

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 981

Alex was shocked when he heard her words. He had promised to raise her salary to fifteen thousand per month. It was already one of the best offers in the market for nannies.

“If it's about money, I can pay you twenty thousand a month. You will be well compensated. Please take good care of Emma.” Alex smiled.

Alex was willing to negotiate Maria's salary to the point of satisfaction. After all, she had looked after Emmalyn for a long time and the little girl had grown very fond of her.

She would be upset if Maria quits. If it was something money could solve, it wasn't a problem for Alex.

Maria realized Alex had misunderstood her. She quickly waved him away. “Mr. Jefferson, that's not what I mean. My family needs me right now. I can't take care of Emma anymore. You've been very good to me. I am honored to work as a nanny in this household.”

Tears flowed down her cheeks as she spoke. Maria quickly turned around and wiped away her tears when she realized she had lost her composure.

“Why do you insist on leaving if you think this place is good for you? I can grant you some days off if you have things to take care of.” Alex tried to persuade Maria to stay.

“I'm sorry, Mr. Jefferson. Something happened to my daughter in school. I'm afraid I can no longer stay in Nebula City. I'm planning to send her to another city for her studies.” Tears began to roll down her cheeks once again upon the mention of her daughter.

Alex knew right there and then that Maria had run into a problem she couldn't solve. He decided to help Maria out if he could for Emmalyn's sake and to thank her for her hard work.

“What is it? Tell me. I might be able to help.” Alex took a piece of tissue and passed it to Maria.

Maria hesitated for a bit before she took the tissue from him. “M-My daughter's about to be expelled from school. They accused her of leading a complicated private life and working as a bar girl. They are planning to expel her because she had ruined the school's reputation.”

Maria was getting a little worked up at this point. She quickly explained to Alex as if she was afraid of any misunderstanding on his part. “Mr. Jefferson, my daughter isn't that kind of person. I've watched her since she was a kid. How could she possibly do that? But I don't have a choice since we're from the countryside. There's nothing I can do to clear my daughter's name. The only thing left for me to do is to take her away from here so that she wouldn't end up becoming a laughing stock.”

Alex understood Maria's situation. She was a dutiful woman and went all out to take care of Emmalyn.

Her husband divorced her for another woman and left her with two young kids. At that time, her daughter was five while her son was two.

Her ex-husband paid her alimony for her two kids in the beginning. However, the payments slowly dwindled to nothing in the end. Maria was in no position to ask him for money since there was no one to back her up.

She managed to raise her two kids and send them to college in the end. Her life was finally back on track as she worked as a nanny for the Jeffersons.

However, life was unpredictable. She couldn't stick around this place anymore as she wanted to protect her daughter from all the harsh accusations.

“Does that mean you can stay if I take care of it?” asked Alex.

Maria wiped away her tears and stared at Alex with a glimmer of hope in her eyes. If a bigshot like Alex was willing to lend a helping hand in this matter, her daughter's name would be cleared.

“Mr. Jefferson, you're willing to help my daughter out?” Maria stared at Alex in disbelief.

“I will clear your daughter's name if she never did all those things. But most importantly, I want you to stay. I'm not comfortable leaving Emma with anyone else besides you.” Alex smiled and assured her.

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 982

“Thank you so much, Mr. Jefferson. People won't be pointing fingers at my daughter anymore if you are willing to clear her name. She's only twenty this year. I don't want her reputation to be ruined just like that,” Mrs. Walker said gratefully as she kneeled and bowed several times.

Alex quickly helped her up and said somewhat unhappily, “I won't help you anymore if you do this, Mrs. Walker. Hurry up and stand up!”

Hearing that, the woman quickly stood up obediently and wiped away the tears on her face, afraid that he wouldn't help her.

“All right. I won't kneel anymore. I'll listen to anything you say, so please, you have to help my daughter.”

At that, the man gave her a slight smile and patted her shoulder. “Okay, okay. Don't worry about this anymore. Just let me handle it.”

Nebula City.

In the female dorms at the University of Finance and Economics.

