

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 721

“Old Mr. Leighton, I feel a tingling sensation down there. What do you think is going on?” David asked curiously.

He wasn't sure if what he felt was an effect of the pill treating his nervous system or an indication that something was wrong.

Nicholas replied in delight, “Mr. Zucker, the medication is helping you to repair your nervous system. In half an hour's time, it should have completed its job. In fact, your prowess will be increased by seven to eight times. Hence, it's not going to be a problem for you to sleep with ten women in a day.”

Having heard those words, David set the last of his concerns aside. Sleeping with ten ladies a night wasn't something on his mind just yet.

After all, he had just recovered and shouldn't be too ambitious. Nevertheless, he endeavored to try it one day when his condition had stabilized.

After having suffered from erectile dysfunction because of what Alex had done to him, David understood one thing. He had to take care of his body. After all, being impotent was a fate worse than death itself.

Meanwhile, the pill's effects intensified according to schedule. Consequently, David was filled with the urge to try making love with a girl.

Right at that moment, Harper walked over. Looking at him coyly, she remarked in a seductive tone, "Mr.

Zucker, given that you have recovered, I'm certainly happy for you.”

The luscious tone she spoke with aroused David at once. Coupled with her stunning good looks, Harper was considered a beauty in her own right.

Prior to that, he had given her to Callum in exchange for the pill. After all, he was impotent then.

Hence, David replied, “Callum, now that the pill is taking effect, and I can't find anyone else on such short notice, why don't you let me try on Harper?”

Callum was obviously extremely reluctant to do so, as he had already treated her as his own.

However, given David's status, and the fact that they needed huge capital investments if they wanted to bring the pill to market, giving Harper up wasn't such a big sacrifice in comparison.

“If it pleases you, you are welcome to take her.” Just as he spoke, Callum looked at Harper and instructed, “Harper, make sure you serve Mr. Zucker well, just like how you pleasure me all the time.”

Harper nodded with conviction before walking up to David and leaning against him. Without any hesitation, David pulled her into his embrace.

“Considering how effective the drug is, and the fact that it has fewer side effects than the previous formulation, I'm sure we can definitely expand its sales globally. Mr. Zucker, why don't you invest two to three billion? I'm confident that we will make a profit of about ten billion within a year,” Nicholas declared with conviction.

David replied with a smile, “If there are no problems with the drug, I will have no qualms about investing a billion.”

After making some small talk, David couldn't wait to find an excuse to bring Harper back home with him to get on with business.

Naturally, no one stopped him, as they were well aware of his intentions. Meanwhile, everyone in the Leighton family was ecstatic at the fact that they had created a miracle drug.

Nicholas remarked to Donald, “I appreciate the tireless effort you have put in to make this possible. Going forward, you will definitely be rewarded for your efforts.”

Overwhelmed by gratitude, Donald replied, “Thank you for your kind words, Old Mr. Leighton. Without you, I wouldn't have been able to become what I am today.”

Nicholas gave him an approving nod. Happy to have heard what Donald said, Nicholas added, “For your contributions in the research of this miracle drug, I will reward you with fifty million. On top of that, you will also get a villa.”

Donald thanked him in delight.

If you find any errors (broken links, non-standard content, etc..), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 722

The moment David returned home, a servant reported his arrival to Jorden, who was ecstatic to hear it.

Rushing to the door to welcome his son, Jordan asked anxiously, “David, have you really found the drug that can cure you?”

David tightened his hug on Harper and replied, “That goes without saying. The Leighton family has created a miracle drug indeed. Within a few minutes of taking it, I can feel the nerves Alex destroyed recover.”

When he heard how certain David was, Jordan couldn't be any happier.

He was already in his sixties and was unable to produce any more offspring. When his only son was rendered impotent, it came as a devastating blow to him.

Now that the matter was resolved, he felt blessed that the heavens were kind enough to not end the Zucker family's legacy.

