

The Hidden Billionaire Heiress (Lyra Melvin) Chapter 64

Peter grunted disdainfully and replied by patting on his chest, "It's just Kawa's apprentice, not Kawa herself. I can kill her in seconds in less than three moves!"

He once achieved a national championship in boxing, which was why he was hired as a bodyguard by the Frazier group at a high price.

After having his assurance, Irene was slightly relieved.

She raised the binoculars and continued to observe the situation inside the cabin.

Several large men struggled on the ground and were again subdued by Lyra.

One of the kidnapers next to her grabbed a knife and tried to sneak up on her, but Lyra grabbed his wrist with agility and knocked him to the ground with a shoulder throw.

She grabbed his hands, clipped them behind his back and kicked him in the crook of the knees.

"Want to sneak attack? You don't have the qualification even if you practice for a few more years."

The strength in her hands increased a few. The kidnapper bared his teeth in pain and kept begging her for mercy.

Irene watched from afar and gritted her teeth, "This group of losers is no match for her! Peter, go! If you can't fix her today, I'll fire you!"

"Yes, Miss."

Peter rolled up his sleeves and was just about to dash into the cabin when his phone vibrated twice.

He quickly scanned the screen, and his face changed and he said nervously, "Miss, the informant said there are two groups of people arriving at the foot of the hill. Maybe they're Angle Group's Keith Lloyd and Melvin Freeman of the Freeman group. We'd better leave first!"

"No! If we just leave, won't this trip be for nothing? I have to see that bitch on her knees begging for mercy at my feet!" Irene was resigned and rebuffed him.

Peter wished he could carry her away, but he had to continue to reason with her because of his status, "Think about it, in Frayton, these two people are not easy to be messed with! If they get here and discover us, we can't explain to them clearly! Miss, if you don't leave, it will be too late!"

When she thought of how Keith was taking care of Lyra, she was furious and wanted to break Lyra into pieces to get rid of her anger.

But the situation did not allow her to hesitate. Irene glared at the cabin with indignation, and reluctantly went downhill by another road.