“Well, well, well. If it isn't the social butterfly who enjoyed the company of men. How did your reputation get so bad? It seems like you won't be able to continue your life here at school anymore but it's not a big deal to you, right? After all, you won't have to worry about food and clothing just by being the mistress of your clients.”

A woman with blond curls and designer clothing had her arms crossed over her chest as she laughed.

At that, two other women began laughing along with her while a plain-looking woman packed her stuff into a suitcase with her head down, trying her best to hold back her tears.

“Why aren't you talking? Is it because you can't continue to put on an act anymore? Are you finally showing your true colors? Well, it's only normal for a country bumpkin like you to sell yourself,” Mia continued to mock her.

Avery couldn't hold back any longer. She took the clothes from her pile and threw them at Mia's face before retorting, “I've already said I didn't go. Why do you keep slandering me? Why do you keep blaming it on me when I've done nothing of the sort? I just wanted to study peacefully in school. When did I ever do anything to offend you? Why do all of you keep targeting me?”

As she spoke, she crouched on the ground and started sobbing, whatever strength she had come crumbling down in an instant.

Mia had never expected a country bumpkin like her would throw clothes at her face. She was a lady of a second-rate family in Nebula City, and she had never once felt so wrong in her life.

To retaliate, she threw the clothes back at Avery and scolded, "How dare you throw your clothes at me, Avery? You're a prostitute who sells yourself! When did I ever frame you? Everyone in our school knows what you do. I don't mind ruining your reputation further."

Avery and Mia were roommates, but the latter had never liked Avery. That bumpkin doesn't do anything besides study. The clothes she's wearing now don't even add up to a hundred.

At first, the plain-looking woman didn't catch her eyes at all. However, there were just too many boys who were trying to woo Avery. Even the school hunk that Mia had always liked treated Avery differently compared to how he treated other women.

Seeing the situation Avery was in now, the woman felt the need to add fuel to the fire and taunt her in order to relieve the hatred in her heart.

Since the former dared to throw her clothes at her, Mia didn't plan on being merciful anymore. She quickly pulled out her phone and uploaded a video on the campus forum.

It didn't take long for the post to be flooded with likes and comments, and the amount of those who were criticizing Avery increased.

A cold smile appeared on Mia's face as she read the comments.

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

In the end, Avery decided to control her anger regarding Mia's continuous mocks and taunts. She finally left the dorms after she was done packing.

Glancing around the school's surroundings, she was reluctant to leave but had no choice but to do so after how things had turned out.

She had no way of explaining some things anymore. The only thing she could do was leave. The University of Finance and Economics of Nebula City was a first-rate university. It would be difficult for her even if she were to attend a third-rate university after being expelled.

While studying at this university, Avery had always had excellent grades and would get scholarships every semester. She didn't even need to ask for an allowance from her mother. But the same could not be said if she were to go to another school after this.

On her way out of the school, Avery could hear people chastising her. She even heard the mention of her name, and she didn't even need to think but knew what they were talking about.

“Look. Isn't she the one who works as an escort? I even heard that she calls the owner there her godfather. She is actually his mistress,” a woman whispered as she pointed at her.

“I can't believe someone who looks honest like her could do something like this. Tsk, tsk, tsk! You really can't judge a book by its cover after all. It must be easy for her to do bad things when she looks like this. I'm embarrassed to even be studying in the same school as her. Serves her right for being expelled,” another woman said with a contemptuous look.

Sometimes, it was hard to imagine the spitefulness women had for each other. Avery had never met the two of them and had done nothing to them, but they were saying such horrible things about her for no reason.

The woman clenched her teeth upon hearing those words. She felt so aggrieved and wronged but had no idea how to get the words out of her mouth.

Her nose stung as a wave of sorrow and bitterness washed over her. She wanted so much to cry, but she forced herself to hold back the tears, worried that these people would make a joke out of her.

Just as Avery was about to quickly walk past them, a man nearby, who was on his phone, exclaimed, "Da*n! Something huge is going down, you guys! Log on to the campus forum, quickly!”

At the sight of this, the women from before became excited and instantly pulled out their phones to open up the forum.