Filled with emotion, Jordan exclaimed, "David, why don't you go ahead and get some rest with the lady. In the meantime, I would like to say my blessings."

Nodding, David grunted in acknowledgment. He wasn't in the mood to be bothered with Jordan, as all he could think of was getting into Harper's pants.

Returning to his room fully aroused, David felt as if he couldn't hold himself back any longer. He stripped off his pants at once for Harper to pleasure him.

With a coy look on her face, Harper was shocked by what she saw the moment she took off his underwear.

"Ah!"

Exclaiming aloud, she staggered backward. Then, she pointed at David's manhood and frantically said, "M-Mr. Zucker, look!"

Jolted by her scream, David felt the urge to slap her for spoiling the moment.

However, when he saw the look on Harper's face, he subconsciously looked downward.

All he could see was black, rotting flesh. It was so terrifying that even David was given a fright.

"What's going on? Hasn't it recovered? Why has it become like that?" David was in utter disbelief.

"Could it be that it's still in the process of recovering?" Harper didn't dare phrase it pessimistically. All she could do was comfort him and calm him down.

Just as she spoke, she was slapped in the face.

David berated her, “It's not f*cking recovering! Can't you see the drug is causing it to rot? Instead of spacing out, get someone to send me to the hospital right away!”

Having been slapped for no fault of hers, Harper felt indignant about it. Nevertheless, she didn't dare protest and had no choice but to get someone to send David to the hospital.

That night, there were not many doctors on duty. The moment David arrived, he took off his pants without hesitation. With an awkward expression, he asked, “Doctor, you have to help me!”

When the doctor turned around and saw that David had taken off his pants, he assumed David was a lunatic with a fetish at first glance.

However, when he finally got a good look at David's manhood, he asked in shock, "What did you do to it? Why is it rotting?"

What are young people up to these days?
Threesomes? Foursomes? An orgy?

The doctor couldn't help but cycle through his thoughts. Nevertheless, it was still his first time seeing such a condition.

Despite the scowl on his face, David had no choice but to explain. "I took a pill, and it became like that. Doctor, you have to do something!"

Pill? Expired Viagra?

The doctor couldn't help but think along those lines.

Upon closer examination, the doctor shook his head and concluded, “The cells here have been infected. We need to sever it at once!”

If you find any errors (broken links, non-standard content, etc..), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 723

“What? Did you just say you need to cut my d*ck off?”
David couldn't believe his ears.

That was a symbol of his masculinity. Even if Alex had rendered it useless, it was at the very least still there. If it was cut off, he would lose it forever.

The doctor nodded without hesitation. “That's right. You have to cut it off, but don't you worry. I am very good at this and will definitely be able to make a clean cut.”

In response to the doctor's words, David covered his manhood by reflex. “Doctor, think of some other way to cure me, please! As long as it stays with me, I'm willing to pay you any amount for it. I'm the eldest son of the Zucker family and will definitely keep my word.”

After a slight hesitation, the doctor answered firmly, “There's nothing else I can do about it. It's common for people to be unwilling to sever their limbs at the hospital. However, when they refused to take the doctor's advice, the infection would spread to the rest of their body and cause them to lose their lives.”

“Doctor, isn't there any other way? If I were to lose my manhood, there's no point in me living anymore. I might as well be dead!” David scowled.

“There really isn't any other choice. Only by severing it can we preserve your life,” the doctor asserted.

David's eyes burned with rage. That old b*stard of the Leighton family. He is the cause of my predicament.

Clenching his fist, David stormed out of the hospital. The moment he got into the car, he called for more than ten fighters from the Zucker family and instructed them to head to the Leighton residence.

Nicholas, you b*stard. How dare you treat me as your lab rat? Today, I'm going to beat the lot of you up if it's the last thing I do!

In a blink of an eye, David's car screeched to a halt in front of the Leighton residence while all his subordinates arrived at the same time.

David kicked the Leighton residence's door and roared, “Nicholas, you b*stard! Come out here right now!”

