

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 891

A teenager was sitting there at Alex's destination. He didn't notice Alex was there and was instead just playing his own game.

Alex approached the teenager and tapped his finger on the table. "I'm here. Why is no one around?"

When he heard someone talking to him, the teenager raised his head and was shocked that someone was standing in front of him. He spoke in an angry tone. "This is the place where the selection of guards for the Holy Land is held! It's not a place where any random people can come. Get out of here!"

"I'm a participant, and now I'm here. Why are you the only person here? Where are the others?" Alex was confounded.

He stared at the teenager with furrowed eyebrows. Even the old woman speaking on the platform from yesterday isn't here. Is it possible that the challenge had been canceled?

The teenager shoved his phone into his pocket and looked at Alex with annoyance. "What is your deal, man? Is there a reason you're looking for trouble here? Why would anyone be here at this hour? The earliest that the challengers will arrive is the next morning. If you want to sneak in, at least try to put in some effort."

It was then that Alex realized the teenager didn't believe him because he arrived at the location too quickly. So quickly, in fact, that the teenager thought he was an imposter of some kind.

If he had the map for the inside and didn't lose his way, he would've arrived there by that night.

Seeing how it was pointless to convince the teenager with words, he decided to provide a demonstration instead. He moved so fast that he practically teleported ten meters away from the teenager.

The teenager was completely flabbergasted by Alex's move. He couldn't believe his eyes. What the hell? How can someone move that quickly?

“Did you see that? Do you believe me now?” Alex approached the teenager again instantly.

“I-I believe you!” The teenager's mouth was wide open as he stared at Alex like he was a monster.

“No need to look at me like that. I'm just a normal guy. Can you contact someone from the Holy Land?” Alex smiled.

The teenager was so shocked by Alex's lightning speed that he didn't snap out of it until Alex made his request. He promptly pulled out his phone and made a call.

“Ma'am? Someone had succeeded in the challenge. Do you want to take a look at the challenger?” he reported as he subconsciously glanced at Alex.

Even though what he saw was undeniably real, it still felt like a dream to him.

“How is it possible that a challenger has made their way here in this hour? Is it someone trying to sneak in? Don't just let any random person in here. Remember to test them first.” The old woman sounded annoyed.

The teenager understood that she also didn't believe it was real, just as he did. He quickly explained, "I did test him, Ma'am. He really is a challenger. He can move so fast that it looks like he's teleporting! You should come over here quickly!"

If he hadn't seen it with his own eyes, he would've thought he was lying as well.

"I'll be there soon." The old woman then ended the call.

The teenager wiped the sweat on his forehead and stared at Alex in disbelief. The old woman clearly sounded angry because she undoubtedly didn't believe he was telling the truth.

It wasn't an exaggerated reaction. If someone were to call one and said that a person had completed the challenge in less than half the time it would've normally taken and that the person had the ability to teleport, one would've thought whoever called was crazy as well!

Chapter 892

“This is the person you said in the call who completed the challenge in less than half the time required and can also teleport?” the old woman asked as she glanced at Alex.

The man in front of her was only in his twenties. He also looked really normal, as though he was no different from the average person. Nothing in his appearance suggested that he was a powerful warrior.

The teenager nodded. "It's really him. If you don't believe me, I can ask him to demonstrate his skill again. I'm not lying."

Alex smiled and instantly arrived in front of the old woman. "Do you believe it now? I'm the first person who arrived here. Is this enough qualification for me to become a guard in the Holy Land?"

When she heard the urgency in Alex's voice, the look in the old woman's cloudy eyes became even more complex.

She had lived for nearly a century, yet she had never heard of anyone with that capability before.

Additionally, his capability didn't seem like it was connected to the insects and instead looked more like the combat abilities from the outside world.

When she thought about all the details she had noticed about him, she became convinced that he was up to no good.

“No. I won't bring you into the Holy Land. Let's just talk here instead. What is your purpose for coming here?” the old woman asked seriously.

Alex knew his performance was so exceptional that people couldn't help but be suspicious of him. If he were in a normal situation, he would've slowed down or done something that would make him less conspicuous. However, the poison in his daughter's body might kill her at any moment, which was why he didn't plan everything out perfectly.

