

Black Iron 1231

Chapter 1231: Zhang Tie's Doubt

In less than 2 minutes, the waters around the expeditionary fleet of Sacred Light Empire had been in a mess while the entire fleet was in great disaster...

When the flagship broke off, exploded and sunk, the 2 throne pastors and 5 chief pastors along with tens of thousands of elites and all the sailors were killed. Facing such a terrifying power, all the people had been killed before they realized what happened, except for the 7 knights who struggled for a second before death...

Tens of thousands of steel pieces swept over the surrounding 8 battleships in a terrifying, high speed. Even a metal water faucet could easily penetrate through the armor of a battleship and cause a severe damage to the battleship.

After the steel pieces swept over, all the parts above the decks of the 8 battleships were in a mess. Some big holes appeared on the parts below the water of 4 battleships. The diameter of the biggest hole was over 2 m. The keel of a battleship was broken by a steel piece which weighed hundreds of kilograms. With jarring sound caused by twisting steel, this battleship started to sink...

The battleship was filled with cries and wails and badly mutilated bodies...

Many steel pieces even affected the warships in the periphery. Before people responded, the 100 m high billow had swept over...

2 minutes later, only 3 of the 8 battleships were still on the sea. 2 of the 3 had been capsized and were sinking; 1 had lost its driving force and was floating on the sea like a dead fish...

Almost half of the 20-odd troopships and 5 depot ships had been capsized by the huge billows.

The sailors and fighters on the capsized troopships and depot ships were scrambling for lifeboats and life jackets. Those who had fallen into the water were thrashing water by arms in order to escape away from the turbulence caused by the sinking ships...

Those survivors still didn't know what happened until now...

With another boom, a boiler in the power room at the stern of a troopship suddenly exploded. Nobody knew whether it was damaged by the steel pieces or maloperation. In the boom, the stern of the troopship started to shink; at the same time, its prow started to raise while the crew was jumping off the deck flurriedly like putting dumplings in boiling water. Those pastors and officials on the troopship were scrambling for the only life boats on the ship by saber and sword.

At this moment, Zhang Tie was deep in water.

Not until the two halves of the 200,000-ton huge flagship reached thousands of meters deep in the sea on Zhang Tie's side did Zhang Tie recover his composure.

Zhang Tie was stunned by his strike as he was thinking about the reason.

The turbulence and downward suction brought by the wreck of the huge flagship seemingly wanted to drag Zhang Tie to the depth of the ocean; however, Zhang Tie could completely ignore such a trivial suction. Zhang Tie moved his eyes and threw the final glance at the wreck. After swearing, he accelerated upwards and shot out of the water; he didn't stop until he arrived at 1,000 m high above the sea.

At the sight of the messy scene over the waters, Zhang Tie's heart pounded once again as he muttered, 'Damn, that's too exaggerated!'

Zhang Tie scratched his head unconsciously. Not until his metal glove touched the metal helmet of his Chaos did he realize that he was still in Chaos.

Given the current messy situation, the expeditionary fleet of Sacred Light Empire couldn't even match a drowning dog. Zhang Tie even doubted that these survivors could arrive at Ewentra Archipelago waters by the rest ships. If these people really dared come to Ewentra Archipelago in such a poor look, they were definitely treating themselves as refugees.

Facing such a situation, Zhang Tie didn't feel like attacking them once again. If Zhang Tie wanted to launch the second round of strike, he could kill all of them. However, it was not Zhang Tie's style to kill these little fish and shrimps who couldn't threaten the Sacred Iceland Kingdom at all; otherwise, it was not a war, but a meaningless brutal slaughter.

If they were demons, Zhang Tie would wipe them out without any hesitation; however, Zhang Tie was still soft-hearted about humans. Even though the management and chief pastors of Sacred Light Empire were b*stards, it didn't mean that all the people in this country deserved to die...

After throwing the final glance at the scene below, Zhang Tie triggered his flight ability as a divine dominator. With a sonic boom, Zhang Tie immediately broke the sound speed and flew far away...

On the remaining ships and the sea, more than one official and pastor of Sacred Light Empire was watching Zhang Tie flashing away in the sky with pale and scared looks. Their ambition about convincing the Sacred Iceland Kingdom was shattered in a split second like soap bubbles in the sunshine being blown onto the twigs...

Zhang Tie just maintained 3 times the speed of sound.

After killing 7 knights of Sacred Light Empire and completely destroying the expeditionary fleet of Sacred Light Empire, Zhang Tie didn't feel the pleasure of triumph. To be honest, Zhang Tie was still muddle-headed and felt like having a dream until now.

This result was out of his imagination!

In Zhang Tie's plan, the 2 throne pastors were his next two target customers for "purgatory samsara". After absorbing the water chakras of the two throne pastors, Zhang Tie might promote to the 5th earth realm.

However, the two earth knights just turned into blood foams in front of Zhang Tie. It was like a pile of water elements running away themselves. Zhang Tie felt so pitiful and wasteful. 'What a shame!'

All the other 5 chief pastors were also killed in a split second without even leaving a f*rt. Under Zhang Tie's blow, all the 7 major pastors who were having breakfast and pretending to be something in the dining room were killed at once. Therefore, Zhang Tie's illusion of catching some major pastors and teleporting them into Castle of Black Iron so as to have Heller brainwash them fall through once again.

According to Zhang Tie's plan, even if he had to kill some knights, he could at least keep half of them alive and had Heller brainwash them so as to live up to his performance.

But now, nothing was left.

Of course, Zhang Tie was not happy about this result.

When he recalled why those major pastors were "lost", Zhang Tie realized the terrifying power of his hammer; therefore, Zhang Tie became excited once again unconsciously. That blow was still leading up to meaningful afterthoughts until now. He felt that he was favored by the God. 2 earth knights and 5 black iron knights were wiped out in a split second. Zhang Tie was also fascinated by the powerful feeling. He felt that he had done something great unconsciously as if he had pushed over a wall and entered an unprecedented realm.

'How could my blow be that powerful?' Zhang Tie was confused.

Being in the disappointed, excited, fascinated and confused state, Zhang Tie flew over 900 miles away from the expeditionary fleet of Sacred Light Empire in less than half an hour.

An isle with a towering mountain peak in the center covering dozens of square miles entered Zhang Tie's vision.

'No, I have to figure it out. How could my hammer be that powerful?' Zhang Tie was increasingly doubtful about that.

Previously, Zhang Tie planned to fly towards the Sacred Iceland Kingdom after wiping out the expeditionary fleet of Sacred Light Empire; however, he was not anxious about that. If not figure out this question, Zhang Tie wouldn't feel like eating and sleeping.

Watching the isle at his foot, Zhang Tie teleported his grim Chaos into Castle of Black Iron and revealed his original look. After that, he directly landed on the mountain peak in the center of that isle.

There was nobody in this isle. It was a cliff beneath the highest point of the mountain peak. Beneath the cliff, there were nestles of a huge flock of sea-mews. A forest was beneath the mountain peak, which extended all the way to the beach 4-5 miles away. Sea waves were beating the beach. An area of pitch dark reefs extended several miles away in the ocean from the beach...

This was an unpopulated isle. Grains couldn't be planted in a large area in the isle. Even a big warship couldn't berth here. Being alone in the ocean, it could only be a landmark on the ocean. Nobody else would come here except for Zhang Tie.

Zhang Tie sat down with crossed legs on a clean, huge rock on the top of the mountain peak. After breathing the fresh air, listening to the cheery twitters and watching the white lines when sea waves lashed the beach and reefs constantly for a short while, Zhang Tie's consciousness gradually turned vacant while his distracting thoughts gradually faded away...

Chapter 1232: The Secret of the Terrifying Kinetic Energy

'Is that unknown powerful attribute carried by this silver secret item?'

'No!'

'Were all the 7 knights of Sacred Light Empire counterfeits?'

'No!'

'Was the 20-ton flagship of Sacred Light Empire made of paper?'

'No!'

'Was it a fortune and coincidence?'

'Of course not!'

All the amazing, unimaginable events or problems went back to briefness.

In many occasions, briefness was everlasting, truth and the final orientation of the problem.

After listening to the cries of sea-mews for half an hour on the top of the mountain peak, Zhang Tie opened his eyes. His eyes didn't contain any perplexed eye light anymore; instead, they were giving out bizarre light. Behind the bizarre light was the gate leading to another world.

After removing all the impossible reasons, Zhang Tie had already got the answer to that question.

The terrifying power of Thor's Hammer was only determined by his fast speed and the weight of Thor's Hammer.

It was not a sophisticated question; however, Zhang Tie had not imagined that the answer could be so simple. The teacher of mechanics class in No. 7 male middle school had already instructed him of the reason.

The answer to this question was simple. Even a junior middle school student knew the formula, half of an object's mass multiplied by two times that of its moving speed led to the kinetic energy of this object!

'Kinetic energy! Yes, it's kinetic energy! The unit of kinetic energy is $\text{kg}\cdot\text{m/s}$! This is a simple physics commonplace that was accepted by humans before the Catastrophe.'

'Thank God, after this Catastrophe, many things have changed; however, this simple kinetic energy formula remained unchanged. It's still a part of the general laws of this world.'

Because this formula was simple, it was ignored. Even Zhang Tie had not imagined the relationship between this simple knowledge and his terrifying blow.

‘Before I launched my strike, my flight speed was 3487 m/s, which was a bit greater than that of 10 times the speed of sound.’ This was the speed sensed by Zhang Tie’s knight’s consciousness.

‘The Thor’s Hammer weighs 6.8 tons, namely 6,800 kg; my Chaos weighs 600 kg; along with my own body, it totally weighs 7,486 kg. Half of 7,486 is 3,743; two times my moving speed is 12,159,169. Therefore, my kinetic energy at that moment was 45,511,769,567 Joules.

‘What’s the meaning of 45,511,769,567 Joules?’