“I knew it. I knew Avery was a homewrecker. I wasn't sure at first, but this video proves everything. Look at how flirty she was in that video. Anyone can tell she's trying to seduce men.” This time, the woman didn't even bother to try and hide the fact that she was talking about Avery and had spoken louder deliberately.

The man turned to look at Avery before walking toward her to block her path. Then, he started to check her out openly, his eyes stopping at her chest, then at her butt.

“You've got a great body there. Since you sell yourself for a living, why don't you come and accompany me? How much do you charge a night?" he said while rubbing his chin, a greedy expression on his face. It looked like he couldn't wait to take off all her clothes and enjoy the sight.

The woman was uncomfortable under his gaze. Besides, his words were no different from throwing her dignity onto the ground and stepping on it relentlessly.

Avery could not stop the feelings of grievance any further. Fat drops of tears fell from her eyes as she stared straight at the man before her.

Naturally, the man was confused at the sight of this. However, he had deemed her a prostitute after watching the video earlier.

"Why are you crying? You just have to sleep with me for a night. I don't mind paying a little more. What do you say?"

Slap!

Unable to hold back any longer, Avery slapped him across his face and shouted, "I'm not the kind of woman! Who are you to be talking about me like that? Who gave you the rights?"

The man placed his hand over his red cheek and slapped her with his other. "How dare you slap me, you b*tch? Open your eyes and look at the campus forum. You were the one who posted the video yourself. How dare you continue to pretend you're innocent?" he spat angrily.

She couldn't even care about the pain across her cheek as she quickly opened up the forum to check out the post he was talking about.

Once she opened up the forum, she saw a video at the most eye-catching spot on her phone's screen. The video was about her, and without any hesitation, she clicked on it.

The video was taken when she was taking a shower. Avery screamed when someone had barged in suddenly, and she quickly covered up her body. Nonetheless, the person holding the camera still managed to get a video of it.

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 984

Having seen the video, she suddenly recalled that Mia had barged into the bathroom with her phone the other day. All Avery could think of at that moment was to cover herself up.

But Mia paid no heed to her at all. All she did was throw jeers and insults at her. "I'm just swiping through my phone. I couldn't care less about your body. Just looking at it disgusts me."

With her lowly family background and the fact that she wasn't sure if Mia had actually taken pictures or videos of her, this whole incident ended just like that. Who would have thought that her roommate had actually taken a video of her, and had even posted it on the campus forum?

It's bad enough that I've been expelled. Why is Mia doing this to me? Does she really want my reputation to be completely ruined? Is she trying to force me to a corner?

In all honesty, no matter how strong Avery was, she wasn't brave enough to continue living with the thought of having to live in the shadow of the video for the rest of her life.

Just then, the man's voice laced with disgust was heard, "Are you still going to continue acting even after uploading the video, b*tch? I've got to hand it to you for actually looking the part though."

"I'm not acting! It's not what you think it is. I wasn't the one who posted this video," Avery explained as tears streamed down her face. But she knew that no one would believe her words.

"Just hurry up and leave! Aren't you afraid of contracting some sort of disease after sleeping with a woman like her?" one of the women said while tugging on the man's shirt.

“It'll be fine if we put on protection. I want to know how a good student like her would look in bed.” The man gave Avery a mocking look as if he was letting his imagination run wild.

“I can't believe you prefer someone like her. Go try it if you like it, then. Women like her will do anything when it comes to money anyway,” the woman ridiculed.

Avery listened to their conversation quietly. She felt suffocated from feeling so aggrieved, so much so that she wanted to just jump off of a building to prove her innocence with her death.

As soon as she turned around, she saw someone familiar. At that, she promptly ran toward that person.

“Were you the one who uploaded the video onto the forum, Mia? Why did you do it? Why? Hurry up and delete it!” Avery screamed while grabbing Mia's collar. The thought of death didn't even scare her anymore, so offending her roommate was nothing.

The latter furrowed her brows and pried off her hands in contempt. Then, she said impatiently, “Don't touch me with those dirty hands of yours. My clothes cost at least a thousand. Would you even be able to pay for it with your allowance?”

“How could you do this to me, Mia? I've never done anything to piss you off. Why did you set me up like this?” Avery bawled.