Since he had been found out, he decided there was no point in hiding his true intentions any further. “I'm not a local here, and I participated in the challenge not because I want to be a guard of the Holy Land. To tell you the truth, I only want to meet the Holy Maiden and ask her a few things. My daughter's life hangs on that conversation, which is why I'm already here. I hope you'll forgive my deception.”

The old woman stared at him. She could feel he wasn't lying from his sincere tone. So, she asked, “Tell me what is it that you want by coming here. If you refuse, I won't let you meet the Holy Maiden.”

He sighed and briefly explained the situation about his daughter to the old woman. Not only that, he even showed her the Insect Codex to display how utterly honest he was.

“What? How can you possess such an evil book?”
The old woman was bewildered.

She knew all about that book. It was originally kept inside the Holy Land to protect it. However, after someone stole it without anyone noticing, no one knew where it went.

The knowledge inside the book was very bloody and cruel. While the book would help a person increase their power rapidly, it would also demand them to sacrifice the lives of many innocent people. That was the reason no one there learned the content of the book. They didn't destroy it out of respect because it was a relic left by their ancestors.

“The previous owner of the book was driven to kill many children to practice the techniques written inside. When I found out, I destroyed his secret base. As a result, his people targeted me and tried to kill me. The book was taken from his body. I only took a glance at it and kept it in my study. I didn't think that someone would steal it,” Alex explained.

A sigh escaped her mouth. “Perhaps this is fate! I know how to dispel the poison in your daughter's body. Follow me!”

“Really?” Excitement was written all over his face. It seems like it really is the right choice to search for the cure here.

Chapter 893

Alex was feeling quite anxious as he followed the old woman into a tidy room.

She sat on the chair and glanced at him. “I can help your daughter, but there are no free meals in this world. What will you do for me in return?”

To him, it was a reasonable request for her to make. After all, other people had no responsibility to help him out. However, he wasn't sure what the old woman wanted from him.

“I have four hundred thousand of cash in my backpack. If you want more, I can ask someone to give it to you after I leave this place.” He placed his backpack on a nearby table and pulled down the zip to reveal the mountain of cash inside.

The old woman ignored the backpack and promptly pushed it down, spilling the cash out on the ground.

“You think money's going to be enough for me to save your daughter? Are you looking down on me?” She sounded upset.

It was because she had lived for such a long time that she had gained a status that, if she asked for money, people would willingly give it to her. The amount that he was offering her meant basically nothing to her.

Alex smiled apologetically. “That is not my intention. If you have any requests, just tell me about them, or else I won't know what you want.”

“I want you to promise me that you'll fulfill one wish of mine. I don't know what I want yet, so I'll let you know when I do.”

“As long as you promise to save my daughter, I'll do anything for you. However, I won't do it if you ask me to hurt innocent people or do anything that is morally wrong. “

The old woman nodded satisfactorily and took out a white bottle from her sleeve. “This is the antidote that'll save your daughter. I'll give it to you if you let me put an insect in you. Don't worry. It won't hurt you. It'll only allow me to find you easily in the future. If you refuse, you can leave now.”

He felt disgusted as he stared at the insect sitting on top of the white bottle. When an image of his daughter suffering flashed across his mind, he grabbed the bottle without hesitation.

The moment that he came in contact with the bottle, the insect wormed into his body through his skin.

He wasn't afraid that the old woman would do anything malicious to him with the worm. After all, it seemed like everyone in the area respected her greatly, which indicated that she was a person with high status.

Upon opening the cover of the bottle, he placed it below his nose and sniffed. Then, he said, "Thank you for saving my daughter. I will never forget your kindness!"

"There is no kindness involved. We only made a deal with each other. Don't forget your promise!" the old woman reminded.

Just as he was about to leave, he recalled what had happened when he first arrived. So, he turned back and informed, "I believe someone's intentionally causing trouble here. You should conduct an investigation if you have the time."

"There's no need for you to worry about it. I've already figured out who's causing the trouble. Lincoln was the one who did it in order to earn money. My people had successfully captured him and threw him into the dungeon. He shall be punished greatly for his crime.”

With the last matter taken care of, Alex returned to Quadfield. He couldn't help but think about Elijah as he did. That young man is cowardly and does things in a reckless manner. I hope this incident will change him for the better and shape him into a true hero one day.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 894

After Emmalyn consumed the antidote from the white bottle, color began to return to her cheeks. It didn't take long before she woke up.