When the guard at the door saw that it was David, he rushed off to find Nicholas.

Soon, Nicholas, Callum, Yates, and Donald hurried over.

“Mr. Zucker, why are you here? Aren't you supposed to be having a blast right now?” Nicholas inquired curiously.

“Shut up! You are the one who did this to me,” David snapped.

The rage he felt was indescribable. Alex had rendered him impotent while the pill from the Leighton family he had purchased for millions had caused his manhood to be ruined.

Furthermore, his life was also put in danger. Hence, there was no reason for him not to be angry.

Since he couldn't do anything to Alex, David vented all his frustration on the Leighton family instead.

“What happened? Mr. Zucker, why are you so angry?” Callum felt indignant when he saw how David scolded his father.

At that moment, David pulled off his pants and exposed his manhood, which had rotted even more than before.

Everyone was shocked by the sight, as they didn't expect such a situation to occur. At that moment, no one had any idea what to do.

Pulling up his pants, David launched a tirade at Nicholas. He didn't mince his words despite the fact that Nicholas was an elder.

“You b*stard! How dare you treat me as your lab rat? If you can't cure my manhood today, I will cut yours off today!”

If you find any errors (broken links, non-standard content, etc..), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 724

At that moment, the Leightons were dumbstruck. It never occurred to them that the drug would have such a terrible side effect, to the extent of causing one's manhood to rot.

Although the previous formulation was more detrimental to one's health, it didn't destroy one's manhood.

“Perhaps it's still in the process of recovery. That's why it looks like that.” Nicholas still couldn't accept that the new drug was a failure.

After all, it meant his dreams of elevating the family to greatness were destroyed. The Leightons were resigned to stay a lowly family forever.

David grew desperate the moment he heard Nicholas' response. Ignoring the fact that Nicholas was an elderly man, David grabbed him by the collar.

He roared, “You are the cause of this. Don't bullsh*t me by saying that it's still repairing my nerves. By the time it's done, my manhood would have been obliterated. By then, I'll have all of you castrated together with me as punishment!”

Nicholas panicked immediately. Although he had two sons, both of them had yet to produce any offspring. If all of us are castrated, the Leightons won't have any descendants.

Holding that thought, Nicholas pleaded, “Mr. Zucker, don't be hasty. I'm sure there's a solution to your problem. Let me call our medical team right away.”

Soon, the medical team arrived at the Leighton residence. After examining him, they concluded that he still needed to sever his manhood.

Obviously, David disagreed with their assessment. Even if he was impotent, he still wanted it to hang out of his body. Otherwise, he would literally be no different from a eunuch.

“Nicholas, I'll leave you with only two choices. One, I'll destroy the entire Leighton family. Two, you have to save my manhood.”

Releasing his grip on Nicholas' collar, David added, “I'm sure you're well aware that I'm a man of my word!”

Although the Leighton family's medical team couldn't cure David, they were able to stabilize his condition for two days.

Therefore, David gave the Leighton family two days' time to come up with a solution. Otherwise, they would cease to exist in Nebula City.

Consequently, every single Leighton was terrified. Given that this was the first time they encountered such a scenario, they had no idea how to even treat it.

“Why don't we sell off all our assets and flee with our money?”

Despite racking his brains for a long time, Callum could only plan for the worst, as he had no better idea.

Compared to waiting for David to annihilate them two days later, it was better for them to leave ahead of time. At the very least, they were still able to protect their family business.

“Callum, how could you say something like that? Everything the Leighton family owns right now is the fruit of our father's painstaking labor,” Yates objected.

With his mood already in the doldrums, Callum was infuriated when he was being challenged by Yates, who was an illegitimate son.

Raising his leg, he slammed a kick into Yates' body and bellowed, “How dare a bast*rd like you interrupt me? Don't you know your place?”

Not daring to retort, Yates kept his mouth shut. After all, he was fearful that Callum would kick him again.

