Chapter 1751: A Lightning Move

“What did you meet?”

“Are you and Jiang Ruoxin in danger?”

“Could you receive my message?”

Zhang Tie sent a few questions one after another, trying to figure out what Ji Yuelan wanted to express. However, Zhang Tie’s messages were like clay oxen entering the sea as he couldn’t receive any more response.

Although the relationship between Ji Yuelan and Zhang Tie was a bit ambiguous, Zhang Tie knew that this woman was understanding. She would never make fun of him at the critical moment. Zhang Tie immediately understood that Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin were in danger in Redmountain City. Ji Yuelan had just sent him a warning, which meant that she might be in sudden trouble which was out of her imagination. Additionally, the entire Yin-Yang Sect might be up to the creek.

Zhang Tie instantly sprung up in the backroom beneath Jiaotai Palace with shiny eyes. In a split second, he had visualized the map of the entire Motian Realm except for Mountain Ruins. He instantly got three answers concerning Redmountain.

First, Redmountain Seashore. It was in Noworry Range in the north of Star Emperor Big Domain and belonged to the territory of Star Emperor.

Second, Redmountain Range. It was in Brilliantmoon Domain in the west of Dragon Emperor Big Domain. Brilliantmoon Region was a middle domain, which might only be 1/3 of Dragon Emperor Big Domain in terms of area. Being the location of Brilliantmoon Immortal Palace of humans, it was a big mountain range in Brilliantmoon Domain. There were many cities of Brilliantmoon Immortal Palace on both sides of the mountain range. However, none of those cities were called Redmountain City although one was called Redmountain Town.

The only one being marked as Redmountain City was in the northeast region of Nine Heavens Continent. It was within the territory of Force Emperor Immortal Palace. Redmountain City was in the border of Nine Heavens Big Domain as a very remote place.

As the nest of Yin-Yang Sect, nowhere else was safer than being in the territory of Force Emperor Immortal Palace.

In a split second, Zhang Tie had known that Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin must be in Redmountain City of Nine Heavens Big Domain.

To a certain degree, Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin were not only Zhang Tie’s trusted subordinates; they were also his bosom friends in Motian Realm. When his friends were in trouble, of course Zhang Tie shouldn’t shirk his responsibility to save them.

Zhang Tie instantly came up to the east wall of the backroom and pressed down a pearl on the wall, exposing a secret tunnel leading to the far at once. Zhang Tie flashed in at a stroke.

3 minutes later, after activating his invisible shen bead and his master-level hiding skill and master-level rapid moving skill, Zhang Tie flew out of a mountain cave outside Dragon Emperor City and skyrocketed into the sky. Only in a few seconds, he had already reached over 100,000 m high. Closely after that, he unfolded his invisible roc wings and flashed towards Nine Heavens Big Domain at his full effort at the speed of 30,000 m per second like an invisible meteor.

The route towards Nine Heavens Big Domain was opposite to the route where he came to Dragon Emperor Big Domain all the way from Nine Heavens Big Domain. After leaving Dragon Emperor Big Domain, he should pass by Brokenstars Sea, the eastern part of Nine Heavens Big Domain and turn northeast. He couldn't arrive at Redmountain City unless crossing the greater part of the human zone of Nine Heavens Big Domain. The total distance would pass 400,000 miles.

Saving people was like fighting a fire. Zhang Tie's speed was astonishing. At hundreds of thousands of meters high, he was flying as fast as a lightning bolt while all the mountains, rivers, cities and towns were lagged far behind in a split second. As for those airboats, they were as slow as tortoises compared to Zhang Tie.

On the way, Zhang Tie met a lot of immortal generals, some of which were above heavenly knights. In order to save time, Zhang Tie didn't mean to keep away from them. However, none of these people discovered Zhang Tie at all. Even though a few powers above heavenly knights could sense the trivial change of air flow thousands of meters away, Zhang Tie had already been tens of thousands of meters away. Additionally, he didn't leave any trace. Actually, his flight couldn't be caught by anyone's eyes at all. Those powers were just a bit amazed. Some of them even followed Zhang Tie for dozens of miles out of curiosity. However, they had to give it up because they soon lost their target.

It took Zhang Tie less than 6 hours to arrive at the air zone of Redmountain City. The day had completely broken while the sun was hanging high in the sky. It was actually close to noon.

The former tranquil Redmountain City had long been in chaos. Zhang Tie instantly discovered the abnormal situation in Ying Clan's castle.