Alex was overjoyed and used his Mortal Force to sense the poison in her body, which was rapidly disappearing. In fact, even her corroded stomach was healed.

“Daddy. Daddy.” As she was still very young, it was difficult for her to pronounce the words accurately. However, he was still able to tell she was calling out for him.

Listening to his child calling him warmed his heart. He hugged her tightly and apologized, “I'm sorry. It's my fault for not protecting you properly and causing you to suffer so much. I promise you I won't ever let you get hurt like this anymore. You'll be the happiest princess in the whole world!”

Seeing how much affection he had for his daughter, Kate stepped forward and took the opportunity to hug

Stanley, who was watching all of that silently, tightened his grip while holding Zachary's hand.

Things returned to normal after Emmalyn was cured. Stanley continued to learn martial arts with Zachary while tech dome was able to create a chip that vastly increased their profit. Multiple good news was basically rolling in every day.

Just as Alex was enjoying the sunlight outdoors, the phone in his pocket suddenly rang. It was from Kate.

“Can you come over to the garden for a second? I have a bit of a problem here.” Not only did she sound aggrieved, but Emmalyn was also apparently crying in the background.

His relaxing mood instantly vanished as he asked anxiously, “What's wrong? Did something happen?”

“You better come over to the garden right now, Alex!”
Kate repeated before hanging up the phone.

He was very worried about the two of them, so he quickly made his way to the garden.

Kate was standing not too far away with a crying Emmalyn. Next to them was a thirty-year-old woman with a five-year-old boy. The woman was beautifully dressed, and she was adorned with a bunch of jewelry. It was clear that she was pretty rich.

Alex quickened his steps and hugged his daughter. He asked, “What's wrong? Why is Emmalyn crying?”

Kate glanced at the rich woman and said, “I was accompanying Emmalyn playing at the slide here when these two suddenly barged in. The boy wanted the slide all to himself. When I asked him to play nice with Emmalyn, he just pushed her and hit her head. I wanted to talk to them peacefully, but they insulted me instead.”

The rich woman sneered with disdain, “You only know how to pretend to be pitiful in front of men, you w*nch. What's wrong with insulting you? I'm simply speaking the truth. You're only a w*nch. How good is your daughter going to be? When she grows up, she's only ever going to be a w*nch like you. She doesn't have the right to share this slide with my son.”

Alex's face darkened when he heard that. After all, not only was the woman being completely unreasonable, but she was also insulting Kate and Emmalyn relentlessly. How could he not be angry?

“What did the two of them do to anger you? Why are you insulting them like that? Did your parents teach you any manners at all?" he questioned coldly.

The woman looked at all of them with disgust and spat, "You're the ones who don't have any manners. This slide has been dirtied because of that w*nch and her daughter! What's wrong with insulting them? You're Kate Sutton, right? I'm only speaking the truth about her! She ruined someone's family as a third wheel and was then pregnant with a child. Isn't the only reason you still haven't married her after getting divorced that she's a wh*re?"

The boy standing next to the woman shouted, "A kid without her daddy doesn't deserve to share things with me! W*nch! Wh*re!"

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 895

Alex couldn't hold back his anger any longer, so he gave the rich woman a vicious slap. The slap was so powerful that it sent the woman crashing to the ground with a swollen cheek.

“If you say something like that again, I'll make sure you won't be able to utter another word for the rest of your life. I can also help you teach your son a lesson if you don't want to.” He glared coldly at the boy.

The boy was so terrified by the glare that he had goosebumps before he started to cry. He then ran to his mother's back to avoid Alex.

When the rich woman raised her head, she realized her teeth had been knocked out. It infuriated her so much that she began to shriek, “Was I wrong? I'm simply telling the truth! If you don't think she's a w*nch, then why haven't you married her even after she had a child? Aren't you hitting me because I was right? Do you think you're a good man? A good man doesn't hit a woman!”

“I don't hit women. I hit animals!” Seeing how she still didn't learn her lesson, he slapped her other cheek.

The rich woman's face was completely swollen, and almost all of her teeth had fallen. It was then that the woman truly feared him. She looked at him like he was a demon and kept quiet.

“If I find out you still try to slander the both of them, things won't end with just two slaps from me. I'll make sure you won't be able to say a word for the rest of your life. Regardless if you believe me or not, just don't blame me when I come for you. I want you and your son to apologize to Kate and my daughter right now!" Alex demanded coldly.