‘According to my mechanics’ teacher, if a crossbow’s kinetic energy was greater than 100 Joules, it couldn’t be displayed or carried in some places as it would kill people. This is also the regulation that Andaman Federation used to judge whether a crossbow could be used as a weapon or not. Many countries across Waii Subcontinent have the same regulation. The lowest standard for the kinetic energy of crossbow weapon is 100 Joules. Some countries might even take 90 Joules or 110 Joules as the lowest standard for the kinetic energy of crossbow weapons. No matter what, no country would take crossbow weapons whose kinetic energy was 200 Joules as toys.

‘The kinetic energy of a light crossbow, such as that excellent “Irongate T21” that Fattie Barley carried to attend the survival training is about 800 Joules. The kinetic energy of a medium-sized crossbow could reach about 2,000 Joule. The so-called heavy crossbow’s kinetic energy could reach at least 4,000 Joule. Some single pawn heavy crossbows’ kinetic energy could reach 10,000 Joules. City-defense steam ballista’s kinetic energy could reach over 50,000 Joule. The kinetic energy of more powerful steam centrifugal ballista could reach at least 2 million Joule.’

‘What about the kinetic energy of my blow?’

‘Over 45 billion Joules. This explained why my strike could be so powerful.’

‘The shocking effect was caused by three reasons; first, also the most important reason lay in my terrifying kinetic energy; second, the shattering and lightning damage effects attached by the Thor’s Hammer; third, my strength and the power of battle qi. Only with the three strengths could I shatter the 7 knights of Sacred Light Empire and cause such a terrifying destructive effect.’

Zhang Tie thought it through at once as he stood up with a bit excited look. A wholly new world was then pushed open by Zhang Tie silently.

After standing up, Zhang Tie threw another glance at the current scenery.

The mountain and the sea were as same as that he saw half an hour ago. A flock of pure white sea mews was hovering under the cliff. The sun had just risen up for a short while.

Nothing in front of his eyes changed; however, they were already different in Zhang Tie’s mind. From the perspective of kinetic energy, the mountain’s kinetic energy was zero, the sea mew’s kinetic energy was greater than that of the mountain; the kinetic energy of the sea wave was greater. The sun above his head had the greatest kinetic energy. The trace of the sun was like a brilliant avenue that hung over the sky...From a certain perspective, this was a world composed of kinetic energies.

Zhang Tie immediately entered Castle of Black Iron and appeared in the palace tree of Castle of Black Iron.

"Castle Lord..." Edward hurriedly bowed towards Zhang Tie when he saw Zhang Tie in the lobby of the palace tree.

"Leave me alone. I'm thinking about something!"

Zhang Tie soon came to the palace under the small tree. Without even throwing a glance at the fruits on the small tree, he had sat down with crossed legs. At the same time, he closed his eyes and triggered the trouble-reappearance situation of Xuanyuan Hill. Closely after that, he entered his own Xuanyuan Hill once again.

Edward scratched his head as he didn't know why Zhang Tie was so anxious. The moment he walked out of the lobby of the palace tree, he had seen Heller going downstairs.

"Is Castle Lord back?"

"Yes, Castle Lord said that he wanted to stay alone!" Edward said respectfully.

Heller waved his hand as he replied, "Fine, I see, mind your own business!"

Edward then left. Heller came to the lobby of the palace tree casually. Standing far away, he watched Zhang Tie who was completely in the trouble-reappearance situation under the small tree.

Heller seemingly let out a long sigh before muttering, "Woah, Castle Lord, you finally reached this step. If you still didn't understand which step you reached until today, I even want to remind you directly. It seems that those jerk pastors of Sacred Light Empire are still useful. After grasping the secret of the power of kinetic energy, Castle Lord should have been clear about your strengths and cultivation orientation. Only such a future is promising!"

After muttering for a short while, Heller revealed a smile. After throwing another glance at those fruits over the small tree, he left the lobby of the palace tree. Heller knew that Zhang Tie might not exit the trouble-reappearance situation in a short period; otherwise, Zhang Tie would not enter trouble-reappearance situation right after returning to Castle of Black Iron.

Of course, Heller could guess what Zhang Tie wanted to do.

Zhang Tie still appeared in the manor of Lord Guangnan in Xuanyuan Hill. Like usual, the LV 9 demon fighter's limbs were broken and thrown away by Zhang Tie once again. Closely after that, Zhang Tie grabbed the metal candlestick and flew towards a conspicuous building in the distance.

In less than 10 seconds, Zhang Tie had come to the gate of that conspicuous building along with the loud sonic booms. After dropping off the metal candlestick, he entered the 50-m higher gate.

That building was the Library of Xuanyuan Hill. This library was the largest database of humans as of now, which contained hundreds of millions of materials and books. This library collected many materials before the Catastrophe. Last year, Bai Suxian showed him around here. In the underground of this library, there was the largest difference engine array in this age.

When he came here last year, this library was bustling. The materials in this library were classified. Only people with the corresponding class could have the access to some materials. Some materials could only be inquired by the officials of Taixia Country. Even Bai Suxian couldn't read whatever she wanted here.

By contrast, Zhang Tie was the only person in the entire library. All the guards and staff in the library had disappeared. It completely became Zhang Tie's private place.

Last year, Zhang Tie and Bai Suxian were not qualified to enter the inquiry zones on Class 7 and above; this time, Zhang Tie directly came to the top of the library and entered the Class 9 inquiry zone.

Class 9 inquiry zone was independent. Each inquiry room was almost as large as a theater. There was no serviceman in the room. He could only see a set of terminal inquiry machine which was linked to the underground difference engine array and a huge black metal curtain which was higher than 10 m and wider than 20 m. On the black metal curtain, there were numerous dense and tidy round metal pushpin-shaped bulges.

Zhang Tie had heard about this advanced object. However, it was his first time to see it. The metal curtain was one of the most delicate and expensive machines in the world. It was a terminal metal pixel display being connected to the large difference engine. The signals output by difference engine could be reflected on this metal curtain through complex transcoding and translation. This product combined typography and the most advanced steam technologies...

Chapter 1233: An Attempt

It was said that the underground difference engine network array of this largest human library was driven by geothermal energy. It was available around the clock. The entire library included a lot of information entry clerks and maintenance engineers, who maintained the normal operation of this huge difference engine system. As this difference engine system ran normally when the trouble-reappearance situation came into being, Zhang Tie could normally use this system even though he was alone in the library.

With the trouble-reappearance fruits that Zhang Tie used in Xuanyuan Hill, besides killing Han Zhengfang and Han Yuanhong, he also gained the largest legacy, this huge database in Xuanyuan Hill...

The largest human library and database became Zhang Tie's private study at this moment.

Besides this library, the database in the headquarters of those major human trade unions in Xuanyuan Hill was also open to Zhang Tie completely.

This was the largest achievement that Zhang Tie had made in Xuanyuan Hill.

Compared to this achievement, it was worthwhile for him to consume those trouble-reappearance fruits.

On one side of the operation panel of the inquiry machine, there was an operation manual. Zhang Tie skimmed it over rapidly before knowing how to manipulate it.

With the sound “Da da da”, the metal keyboard carried a strong metallic texture. Zhang Tie had long borne the universal remote-sensing crystal communications information codes in mind. Therefore, he soon input the keywords into the machine.

He only input one key word——kinetic weapon!

After tapping on the key “Enter”, Zhang Tie listened to the tinny and euphonious sounds of the running gears for 1 minute when the numerous fine metal pushpin-shaped bulges on the huge black metal curtain started to reverse and turn white. These white fine points connected with each other and formed a succession of words, which was a booklist.

Within Zhang Tie’s imagination, these references were mainly humans’ study of kinetic weapons before the Catastrophe.

“The Prospect of Kinetic Weapon on the Basis of Gutungs Explosion”

“Summary of Kinetic Weapons”

“Heavens-Based Kinetic Weapons——the Commanding Height in future Wars”

“On the Functions of Kinetic Weapons in Anti-missile and Anti-satellite Realms”

“The Report on the Current Situation of Kinetic Weapons after Nuclear Weapons”

“A Study on the Feasibility of Matching Large Surface Combat Ships with Electromagnetic Cannons”

U.p..dated by .com

“The Plan on God’s Spear”

“A Study on the Application of Hypersonic Aerospace Aircrafts in Strategic Kinetic Weapons”

“Convention on Limiting Heavens-Based Kinetic Weapons——Protecting the Last Pure Area in the Sky”

Zhang Tie got over 40 books about kinetic weapons. He pressed the button on the operation panel and turned on the first book——“The Prospect of Kinetic Weapon on the Basis of Gutungs Explosion”...

A succession of words appeared on the metal pixel display in front of Zhang Tie.

In the following 3 hours, Zhang Tie digested all the knowledge that he could collect about kinetic weapons in the room.

Kinetic weapons were different than traditional weapons. Before the Catastrophe, humans’ traditional weapons such as missiles, bombs and nuclear weapons killed, wounded or destroyed the targets through explosion; however, kinetic weapons killed the targets through their great kinetic energy instead of explosions.

Kinetic weapons had great destructive power. It was said that the inspiration for developing kinetic weapons originated from a big explosion caused by a meteor that collided with the earth of a subcontinent. When a meteor hit the ground with a great speed and mass, the kinetic energy and power that it released would be greater than that of the explosion of 1,000 atomic bombs. A high-speed collision of the meteor would turn thousands of square miles' land into scorched earth in a split second.

The power of kinetic weapon was only related to the object's speed and mass. As long as an object could reach a great speed, it could carry a great kinetic energy even though its mass was not great.

As for all the kinetic weapons that were invented by humans before the Catastrophe, to gain a great speed was the key for a great kinetic energy.

In order to gain a great speed, people had worked out many methods. Electromagnetic cannons' bullets gained a great speed in electromagnetic acceleration principle. As for heavens-based kinetic weapons, electromagnetic cannons were installed on the geostationary orbit of the planet and turned into rail cannons. The bullets being fired by rail cannons towards the earth carried a great initial velocity; additionally, the acceleration of gravity could make bullets move increasingly faster. When a kinetic bullet fired by a rail cannon touched the earth, its speed could reach hundreds of Machs with a terrifying power. Take the Heavens-based kinetic weapon mentioned in the Plan on God's Spear as an instance, it was actually an "iron spear" driven by a rocket booster after being fired towards the ground from the outer space. In this way, the "iron spear" could be accelerated two times like the bullets of rail cannons, which could definitely destroy the target on the ground.