Hearing that, Mia snickered. She was so happy to see her roommate in such a state. “Because I said so. Go on and post a video of me if you dare.”

“You-” Nothing came out of the former's mouth even as she pointed at her roommate. She was always an honest person and had never once gotten into an argument or fight with anyone. That was why she was so angry at the unreasonable woman that she couldn't say anything.

“What? I have helped you become someone famous in our school. Since you're a celebrity in our university now, you'll become even more of a popular person in Nebula City once more people spread the video. When that happens, people will be lining up to sleep with you. You'll have to thank me for that, don't you think?” Mia continued to tease.

Upon hearing her words, Avery bit down hard on her lips, but the physical pain was nothing compared to the emotional damage. She wanted so much to beat up the woman before her. However, she thought of the place her mother and brother were at that moment. Even if she were to die, Mia would never spare her family so easily.

Just then, a Lamborghini entered the campus grounds. It was the first time such an expensive car showed up at the school, so all the students were surprised.

Even though Mia was from a second-rate family, all her family had was a BMW. It was nothing compared to the car before them.

Right at that moment, the Lamborghini stopped right next to her and Avery.

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

The car door opened and a handsome man in his twenties exited the car.

The man certainly wasn't the most handsome man on Earth, and his clothes looked ordinary. However, he seemed to be on a completely different level while standing next to the Lamborghini.

Mia didn't expect a handsome man to be driving the car. She imagined him to be her knight in shining armor. If I get together with him, then the Sheniston family will rise up the social ladder too.

At the thought of this, she hurriedly tidied her hair and walked toward the man. She thought that he had stopped his car next to them because he was attracted to her. There's no way he stopped here because of someone with a shitty reputation like Avery.

“Hey handsome, I have time to have coffee with you,” Mia said as she winked.

To her surprise, not only did the man ignore her, but he also walked past her and toward Avery.

“You're Mrs. Walker's daughter, Avery Quentino, right? I've seen a picture of you before. Why are you crying? Did someone bully you?”

That man was none other than Alex. He thought that he would have to go to the female dorms, so he was rather surprised that he managed to meet Avery here.

“You are... Mr. Jefferson?” the woman stared at him with widened eyes as she asked in disbelief. Maria had called her that morning to tell her that her boss would help to settle everything and prove her innocence.

Needless to say, Avery didn't believe it when she heard what her mother said. After all, the rich were busy people. How was it possible that they would help handle something personal for their nanny? At that moment, she thought that her mother had only said that to comfort her. Who would have thought that she was actually telling the truth?

“That's right. Did something happen? Why did you cry so much? Your eyes are already swollen,” Alex asked, concerned.

Since he had already promised Maria, he needed to handle everything properly and not let anyone wrong Avery any further.

The woman took a look at Mia, unsure if she should tell him what had happened. After all, the Sheniston family was quite powerful.

As she continued to ponder on whether she should say something, Mia walked over and said snarkily, “Are you here for Avery? Don't tell me you too have been deceived by her innocent looks. I'm her roommate. I should tell you, her private life is such a mess. She'd work as an escort at night, and she'd also sell herself in school.”

Avery became furious when she heard that. “What the hell are you talking about, Mia? You've already done enough with the video you just posted. Why are you still trying to slander me now?”

Folding her arms, the former sneered. She was even more annoyed by her roommate now. The man she fancied ignored her and headed straight for Avery, so how could she not be angry?

“What? You're not allowing others to talk about the stuff you've done? Mister, since you're so rich, you can just find other women. Aren't you afraid that you'll be dirtied if you sleep with someone like her?”

Slap!

A slap landed on her face the moment she was done speaking. It was especially loud, and those who were watching things go down nearby could hear it clearly.

“It's not up to you to judge if Avery is a slut. But that mouth of yours is indeed filthy. I can't help but feel disgusted after slapping you,” Alex enunciated every word.

Avery was shocked by the scene before her. He seemed like a kind-hearted brother when he was speaking to her, not at all like how she imagined a rich person to be. However, he was so assertive and intimidating when he spoke to Mia. His voice seemed like it was threaded with steel.