The rich woman struggled to stand up, but she still did so quickly. She wasn't going to disobey him when the murderous intent emitting from his body was thick enough to suffocate her.

"I'm sorry, Ms. Sutton. I shouldn't have insulted you and said those things. I won't do it again. Can you please forgive me?" She held her swollen face up and apologized.

"Sure," Kate replied before glancing at Alex. "Let's go back. I'm not in the mood to play anymore."

He could tell she was still in a bad mood from her tone. It wasn't surprising. After all, who would want to be called a w*nch and a wh*re?

“No need to feel so sad. I've already punished the woman for you,” said Alex as he comforted her.

She gave Alex a glance before looking away from him and speaking in a somber tone. “What she said was true, though. I did get pregnant before I was married, and Emma's already a year old...”

A self-deprecating laugh escaped her mouth before she changed the topic. “All right, that's enough for the sad topic. What do you want to eat tonight? I'll cook something for you myself. I learned a lot of new dishes from Zack, and I want you to have a taste.”

As she entered the kitchen, regret flashed across Alex's eyes. He didn't realize he had been putting Emmalyn and her in a tough spot.

Even though they had been living as a family, he hadn't given either of them proper status, thus forcing them to suffer the insults that other people hurled at them.

It was a really tough decision for him to make because he bore no feelings for Kate. Emmalyn was just an accident between the two of them.

He only ever treated Kate as his child's mother instead of a person who deserved love. Was that the right way to treat her? He had no idea.

Helping the Sutton family was the only thing he ever helped her with. She went through all that trouble to give birth to his child, and that made him feel like he really owed both of them. Perhaps it was time for him to grant them the status they deserved.

“What are you thinking about? Come and eat! I've made all your favorite dishes!”

Alex only snapped out of his thoughts when he heard her voice. His affection for her increased as he stared at the table full of delicious food.

Sure, he might not be able to love her, but it was undeniable that she would make for a good wife.

A decision was made in his heart as he stared at Kate seriously. “If I return alive from Lumenopolis next month, I promise I'll marry you.”

Chapter 896

Bang!

The dish in Kate's hand fell to the ground, causing the sauce to spill everywhere and burn her leg.

However, she didn't care about any of that. It was as though she couldn't feel the pain at all. She stared at Alex emotionally as tears streamed down her cheeks.

“Are you really saying that? Or am I hallucinating?”
She stared at Alex in disbelief.

Instead of answering her question, he hugged her up, carried her to the couch, and applied the ointment he took from the first-aid kit to her wound.

“Why are you so careless? That dish is hot! Look at how red your legs looked. I thought you were smart before. Why are you turning dumb all of a sudden?”
he grumbled.

Lots of emotions were swirling in her heart at that moment as she watched him apply ointment to her burned marks carefully.

It was the first time she had ever seen him being so gentle in all the years she had known him. If that had happened a year ago, she wouldn't have known what to do. However, things were different from before.

After adjusting her mood, she smiled. “If it means I can continue to get your love and care, I don't mind if my entire leg is broken or if I become completely stupid.”

When she finished, she placed her head on his body and listened to his heartbeat. He didn't reject her advances and pulled her into his embrace.

“Are you really going to marry me, Alex? Did you make the decision because of what happened today? If you don't want to, I won't force you. As long as you're happy, I don't mind if I have to live a slightly more difficult life.”

Alex took in a deep breath and released all the feelings he had for Maggie. Someone like her deserved to be with a better person. “No. I just think it's time for me to take responsibility for the two of you. I can't let you two continue to live a life without a proper status!”

Kate was so touched that tears streamed down her cheeks again. “Thank you, Alex. I promise you I'll be a good wife to you and a good mother to Emma. Of course, I'll also treat Stanley as my own child.”

“I know you will. There are still some things I need to take care of in the company. You should rest until you feel better!” He kissed her on the forehead before leaving the villa.

Standing on the second-floor balcony, she watched his car leave before pulling out her phone and making a call. “Not bad! I have already asked someone to send the money to you. Try not to show up in Quadfield again. If you say anything unnecessary, I'll send someone to cut your tongue out!”

“Don't worry, Ms. Sutton. I'll take my son and move to another city right away. I won't show up here again.” If Alex were still there, he would be able to recognize the woman's voice as the rich woman who humiliated Kate.

