

The Hidden Billionaire Heiress (Lyra Melvin) Chapter 98

After talking to Jackie on the phone, Lyra cleaned up her office table and prepared to go up to the top floor to find Keith.

Micah had been staying in Frayton for quite some time, and she planned to go with Keith to the Matthews family to see how Abigail was doing and tried to free Micah sooner.

When she came to the president's office on the top floor, Jalen was not guarding outside.

Lyra didn't think much of it, and the office door was unlocked.

She had just pushed the door open slightly when she heard a subdued bass coming from inside, seemingly on the phone.

"Bro, would it be too aggressive? After all, it's about Rara. I think she might have her own plans ..."

About her?

What could make Keith so secretive?

She was about to listen to a few more words when the door was suddenly pushed open from the inside and it was Jalen who keenly spotted her.

Keith put away his phone with a natural expression and looked at her tenderly, "When did you get here? Why didn't you come in when you got here?"

Lyra was a little embarrassed to be caught red-handed and unnaturally touched the tip of her ear.

"Just got here. Just wanted to wait until you have time to go to the Matthews family with me and see how Abigail is doing."

"Okay, I'll be done with this, so I can go now."

Lyra nodded in a good-natured way.

When she saw Keith, she found his expression calm and light-hearted.

Did she mishear?

She didn't think much of it. Even if her brothers had something to hide from her, there was absolutely no way they would harm her.

The two were about to leave for the Matthews family when they received a message from Micah.

Abigail's injuries were no longer serious. Micah had stayed in Frayton for too long. Now he had gone to a private airport to prepare to go back to the neighbor city.

The two had to turn around and went to the private airport.

In the back seat of the car, Lyra occasionally turned her head to glance at Keith who was sitting next to her.

Keith was looking down at a newspaper on his hands. The sun was shining through the car window, giving a warm glow to his hair. The unbelievably handsome side of his face looked unusually focused.