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 986

“How dare you slap me because of a prostitute? I'm from the Sheniston family!” Mia shouted angrily as she clutched her cheek.

The slap hurt so much. She had never felt so indignant in her life, and she couldn't stand it. It didn't matter to her that he was the owner of the Lamborghini anymore.

“You have a filthy mouth, and you're constantly slandering others. If you weren't a woman, I would have done more than just a slap," he said bluntly.

At that, Avery quickly tugged his shirt and whispered, "Just let it go, Mr. Jefferson. Her family business is quite big. They're not people we can afford to offend."

Mia happened to overhear her and started to scrutinize Alex.

If he hadn't gotten down from a Lamborghini, he looked like an ordinary person who was nothing compared to a rich person.

Sometimes, those who drove a Lamborghini weren't actually rich. They might be a driver for someone rich, and they could be from the countryside like Avery. There's no way she knows someone who actually drives a Lamborghini even if she sells herself for money. This man here might just be a driver.

She was more sure of it the more she looked at Alex. How dare a mere driver slap me? How brazen of him! I'll never show mercy no matter what he says.

“How dare a mere driver like you slap me? You even reprimanded me. I will never spare the both of you. I'm from the Sheniston family. We can destroy you easily just by lifting a finger,” Mia said rudely while pointing a finger at the man.

The man smirked having heard what she said. She's so arrogant even though she's only from a second-rate family in Nebula City. Even the top families in Lumenopolis have to be polite to me when we meet. Besides, there aren't many that can destroy me so easily in Eurasia.

What a dumb woman. She's speaking so arrogantly to me with the little power her family has. She really doesn't know who she's dealing with, huh?

“Avery, I'm here to handle everything for you. I've already promised Mrs. Walker, so feel free to tell me what has happened. No matter how outrageous things are, just tell me what this woman here has done to you,” Alex said.

Since he had already put it that way, Avery would only seem ungrateful if she continued to keep silent after the man came all the way to prove her innocence.

The thought of death didn't scare her anymore; besides, Alex had already slapped Mia, there was nothing else she had to worry about now.

“I've never been to any bar to work as an escort before. The rumor started because I was trying to look for a job during the holidays to help lessen the burden at home. I have a classmate named Howard who said he had a job for me. The pay was high and there wasn't much for me to do. All I needed to do was clean up the bar. He even said that he introduced the job to me because I am his classmate. I read through the contract and only signed it when I felt that there was nothing wrong with it. Who knew that he wanted me to be an escort. He even tampered with the contract later on. I didn't want to work as an escort, so I quickly ran out of the place. However, Howard started using the contract and started the rumors about me. It's because of this that the school expelled me.”

Once she was done speaking, Avery glanced over at Mia and added through gritted teeth, “The other day, she barged into the bathroom without my permission and took a video of me. Then, she posted the video on the campus forum. Now, everyone in school thinks that I'm that kind of woman.”

She started to cry as she spoke. If Alex hadn't come, she would have committed suicide because she couldn't take it anymore.

Alex didn't expect that not only was Mia rude, but she was also malicious. Isn't she just forcing Avery to a corner?

It looks like one slap isn't enough!

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 987

“Did you really upload Avery's video to the campus forum?” Alex asked as he stared at Mia.

The latter did not expect a chauffeur to be so sharp. It was as though he could easily read her mind.

He's merely a chauffeur. What can he do if I were to tell him the truth? I doubt he dares to stand up for Avery.

“That's right. I was the one who posted her video online. I did it for her sake in order to help her get more business. She should be thanking me instead of complaining about it. How disgusting!” Mia said contemptuously.

She had never truly cared for the two persons standing in front of her. So what? They are just two insignificant poor people.

Without any mercy, Alex landed a kick on Mia's belly and sent her flying a few feet away. His sudden action shocked everyone who was following the fiasco.

Oh my goodness! This young man is so domineering. He has just kicked the most famous girl in school. Whoa, Avery has such strong backing!

The horror-stricken Avery covered her mouth with both hands. It was unbeknownst to her that Alex would act ruthlessly. I'm afraid Mia will suffer from broken bones.