After ending the call, Kate muttered to herself as she watched his car disappear into the horizon. “If I didn't use this method, you probably would've never married me, Alex. I know you don't love me, but so what? I only want the status you'll bring me.”

Meanwhile, inside the chairman's office of the Four Seas Corporation, Alex asked, "How's the renovation going?"

"It's already done. I can move in whenever I want. Thank you, Mr. Jefferson. Would you like to visit my house?" Jessica replied.

Seeing how he hesitated, she quickly added, "I only want to treat you to a meal for giving me such a wonderful house."

"Sure! I'll let you arrange the time." He wasn't going to decline the invitation since she had put it that way.

After work was over, she drove him to her house.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 897

“Stop the car for a while!” Alex peered out of the window and saw a toy shop. There was a white teddy bear on display, and that instantly grabbed his attention.

He hadn't given Emmalyn any present as a father ever since she appeared.

Since his daughter was already one, buying her a toy would definitely make her happy.

Jessica promptly parked the car on the side of the road and followed him into the toy shop. There were so many toys inside that he wasn't sure what to buy.

After taking out the one-meter-tall white teddy bear, he proceeded to grab two intricately made dolls.

Suddenly, he saw a doll sitting in the corner. The doll was different from the others as it had black hair and black eyes. It looked a lot like Jessica.

“Wow, this doll looks so much like you! It's like the manufacturer made it based on your photo! The doll isn't as pretty as you, though. How about I give this one to you?” He smiled.

Jessica thanked him and hugged the doll tightly. She would appreciate anything that Alex gave her.

After paying for the toys, they headed back to the car. Out of nowhere, a woman's voice rang out from behind them.

“Well, well. I didn't think I would see you here, Jessica.”

When they both turned back, they saw a woman with yellow wavy hair in stylish clothing. She looked like an influencer with her big eyes, double eyelids, tall nose, and puffy lips.

There was a clear difference between artificial beauty and natural beauty. Jessica belonged to the latter category. When people looked at her, a pleasant feeling would surface in their hearts. However, the woman in front of them belonged to the former category. A detailed look at her would reveal her unnaturally glossy nose and wide eyelids.

There was a man in a suit standing next to the woman. He intentionally rolled up his sleeve a little in order to show off his very expensive watch.

“Why are you looking at me like that, Jessica? Don't you recognize me? It's me, Veronica, your cousin!”
Veronica Saffin smiled.

It was then Jessica finally realized who she was. The voice was familiar to her, but the face was completely unfamiliar.

When Veronica was a child, she was fat and ugly. In fact, she looked more like a boy than a girl. She studied overseas after graduating from university two years ago. Jessica didn't expect to meet her cousin again at such a place.

“Ah, it's you! You've changed so much that I couldn't recognize you.” She smiled.

Veronica intentionally glanced at her pretty fingernails and smirked. “It's only normal that you can't recognize me, considering how much I've changed. Are you shopping with your boyfriend right now? He looks pretty handsome. Although, he looks kind of poor. There isn't even a watch on his wrist. He's not your kept-man, is he?"

When she finished, she giggled.

"If there's nothing else, I'll be leaving right now, Veronica." Jessica wasn't in the mood to talk to her anymore.

After all, the person Veronica was insulting was Alex. If it were someone else, she wouldn't have minded if he took care of them. However, Veronica was her cousin.

"I just came back from overseas! Don't leave right away. I want to talk to you for a little longer." Veronica grabbed Jessica's hand and refused to let go. "Come on. There's no need to get angry. It was just a joke!”

Chapter 898

Holding on to the arm of the man next to her, Veronica introduced him with fondness, “This is my boyfriend, Soren Stone. We met in the first-class cabin during a flight. Both of us share the same interests. We love to have afternoon tea at the Royal Hotel and shop at the same luxury goods store.”

Veronica's glance fell onto Alex. He looks pleasant, but his clothes look cheap. He doesn't even own a watch. I'm sure he's just a poor toyboy.

Jessica responded perfunctorily, “Not bad. The two of you make a pretty good match. I wish the best for both of you.”

Since they were young, Veronica had never liked her. Jessica was aware that even though they might be grownups now, Veronica still liked to show that she was superior.

The things that Veronica had said earlier on were just her way of showing off. Jessica could not be bothered with her cousin. She wanted to leave as soon as possible to spend more time alone with Alex.

