailed information.”

Richard didn't even bother talking nonsense with him. He directly sent the ID of the person who posted the video to Darren.

Darren clicked on the unknown account to watch the video while teasing, “Who is this woman to you? I can't believe she is able to make you come and ask for my help.”

“What nonsense are you talking about? Hurry up and look into it. Tell me when you find it.” After saying that, Richard hung up the phone.

“How rude,” Darren muttered in displeased as he hung up the phone. However, he still helped Richard to look into that account.

He had no idea why Richard had come to him for such a simple thing.

Darren: “Here you go. I found it this person is just a professional streamer. He's just a **** who used this kind of fake edited video to gain viewers.”

Darren: “This is the original video I pulled up from his computer. Although the fake daughter in the video said that Tia was framing her, she didn't show any evidence. Even if the original video is released now, those on the Internet who are just gossiping have already believed the fake daughter to be in the wrong. Therefore, this doesn't mean anything unless...”

Richard: “Unless what?”

Darren” “Unless the driver of the car personally proved his relationship with her, it would be difficult to clear her name.”

Chapter 0059

Richard: "F*ck! If I know who this **** is. I will surely beat him up."

Darren: "Ahem, let me remind you one of them is Maybach. And just judging by the car plate, it should be belonged to our brother."

Pff!

Richard almost spats out a mouthful of water upon knowing this.

As for the other one, Darren didn't even want to mention it at all.

However, he was particularly curious about Renea. He could not believe that a freshman could have something to do with Kevin and Richard.

It was hard for him to ignore those pure eyes as well.

After the incident, many people found out about the difficulty of Tia's family. Some netizens in Z City also went to the hospital to visit and contribute their love.

There were even reporters who went to interview them.