At that moment, Nicholas finally spoke. “I think Yates is right. No matter what, we can't sell the family assets. Perhaps there's some other way still.”

Furthermore, given how much the Leighton family owned, it wasn't feasible to dispose of everything in such a short time.

In fact, they might have to sell the family business at four to five hundred million despite it being worth billions. That was something Nicholas couldn't accept.

“Dad, how could you listen to him? He isn't a member of our family. If we don't sell, what happens when David comes back for us?”

“How could you say that Yates isn't a member of our family? My blood flows within him too. Anyway, why don't we treat this crisis as a test? Whoever can resolve it will take over the Leighton family,” Nicholas declared solemnly.

Callum was dumbfounded. It never crossed his mind that his father would consider giving away the family assets to an illegitimate son.

That b*stard must have done something behind our backs. With that thought in mind, Callum kicked Yates in his butt again.

“Just you wait! I won't let you succeed!”

If you find any errors (broken links, non-standard content, etc..), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 725

“Alex, two Jetroinians have surfaced in Dr. Skyworth's residence for unknown reasons. Shall we capture them?” Flynn asked anxiously over the phone.

They have lost their patience even though only three days have passed. Alex smirked at the thought.

Alex replied, “Not yet! They're here for the divine pills. Just let them have the pills. All you need to do is ensure Tyrael's safety.”

Flynn thought that Alex was worried he was no match for the Jetroinians. Hence, he declared, “Alex, don't worry. I will bring enough men to capture them both.”

“I do want to let them take the divine pills,” Alex plainly replied with a scheming tone.

Flynn didn't understand Alex's intention.

The divine pills belong to Eurasia. If we let the Jetroinians steal them, aren't we giving them the opportunity to manufacture the divine pills and make tons of profit? What's wrong with Alex? Has he been shaken by what happened to Stanley?

Despite racking his brains, Flynn still didn't know what Alex was up to. Hence, he might as well ask. “What's wrong with you? That pills belong to Eurasia. How could you let the Jetroinians have it?”

“Don't worry. The ones in Tyrael's possession aren't the divine pills. Furthermore, I have prepared a surprise for the Tokugawa siblings. Therefore, all you need to do is protect Tyrael,” Alex simply explained.

If he didn't give Flynn an explanation, the latter would never allow the pills to be taken.

Even though he still didn't understand what Alex wanted to convey, he was comforted by the idea that the Jetroinians weren't going to have it easy.

To sabotage the Tokugawa siblings, Alex had created a couple of terminal lucidity pills and given them to Tyrael.

The pills were strangely potent. Regardless of one's sickness or even if one was on one's last breath, consuming the pill would allow one to experience terminal lucidity for one to two hours.

However, the side effect was extremely frightening.

Once the pill was taken, one would feel invigorated for some time before dying in shock.

In truth, the pill wasn't meant to be poison. It was used on one's deathbed to allow one to finish saying one's last words.

The pill had the effect of compacting one's residual strength into one to two hours of terminal lucidity.

Consequently, the user could clearly convey their last wishes before they died.

In the olden days, such pills were prescribed to kings. When they were on their deathbed, they could use the pills to buy time to complete their testament.

However, such a pill had outlived its usefulness in modern times.

Due to its severe after effects, even a healthy person would be devastated after consuming it and feeling invigorated for one to two hours.

Therefore, the pill was the equivalent of poison in the modern era.

Alex had read about the pill in the Nine Heaven Scrolls before, but he never gave it too much thought.

It wasn't until the current situation presented itself that he realized it was a good opportunity to sabotage the Tokugawa siblings.

He wanted to show them how diverse Eurasia's ancient medicine was and that the Jetroinians couldn't compete at all.

Furthermore, he felt it was time to collect on the bet that Haruko had lost.

If you find any errors (broken links, non-standard content, etc..), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 726

At that moment, the Tokugawa siblings didn't realize that they were walking into a trap when they arrived at Tyrael's clinic.