“By the way, what does your boyfriend do, Jessica?” Veronica deliberately turned the focus onto Alex to embarrass Jessica.

Alex answered casually, “I run a small company of my own. It's doing well at the present moment.”

All of a sudden, Veronica covered her mouth and laughed. “Isn't there some kind of standard one must have before opening a company? Nowadays, everyone seems to be their own boss. Did you give Jessica the doll that she is holding on to now? It looks so pathetic. How can you actually give her something like this?”

Just then, Veronica's boyfriend, Soren, straightened his back and chimed in too, “That's right! How can a man give his girlfriend such a worthless thing? At the very least, you should have given her a branded handbag or something similar. That way, she can carry it around with pride.”

Veronica found the right moment to wave her new handbag in front of Alex and Jessica. “Look at this! Soren bought this for me. It costs thirty thousand!”

“He's so nice to you. The two of you are really made for one another,” Jessica pretended to praise them. Deep in her heart, she preferred the doll to the luxury handbag.

After all, Alex has gifted me a necklace worth a few million and a house worth more than twenty million. How can a handbag that costs only thirty thousand compare to those?

“Veronica, if there's nothing else, Alex and I need to make a move first. We'll chat next time. Bye-bye!” Jessica grabbed onto Alex's arm and was about to leave because she had had enough of her cousin's bragging.

Just then, Soren grabbed hold of Alex's other arm and said, “Why are you guys leaving in such a hurry? I like Alex. Since he's running his own company, and I'm well-connected, I may be able to introduce some major clients to him.”

Soren was jealous of Alex! Veronica might be pretty-looking, but there was nothing outstanding about her. Her kind of looks was a dime a dozen and could be found all over the Internet. Jessica, on the other hand, was more and more beautiful the more he looked at her. If I get to sleep with a beauty like this, it will be worth it. How can I let the two of them walk away just like that?

“That's right. Jessica, we haven't seen each other in a while. Let me buy both of you a cup of coffee!” suggested Veronica.

Veronica had no idea what Soren was up to. All she wanted was to humiliate Jessica.

Alex and Jessica exchanged glances. Since they were so persistent, Jessica could not refuse.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 899

Veronica pretended to be very close to Jessica and linked arms with her. “Soren, do you know of any nice cafés around this area? I don't see Jessica that often so we can't just go into any normal café!”

“There is a café near Del Costa that serves a very well-known coffee, but they are only open for the residents in that area. Luckily for us, I have a friend who works there. He should be able to get us in.”

As Soren was bragging away, his eyes subconsciously fell on Jessica. He could not wait to lay his hands on that gorgeous creature.

“Dear, you're so capable! I can't believe you are actually bringing us to Del Costa. That's great! I love you more than ever,” fawned Veronica as she blinked at Soren. She even blew him kisses.

Both Alex and Jessica felt so awkward that they let out dry chuckles and said nothing.

It looked as if they were only able to visit the Blue Mountain Café because of Soren.

“It doesn't matter where we go as long as Jessica is happy,” said Alex casually. Now that Veronica had mistaken him for Jessica's boyfriend, Alex would make Jessica proud and play his role well.

“Jessica, did the two of you take a cab all the way here just to buy a doll? If that's the case, take my boyfriend's car! He drives a Land Rover that costs more than one million. It's a very comfortable ride,” said Veronica snobbishly.

Jessica took out a car key from her pocket and pressed it. The lights of a BMW nearby lit up. “It's okay. I have my own car. Alex and I will take my car.”

Veronica did not expect Jessica to be able to afford a BMW, and she was taken aback. However, once she remembered that Soren's Land Rover cost more than a BMW, she instantly settled down again.

“Oh! I heard you are working as the secretary for the chairman at Four Seas Corporation. I didn't expect you to be able to buy your own car so soon. Looks like the chairman of Four Seas Corporation likes you very much!” Veronica seemed to be implying something. She looked at Alex in pity, as if he was being cheated on.

“You may be earning quite well as the secretary of the chairman, but as a woman, it's better to have some self-respect. After all, you have a boyfriend now. Your pay may be good, but the job doesn't seem very appropriate.”

Veronica had hoped that Alex would get angry with Jessica. If they got into a fight now and broke up, it would be even better.