The miserable situation facing Ying Clan's castle was discovered by a farmer who sent vegetables to Ying Clan's castle in the early morning.

Overnight, nobody was alive in Ying Clan's castle. Some managers of the branch of Force Emperor Immortal Palace in Redmountain City hurriedly came over here to check it as they were greatly frightened. After then, over 1,000 immortal soldiers of Force Emperor Immortal Palace in Redmountain City were dispatched to surround the Ying Clan's castle.

When Zhang Tie arrived at Redmountain City, everyone across Redmountain City had known what happened to Ying Clan's castle. Many fearless people even poured out of Redmountain City to see what happened. Therefore, the roads leading to Yin Clan's castle from Redmountain City became more crowded than before. In addition, the mountain slopes outside Ying Clan's castle were also full of people, who were isolated by the immortal soldiers of Dragon Emperor Immortal Palace.

Only after taking a look at Ying Clan's castle by his lotus-flower eyes, Zhang Tie had seen the corpses and blood over the ground and those tunnels and buildings under the ground across the castle. Zhang Tie felt disappointed at a stroke.

The periphery of Yin Clan's castle had been blockaded. Only a few people in the uniform of Force Emperor Immortal Palace were inspecting the situation in the castle with pale face, followed by some subordinates. They appeared negotiating about something.

After folding his roc wings, Zhan Tie instantly descended as he suspended at about 100 m high above those inspectors.

"...Priest Hong, do...do we...need to search over the castle..." a member of Force Emperor Immortal Palace asked with a quivering voice.

"I've already received the message from our headquarters. They don't...don't allow us to act rashly and blindly or destroy the site. Only after a short while, their people would arrive here. Therefore, no other people are allowed in now..."

"I see. But why did the branch head's clan suffer such a tragedy... Did someone dare offend Force Emperor Immortal Palace?"

"I have no idea. However, no matter who they are, they have to pay off what they did. Commander-in-Chief Chai, go back to Redmountain City and take some people to make a tour inspection around the city. No trouble is allowed in the city. Additionally, ask onlookers whether they have seen something abnormal or someone strange near Ying Clan's castle last night. I'm afraid the people from the headquarters would ask about it..."

After listening to their talk for a short while, Zhang Tie knew a bit about the current situation. Closely after that, he directly flew towards a main house in the distance. After entering an empty room, he opened a blank door and entered it.

2 minutes later, Zhang Tie flashed out of the secret tunnel. Given the scenes in the underground space of the castle, Zhang Tie had confirmed that he was in the nest of Yin-Yang Sect. However, nobody was alive across the castle now. Besides those on the ground, there were also dead male and female disciples who all looked pretty miserable. All of their heads had been broken. As a result, Zhang Tie could barely read what happened to them before death through their brains. Besides, all the living beings across the castle had been killed, including rats and cockroaches.

Force Emperor Immortal Palace might have not known that Ying Clan's castle was the nest of Yin-Yang Sect. However, this secret might be exposed soon. Those people on the ground dared not to make an investigation on the spot; however, when the powers of the headquarters of Force Emperor Immortal Palace would arrive, they would soon discover this secret.

However, this was not the point for Zhang Tie. The point was that Zhang Tie didn't see the corpses of Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin after searching over all the corpses in the shortest period. Therefore, there was still a bit of hope for him.

Chapter 1752: Collecting Clues

After coming out of the secret tunnel of Ying Clan's castle, Zhang Tie flew around Ying Clan's castle to seek for clues. Pitifully, besides 7 underground secret tunnels leading to different locations, Zhang Tie saw nothing else valuable.

In his lotus-flower eyes, those underground secret tunnels were almost transparent to Zhang Tie. After searching over the 7 secret underground tunnels from the sky, Zhang Tie didn't see anything suspicious.

The ends of these secret tunnels were all hidden in mountains, woods and lakes. Some were in a private residence; some were connected to the location of the branch of Force Emperor Immortal Palace in Redmountain City. These secret underground tunnels varied from a few miles to dozens of miles in length in all directions. However, it was normal in the ends of these secret tunnels. There was no corpse or blood in these secret tunnels. Additionally, the switches in the secret tunnels were not triggered yet, which meant that the members of Yin-Yang Sect didn't even have time to trigger these secret tunnels. Even though the fastest ones had just entered the underground space before being killed by the enemy that darted down.