Both of them quickly went about their mission.

Haruko, who was more skillful, was tasked to steal the divine pills. As for Takeshi, he stayed outside to keep watch.

After going through the plan in detail, both of them nodded at each other. Haruko's figure then disappeared into the darkness without a trace.

Tyrael's clinic wasn't a big place. Auriel had lived there before moving to Sakura Club. She had moved out after becoming Alex's student.

The light in Tyrael's room was still on as he was engrossed in a book related to medicine. Hence, he didn't notice the unwelcome guest who had entered his clinic.

Suddenly, his door was kicked open, and a black figure dashed up to him.

Before Tyrael could react, a dagger was pressed against his throat, causing him to drop the book in his hands.

Although Alex had warned him that the Tokugawa siblings were coming for the divine pills, he was still scared nonetheless.

All of a sudden, he heard Haruko's voice. "Hand over the divine pills, and I won't hurt you. Or else..."

Tyrael pleaded, "As long as you don't kill me, I'll give you whatever you want."

Just as he spoke, Tyrael opened a drawer and took out a jeweled box. He then handed it to Haruko without any hesitation.

"This is the thing you are looking for. Now that I have given it to you, can you release me already?" Tyrael asked.

There wasn't any response. When he no longer felt the cold blade on his throat, Tyrael gathered his courage and turned around.

By then, Haruko was nowhere to be seen.

Inside the car, Haruko handed the jeweled box to Takeshi, who was in the driver's seat. His face lit up the moment he saw it.

After he opened the box, he saw four black pills inside. Staring at them, he was overwhelmed by excitement.

The divine pills were the reason they came to Eurasia. Now that they had gotten their hands on the pills, Takeshi was still in disbelief and felt as if it was a dream come true.

However, the medicinal scent reminded him that it wasn't a dream and that he truly had the divine pills in his hands.

In truth, he had lied to Tyrael earlier about his father being paralyzed, as his father had died a long time ago. The one who was really paralyzed was Yama, his uncle.

Yama was an important figure within the Tokugawa family. If he managed to cure Yama's paralysis, not only would he be able to inherit Tokugawa Pharmaceutical, but he could also elevate his status within the family.

With that thought in mind, Takeshi excitedly gave Yama a call.

“Uncle Yama, I have taken possession of the divine pills. Once I bring them back to Jetroina for you to consume, you will be able to stand again.”

On the other end of the line, when Yama heard that he could stand on his feet again instead of being confined to a wheelchair, he asked in disbelief, “Is the pill as potent as you make it out to be? To the extent of curing paralysis?”

“Of course it can. I heard it during the Ancient Medicine Exposition, so it has to be true. Once we cure your sickness, we will use the leftover for research on its ingredients. By then, Tokugawa Pharmaceutical will have the production rights of the divine pills. When that happens, we will be raking in profits non-stop,” Takeshi declared confidently.

“Return quickly then. I'll be waiting here in Jetroina for you,” Yama replied.

Before they attempted to steal the pills, the Tokugawa siblings had bought two return air tickets back to Jetroina.

All they needed to do now was board their flight, and their mission in Eurasia would be completed.

Just when they were about to reach the airport, they saw the path ahead of them blocked by a convoy of cars.

If you find any errors (broken links, non-standard content, etc..), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 727

It never crossed Takeshi's mind that he would be stopped outside the airport. In a fit of rage, he slammed his palm on the steering wheel.

Meanwhile, thirty black-clad bodyguards alighted from the cars. Looking burly and strong, they surrounded Takeshi's car.

Furrowing his eyebrows, Takeshi looked at Haruko and asked, "Can you take down thirty men?"

Haruko hesitated for a while before shaking her head.

Thirty men weren't a problem for her if they weren't carrying any weapons. However, when she saw the guns in their hands, she knew it would be significantly more difficult.