Although she never wanted Alex to offend the Sheniston family, she felt extremely satisfied to see Mia being taught a hard lesson. Alex's speech and actions were everything that she had wanted to say and do to Mia but did not have the courage to put those thoughts into action.

At that instant, she completely adored Alex and even had a brief fangirl moment. He's just like the male lead in the romantic novels; he's way cooler than the campus heartthrob!

“I'll settle the scores with you soon.” After saying his piece, Alex turned to Avery. “Who else has bullied you before? Tell me now, and I'll take care of things for you.”

Slowly, Avery's gaze fell on the man who humiliated her. However, she shook her head and said nothing. “Thank you, Mr. Jefferson. I have no idea how I will ever going to repay you for your kind deeds today.”

Alex gestured and said, “No worries. You're Maria's daughter. She's been a great help in our household. So, it's my pleasure to be able to extend help to you. Rest assured that the school won't expel you without my permission. Let's go and meet the principal now.”

When Alex walked past the trio, the man who had humiliated Avery was trembling in fear and trepidation. He heaved a sigh of relief upon knowing that Avery did not report him.

Suddenly, a burst of excruciating pain shot up from the man's foot. He felt like his bones were cracking, and his body was going to be torn apart.

Lo and behold, Alex purposely stepped on his foot when he was walking by. In fact, he even exercised force and stamped on it, making sure that he would be handicapped for the next few months.

Avery felt good when she heard the man wailing in agony. She was so surprised that Alex managed to capture that small expression and avenged her on her behalf.

Being protected by someone was indeed a good feeling to cherish. Watching Alex's towering figure, Avery felt like she was going to fall head over heels for him.

Once Alex left the place with Avery, Mia who was laying on the ground gradually recovered her senses.

He's such a cruel person who nearly killed me on the spot! I swear I'll never let this slide!

Mia whipped out her phone with great difficulty and gave her father a call.

“Hi, my beloved daughter, I just scored a chance to invite President Sawyer from Four Seas Corporation for a meal. I'm going to do my best to butter him up. This is a golden opportunity for us to climb up the social ladder and be the most prominent family here. All right, I've got to go now. See you!” Gordon could not wait to hang up and continue to bootlick Jack. He had no time to entertain Mia.

“Dad! Come to the campus now, or your daughter is going to be beaten to death. I'm already half-dead as we speak!” yelled Mia over the phone.

Frowning, Gordon was in a quandary. Mia was his only daughter, whom he doted on since young. He felt so sorry for her when he heard how badly injured she was.

“Sure, let me inform President Sawyer first. I want to know who's that insolent fool who did such an awful thing to my daughter. He must have a death wish!” bellowed Gordon.

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Meanwhile, at the principal's office...

“Mr. Gadow, do you want to consider this further? Avery is one of the best students I've ever taught. I know her well, and I can guarantee you that she's not the type who would conduct such an outrageous act.” A female teacher wearing a pair of gold-rimmed glasses was trying to convince Dillon, the principal.

He was someone in his fifties, who seemed to be an unfazed and righteous leader.

“There's no room for discussion with regards to this matter. I've informed the board that Avery will be expelled. Moreover, the post on the school forum has gone viral. I'll never keep a student like her in the school,” declared Dillon without a hint of hesitation.

The teacher did not expect him to be so resolute. However, there was nothing more she could do to change his mind. With that, she kept silent and walked away.

The office was all quiet. Then, the office door opened without any prior knocking.

A student around twenty years old, decked out in designer brands, entered the room casually.

“Dad, have you dismissed Avery? You shouldn't keep her in school any longer. I asked her to sleep with me, but she rejected me right away. I can't stand how arrogant she is and decided to ruin her reputation. Let's see if she can continue to act high and lofty!” the young lad said contemptuously.

It was none other than Howard, the mastermind who set Avery up. He was the one who made her sign the contract and destroyed her.

Dillon looked at his son but did not say a word. He had only one son, whom he chose to spare the rod and spoil to no limit. He was well aware that Avery was not the first victim, and neither would she be the last. Feeling dejected, he was used to cleaning up his son's mess.