The enemy moved so fast that the members of Yin-Yang Sect didn't even have time to make any response. Additionally, they appeared being pretty familiar with Ying Clan's castle. That was a bit abnormal despite being real.

After flying around for a while, Zhang Tie returned to the air zone above Ying Clan's castle.

The powers of the headquarters of Force Emperor Immortal Palace had not arrived yet. The immortal soldiers of the branch of Force Emperor Immortal Palace in Redmountain City were still circling around the castle while numerous people were discussing on the mountain slopes around the castle.

Needless to ask, only by concluding what he heard from those discussions, Zhang Tie had known the relationship between Ying Clan and Force Emperor Immortal Palace in Redmountain City. These contents made the means of survival and background of Yin-Yang Sect clear in Zhang Tie's mind.

After confirming that he couldn't find any people alive or complete head to know what happened to Ying Clan's castle in details, Zhang Tie gave up collecting clues from alive people.

Although Zhang Tie didn't know what methods did the opponents use to wipe out the entire Ying Clan's castle, Zhang Tie's methods might also be out of their imagination.

If it was the 1st day or the 15th day of the month, Zhang Tie could be able to use his space-teleportation equipment. Then, the problem would be easily solved. As long as he took out an egg of soul-chasing butterfly from Castle of Black Iron, he would be able to catch up with those butchers and might save Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin. Pitifully, it was March 20th. Previously, Zhang Tie didn't take some eggs of the soul-chasing butterfly out of Castle of Black Iron in case of emergencies; therefore, he could only wait until 11 days later, by when even the most powerful soul-chasing butterfly couldn't catch any odor of the butchers anymore.

As there was no soul-chasing butterfly in Motian Realm, those people might not imagine that Zhang Tie could trace them in such a magical way. Additionally, there was no Great Wilderness Sutra in Motian Realm either. Although there were powers above sage-level knights in Motian Realm, their animal-controlling skills were just close to that in Taixia Country before Great Wilderness Sutra became popular. Therefore, Zhang Tie could only use the secret skills in Great Wilderness Sutra.

After taking a look at the surrounding environment, Zhang Tie flashed into the wood behind Ying Clan's castle. In a split second, Zhang Tie became visible. Sitting on the crown of a dozens-meters-high tree, Zhang Tie made a bizarre handprint and pushed it into the void.

In less than 2 minutes, more than 10 birds had flown towards him from different directions and stayed on the twigs beside Zhang Tie.

There were 2 owls, 1 grey falcon, 1 woodpecker, 2 wild cranes, 1 eagle, 3 great tits, 1 cuckoo, some larks and 1 starling. These birds kept tweeting and capering vigorously beside Zhang Tie. However, these birds could barely stay together in usual days.

With the rustling of leaves, a leopard cat drilled out of the shrubs. After climbing onto the tree, it squatted down right in front of Zhang Tie. Then, it looked at Zhang Tie in a flattering way with its shiny black eyes.

"Stay calm. As you were in the wood when the tragedy happened to Ying Clan's castle last night, you might have already seen it more or less. I could only ask you about that..." Zhang Tie told those animals as he stretched out his hand and stroked the leopard cat's head, adding, "Let's start from you..."

In a split second, what this leopard cat had experienced last night had entered Zhang Tie's mind sea.

When the leopard cat was resting on a tree on the mountain slope behind the castle, the weird black fog sudden appeared. This leopard cat used its instinct to sense the danger from the black fog as it instantly escaped away without even looking back...

This leopard cat didn't see too much; however, it provided the first piece of news for Zhang Tie. It was useful information—black fog. At the sight of the black fog, Zhang Tie had felt it was like the realm thing grasped by a semi-sage level knight.

After injecting a wisp of battle qi that could be conducive to its health as its reward, Zhang Tie patted it. The leopard cat then meowed lightly and rubbed its head against Zhang Tie's leg for a couple of times. After that, it left the tree adroitly and soon disappeared into dense weeds.

Zhang Tie moved his hand while the three great tits capered onto his palms and wrists at the same time.

The three birds also saw something despite being not too much. Due to a different angle of view, they saw something different from that leopard cat.

After receiving some rewards, the three great tits also flew away. Zhang Tie then got the second piece of information.

Then, it came to the third piece and the fourth piece...