Before the Catastrophe, people had already invented the interception technologies for ballistic missiles. Therefore, all the nuclear weapons' effects were discounted. However, kinetic weapons couldn't be intercepted. Because kinetic weapons had great power and couldn't be intercepted, all the human countries had been competing for developing kinetic weapons so as to replace nuclear weapons as the new strategic threat power before the Catastrophe.

Zhang Tie saw a form in a book, which listed the comparisons on the kinetic energy between various human weapons. After reading that form, Zhang Tie finally understood how terrifying his strike was.

Before the Catastrophe, the lightest tactic nuclear weapon that humans invented was David mini tactic nuclear weapon, whose explosive power was 41.8 billion Joules, which was equal to the explosive equivalent of 10 tons' TNT explosives. Zhang Tie's hammer carried 45 billion Joules. It meant that his hammer's kinetic energy was even 10% greater than that of a mini tactic nuclear weapon.

Power of nuclear weapon was dispersive; by contrast, kinetic weapon's strike was more concentrative and carried a greater destructive power.

Facing such a great destructive power, Zhang Tie's battle qi and the two indirect effects of Thor's Hammer, of course, the 7 jerk pastors of Sacred Light Empire were wiped out at once.

Among all the books, Zhang Tie was most interested in the thesis "A Study on the Application of Hypersonic Aerospace Aircrafts in Strategic Kinetic Weapons".

It was a proposition posed by a Hua scientist before the Catastrophe —Produce a hypersonic aerospace aircraft whose moving speed could reach 10 times the speed of sound; throw an iron rod towards the target in flight. When the iron rod left the aircraft, it would carry tens of times the speed of sound. After entering the atmosphere, it would gain the second acceleration due to gravity. In this way, when the iron rode fell onto the ground, its destructive power would be similar to that of a nuclear weapon.

When he read this thesis, Zhang Tie's face turned increasingly weirder. Because he sensed that this proposition was referring to his current ability. With the flight ability of divine dominator, after reaching the speed greater than 10 times the speed of sound, he threw his spear towards the target...

By then, his spear's speed would be composed of 3 parts, namely 10 times the speed of sound, the initial speed that Zhang Tie's granted to the spear and the acceleration granted by the gravity...

Of course, he couldn't casually throw Thor's Hammer towards his enemy at such a high speed. What if it was a spear?

'My palm bolts could kill battle spirits in a split second. If my palm bolt increases its weight by a few times and gains a speed which is greater than 10 times the speed of sound, what about the kinetic energy of that spear? How powerful would it be?'

Zhang Tie stood in the room for quite a while. After that, he suddenly patted his head forcefully before rushing out of the room like the wind...

Only after a few minutes, the gate of an arsenal of Black Armor Army in the north of Xuanyuan Hill was shattered with a boom. Zhang Tie then entered it with an excited look.

As he couldn't use his space-teleportation equipment in the trouble-reappearance space, Zhang Tie could only look for the ready tools in the trouble-reappearance situation to verify his thought.

Thankfully, Xuanyuan Hill gathered all the delicate weapons in the world. It was very easy for him to find some weapons especially helmets, armors and spears in the arsenal of one of the top 4 armies in Taixia Country in Xuanyuan Hill.

What a Black Armor Army! There were all sorts of top-class weapons and equipment in the arsenal.

Zhang Tie found a copper-colored proper metal battle armor from those armors. After putting on the metal caligas, metal waistband, metal chest armor and metal wristers, Zhang Tie tried to fly at a high speed with the flight ability of divine dominator; after that, he came to the location of weapons and found some heaviest spears before leaving the arsenal.

Soon after he left the arsenal, Zhang Tie had flown off. With the ability of rapid moving skill and divine dominator, Zhang Tie soon reached his maximal speed—3,487 m/s.

The heaviest spear weighed 56 kg. However, Zhang Tie still felt it was as light as a straw. As he mainly wanted to try its power at a high speed, Zhang Tie didn't care about that.

Zhang Tie didn't mean to select a target on purpose. At over 1,000 m high, Zhang Tie noticed a building of over 20 floors. Closely after that, he threw his spear towards it forcefully...

Chapter 1234: A New Road of Cultivation

Zhang Tie's flight speed was 3,487 m/s, which was close to 10 times the speed of sound.

The speed of spear that Zhang Tie could throw at rest was 1,689 m/s, which was close to 5 times the speed of sound.

When in flight, the moment the spear left Zhang Tie's hand, although its speed being relative to Zhang Tie was 1,689 m/s, its real speed was 5,176 m/s, ignoring the gravity acceleration from over 1,000 m high.

When the spear hit the building, its kinetic energy was 750,147,328 Joules. The moment the spear left his hand, Zhang Tie had got its kinetic energy through his powerful mental arithmetic by abacus.

According to the standard before the Catastrophe, the kinetic energy of over 750 million Joules was almost equal to the explosive quantitive of 180 kg's TNT.

Of course, in this age, there was no explosive except for alchemist's bomb; additionally, the strike of kinetic weapon was more concentrative and more destructive to a single target.

When the spear hit the building, over 10 floors' structure was collapsed at once, causing dust and broken stones flying in all directions.

After that, Zhang Tie threw out another two spears and hit the remaining part of the building. As a result, the entire building collapsed, leaving a huge pit on the ground whose diameter was a few meters.

Then, Zhang Tie tried to manipulate an object to attack his target with the ability of divine dominator.

Zhang Tie found that the inertia of his body in high-speed flight couldn't be passed to the object which was under control by his spiritual energy. When he controlled an object, the object's flight orientation was consistent with his flight orientation; additionally, the object under the control of spiritual energy could only fly as fast as the maximal speed of his body. Only when he threw out his spear by hand could his flight speed and inertia be passed to the spear.

Normally, the kinetic energy of a spear weighing 56 kg at the speed of 1,689 m/s was 79,876,188 Joule.

However, at 10 times the speed of sound in the air, the kinetic energy of spear which was thrown out by his hand was 750,147,328 Joules.

By contrast, it was a difference of 9.39 times. If he could further increase his flight speed, this sharp difference could be further enlarged.

The power of spear was out of Zhang Tie's imagination. However, Zhang Tie felt the 50-odd kg's spear was too light to play the effect of the kinetic strike. He had not fully exerted his strength yet. He could increase the kinetic energy of this spear by a few more times.

Launching an attack by a spear in flight with the ability of divine dominator was the swiftest, simplest and most powerful kinetic strike pattern for Zhang Tie.

'As long as I could easily kill a black iron knight by a spear in this way, does it mean that I could kill all the black iron demon knights in an overwhelming way like killing ants? Even heavenly knights couldn't do it.'

Zhang Tie couldn't help getting thrilled because he realized that a bright avenue of cultivation was right in front of his eyes. As long as he combined speed and strength, he would defeat all the opponents. Speed and strength were his greatest advantages. From then on, the combat mode of divine dominator would enter a completely new realm. At the same time, he had one more powerful trump card that could change the situation.

'F*ck, I became a humanoid hypersonic strategic bomber that could fire momentum weapons!'

After looking at the collapsed building and thinking about his achievement, Zhang Tie exited the trouble-reappearance situation immediately...

After opening his eyes, Zhang Tie saw Heller under the small tree. Heller might have already known that Zhang Tie would wake up at this moment.

"Castle Lord, you might have made an achievement in the trouble-reappearance situation!"

Zhang Tie stood up as he revealed a confident and brilliant smile before saying, "I just suddenly realize what I should do in the future..." After saying that, Zhang Tie seriously looked at Heller's calm smile and wise eye light for a short while. He then immediately realized, "Have you long known about the secret of kinetic weapon? You should have long told me about that. If not raid the expeditionary corps of Sacred Light Empire, I might have not discovered that I could have such a powerful striking means!"

"When Castle Lord could fly at an increasingly higher speed with the ability of divine dominator, the so-called secret of kinetic weapon would just be a window paper which would be broken sooner or later. If I told you too early, I might have influenced your cultivation base and exploration in fighting skills. It's not good. No matter what, although you have promoted to a knight, you have to observe the world with your own eyes and sense and think about the world using your own brain. Only in this way could you get a real and reliable experience and gnosis. Castle Lord, if I told you about the striking mode that you could select when you were in a hypersonic flight, would you still have such an excited and deep feeling?"

"Well, you're right!" Zhang Tie didn't argue with Heller on this event because it was Heller's usual demeanor. Heller never provided any excessive suggestion for his road of cultivation; instead, Heller just worked as the steward of Castle of Black Iron and gave him some tips at most. Zhang Tie then asked Heller, "Do you think the kinetic strike is promising or not?"

"The power of kinetic strike is closely related to strength and speed. The extreme strength is close to the universal law. Castle Lord, don't you want to look at the scenery in extreme strength and speed. Additionally, Castle Lord's kinetic strike could already match a mini tactic nuclear weapon before the Catastrophe. In the future, as Castle Lord's battle strength gradually increases, Castle Lord's kinetic strike would grow increasingly more and more powerful. How could such a powerful, simple and efficient striking means be not promising in the holy war? Castle Lord, did you see anyone else among humans who could use the same means?"

Zhang Tie understood Heller's words. It was Heller's first time to advocate a striking means so much. Heller's words made Zhang Tie further strengthen his belief.

‘This way is definitely promising!’

“Speaking of increasing the power of kinetic strike, I think those jerk pastors of Sacred Light Empire must have left something for me!”

Zhang Tie looked up at the brilliant fruit of brilliance and the fruit of judgment as his eyes shone at once...

Chapter 1235: The Initial Success of Kinetic Energy Strike

3 days later, in Castle of Black Iron...

