

Found him - 20

Ava's POV

I felt something on my forehead, it was warm. I slowly opened my eyes and realised that it was the sun rays for the morning. I got up and yawned, I wasn't really a morning person. I felt very gross cause of all these bandages and casts on me.

But they remind me of that night, that horrible night. I haven't told anyone about Asher yet, I don't want to... I'm just going to keep quiet cause who is going to care about me?

I'm scared of what will happen now, will Asher do anything? Cause even if I go to the police about this it'd be no use, he is more powerful than me, who would even believe me anyways?

I looked around the room and to my shock, it was all clean, it was organised as it should be. Then something was on my nightstand. I went further to it and there was a note on it with a bottle on pills along with a glass of water, I picked up the note first and it read:

Good morning,

Once you wake up I want you to take these pills, they are your medicine, and if you need anything just call me or Bina, I will be at work when you are reading this. I told Bina to keep watch of you and my bodyguards as well. I have also made the doctor stay here in case if anything happens,

Anyways I'll see you later,
Bye.

From, Carter.

Sighing I took those pills and put them in my mouth. I grabbed the glass of water then swallowed it, I felt cold and weird because I stink and hadn't had a shower in forever so I decided to go to the bathroom.

I tried to get up but failed so many times, these injuries are so painful. I tried once again but fell back down on the bed as I winced loudly, tears escaped my eyes. Giving up I searched for my phone but it was all the way on the other side of the room, on top of the chair.

I got up once more and to my luck it worked, I was actually happy about this, like I had actually achieved something in my life. I took more steps but my legs gave up on me so I fell on the floor flat on my stomach with a huge thud.

I screamed in pain and started crying hysterically, as my body was in so much pain I felt as if I was in hell. I kept on sobbing trying to get up, I'm so useless at this point.

The more I tried to get up the more pain I had endured, it stings so much however I managed to sit up on the floor with all my might.

I felt wetness on my stomach, I quickly pulled up my shirt and to my horror the scar on my stomach that had been stitched reopened and blood was gushing out of it, when I see blood I immediately faint, it terrifies me, cause a er my dad's death my mom used to always cut herself, it broke my heart, and one day she died out of a heart stroke.

I touched my stomach and brought it up to my face, I screamed loudly. My whole hand was covered with my own blood. I suddenly felt dizzy, the room was shaking, I felt tired, then suddenly the door flew open.

"Avee?" I looked up to see Noah at the door looking terrified.

"Noah..." I whispered with no energy, my eyes were closing. "Noah don't go in there sweet-" I heard Bina yelling and soon was at the door as well frozen in her spot, she quickly covered Noah's eyes.

"Ava? Are you okay? 1 second I'll be back, Doctor!" she yelled in panic. "What's wrong Bi-Bi? Why is Ava like that?" Noah asked her worried to which she hurried out the room with him and soon returned back yelling and bringing a person with her. "Ava! Stay with me, Ava!" I felt dizzier by the second.

And then my eyes shut as the darkness consumed me.

Carter's POV

I stayed in Ava's room the whole night, yeah I didn't actually leave the room. Ava was being stubborn. I began to sleep as well on the uncomfortable chair.

I woke up and sharp pains went through out my spine. I got up from my seat and saw that Ava was still asleep. I didn't want to wake her up so I wrote a letter and put a glass of water and pills for her medicine and le the room.

Once I had a shower as usual I got ready for work as it's Monday. I took my briefcase and files for work, and headed out my room. I checked up on Ava and she was still sleeping. It was 8 am, I was late to work but it didn't matter.

I le the room, on the way outside I informed Bina to look a er Noah and watch Ava and to call the doctor that I have made to stay in my house help Ava in case if anything happens. I asked about Noah and Bina informed me that he was sleeping in one of the rooms. I le the house for my o ice.

----- few hours later -----

It was 12:20 and I was doing work when the room burst open. I looked up from my laptop, and there stood Jacob panting hard.

"What?" I asked annoyed. "You will never believe what I have found" he replied breathing in and out. "About what?" I asked. "Ava." he answered and I immediately stood up from my desk.