None of these animals could see how those murders appeared; nor did they know what happened to Ying Clan's castle. However, Zhang Tie became increasingly clear about the entire process starting from the appearance of the black fog to its dissipation. The entire process lasted less than 10 minutes. When the black fog suddenly dissipated, an owl in the wood saw 9 people fly out of Ying Clan's castle from afar.

8 of the 9 people were in mask and black robe; except one who was a female in blackish green skirt. This woman flew shoulder to shoulder with the head of the others who was in a bucktooth mask while the other 7 were in black metal wings while each of them was lifting some people in a coma being bound together.

After flying away from Ying Clan's castle, they entered an airboat behind the mountains. Then, the airboat flew towards the north...

Chapter 1753: Fish a Needle from the Sea

It would soon come to the vast vacant space out of the territory of Nine Heavens Big Domain if it kept going northwards from Redmountain City.

However, suppose the airboat's speed was about 800 miles per hour. As the catastrophe facing Ying Clan's castle had just happened over 6 hours, it means the airboat had just moved about 5,000 miles.

'If that airboat keeps moving northwards, I could catch up with it.'

After reaching this conclusion, Zhang Tie instantly triggered his invisible shen beard as he set off the crown and shot like a lightning bolt towards the direction where the owl saw.

When Zhang Tie left there, he looked back as he found that an airboat with the symbol of Force Emperor Immortal Palace had just reached about 300 miles away from Redmountain City. Zhang Tie estimated that the powers assigned by Force Emperor Immortal Palace would soon arrive at Redmountain City.

Zhang Tie kept moving northwards in the air as fast as a lightning bolt. At the same time, he started to recall the look of the airboat according to what the owl had seen. After amplifying the scenes in his memory, Zhang Tie observed it carefully; because this airboat was the only clue for Zhang Tie at this moment.

The airboat that carried the immortal generals of Yin-Yang Sect was the commonest mini airboat in Motian Realm. Being only a bit longer than 100 m, it was the most classical air-feather class airboat in Motian Realm. Its look and performance had already well adapted to the environment in Motian Realm. Its manufacturing drawing was open to the public in Motian Realm; therefore, it could be produced in many places. Perhaps the internal design of air-feather class airboat would vary according to different customer demands; however, they all looked same externally. Like vehicles with the same brand and the same type in Taixia Country, they almost looked the same externally. What was more, there was no emblem or flag of an immortal palace or a clan on the airboat. Such airboats could be seen everywhere across Motian Realm. There would be 1 air-feather class airboat in every 5 airboats in the sky.

Despite lotus-flower eyes, it was still impossible for Zhang Tie to look for such an average airboat from 5,000 miles away. If that airboat had just left Redmountain City for a couple of hours and was within 600 miles, Zhang Tie might be able to see it. However, the distance of 5,000 miles had already surpassed Zhang Tie's maximal capability. Zhang Tie saw dense airboats within 1,300 miles in the air which were moving towards different directions. It was simply like fishing a needle from the sea for him.

However, it was also possible for him to fish a needle from the sea. What counted was that he should remember the look of the needle.

Even two leaves of the same tree were not absolutely same; so were airboats of the same brand and type. As long as the airboat had been used, it must have some distinctive features.

Fortunately, that owl had a pretty good sight. Although the air feather-class airboat was the commonest type, Zhang Tie still found three distinguishable features on it.

First, was it new or not? Given its look, that airboat was about 70% new. It was not painted yet. Given this feature alone, it could be distinguished from over 60% of air-feather class airboats.

Second, the trivial deviation between some points being exposed to the metal universal mortise and tenon structure on the hatch door of the airboat, which was caused in manufacturing and manual assembly. The trivial deviation existed between each two air-feather class airboats which couldn't be noticed by commoners. However, after connecting the opposite corners of the hatch door with diagonal lines, the diagonal lines would become coordinates. In this way, the deviation would become an instinctive feature of the airboat.

Third, there were some trivial traces caused by light frictions on the left port side of the tail of the airboat which might be caused in the process of discharging cargo. There were always some light traces of friction near the discharging hatches on the tails of airboats.

These were the three features that Zhang Tie found in such a short period of time through the image in the memory of the owl. Although the owl had very good sight, it still couldn't see all the details. If it were Zhang Tie, as long as he took a look at something, he could even find 300 features, not to mention 3 features. However, the 3 features were enough for him.

Zhang Tie couldn't find the airboat with only 1 of the 3 features; however, after combining the 3 features, Zhang Tie would probably find it. Plus time and space factors, he was confident to find it.