Sighing in frustration, Takeshi subconsciously tightened his hug on the jeweled box. Am I fated to not bring this back to Jetroina?

When Flynn, who was standing outside their car, didn't see the Tokugawa siblings alight, he kicked the car impatiently and yelled, "Get down from the car, or else I'll have to force you to!"

With any hesitation, the Tokugawa siblings alighted. Smiling vibrantly at Flynn, they asked, “Mister, why are you blocking our way?”

“My employer would like to see you,” Flynn replied.

When Alex arranged for Flynn to protect Tyrael, he also instructed for Haruko to be brought to him.

The Tokugawa siblings weren't aware of who his employer was and wondered if it was related to the divine pills.

“I'm sorry, but we are busy at the moment. If your employer wants to meet, I will visit him bearing gifts on my next trip here.” All Takeshi could think of now was to hurry back to Jetroina.

“My employer wants to see you now. If you don't cooperate, I won't ask nicely the second time,” Flynn threatened, as he was in no mood for idle talk.

The siblings exchanged glances in response. At that moment, neither of them knew how to face the predicament they were in.

“Takeshi, Tokugawa Pharmaceutical cannot do without you. You should head back first and leave this to me.”

Just as she spoke, Haruko turned her attention to Flynn and asked, “My brother is the chairman of Tokugawa Pharmaceutical. Given that the company is facing a crisis, he needs to return to deal with it. Will you allow him to go while I meet your employer?”

“Erm...” Flynn hesitated briefly before finally nodding. He replied, “That's acceptable. Ms. Tokugawa, please come with us then.”

Alex had instructed Flynn to just get one of them. Hence, it didn't matter to Flynn which one it was.

The siblings were delighted to hear Flynn's reply. As long as one of them could return to Jetroina, they would be able to bring the divine pills there.

“Haruko, you have to take care of yourself. Once I deal with the affairs of Tokugawa Pharmaceutical, I'll come back and get you,” Takeshi said in earnest as he held onto the jeweled box tightly.

Haruko nodded with conviction. After all, they came to Eurasia for the divine pills. Now that they had achieved their goals, they didn't foresee any major problems.

Moreover, Haruko was confident that she would be able to slip away at the first opportunity she got. Therefore, she thought it was a wise decision to let Takeshi leave first.

After escorting Haruko into their car, Flynn sent Alex a message telling him to come over to Club Royale.

Club Royale was one of the properties owned by Flynn.

If you find any errors (broken links, non-standard content, etc..), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 728

When Alex saw Flynn's message, he knew that everything had gone according to plan.

Meanwhile, Stanley was still sleeping soundly while holding tightly onto Alex's hand. The sight of him simply warmed Alex's heart.

Given that recent incidents had traumatized Stanley, Alex decided to take him on a holiday once he dealt with everything that was going on.

Gently putting Stanley's hand aside, Alex tucked him in before leaving the bedroom without a sound.

Furthermore, he instructed the servants to check on Stanley occasionally and give him a call if Stanley woke up.

After leaving his instructions, Alex hurried to Club Royale.

“Alex, there you are. What should we do with the Jetroinian lady?” Flynn asked the moment he saw Alex.

To be honest, the Jetroinian lady doesn't lose out to Heather in terms of looks. Instead, she seems to surpass her in every way. I wouldn't be surprised if Alex wants to keep her for himself. After all, it's normal for a man to be salacious. In fact, given how capable Alex is, I wouldn't be surprised if he has many wives and mistresses. If Alex isn't interested in Haruko, why did he go through so much effort to bring her here?

“Considering how pretty she looks, why don't we assign her to Sakura Club to serve you?” Flynn candidly suggested.

Stunned, Alex tapped him on the shoulder and smiled. “After knowing me for such a long time, don't you know my character? The reason I wanted her captured was that I have business with her.”

Meanwhile, when Haruko saw that it was Alex, she was stunned and didn't know how to react.

At the Ancient Medicine Exposition, Haruko assumed that Alex was just one of Tyrael's lowly assistants.