A human flashed in the sky of Castle of Black Iron at a terrifying, high speed like a lightning bolt. People could barely catch his movement by naked eyes even being close to him. Only in the distance could people see a looming grey fine line streaking over the sky...

With a “boom...”, a barren 50-m higher hill was exploded into pieces after the human flashed by, sending broken stones flying about 1,500 m in all directions, leaving a huge hole whose depth and radius were both over 10 m.

“Boom...”, “Boom...”, “Boom...”

The thunder-like explosions sounded one after another. At the same time, those hills at different heights were exploded one after another, leaving many huge and deep holes on the ground. The flying man was like a hypersonic bomber. Wherever he flew over, he would leave a huge, evident trace on the ground.

Heller, Edward, Agan and Aziz were standing on the top of a mountain peak of Immortal Mountain in Castle of Black Iron and watching how the land over 10 miles away was spoiled by Zhang Tie’s kinetic energy strikes.

That land was newly formed a couple of days ago right beside the Immortal Mountain. It covered 1,200 square miles and was 1,000 m in thickness. It was taken as the training field for Zhang Tie to practice his battle skills in Castle of Black Iron.

Based on his current battle strength; of course, Zhang Tie could practice common battle skills in trouble-reappearance situations; however, as the battle skill of kinetic energy strike which required special spears couldn’t be trained in trouble-reappearance situations. Whatever, he couldn’t find a blacksmith’s shop in the trouble-reappearance situation and build his spears over there before taking them out for the practice. Although it was feasible theoretically, Zhang Tie didn’t have so much time to do that.

As the Immortal Mountain had a very picturesque scenery, of course, Zhang Tie couldn’t destroy it. After leaving Immortal Mountain, there were many residents. As those residents had already regarded Castle of Black Iron as their home, even though Castle of Black Iron belonged to Zhang Tie, he didn’t expect to practice his battle skill on the land in others’ home and spoil the earth surface.

Given those factors, Zhang Tie finally accomplished another space and terrain formation and modification after so many years.

In the eyes of those residents in Castle of Black Iron, their God was creating the world once again.

Since the elements abyss connected the elements realm, elements had been constantly flowing into Castle of Black Iron. After 4 months' absorption, the basic energy storage in Castle of Black Iron had been available for an unprecedented terrain and space expansion.

This space and terrain modification of Castle of Black Iron was indeed unprecedented.

The basic energy storage converted by elements abyss each month could provide Castle of Black Iron with 540 square miles' land as thick as 50,000 m. If he didn't need such a thick earth's crust, 130,000 square miles' land as thick as 200 m could be formed per month in Castle of Black Iron.

After negotiating and calculating with Heller, Zhang Tie knew that over 110,000 square miles' water and land area was increased this time.

Before this, the total area of Castle of Black Iron was only 2,400 square miles. This time, Zhang Tie increased the total area of Castle of Black Iron by over 40 times.

Besides the increase in land area, the average thickness of the earth's crust of Castle of Black Iron also increased from 200 m to 1,000 m. In the 1,000 m thick earth's crust, the upper half part of the earth's crust was fertile soil; the lower half part was hard rocks. Therefore, the entire Castle of Black Iron became thicker and steadier.

The earth's surface increased by 40-50 times; the earth's crust's thickness increased by 5 times. What a tremendous change for Castle of Black Iron!

Besides the increase of the earth's surface area, Zhang Tie increased over 12,000 square miles' ocean in the east of Castle of Black Iron. The appearance of this ocean made the surface landforms of Castle of Black Iron more complete. Castle of Black Iron had contained both land and ocean; instead of being purely land. Although the ocean in Castle of Black Iron was a bit small and was more like a salty lake than an ocean, it could already serve as the base for the reproduction of all the maritime plants in Castle of Black Iron and make Castle of Black Iron more vigorous.

Of course, this new land included the exclusive training field which covered over 1,200 square miles at the foot of the Immortal Mountain.

Looking down from the top of the Immortal Mountain, this training field was completely a barren land. It was crisscrossed with rises and falls like a checkerboard. Additionally, it was covered with dense stone hills and mounds. As the best training field for practicing his battle skill, such a terrain could never be seen in nature.

At this moment, Zhang Tie was testing the power of his kinetic energy strike.

Compared to his trial in the trouble-reappearance situation 3 days ago, Zhang Tie completely displayed the terrifying effect of kinetic energy strike at this moment.

Zhang Tie's flight speed in the sky could reach 4,478 m/s in Chaos. At such a high speed, he threw out the two spears that he had people made in Castle of Black Iron.

The spear weighing 680 kg left Zhang Tie's hand at a speed of almost 1,600 m per second and accelerated to greater than 6,000 m per second in a split second. Like a flame and lightning bolt, it hit the ground within 0.1 seconds. The kinetic energy of almost 12.9 billion Joules made a huge pit which was wider than 30 m and deeper than 70 m in a split second. The invisible hypersonic impact wave caused the land within 500 m to rise and fall like ripples and caused dust flying in the air. After the dust fell down, many rocks within dozens of meters were shattered and cracked...

After throwing out the last spear, Zhang Tie roared as he flashed back to the mountain peak where Heller and the three servants were standing on.

"Congratulations, Castle Lord, you've almost grasped the kinetic energy strike skill!" Heller and the other three people bowed towards Zhang Tie at the same time as they said in unison.

Chapter 1236: In the Name of Dominator

Zhang Tie immediately put away his Chaos and revealed his face. Closely after that, he threw a glance at the other 4 people in Castle of Black Iron as he burst out into laughter...

"Edward, well done. Your spears are indeed great. Your judgment is right. In kinetic energy strike, round-end spears indeed face fewer air-resistance than pointed-end spears at higher speeds in flight..."

Edward was overwhelmed by an unexpected favor. Therefore, soon after he straightened up, he bowed towards Zhang Tie once again as he said, "It's my honor to serve Castle Lord!"

These days, Zhang Tie and Edward were producing proper spears in Castle of Black Iron. After hundreds of times' experiments, Zhang Tie finally fixed the most proper weight of his spear as 680 kg on the premise that the spear didn't weaken his velocity of throwing. Although Zhang Tie could also throw a heavier spear; his velocity of throwing could not be such great. In general comparison, they finally fixed this weight.

In the beginning, Zhang Tie's and Edward's opinions were divided on the pattern of spear. In Zhang Tie's opinion, when a spear flew at a high speed, its end should be pointed in order to reduce the air resistance; however, Edward insisted on that the end of the spear should be a bit rounder. In order to convince Zhang Tie, Edward produced spears in different patterns for Zhang Tie. After having a try, Zhang Tie found that round-end spear could really fly faster than sharp-edged spear on the premise that they had the same weight. It was out of Zhang Tie's imagination that sharp-edged spear had to face a greater air resistance than a round-ended spear in flight.

A row of spears with round ends and sharp ends were put behind Heller and the other 3 servants. Each spear was about 2 m in length. Being made of gold, they looked very brilliant and luxurious.

It was out of Zhang Tie's imagination that he could use golden spears one day. Before producing golden spears, Edward had made some spears using navyblue iron. However, at the sight of those spears, Zhang Tie almost burst out into laughter.

The thick parts on both ends of those spears made of navyblue iron were 20 cm in thickness; however, the middle part of the spear turned slim for the sake of hold. This structure looked weird and funny. It looked like a sausage on a bamboo stick. At the sight of the slim waist and the thick ends of the spear, Zhang Tie couldn't help but laughing out.

Zhang Tie didn't want to arouse laughter when he intended to kill his enemy by spear in an imposing manner one day.

Additionally, the body of spear made of navyblue iron was too thick; of course, it would face a greater air resistance in flight.

In this case, even though Zhang Tie disliked being luxurious, he had to allow Edward to build gold spears for him as gold was the best high-density metal for making kinetic energy weapon.

Due to a greater density, the golden spear was smaller than half the size of a spear made of navyblue iron. Zhang Tie didn't feel improper holding it; additionally, he could casually make some poses with a golden spear. With a golden spear in hand, he felt having a much greater qi field than that of the "sausage". Therefore, Zhang Tie accepted a golden spear.

Zhang Tie walked over there and took up a round-ended spear and a sharp-edged spear by holding the middle part of the golden spears at the same time. After comparing with the ends of the two spears carefully, Zhang Tie asked Edward, "Why does this round-ended spear face a smaller air resistance than a sharp-edged spear in flight?"

"Castle Lord, in low-speed flight, sharp-edged spear definitely meets a smaller air resistance than that of a round-ended spear; however, it's reverse in hypersonic flight. It's involved with very complex aerodynamics and thermotics in hypersonic flight. Some indistinctive features of some objects in the common state would grow significant in the hypersonic state. If Castle Lord wants to know the reason, please refer to the self-similar solution of the flow boundary layer equation of laminar flow in hypersonic speed. The convective heat transfer on the end stagnation point is inversely proportional to the square root of the radius of curvature on the end. By making the end a bit rounder, we could reduce thermal load."

When it came to his profession; although, Edward still remained humble, his voice undoubtedly sounded like that of a master.

Zhang Tie blinked his eyes. He understood every single word of Edward; however, he didn't understand the meaning of the total paragraph. Even though Zhang Tie was a master artisan, he still couldn't understand Edward's words.

Only after thinking about Edward's words for 0.1 seconds, Zhang Tie had given up his exploration in this question. He was neither an engineer nor a scientist, he only cared about the result. He only cared about the result. He only wanted to know which sort of weapon was more proper and powerful for him. Through this thing, Zhang Tie understood that the so-called common sense had their limits. Almost everyone knew that sharp-edged objects would face smaller air resistance in flight than round-ended objects; however, if hypersonic flight, this common sense was wrong.

"Can you make this spear more powerful?"

"If we use platinum to make a spear, due to its greater density, this spear could be about 10% smaller while its air resistance would reduce by some percentage points on the same weight. Additionally, we could add a consolidating rune and a sharpening rune to it..."

