

who was sitting next to Heather.

Rupert neared Annabel and nodded gently. He stared at her and handed her the cat. "Annabel, here you are."

People immediately started talking about it when the mystery was revealed.

"So, Mr. Benton handed it to his fiancée."

"He loves his fiancée dearly.

I'm very jealous of her."

Annabel held her breath as she watched Rupert approach her slowly.

It turned out that Rupert bought the kitten she made for her.

A moment ago, he announced that he intended to give it to the woman he was in love with.

Now he gave it to her. Did it mean that she was the woman he was in love with? 🤔 Annabel had mixed feelings.

"Annabel?" Noticing that Annabel didn't react, Rupert frowned slightly.

Annabel collected herself and stated icily, "Sorry, I don't like it." 🗨️

Rupert got upset after being publicly rejected by Annabel. "Weren't you bidding for it just now?"

"Well, I don't like it anymore," Annabel said firmly. "I won't accept anything that doesn't belong to me."

Annabel then rose to her feet and added, "Please excuse me. I'm going to the restroom."

She then turned around and headed for the ladies' room.

Rupert narrowed his eyes as he watched Annabel walk away.

He knew Annabel was still angry over what had happened the night before.

He was upset too.

It was clear to Rupert that Annabel had feelings for him.

It hit him last night on the Ferris wheel that Annabel loved him.

But then he accidentally mentioned Candy, which made Annabel distance herself from him.

All night long, Rupert had been smoking on the couch. He went to Annabel's room this morning so that he could explain, but she wasn't in her room.

He checked with the hotel's receptionist and learned that Annabel had left in the middle of the night.

Rupert spent a lot of effort to find out that Annabel would attend the charity auction tonight.

He dashed over. But as soon as he walked into the auctioning hall, he saw Annabel fighting over the plush cat with Heather, so he bought it right away.

He intended to use the cat to express his love for Annabel in front of everyone, but she rejected it and walked away without looking back.

The unexpected frustration made Rupert unhappy.

"Rupert, Annabel has crossed the line." Heather said glumly as she looked at Rupert's long face.

Heather was envious that Rupert had bought the cat for Annabel.

Rupert had also proclaimed in front of so many people that Annabel was the woman he was in love with, which made Heather even more envious.

But Heather was taken aback when Annabel rejected Rupert.

She was unsure if Annabel was playing hard to get.

However, this was a good opportunity for her.

Heather continued, "I guess you don't know that Annabel secretly went to the bar with another man last night."

Rupert's attractive face became icy.
