

The Hidden Billionaire Heiress (Lyra Melvin) Chapter 71

She heard a familiar voice.

Irene turned her head back towards the stairway and found it was Lyra in an elegant velvet gown, followed by a cold-faced man.

The man wore a mask and she could not see his face.

"How could you? Aren't you dead?!"

Irene's smile froze on her face, and she was shocked as she asked incredulously, "How is that possible!? You jumped out of the plane! How can you still come back alive!"

"I'm so sorry to disappoint you rejoice so soon." Lyra smiled with arched eyebrows. She was still as beautiful as before.

"You bitch, because of you, Keith wants to back out of the marriage with me. I wanna kill you!"

Irene was furious and ran towards her, threatening to die with her.

Lyra deftly dodged her. Irene couldn't control her body, lost her balance and almost fell on her face.

"I knew you'll be okay." Keith rubbed Lyra's face and was completely relieved, "Go ahead and check on Abigail. I'll handle it."

"Good, then I leave her to you."

Lyra said so and went into Abigail's room with Micah who was heavily armed and behind her.

Keith watched Lyra's figure disappear into the end of the corridor and turned to Irene, who was crouched on the floor with a grim look.

"I have informed the Frazier family. This engagement is null and void, so please behave yourself. Get out of here before I get too lazy to let you be held responsible for it."

The disgust for her on his face was overwhelming.

"How can you do this to me! Keith! It's obvious I'm the one who loves you the most. This is how you respond to my love? Is that how you treat me? You're lying to me, aren't you? You won't back out of the marriage!"

Irene cried out.

Keith was indifferent. He was standing straight and watching her grimaced face from above.

"Miss! Just now your family has sent someone to inform me. What Mr. Lloyd says is true!"

Peter helped her up from the floor, "Mr. and Mrs. Frazier order me to take you back immediately."