“Well, no need to use platinum. We don’t have more platinum than gold in Castle of Black Iron. Just make them in gold. I don’t care about the trivial difference in size and air resistance!” Although Zhang Tie hesitated a bit at the beginning; after making his decision, Zhang Tie said, “Make 2,000 golden spears for me!”

“2,000?” Edward reconfirmed it. After seeing Zhang Tie nodding, Edward immediately nodded forcefully and pleasantly.

“Let’s go back to the palace tree. I’m a bit hungry...” Zhang Tie walked towards the palace tree below the mountain peak, followed by the 4 people.

Each spear would consume him 680 kgs of gold. After throwing out each gold spear, Zhang Tie would lose 27,200 gold coins. Although it seemed wasteful, it was nothing compared to the life of a black iron knight.

After taking the latest fruit of brilliance, Zhang Tie’s spiritual energy bulged once again. The latest fruit of brilliance could almost match that of Han Zhengfang and Han Yuanhong in spiritual energy; because this new one contained the spiritual energy of the 2 throne pastors and the 5 chief pastors, along with the other pastors, chief pastors and over 10 officials on the flagship of Sacred Light Empire.

With bulging spiritual energy, Zhang Tie gained a greater flight speed, a more destructive kinetic energy strike. After hundreds of tests, Zhang Tie was sure that he could kill a black iron knight with a 680 kg’s golden spear; even if the black iron knight released his protective battle qi. When the energy of 12.9 billion Joules focused on one point in milliseconds, it was much more destructive than any alchemist bomb or tons of TNT. Alchemist bomb’s or TNT’s explosion affected a wide area in a short period; however, kinetic energy strike focused on one point.

From then on, black iron knights were nothing but sh*t in front of Zhang Tie.

Zhang Tie finally sensed how imposing was a divine dominator. The one who could determine a knight’s destiny was the real dominator!

This might be the real combat mode for a divine dominator. After grasping the secret of kinetic energy strike, he had various combat modes; instead of being limited to the combat mode that cut through the opponent by sharp weapons which were very preliminary for a divine dominator.

Actually, Zhang Tie had grasped 3 combat modes as a divine dominator. First, having sharp weapons cutting through the opponent; second, make kinetic energy strike by golden spear; third, make a kinetic energy by the 6.8 ton Thor’s Hammer at the speed of 13 times greater than the speed of sound. As for the third combat mode, he could release the energy of 60-70 billion Joules and easily kill earth knights.

Zhang Tie felt pretty good today. Therefore, he had a good appetite and enjoyed the yummy food in the dining hall of the palace tree.

After having a yummy dinner, the dark fell in Castle of Black Iron which indicated that it was also dark outside...

After leaving the dining hall, Zhang Tie entered a warehouse of palace tree alone, which was filled with various plant seeds.

‘It’s time to solve another problem...’

Chapter 1237: The Foodie’s Paradise

This warehouse was on the 2nd floor of the palace tree. Covering over 50,000 square meters, it was clean, refreshing and translucent. It was not filled with treasures but plant seeds.

Zhang Tie had not received the seeds that he reserved from Jiang Clan of Herbal Palace in Xuanyuan Hill until he left Fire-Dragon Bounty Territory. In January, Jiang Clan had people sent a message to Fire-Dragon Bounty Territory—due to the catastrophe of bloody figures, Jiang clan’s industry in Taixia Country was influenced; especially the logistics. Therefore, Zhang Tie’s seeds bank couldn’t arrive until this May.

Although it was a bit late, it didn’t matter. After returning to Youzhou Province, Zhang Tie had Zhang Yang prepare the best nut seeds across Taixia Country for him.

All the nut seeds in this warehouse were prepared by Zhang Yang according to Zhang Tie’s request. There were only over 10 kinds of nut seeds. Although they couldn’t match the seeds bank of Jiang Clan of Herbal Palace, it was enough for Zhang Tie. It worked as long as the plants of these nut seeds could provide sufficient aura value for Castle of Black Iron. Of course, it would be better if they could provide food. When the entire world was afflicted by the holy war, people might not buy food even if they had money.

Those seeds which could provide sufficient aura value for Castle of Black Iron had better be able to grow into trees; additionally, they could produce food and could be easily stored and dealt with. Therefore, Zhang Tie selected nut seeds.

There were a large number of nut seeds in the warehouse, which were mainly walnuts, chestnuts, hazelnuts, cashews and pine nuts, etc.. Although there were only such a few kinds of nut seeds, they were great in quantity. Each kind of nut seeds weighed hundreds of tons. They were piled in special metal containers like hills.

Additionally, there were various fruits, edible wild herbs, herbal medicines, grains and fungi sporopollenin and plant and tree seeds, totally over 10,000 kinds. Many species could only be seen in Castle of Black Iron. Over these years, most of the mutated species trained in Castle of Black Iron came from those plant seeds; however, their absolute quantities were much fewer than that of those nut seeds.

If those nut seeds were regarded as regular units, these plant seeds were guerrillas and ragtag troops, which even included some marine plant seeds that he had collected in Hidden Dragon Island and Ewentra Archipelago waters. Senior marine plants had seeds which were put in containers. Inferior marine plants such as seaweed didn’t have seeds; therefore, they were just put in some transparent media. Heller was responsible for looking after them over these years.

“Have all the seeds been dealt with?” Zhang Tie asked Heller.

Heller nodded as he looked at Zhang Tie with a strange expression before saying, "Those newborn lands are very fertile. As long as these seeds were sowed, they would take root. But...Castle Lord, do you want to do that by yourself?"

After hearing Heller's words, Zhang Tie burst out into laughter. When he walked by those containers, he put away all of them into his portable super space-teleportation equipment as he said, "There's one thing called the sense of achievement. It won't feel same by watching others sowing my seeds, there's something different about sowing them myself when these seeds grow into woods in the future!"

As Zhang Tie replied, he had taken around in the warehouse and put away all the seeds.

"I see, Castle Lord, if you want to do that by yourself, you'd better pay attention to your flight speed. If you fly too fast and too high, these seeds might be broken the moment they fall onto the ground!"

"I know, I'm sowing seeds, not launching a kinetic energy strike!"

After saying that, Zhang Tie immediately pushed open a transparent window which was covered by trumpet-shaped tree leaves before flying out of the warehouse. Zhang Tie soon flew away from Immortal Mountain and the Immortal Lake surrounding the Immortal Mountain.

The dark had already fallen. Zhang Tie could only see the faint brilliance given out by the colorful clouds.

Looking up at the colorful clouds, Zhang Tie's heart pounded as he thought, 'Previously, I didn't know what was behind the colorful clouds due to the poor capability; each time I approached the colorful clouds, I would feel like touching a super large cotton ball and was bounced off. I wonder whether I could penetrate through them now.'

After grasping the wholly new battle skill as a divine dominator, Zhang Tie's overall strength bulged; at the same time, he became much more courageous and confident. When he thought this way, he directly flew towards the highest place in the sky.

As the space of Castle of Black Iron was constantly expanded, those colorful clouds grew higher. They had already arrived higher than 100,000 m.

Even so, it only took Zhang Tie a few minutes to arrive at the highest place of the sky without using his flight ability as a divine dominator.

The colorful clouds gradually became distinct and as vivid as a living being in Zhang Tie's eyes right over 10 m away. However, the invisible marshmallow-like barrier still existed. Zhang Tie tried his utmost efforts only to make the barrier shrink inside a bit. However, the invisible barrier bounced off Zhang Tie once again in an irresistible way.

The situation remained unchanged. Zhang Tie tried it for dozens of times and got the same result.

Therefore, Zhang Tie determined to make the last try. Besides putting on his Chaos in a split second, he held Thor's Hammer too. After reaching his greatest flight speed in the shortest speed, Zhang Tie, his Thor's Hammer and his powerful battle qi forcefully collided against the invisible barrier.

Even heavenly knights might not resist this strike while staying still. However, it still couldn't shock the invisible barrier.

The invisible barrier was pushed in a bit like a slightly deformed huge plasticine. However, in a split second, Zhang Tie was helplessly bounced back like a ping-pong floating up in a barrel which was gradually filled with water.

After putting away the Chaos and Thor's Hammer, Zhang Tie slightly frowned as he watched the colorful clouds over 10 m away at the highest altitude of the space of Castle of Black Iron.

'Were these colorful clouds made by a cultivator? But how could a cultivator make such splendid things? Heavenly knight couldn't make that. Is that a sage knight? Even if it was made by a sage knight, it's still a bit exaggerating!' Zhang Tie muttered. After watching the colorful clouds for quite a while, Zhang Tie could only shake his head helplessly before flying towards the ground.

Looking down from the sky, Zhang Tie found that the entire land covering over 100,000 square miles was like a huge island floating in an ocean being surrounded by colorful clouds.

When Zhang Tie recalled ocean, he immediately flew towards the easternmost part of Castle of Black Iron. Only after a short while, Zhang Tie had declined from 100,000 m to hundreds of meters high. After reducing his flight speed, he saw a coastline in front of his eyes.

Even though it was evening, Zhang Tie could still see clearly the pure white, fine and soft sea sands beneath the crystal sea water. The sea water was shimmering and reflecting the starlight and moonlight, which looked pretty beautiful and tranquil.

The greatest depth of this waters was only 300 m; however, the sea water was so crystal that Zhang Tie was almost unaware of its depth.

There was nobody else here. As the aborigines in Castle of Black Iron were immersed in the shock of the "Genesis" of their God these days, they were constantly praying and holding rituals, they had not explored here yet. There was no living beings or plant in the crystal sea water. Therefore, this scenery felt a bit lonely although being beautiful and tranquil.

However, the loneliness would be broken soon.

Zhang Tie took out some transparent containers which held various seaweeds from his portable space-teleportation equipment; closely after that, he opened those containers and sprayed those solutions into the ocean from dozens of meters high.

After finishing spraying inferior seaweed solutions, Zhang Tie took out senior seaweed seeds before spraying them into the ocean.