Finally I can know what happened.

"Tell me now" I said and he tossed me a file, I picked it up. "It has all the information of what happened" He said. I flicked through the file, horrified.

"Yeah Asher did that to her, it happened on Saturday night. People have witnessed that Asher and Ava had been spotted driving to a warehouse, and Asher did everything to get her but Ava escaped, the time was 12 am and a man had seen her walking alone, her hair was a mess and she was shivering, apparently she had asked him where she was at so he told her, she continued walking in the middle of the night all beaten up by him." he said and le me shocked.

I remember when she came home late yesterday night at 2AM. I can't believe this happened.....

"Oh my god... she was late that day coming home and I was awake the whole time but cause of my stupidity I didn't check up on her. I told her not to go out with him but she didn't listen. I should of stopped her and I was being mean to her all yesterday morning and she did nothing." I sighed.

"Be careful man, I also met her yesterday morning, she was dull and I was a little skeptical as well, but that bastard will be behind bars cause I have a cctv footage of Asher and Ava of what he did to her, we can use it as proof against hi-" he got cut of by my phone ringing. I checked it and it was Bina calling me.

Maybe it's something important....

"I gotta take this." I said to Jacob to which he nodded, I answered the call. "Hello?Mr. Nicholson?" Bina yelled loudly across the phone and I bet Jacob heard it and it wasn't even on speaker. Jacob came closer to me and I put my phone on the speaker. "Yeah. What is it?" I asked her.

"Ava! I saw her in her room and blood-" she panicked but I cut her o . I furrowed my eyebrows in confusion as to what she is saying "Slow down, what happened?" I asked calmly and Jacob chuckled at me to which I gave him a glare. "Ava is hurt!" she shouted and I froze in my spot.

"What do you mean?" I asked worriedly. "She was on the floor and blood was all around her." she replied loudly. I looked up at Jacob and he was shocked as well as me. "Did you call the doctor?" I asked her. "Y-yes" she answered.

"I am coming home take care of Ava." I cut the call and ran out the door.

"Carter!" Jacob yelled for me and I turned around. "I'll come with you." he said shook my head. "No take care of my o ice and let them know I'm not going to be here for the rest of today and I'll go on my own. " I ordered and he nodded. "Alright man see you." he patted my back. I ran to the elevator and out the company and straight to my house.

The whole car ride was tense I was panicking and the tra ic was heavy, but I made it to my house. I sprinkled as fast as I can to my door, once I did I opened it and the first person I saw was Noah, he was standing in front of the huge stairs sobbing, I hurried over to him.

"Noah what's wrong?" I asked wiping the tears away from his face. "T-they won't let me see Avee" he cried. "I wanna see Avee!" he screamed sobbing. "It's okay I'm here let's go play games." I said and he looked at me cheerfully. I picked him up in my arms and sped to Ava's room.

I put Noah in my room cause I don't want him to see his sister like this, so I made him busy by giving him toys to play with. Then I went towards Ava's room, without knocking I barged into it. I could see Ava in the bed with her eyes closed and her exposed stomach had a scar which was stitched up.

Bina and the doctor looked at me. "Mr. Nicholson Noah came into this room and I tried to stop him but when I came here I saw Ava on the floor with blood on her hands and stomach, I got scared so I kept Noah away from here and bought the doctor here." Bina said in one breath. I ignored her and crouched down in front of Ava's bed and looked at her.

I felt a hand on my shoulder so I looked towards it. "Mr. Nicholson Ava is seriously injured and now she just had reopened her scar, if this happens again I have no saying on what will happen, she is weak and needs rest." The doctor said.

How did this happen without anyone knowing?

"How did you not know about this?" I asked Bina. "Mr. Nicholson I heard nothing from outside and when I saw her l..." she trailed o . "Take care of Noah." I told her sternly, she nodded and walked out the room.

I turned towards the doctor. "What should I do now?" I asked panicking. "Just let her rest and make her take her medicines she'll be fine."she said and le the room leaving me with Ava.

She looked so fragile and weak. I'm going to kill Asher.

I'm coming for you Asher, and this time you're dead.