Even when she was dealing with Stuart, he had referred to Alex as a piece of trash too. Hence, she was shocked that he turned out to be Flynn's employer.

“Who are you?” Haruko hissed.

Upon hearing her question, Alex let out a mischievous smile. With a thoughtful tone, he answered, “Ms. Haruko, how could you have forgotten me in such a short time? Didn't we make a bet previously? Now that you owe me ten billion, are you trying to deny it?”

Haruko was dumbfounded, as that wasn't even her question. In fact, she was surprised at how Alex managed to bring up that topic.

“Why did you bring me here?” Instead of answering his question, Haruko changed the topic instead.

In truth, she had suspected that he kidnapped her to collect on the ten billion she lost in her bet.

“Be honest with me. Why did you infiltrate Dr. Skyworth's home?” Alex's expression turned serious, his smile fading away.

Not wanting to answer Alex's question, Haruko looked away as if she hadn't heard him.

Alex scoffed before clapping his hands. The next moment, more than ten burly men entered the room and approached them with devious smiles.

“Ms. Haruko, since you're unwilling to cooperate, I have no choice but to do this to you. After all, my subordinates have been lusting after your beauty,” Alex remarked insidiously.

Despite not being afraid of death, Haruko was taken aback when she saw the group of brawny men. “What are you trying to do, Mr. Jefferson?”

“Didn't the two of you come to Eurasia to steal the divine pills? You were brazen enough to do it, but not brave enough to admit it. Instead, you question my motives in return. Don't you find it ridiculous?” Alex sneered.

His words shook Haruko to the core. It seems that he has seen through us. Luckily, Takeshi has boarded the plane.

If you find any errors (broken links, non-standard content, etc..), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 729

Holding that thought, Haruko no longer felt any fear. She was ready to sacrifice her own life for the sake of her family.

No matter how Alex was going to threaten her, there was no way he could recover the divine pills from Takeshi.

This is a wonderful opportunity to elevate the Tokugawa family's reputation further.

Fearlessly holding Alex's gaze, she retorted, “So what? As of now, my brother is about to reach Jetroina. It's already too late, even if you've found out about it.”

“Is that so? Do you really not plan on returning to Jetroina alive? I don't understand how you think. So what if the Tokugawa family gains from it? While they are celebrating their success, you are throwing your life away here for nothing. Come to think of it, I do feel sad for you,” Alex plainly explained.

Behind the sympathetic look he gave her, he thought of her as a fool.

Meanwhile, Haruko's expression darkened. She was willing to die for her family because she was taught that way since she was a child.

However, when she heard Alex's words, her previously strong conviction began to waver.

After all, what she faced wasn't a quick death. Instead, she had to suffer from being assaulted by more than ten men. Furthermore, she didn't know what other methods Alex was going to torture her with.

Besides, it wasn't like she had to accomplish her mission. More importantly, she had a bright future in front of her still. She was only in her twenties and was already skilled in mixed martial arts.

Being seen as a rare mixed martial arts genius, she was confident of beating Alex if only she had a few more years to train.

“In that case, what do you want in return for my release?” Haruko probed.

Just as expected, no one was willing to sacrifice themselves for someone else's glory. Even Haruko's faith was shaken.

However, Alex didn't mock Haruko's sudden change of heart. Instead, he plainly remarked, "It's too late to do anything now that your side has stolen the divine pills."

"If you're willing to release me, I'll give my brother a call and tell him to return the pills to you," Haruko quickly offered.

Alex scoffed, "Haruko, do you take me for a fool? Now that the divine pills are on a flight there, I'm sure Tokugawa Pharmaceutical has the necessary equipment to test its ingredients. Am I right?"

Haruko felt lost when Alex saw through her ruse. Since bringing the pills back isn't going to work, what does he truly want to do?

“Why don't you give me a price? I will buy the divine pills instead. Will you release me in that case?” That was the only solution Haruko could come up with.