Zhang Tie sprayed over 10 kinds of seaweed seeds, including large-leaf seaweed, shrimp-shaped seaweed, needle-leaf seaweed, fine-spirit seaweed, silk-leaf seaweed, rainbow seaweed and Enhalus acoroides, etc..

Such a job was more like an entertainment program for Zhang Tie. When Zhang Tie imagined that these seaweeds would grow up and make this waters vigorous and green in a few months, he would feel pleasant and have a great sense of achievement.

After spraying over all the seaweed seeds, Zhang Tie had just passed half of the waters. Therefore, he sprayed some more senior marine plant seeds, which included the seeds of mangrove, sea lotus, sea mulberry, Aegiceras corniculatum and Avicennia marina, etc..

After doing all this, Zhang Tie flew onto the newborn land from the ocean.

Zhang Tie then flew over those lands and sowed various nut seeds onto it like a seeding aircraft.

Zhang Tie didn't move too fast. When those seeds fell onto the black, fertile and soft soil, most of them could enter the soil 5-10 cm. Zhang Tie didn't even dig pits for them...

After that, he saw a large area of woods of walnut, pine and chestnut which covered thousands of square miles. Among these woods, Zhang Tie saw apple woods, peach woods, hills being covered with plum trees, wildernesses being covered with strawberries and corridors being covered with blueberries and sunflowers, which ranged from a few square miles to over 60 square miles.

Of course, Zhang Tie sprayed various spores of mushrooms and seeds of flowers and grasses in the pine woods...some fruit seeds, sweet potatoes or dendrobium in the walnut woods...some peanuts, soya beans or traditional Chinese medicines such as rhizoma atractylodes and Chinese bellflower seeds in chestnut woods...some pieces of potatoes in the corridors of sunflowers...

As for those grains, traditional Chinese medicines and those seeds which were used to preserve the plant diversity, Zhang Tie directly sprayed them casually. He didn't even care how they would grow.

Sometimes, when his spirits rose, Zhang Tie would directly draw some strange patterns over the ground by seeds.

After one night's work, Zhang Tie turned the newborn land which covered almost 100,000 square miles into a paradise which was even out of the imagination of foodies.

Besides being a foodie's paradise, the aura value that could be provided by the plants in the ocean and on the land in the future would match the number of elements that were absorbed by the elements abyss from the elements realm. After such a series of actions, the basic energy storage and aura value that were required for further space expansion in Castle of Black Iron would almost be in ready and self-sufficient. Zhang Tie didn't need to worry about them anymore.

He only needed to care about his merit value.

This space expansion almost used up all the basic energy storage and aura value. Additionally, he only had 1/5 of merit value left, which couldn't provide for another large-scale space expansion. Additionally, his lab in Castle of Black Iron was consuming a great number of merit value each day for various experiments of mutated living beings. Those mutated rats that Zhang Tie gained from Han Zhengfang's son consumed merit value greatly...

That night, Zhang Tie was not the happiest one in Castle of Black Iron. After sowing seeds, Zhang Tie sent an order to all the No.1 earthworms and bees in Castle of Black Iron—to march on towards the wilderness. In the future, the new land would belong to those earthworms in the soil and those bees above the ground...

Chapter 1238: Returning to Sacred Iceland Kingdom

Since the evening of the 26th day of this month, the bloody massacre of the red gloves of the Order Jury had frozen the entire Ewentra Archipelago like a cold current that came from the polar region.

The 43 members of Ewentra Autonomous Parliament and their clans represented by Renard Clan on Arkray Island were exterminated overnight. Starting from Arkray Island, the cruel massacre had covered each isle across Ewentra Archipelago in only 3 days.

On March 31st, sitting on the highest rostrum of the conference hall of Ewentra Autonomous Parliament, Ms. Olina couldn't help but let out a sigh when she found almost 1/3 of seats were vacant.

A few days ago, this conference room was as boisterous as a fish market; however, it became pretty quiet now. Those eloquent members of Ewentra Autonomous Parliament had disappeared. All the other members here were as docile as rabbits and as quiet as cicadas in late autumn. Almost nobody at present dared look straight into Ms. Olina's eyes. Those who saw her eyes by accident would always look humble and flattering.

Brightman the clan head of Wilis Clan was speaking in excitement on the rostrum at this moment. At the same time, he waved his fist as if he wanted to punch someone into pieces like a righteous man who was giving a speech on the square.

Since they got acquainted with Brightman, all the people at present including Ms. Olina had not imagined that this man who was always urbane in a pair of glasses could have such a fierce side.

"...This is a shameless betrayal and naked blasphemy. Renard Clan and those members of Ewentra Autonomous Parliament betrayed the entire Sacred Iceland Kingdom and profaned His Majesty's mercy and generosity. What were they doing when the enemy was coming? They didn't intend to resist the enemy and pledged their loyalty to His Majesty; instead, they had people monitor the traces of Northwind Fleet and exposed our intelligence to our enemy; they were betraying our His Majesty for the sake of glory..." Brightman said with a very distressed look as he forcefully punched onto the hard rostrum which was made of teakwood, causing a loud bang. Hopefully, his fist was not red. "Whenever I recalled that we were staying in the same room with such people and negotiated about the future of Ewentra Archipelago, I would feel ashamed as a countryman of the Sacred Iceland Kingdom and a member of Ewentra Autonomous Kingdom..."

Ms. Olina didn't know that a red glove stood outside the castle of Wilis Clan and gazed at the castle of Wilis Clan icily overnight until March 26. Ms. Olina didn't know how Wilis Clan got through that night. She found that Brightman's hair near his temples had turned a bit pale only after a few days. Besides being "awake", the entire Wilis Clan seemed to feel "lucky" overnight...

Of course, Wilis Clan was not the only clan which was "awake" and felt "lucky".

Brightman was still speaking in excitement. He turned around and deeply bowed towards Ms. Olina who was sitting on the rostrum as he said, "If Your Excellency allows, I suggest to vote the Act on the Mobilisation for the Duel once again. We have to fight those greedy invaders to the end across Ewentra Archipelago..."

After listening to Brightman's suggestion, all the members who followed Brightman's head broke the silence as if they were making a performance according to a script.

"Yes, we should vote right now. We should never let those invaders of Sacred Light Empire step in Ice and Snow Wilderness..."

"We should mobilize all the ships; we should renovate all the merchant ships so as to block the fleet of Sacred Light Empire..."

"We should have a duel with them in the offshore waters and send those invaders to the bottom of the sea..."

"If Sacred Light Kingdom issues the war voucher, I would like to spend all of my deposits to support this war..."

These gentle members of parliament's hopping performance and cries reminded Ms. Olina of a performance in a museum all of a sudden. These days, the entire Arkray Island was imposing a curfew. Brightman didn't have any chance to reach any agreement with these members of parliament; neither did they dare do that. However, the current scene seemed like that they had rehearsed it for hundreds of times.

The members of parliament were better than street pedlars in bargaining. Their artful talent couldn't make old sailors who had worked for dozens of years feel ashamed. Even performers needed scripts. However, these members of parliament didn't even need any script. All the contents of the script were in their mind. They could make the most proper performance only when in need...

'The future of the entire Ewentra Archipelago was determined by these people previously. How could such self-centered and artful people resist the demons?' Ms. Olina couldn't help but feel disappointed when she thought about this.

However, Ms. Olina didn't disappoint them. Under the "fervent and expectant" eye light of all the people at present, Ms. Olina opened her cherry mouth, "Let's vote then!"

In the following few minutes, all the members of Ewentra Autonomous Parliament voted the Act on the Mobilisation for the Duel at the fastest speed. When the voting result came out, the conference hall was even reverberated with "cheers". Those gentlemen, whose attitude towards this act was uncertain, became so thrilled that they even dropped off tears as they embraced each other to celebrate this victory...

After being promoted to the president of the Ewentra Autonomous Parliament, Ms. Olina had people build a castle in Arkray Island as her residence too.

The new castle was named as Heavensblue Castle, which sounded similar to Seablue Castle in Saint Herner Island.

As the head of the clan guards in Heavensblue Castle, Gitta ruled all the guards beside Ms. Olina and was responsible for the defense and safety across Heavensblue Castle.

These days, due to the intense atmosphere in Arkray Island, even the atmosphere in Heavensblue Castle became intense.

“From now on, all the fruits and vegetables which are transported into the castle from outside should be checked 3 times in case of any problem. All the food that is provided for Ms. Olina should go through poisoning test. If there’s any problem in the food of Ms. Olina, you all should be the funeral objects, am I clear?”

Gitta was warning the steward, cooks and servants in the kitchen of Heavensblue Castle.

Over these years, Gitta became stronger and had promoted to LV 10. Therefore, Gitta brought a great stress to the steward and all the others in the kitchen when he looked serious in whiskers. None of them dared utter a sound in front of Gitta. They all behaved very carefully.

“Mr. Gitta, don’t worry; I will keep a close eye on this kitchen. I promise there would not be any problem!” The steward said meticulously, who was 20 cm lower than Gitta and much smaller than him.

Gitta glanced around before saying in a bit tender voice, “Don’t blame me for being so strict to you. You have to know that those rebellious clans that we are wiping out are deeply rooted in Arkray Island. They have a lot of accomplices and partners. If they want to avenge Ms. Olina, they would definitely use all the possible means. They would never dare seek for death in Heavensblue Castle in the public; however, we have to prevent from their dirty means!”

“Yes...yes...yes...”

Gitta didn’t leave the kitchen until he found all the others in the kitchen looked solemn.

After leaving the kitchen, Gitta checked the training of the entrance guards and the squad of bodyguards in Heavensblue Castle before returning to the inner castle of Heavensblue Castle.

These days, when the red gloves wiped out those rebels in Arkray Island, Gitta also bore a great stress as the head of the clan guards of Ms. Olina.

According to the intelligence, those rebellious clans and their affiliated parties had been uprooted by red gloves. But some small fish and shrimps were still escaping; therefore, Gitta dared not be careless.