“Behave yourself!” he advised. He felt sorry for what his son had done to Avery. However, he could only let him be since he was not able to control him.

Upon hearing that, Howard knew that his father was unhappy with what happened. He quickly strode forward and acted like a good son.

“Dad, I did that to teach those snobbish girls a lesson. I know that you love me the most and won't leave me to handle this issue by myself.”

As Howard pacified his father, half of the latter's rage was quelled.

Right then, the office door was once again opened without any prior knocking. The principal could tolerate that if it was his son. However, he found it rude if someone else barged into his office without seeking his permission first.

“Have you not heard of the rules in the University of Finance and Economics? You must knock before entering the principal's office,” Howard shouted.

He guffawed when he realized that the person was Avery. She's still lingering around the campus, and she's got the cheek to show up at the office? Maybe she has finally thought it through.

“Why? Have you changed your mind? If so, I'll let this episode slide. Stick around with me, and I'll make sure that no one bullies you on campus.” Howard smirked smugly.

Avery cast a disdainful look at him. Both he and Mr. Jefferson are men, but how come they differ so much in personality? No, wait, he's not worthy of being compared to Mr. Jefferson. He's no match for Mr. Jefferson at all.

“Dream on! I'll never ever be with someone like you.” With the support from Alex, Avery had become more courageous and confident.

“Get lost then for you've been expelled by the school. You don't deserve to be here, so bugger off!” Howard yelled at her angrily.

Initially, he thought Avery came to plead for his forgiveness. Who knew it was the complete opposite of what he had imagined!

“I would love to see who dares to expel you as long as I'm around.” Alex shot an intimidating glare at both Dillon and his son.

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 989

“Dude, where are you from? I don't remember you being a student of this campus. What an insolent brat who talks big in the principal's office! The principal has announced that Avery has been expelled. What's that got to do with you?” Howard did not spare Alex and gave his snide remarks.

“What does it have to do with me? Well, Avery is my sister. No one can expel her without me nodding my head!” Alex exclaimed.

Avery pulled the hem of Alex's shirt and whispered, “He's the one who tricked me into signing the contract to become an escort at the bar. He even requested that I sleep with him, but I rejected. Then, he reported me to the principal and caused me to be expelled.”

Finally, Alex understood the whole situation. Seeing that the resemblance between Howard and Dillon was uncanny, he guessed that they were related.

As the leader of a university, he condoned the appalling acts of his son in doing something so despicable toward his own classmate. This is utterly unforgivable! How can someone like that be a principal?

Alex slammed the office desk harshly. A loud thud shocked everyone there out of their wits.

Then, he questioned sternly, “Can you expel a student with excellent academic standing and dispositions without investigating the case thoroughly? Is this what a principal should do?”

Out of his many years of service at the University of Finance and Economics, no one had ever raised their voice at him, let alone challenged his authority.

“I don't care how you're related to Avery. It's a fact that she worked as an escort. This was proven by the contract she has signed. Moreover, she was caught red-handed as shown in the video that has gone viral. One bad apple spoils the whole bunch! I'm determined to get rid of her today, regardless of what you have to say.”

Dillon remained unswerving and stood firm on his decision. He was enraged by Alex's attitude when talking to him. Avery is just a country bumpkin. How great can his brother be?

Upon hearing Dillon's reply, Alex did not become infuriated. On the contrary, he grinned. “I hope that you remember how adamant you are today. Don't give yourself a chance to beg me for mercy in the near future for I will not budge.”

Kneel and beg him? What gives? I'm a principal of a renowned university. No one has ever made me kneel nor beg, not even the rich and famous in the city. He's just a hick dressed in cheap clothing. How can he be so full of himself?

He really doesn't know who he's dealing with, huh?

His supercilious and haughty sister stepped on my son's toes. Now, the brother is pushing my buttons by talking big. None of them should be allowed to step foot into the university!

“If that's the case, I'm looking forward to our next meeting. Show me what you've got,” taunted Dillon.

“Sure, don't you regret what you just said.” Alex gave him a casual reply.

Subsequently, he whipped out his phone and planned to give Jack a call. I'm sure it's a piece of cake for Jack to resolve this issue.