“Ten billion!” Alex quipped.

Ten billion! Haruko was shocked.

It's just a pill to cure paralysis. And yet, this greedy b*stard wants to sell it to me for ten billion?

Suddenly, she remembered their bet, and she quickly understood why Alex wanted ten billion from her.

Given that the bet was for the same amount, she figured that Alex wanted her to pay up.

“Ten billion is just too much. Furthermore, I'm not the one who makes decision at Tokugawa Pharmaceutical. Hence, there's no way I can gather so much money.”

Alex replied with a smile, “Ms. Haruko, I am being gracious by not mentioning the previous ten billion you owe me for the bet. Furthermore, you have already taken the divine pills back with you. By then, you will be able to test for all its ingredients with your equipment. Therefore, the ten billion I speak of is for the outright purchase of the divine pills.”

If you find any errors (broken links, non-standard content, etc..), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 730

Haruko refused to give in. They said they only wanted to buy a divine pill. Since when did they say they want to buy all the stocks?

She would never give in to Alex's atrocious demand.

Besides, no outsiders were involved in the ten-billion bet they made earlier other than Alex, Takeshi, and herself. Since there was no evidence against her, Haruko would not admit to the allegation.

Ten billion on those pills is just crazy! I wouldn't even spend over ten million on them!

“Eighty million is my final offer. Take it or leave it. If you dare lay your finger on me, the Tokugawa family will not let you off easily!” she warned. It was as if she did not realize Alex was in control of her life and death. Making such a threat could be a fatal move for her.

Flynn was about to explode with rage. He did not see this coming at all, as he initially thought the woman was Alex's lover.

He stepped forward and slapped Haruko in the face. “How dare you talk to us like this? Don't you know you're in Eurasia? I'll kill you if you don't watch your mouth.”

Instead of stopping Flynn, Alex stood aside and observed them in silence. Let him teach this stubborn woman a lesson since she refused to listen to us!

“How dare you hit me? Don't you know I'm Haruko Takeshi, one of the top three warriors from Jetroina?” Haruko gave Flynn a killer stare.

She would have let it slide had the slap come from Alex, but since Flynn was the one who did that, she was offended. How can I allow an ordinary man to humiliate me like this?

“So what if you're from Jetroina? If you can't fork out ten billion to pay for the divine medicine, be prepared to face the punishment that is more severe than death itself.” Flynn turned around and took a glance at the ten muscular men behind him.

Though Haruko was a decent-looking woman, Flynn had no intention of showing Haruko any mercy.

“Even if you have taken the divine pills, you have no right to mass-produce it. If you refuse to cooperate with us, I'll expose the wrongdoing of Tokugawa Pharmaceutical and tell the world how you have stolen the formula of the medicine. Feel free to do what you want if you don't mind tarnishing your company's reputation.”

“Stop testing my patience. You better make up your mind before I leave 'cause I will not be responsible for what my men would do to you after this.” Alex was getting tired of dealing with Haruko.

Upon hearing that, Haruko panicked. Alex was the only person she could negotiate with, and if he decided to leave, she would be in deep trouble.

“All right! I'll pay ten billion for the formula, and let's call off the bet!” Haruko said without hesitation.

Alex grinned. “You're very good at negotiating. Well then. I'll take your offer.”

Alex instructed his men to release her with an eye signal. One of them handed her a phone.

There were red marks all over Haruko's arms. She shot daggers at Alex before taking the phone.

“Takeshi, the man who got in our way was Alex, and now he wants us to pay ten billion for the divine pill's formula. If we refuse to cooperate, he'll expose us to the world, and he'll only let me go once he receives the money," Haruko said over the phone.

"Ten billion? That's a big sum. I'll have to talk to Uncle Yama first. We'll get you out as soon as possible," Takeshi said.

Meanwhile, the plane had arrived in Jetroina.

If you find any errors (broken links, non-standard content, etc..), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.