It was some female barbarians who were responsible for the safety of the inner castle of Heavensblue Castle. Adelina and some female fighters had followed Ms. Olina to the conference room, leaving a female barbarian shaman and a team of female fighters in the inner castle.

In the entire Heavensblue Castle, Gitta was almost the only male who could access the inner castle. As Gitta was clear about this point, he mostly entered the inner castle for patrolling when Ms. Olina was not there in case of any gossip for the sake of the reputation of Ms. Olina.

Some elite female barbarian fighters were guarding outside the gate of the inner castle and on both sides of the stairs. After ensuring that all the female fighters were in good conditions and that female barbarian shaman was in vigilance in the hall of the inner castle, Gitta became reassured.

Perhaps female barbarian shamans didn’t have great battle strength, however, they had exceptional sensing capability. Over these years, as Ms. Olina’s position gradually rose in the Sacred Iceland Kingdom and Ewentra Archipelago, the barbarian tribe which had been cooperating with Ms. Olina directly assigned their most powerful female fighters and female shaman to the side of Ms. Olina.

With these female barbarian fighters and that female shaman, not even a mosquito could enter the inner castle of Heavensblue Castle.

After arriving at the 2nd floor of the inner castle and passing an aisle, Gitta entered the living quarters of Ms. Olina. Being over 20 m away, he had discovered that the door of Ms. Olina's office was open. Therefore, Gitta frowned.

'The female servants in the inner castle are so careless. I have to have Adelina give them a lesson when she comes back. How could they don't close the door of Ms. Olina's office after cleaning it!'

Gitta shook his head as he walked over there and wanted to close the door. However, when he stretched his hand towards the handle, his muscles all over became stiff at once.

Through the gap, Gitta saw a man standing in front of the table of Ms. Olina against the door...

Chapter 1239: A Reunion

With a sound "tsuang", Gitta drew his longsword out of his sheath as he pushed open the door forcefully and entered the door. He pointed at that man's back as he said, "I've not imagined that the rebels' accomplice could slide into the inner castle of Heavensblue Castle. Turn around slowly. Don't move. Don't touch any object in the study. Otherwise, my longsword will not forgive you. How did you come in here? Whether have you dug a secret tunnel beneath the Heavensblue Castle or have any accomplice here? As long as you tell me, I promise to keep you alive..."

That man slowly turned around with a smile as he said, "Gitta, long time no see..."

"Peter...no...His Majesty!" The moment Gitta saw that man's face, he immediately widely opened his eyes as he almost dropped his longsword...

Of course, it was Zhang Tie who appeared in the office of Ms. Olina in Heavensblue Castle.

After staying in Castle of Black Iron for a few days, Zhang Tie ate up his fruits; got hang of the powerful kinetic energy strike as a divine dominator and sowed his seeds. After that, he returned to Arkray Island in Ewentra Archipelago and found the Heavensblue Castle before incarnating in Peter Hamplester once again.

How could a team of female barbarian fighters and a female barbarian shaman catch sight of Zhang Tie?

Zhang Tie threw a glance at Gitta with a smile before saying, "You've grown much stronger and have a greater battle strength after these years..."

After realizing that His Majesty had come back, Gitta hurriedly put away his sword as he showed his respect by kneeling down on the carpet by one knee and said, "Welcome back, His Majesty!"

After confirming that it was Zhang Tie, Gitta didn't care why Zhang Tie entered here; because Gitta thought this man who ruled the entire Sacred Iceland Kingdom was almighty.

Zhang Tie let out a sigh. At the sight of Gitta's demeanor, Zhang Tie knew that they couldn't joke and chat freely like before. He might not care about maintaining the usual relaxed atmosphere between them; however, Gitta had a deep-rooted sense of hierarchy in his mind.

"Hmm, get up!"

Not until Gitta heard Zhang Tie's command did he get up in a restrained way once again. Gitta had met Zhang Tie when he came here last time. Last time, Zhang Tie had already promoted to a knight. However, this time, Gitta felt that Zhang Tie's qi was much greater than before. Therefore, Gitta was more awe-struck by him.

"Where's Olina? Aww, what do you mean by rebels? Did anyone stage an armed rebellion in Ewentra Archipelago these days?" Zhang Tie asked calmly. As he could even sweep over the entire expeditionary army of Sacred Light Empire by one hammer; Zhang Tie didn't mind that tiny chaos in Ewentra Archipelago at all.

"Ms. Olina is in the conference hall of the parliament. Those rebels refer to Connar the deputy president of Ewentra Autonomous Parliament and his henchmen..." Gitta described what happened in Arkray Island to Zhang Tie honestly.

Zhang Tie was not shocked by that too much. When the expeditionary army of Sacred Light Empire from the Western Continent was coming, those people who were less determined and didn't succumb to the existing order would seize this chance to seek for private gains. In their eyes, Sacred Iceland Kingdom could never have any chance to defeat Sacred Light Empire. They had already regarded the problem facing the Sacred Iceland Kingdom and the disaster facing Ancient God Church as a good opportunity for the rejuvenation of their clans. No wonder Maxim and the other red gloves would wipe them out.

If Gitta didn't mention it, Zhang Tie almost forgot about Connar. Zhang Tie only remembered that he had met Connar when he came to Ice and Snow Wilderness for the first time after promoting to a knight. Previously, Renard Clan might have some influence on Ewentra Archipelago; however, this clan was nothing but sh*t in Zhang Tie's eyes now. He was not even interested in the process of how this clan was exterminated. 'Since the third holy war begun, tens of hundreds of human countries and clans had been exterminated. Even Waii Subcontinent had become a barren land. As a two-faced trivial clan, they had no reason to laugh until the end. Did they really treat me as a yes-man who won't kill any people?'

"I will stay here. Go notice Olina and tell her I'm back!"

"Bishop Maxim and Hags the clan head of sea bear tribe are in the island. Do I need to notice them too?" Gitta asked carefully.

After thinking for a while, Zhang Tie replied, "Yup, let them come to see me in Heavensblue Castle the next morning!"

"Yes, sir!"

Zhang Tie took up a photo frame from the desk before stroking the surface of the photo frame gently. In the photo, Olina was crouching on the ground with a big, loving smile. A 3-year old little, naked boy was holding a dandelion as he approached his tiny face to Olina and wanted to kiss her. The background of this photo was a grape garden inside Seablue Castle. The sun had just risen; the two people's faces were covered with tender golden sunlight. Additionally, there was a drop of crystal dew on one leaf of the dandelion in the hand of the little boy...

That little boy looked very similar to Olina. Although being young, his tiny face was strongly defined. However, his black hair, pupils and his qi field told Zhang Tie that this was his baby.

Olina got pregnant in the 899th year of Black Iron Calendar and delivered his baby the next year. As of now, this baby should have been 4 years old.

Looking at the photo, Zhang Tie's tender eyes gradually turned firm and profound...

After Gitta left the room, Zhang Tie felt that many people across Heavensblue Castle became busy. Gitta might have already told them that Tsar had already arrived at Heavensblue Castle. After hearing this news, of course, everyone would feel intense across Heavensblue Castle.

Only after half an hour, as the gate of Heavensblue Castle was opened, a fleet had entered Heavensblue Castle. Ms. Olina finally came back. Gitta might have met the fleet on the way.

Even though Olina tried her best to be reassured, Zhang Tie could still sense the faint anxiety and impulsion from her crispy footsteps in the staircases and aisle.

The urgent footsteps didn't slow down with her heavy pants until she arrived outside her office.

After Ms. Olina came to the door of his office, the door opened itself. Closely after that, Zhang Tie and Olina saw each other.

Zhang Tie walked to the door and put his arms around her waist tenderly. At the same time, he kissed Olina passionately and made her tilt backward. As a result, Olina had to put her arms around Zhang Tie's neck.

This kiss lasted 5 minutes. After separating from each other, Zhang Tie helped her stand steadily. After that, they just stood close to each other face to face.

"Thank you..."

"I thought you wouldn't come back!" Ms. Olina said after panting for a short while with a red face.

"My woman and kid is here, how could I not come back?" Zhang Tie replied with a smile.

"You'd better leave with our kid!" Ms. Olina suddenly said.

After hearing Olina's words, Zhang Tie became stunned as he asked, "Leave? Why?"

"The expeditionary army of Sacred Light Empire is very powerful. They have 2 throne pastors and 5 chief pastors. This strike is definitely different than that last time. You cannot defeat them. As you've killed one of their chief pastors. If you stayed here, they would kill you for sure. As long as you and our kid could survive. I would have no regret! I cannot leave. Otherwise, those who stay here would lose their morale. By then, your undertaking and the belief of the Ancient God Church would collapse. As long as you could survive, you would have a chance to avenge them. Didn't you tell me that you were going to the Eastern Continent? You could take your kid to the Eastern Continent." Ms. Olina said firmly with a decisive and bright eyelight.

Tender women would be more decisive and dauntless than men sometimes.

'Hasn't the news about the expeditionary fleet of Sacred Light Empire arrived here? It's possible. It's a distance of over 6,000 miles. Ewentra Archipelago might not have received the precise intelligence. After all, I attacked them too fast and had severely damaged them only in a few minutes. Unless they witnessed it, very few people could believe it. Additionally, I didn't contact Pontiff Sarlin these days. Ice and Snow Wilderness must not have confirmed the intelligence about the expeditionary fleet of Sacred Light Empire either.'

After thinking it through, Zhang Tie was deeply moved by Olina's words. Cupping his face, he watched her seriously as he said, "Trust me, nobody could hurt me, you and our baby. Nobody could destroy what I left here. Neither demons nor the Sacred Light Empire could do harm to us. The expeditionary fleet of Sacred Light Empire wouldn't arrive at the Ewentra Archipelago waters anymore. Perhaps, Sacred Light Empire would assign people here to sue for peace in a few days."

"Ahh, impossible!" Ms. Olina was shocked too much. If it was not told by Zhang Tie, she must have thought that someone was raving.