Before he could make the phone call, the office door was once again kicked open. A familiar face appeared with a middle-aged man standing next to her. Alex recognized her at once, for she was the person whom he had slapped and kicked earlier that day.

Mia went ballistic the moment she saw Alex. She pointed her fingers at him and yelled, “Dad, you must redress my grievances. This is the stupid chauffeur who gave me a tight slap and landed a kick on my belly. He nearly took my life!”

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.

FINDING OUT THE BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 990

“So you are the rascal who hurt my daughter?”

Gordon was livid as he stared daggers at Alex.

If this matter hasn't arisen, Mia wouldn't have called and interrupted my appointment with Jack. We might have finalized the plans for our collaboration and probably celebrating by now. It's all messed up because of this guy!

Alex side-eyed Gordon. “Your daughter has a foul mouth. She deserves to be slapped. Believe it or not, I can do the same to you if you continue raising a ruckus here.” He could not care less.

Alex's words made Gordon's blood boil in rage. How audacious is this man! Are all chauffeurs so impertinent these days?

“Do you know who I am? You must have a death wish to be so ill-mannered when conversing with me. Do you know that I can make you go out of your job?” Gordon roared.

As if things were not at their worst, Howard dashed over to Gordon, tapped his shoulder, and chimed in,

“Mr. Sheniston, he's a lunatic. Don't argue with him. He warned my dad not to regret his decision today. He even bragged that he could make my dad kneel before him. What nonsense! Actually, he just can't accept that his sister has been kicked out by the school.”

Howard was rather polite to Gordon due to the good relationship between their families. After all, birds of the same feather would flock together. Those with similar family backgrounds would always support each other in order to gain more power.

“A mere chauffeur thinks he's above the law! Hmph! I must get some men to bring him back to reality. His sister too must not be spared from an immediate expulsion.” Gordon was all worked up.

“Mr. Sheniston, just leave this case to me. Rest assured that I've issued an expulsion notice. Our university is determined to reject any student with poor conduct.”

Dillon paused before retorting Alex, “As for this presumptuous fellow, I warn you to get out of here right now. You are not welcomed at the University of Finance and Economics!”

“Mr. Gadow, kick Avery out now and make sure that she has no opportunity to receive her tertiary education anywhere else. In return, I'll donate two million for the University of Finance and Economics to undertake future development,” Gordon negotiated.

He felt that it was a bargain to spend two million to teach her daughter's rivals a lesson.

There was a twinkle in Dillon's eyes when he heard the amount. “Thank you, Mr. Sheniston, for your generous contribution. Don't worry, I'll ensure that your request is carried out accordingly.” He smiled from ear to ear.

Seeing how the two are in cahoots with each other, Alex was utterly disgusted.

One deliberately ignores how his daughter disregards the privacy of others and condones her terrible behavior. Similarly, the other one misuses his power as the principal to threaten a poor girl for rejecting his son's ridiculous request.

Clap, clap, clap!

With a mocking smile, Alex applauded the scene which greeted him. This is unbelievable, absolutely absurd and ludicrous! I must etch it in my memory.

“You have two choices; to get out of my sight immediately or I'll have the security guards beat you to a pulp and throw you out.” Alex's intentional derision drove Dillon up the wall.

However, Alex remained unbothered by the words spoken with a hint of menace. He picked up his phone and contacted Jack, followed by a few other phone calls. Nothing was said over the calls apart from requesting them to come over to the university.

Gordon, Dillon, and their children were totally baffled at what Alex was up to. What does this chauffeur have up his sleeves? Has he gone mad?

“There's no point in you calling more people to come; even God can't save you. Mr. Gadow has made it clear that Avery's expulsion is with immediate effect. Considering what you did to me, my dad will not let you off the hook. You'd better watch out,” Mia said, carrying an air of conceit.

“Enjoy the luxurious air that you're breathing now for another twenty minutes. When the time's up, you will lose everything you have then,” Alex warned them while slumping into the couch.

If you find any errors ( broken links, non-standard content, etc.. ), Please let us know < report chapter > so we can fix it as soon as possible.