Jessica was so furious that her face flushed, and she clenched her fists. If Veronica was not her cousin, she would have punched her in the face for talking rubbish.

A shrewd man like Alex knew what Veronica was up to. With a calm expression, he placed his hand around Jessica's waist and said, "I know she makes her money through decent means and her own capabilities. Not everyone can be the secretary for the chairman of Four Seas Corporation. If the chairman is happy with her, that goes to show how competent she is."

Jessica did not expect Alex to speak up for her, and she felt warmth in her heart. Whichever woman had Alex as their boyfriend was incredibly lucky!

With that thought in mind, she envied Heather. If she was Heather, she would have never let go of such an outstanding husband.

Even though Veronica did not succeed, she was not discouraged. On the contrary, she felt that Alex was a useless man to say that.

Alex is probably a poor guy with nothing. That's why they have to use her car. His claim of running his own business is most likely a façade to make himself look good.

“I'm just giving Jessica a piece of friendly advice, that's all. I don't mean anything else. Please don't get me wrong! Since both of you aren't willing to take my boyfriend's Land Rover, then we will lead the way.”

With that, Veronica sashayed her way into the Land Rover.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 900

Once they were in the car, Jessica apologized to Alex, “I'm so sorry! I didn't expect to bump into them here. I wanted to treat you to a meal. Instead of that, you came to my rescue. I'm truly sorry.”

Alex waved his hand and said, “It's a small matter. The coffee at Del Costa is very famous. I have heard about it from several people. Now, I will get a chance to have a taste!”

Jessica felt less guilty after hearing that. Being able to enjoy a cup of coffee with Alex must be a very relaxing time indeed!

Once they parked their cars, Alex and Jessica followed Veronica and Soren to the infamous Blue Mountain Café at Del Costa.

“Wait here for me. Let me speak to my friend first, and they will let us in later on. We cannot enter unless we are residents here,” said Soren.

Veronica stared at Soren with huge, curious eyes and asked, “Why is it so troublesome? Dear, how much does a house here cost? In the future, I want to buy one here so that I can come and enjoy the coffee every day.”

Hearing that, Soren looked awkward. “The villas here are very expensive. The most affordable ones are priced at around five million. It can be quite challenging to buy a house in this area.”

“Five million? That's the lowest price? Oh, god! The houses here are too costly, aren't they?” exclaimed Veronica.

To them, five million was considered a lot of money. Yet, one could only purchase the lousiest house in that area with that sum. At the thought of it, Veronica felt a little depressed.

The coffee here was famous, and not anybody could get to enjoy it. Veronica started to regret bringing Jessica here. Someone like her did not deserve to patronize a place like this.

Now that they were here, there was no way she could chase Jessica and Alex away. It looked like the two of them would get to enjoy themselves after all.

Veronica swore to herself never to let Soren bring them here ever again.

Just then, a young waiter came out of the café and waved to Soren.

“I'll go over first. Please wait for me here!” With that, Soren walked toward the waiter.

The young man snapped, “Why did you bring three people this time around? Do you really think I'm the boss of this place? Next time, I won't help you anymore.”

Upon seeing that, Soren patted the man's shoulders and said, “Why are you getting angry with me? You aren't helping me out for free this time. Look! I have brought along two beautiful women. Once I have slept with the blonde-haired one, you can have fun with her. In order to woo her, I had to buy a high-quality imitation handbag and spent one thousand to rent a Land Rover. I have already spent so much money this time. Please help me out!”

The waiter checked Veronica out carefully. Once he saw that she was indeed a beauty, the annoyance on his face disappeared completely.

“Fine! Remember what you said. Once you've had your fun, don't forget about me!”

Soren quickly promised, “That won't be an issue. Relax!”

“Okay. Let me go in and get you a table.” With that, the waiter went back into Blue Mountain Café.

Once the matter was settled, Soren walked back to them with an arrogant look. “This friend of mine has agreed to help me out. He's currently getting a table ready for us. We should be able to go in after a short while.”

Veronica threw her arms around Soren's neck and kissed him on his cheek. “Dear, you're so impressive! I love you to death.”

A sneer appeared on Alex's face. His senses were sharper than most common people, so he had heard the entire conversation between Soren and his friend.

That was why he could not control his smile.

She had been betrayed by Soren. Yet, she still worshiped him. Alex wondered how Veronica would react when she found out the truth.