"Why not possible?"

"They have assigned 7 knights. Such a battle strength could even defeat the entire Waii Subcontinent!"

Zhang Tie sneered, "7 knights are nothing but sh*t. Do you know how many knights died in a large-scale battle between humans and demons in the Earth-elements Realm?"

"What happened?"

Zhang Tie didn't reply. He just closed the door by foot. Closely after that, he cradled Ms. Olina and put her on the desk as he said, "It's a nice environment here. I will tell you about the details after a while..."

Chapter 1240: Zhang Tie's Descendants in Ice and Snow Wilderness

On April 6th, the 904th year of Black Iron Calendar...

Only after a few hours, the airship that set off Ewentra Archipelago had already passed by Oro Strait and arrived at Ice and Snow Wilderness...

If Zhang Tie came here alone, it would be much faster. As for Zhang Tie, a round trip of thousands of miles was similar to commoners who went to the market to buy vegetables by bus. However, as he was followed by some people, he could only take an airship.

The airboat was borrowed from Golden Roc Bank. The two customized airboats that Gold and Power Law promised him had not arrived at Fire-Dragon Bounty Territory yet.

As one of the hubs between the Western Continent and Eastern Continent in trade and personnel exchanges, Sacred Iceland Kingdom's geographical location was growing increasingly important and special over these years. Therefore, Golden Roc Bank had increased their investment in Sacred Iceland Kingdom; especially that Golden Roc Bank founded a inter-continental secondary banking clearance center in Saint Petersburg. Previously, airboat could be barely seen in Ice and Snow Wilderness and Ewentra Archipelago; however, now airboat had become a symbol of the existence of Golden Roc Bank in Sacred Iceland Kingdom and an important traffic tool provided by Golden Roc Bank for some VIPs to travel between Eastern Continent and Western Continent.

The airboat that old bear Dally and Elder Gulas took to Taixia Country was also provided by Golden Roc Bank.

Zhang Tie came to Saint Petersburg accompanied by Ms. Olina, Bishop Maxim, Hagus the clan head of sea bear tribe and Alexander the baby of Ms. Olina and Zhang Tie.

Alexander was only 4 years old. Although Ms. Olina hadn't told anyone about the father of the baby, the father of Alexander was not a secret among the management of Sacred Iceland Kingdom.

When Ms. Olina intrigued against the other members of the Ewentra Autonomous Parliament on Arkray Island, Alexander was left in Saint Herner Island by her. As the encampment of Northwind Fleet, Saint Herner Island was close to Ice and Snow Wilderness. Additionally, Ms. Olina was the ruler of the island; therefore, Saint Herner Island could serve as the nest of Seablue Business Group and Ms. Olina.

Compared to Iron-Dragon Airboat that Zhang Tie had returned to Taiyi Fantasy Sect, this airboat that they borrowed from Golden Roc Bank was not large in size; neither was it more magnificent than Iron-Dragon Airboat. This airboat was only 100 m in length in the shape of the shuttle. However, such an airboat was unique in Sacred Iceland Kingdom.

Of course, it was available for some influential figures and their followers in Sacred Iceland Kingdom.

On March 5th, the latest news about the expeditionary fleet of Sacred Light Empire was finally received and confirmed by Sacred Iceland Kingdom through different channels——Before arriving at Ewentra Archipelago, the expeditionary fleet of Sacred Light Empire had already become completely defeated. The remaining ships of the fleet had turned around and returned to Sukbi Sea Gulf where they anchored in for replenishment last time as they had sent a distress signal to Sacred Light Empire.

This disaster was caused by a mysterious and powerful knight that they met on the sea being over 6,000 miles away from Ewentra Archipelago. That mysterious and powerful knight ended the future of the expeditionary fleet of Sacred Light Empire only by one blow.

With the blow of the mysterious and powerful knight, the 2 throne pastors and the 5 chief pastors were wiped out in a split second; at the same time, the 20-ton flagship of the expeditionary fleet was smashed and sent to the bottom of the ocean. Only 1 of the 8 battleships could be available after maintenance. Furthermore, half of the supply ships and troopships were damaged.

This news deeply shocked both Sacred Light Empire and Sacred Iceland Kingdom.

After hearing this news, everybody thought that it was caused by a heavenly knight on the back of Sacred Iceland Kingdom. Additionally, countrymen in Sacred Iceland Kingdom and followers of Ancient God Church were driven mad; some onlookers were delighted in the misfortune of Sacred Light Empire. At the same time, those chief pastors in the eastern parish of Sacred Light Empire felt flurried as if they had lost their parents. All the chief pastors over there quivered all over as they realized that they had met a powerful enemy this time.

On the second day since this news reached Sacred Iceland Kingdom, the dominoes effect of this news started to take effect. Zhang Tie then determined to leave for Saint Petersburg in Ice and Snow Wilderness.

As it was Alexander's first time to take airboat, he kept crying. Zhang Tie then cradled Alexander and played a game with him on a lounge in an independent berth cabin. Alexander gradually became sleepy as he fell asleep while lying on Zhang Tie's belly. Zhang Tie then kept his eyes closed in such a gesture.

After a while...

"His Majesty, we've arrived at the supper palace of Saint Petersburg..." Ms. Olina said.

Zhang Tie opened his eyes as he saw Bishop Maxim, Hags and Ms. Olina standing in front of him. The three people were all looking at him in a bizarre expression.

It was the 3 people's first time to see such a paternal love; especially among Slavs who favored male chauvinism. Hags revealed an unimaginable look; Bishop Maxim meditated about the profound meaning behind Zhang Tie's paternal love; Ms. Olina's eye light had turned completely tender while watching the father and the son falling asleep. Just now, she didn't even want to open her mouth; instead, she wanted to keep this scene forever.

"Hush" Zhang Tie made a hand gesture silently as he slightly drew his finger out of Alexander's palm. After that, he picked up Alexander. At the sight of this scene, the two professional babysitters on the side of Ms. Olina hurriedly moved forward and took over Alexander from his hand deftly before moving to one side.

Not until Alexander was taken away did Zhang Tie open his mouth, "Let's go. Don't let Pontiff Sarlin wait too long outside..."

"Wait a moment..." Ms. Olina stopped Zhang Tie as she walked forward to help him smoothe his clothes. After that, she stood behind Zhang Tie.

Zhang Tie revealed a smile towards Ms. Olina before walking towards the hatch door of the airboat.

The airboat parked on the square in the front palace of the Summer Palace. When Zhang Tie approached the hatch door, he had seen those familiar faces—Pontiff Sarlin, Elder Gulas and Elder Toles of huge bear tribe; Elder Turing of Spencer Clan of iron bear tribe, Dally of wild bear tribe and all the knight elders of fire bear tribe, mountain bear tribe, black bear tribe and mutated bear tribe. Plus Hags behind Zhang Tie, all the members of the Cardinal Elders Committee of Sacred Iceland Kingdom were at present.

Besides, O'Laura the princess of Sacred Iceland Kingdom, Sabrina the sweet dew goddess of Ancient God Church and 6 women of Spencer clan such as Mattia and Ballier were all at present.

All the women were well dressed up and contended in beauty and fascination. After such a few years, Ballier who was most innocent among the 6 women of Spencer Clan at the beginning looked faintly like enchanting, young mature women.

Each of the 8 women was followed by a little boy who was almost as old as Alexander.

Behind them were 5,000 fighters of Thor's Hammer in helmets and armors tidily who were waiting for his inspection.

The moment Zhang Tie appeared at the hatch door of the airboat, all the eyes focused on him at once. Watching this man who could appear in the critical moment of Sacred Iceland Kingdom once again, many people became thrilled. O'Laura held back her tears. All the 8 little boys were looking up at this man walking out of the airboat with black eyes. Before coming here, they had been instructed what to call this man and how to show their respect to his man. Their moms told them this man was their father, the very hero who saved Sacred Iceland Kingdom once again.

At the sight of this scene, Zhang Tie sighed with emotion. Suddenly, he ran his spiritual energy as he gave out a brilliant golden light, which then swept over the entire Summer Palace like an invisible, impact wave. Everybody in Saint Petersburg and Summer Palace was bathing in the strength and tranquility brought by this golden light.

——The supreme protection of the aiding strength!

With the effect of the supreme protection, all the fighters above LV 6 and knights were covered with beautiful halos. As a result, the entire palace of Summer Palace looked dreamlike.

Zhang Tie declared his arrival in this manner.

All the 5,000 fighters of Thor's Hammer released their battle qi totems as they roared at the same time, "Wula...wula...wula...", which shocked the entire Summer Palace.

"Welcome back, His Majesty!" All the elders headed by Pontiff Sharlin bowed towards Zhang Tie together with his women.

Zhang Tie took in a deep breath as he got off the airboat and came to the front of O'Laura. Watching her beautiful face, he lightly wiped off one drop of tear that rolled down her face.

O'Laura didn't speak. She just drew a little boy as old as Alexander to her front.

"Welcome back, father..."

The little boy who was dressed like a crown prince knelt down in front of Zhang Tie by one knee as he looked up and called Zhang Tie in child's tone out of curiosity.

"I hope he could be as brave as you when he grows up. Therefore, I call him Andre..." O'Laura said.

Zhang Tie stroked the little boy's head as he nodded. After that, he walked towards Sabrina.

Sabrina spoke to Zhang Tie with a smile, "He's Matvey, your gift to me..."

In the language of Slavs, Matvey meant God's gift.

“Welcome back, father...” The little boy who was dressed like a prince knelt down in front of Zhang Tie by one knee.

Later on, all the 6 little boys on the side of the 6 women of Spencer Clan greeted Zhang Tie one after another.

Mattia’s kid was called Anatoli, which meant protector!

Ballier’s kid was called Victor, which meant winner!

Katerina’s kid was called Igor, which meant the beloved son of the God of Wealth.

Diana’s kid was called Orego, which meant the sacred.

Eva’s kid was called Nigolas, which meant great victory.

Sally’s kid was called Lev, which meant lion.