Zhang Tie kept flying northwards while calculating rapidly in mind. At the same time, the map of the north region of Nine Heavens Big Domain appeared in his mind. Zhang Tie was making analysis quickly.

The airboat was flying northwards; however, it was just a general direction. Over the past hours, the airboat might have already adjusted its direction at any time. However, it would never turn around; otherwise, it would return to the territory of Nine Heavens Big Domain. Given the process of the raid last night, the leader of that action was definitely not an idiot. As long as he was not an idiot, he would never make such a stupid decision——turn around and move southwards after moving northwards for a few hours; because they could not make puzzles for their action by doing that; instead, they were just wasting time. Therefore, the earliest direction that the airboat moved towards after leaving Redmountain City last night must be their general direction.

However, it was Force Emperor Big Domain in the northwest of Redmountain City and Nine Heavens Big Domain.

Were they from Force Emperor Immortal Palace? Of course not. If the members of Force Emperor Immortal Palace discovered that the remains of Yin-Yang Sect were hiding in Redmountain City, they would definitely assign powers to get all of them aboveboard; instead of being such mysterious. Nor would they kill all the disciples of Yin-Yang Sect in the castle. At least they should catch them alive, the more the better, so as to display the magnificence of Force Emperor Immortal Palace. Additionally, what happened in Ying Clan's castle was slapping Force Emperor Immortal Palace's face no matter whether Force Emperor Immortal Palace could find that the remains of Yin-Yang Sect were hiding in Redmountain City or not.

Therefore, although those people were heading northwards, they would never go to Force Emperor Big Domain.

Therefore, at this moment, the airboat's location should be within a sector region whose angle was 110 degrees. Within this region, the largest distance between Redmountain City and the airboat was 5,000 miles. The left line of this sector region at most neighbored the border Dragon Emperor Big Domain while the right line was at most horizontal to the east direction of Nine Heavens Big Domain; instead of pointing southwards...

As Zhang Tie thought about it, the map of Motian Realm in his mind had already become a holographic three-dimensional dynamic map. On the map, the sector region in the shape of a huge trumpet in the north of Redmountain City had already turned yellow. Meanwhile, hundreds of air routes covered this yellow region, which led to different destinations in various domains and regions across Motian Realm, the distance of which varied from thousands of miles to hundreds of thousands of miles. Now that the airboat had left Nine Heavens Big Domain, it should have a destination, which could only be one of the hundreds of targets in the sector region.

By multiplying the hours since the airboat had left Redmountain City by the maximal speed of the airboat and 70% of its maximal speed, Zhang Tie got a region. After covering the region on the hundreds of routes in the sector region, Zhang Tie got an eye-catching oval red air territory near the mouth of the trumpet of the yellow sector region. The entire red region covered over 5 million square miles.

Without emergency, Zhang Tie was sure the airboat was in the red air territory.

Additionally, the red air territory was expanding in each second. After a few more hours, the red air territory would become very vast which would contain much more unpredictable factors. However, at this moment, this red air territory was still within Zhang Tie's tolerance.

So many airboats were lagged behind by Zhang Tie. At a high speed of about 30,000 m per second, it only took Zhang Tie a few minutes to travel 3,000-4,000 miles and reach the northern border of the red oval air territory in his mind. After that, Zhang Tie didn't fly northward anymore; instead, he started to fly horizontally in a zigzag way.

Any air cavalry was clear that such a flight route was the basic tactical action for searching over a sector region. Similarly, if one wanted to search over a circular region, he needed to fly spirally, which was equal to plow the entire air territory generally.

Zhang Tie was the founder of the air force in Taixia Country. Even the books about air cavalries in Taixia Country were written by him. Of course, he could complete such a simple action easily.

On this occasion, only Zhang Tie could accomplish this task by searching over such a vast air territory within a short period of time at such a terrifying high speed and with his lotus-flower eyes.

As Zhang Tie crossed the red oval air territory at a high speed in a zigzag manner, he kept glancing over all the airboats within this air territory using his lotus-flower eyes.

Finally, after a few minutes, an air-feather class airboat over 300 miles away from him on his left was spotted.

At the sight of that airboat, Zhang Tie squinted his eyes at once. After confirming the 3 external features of the airboat, Zhang Tie sped up towards the airboat at once. When he was about 60 miles above it, Zhang Tie refreshed the airboat using his lotus-flower eyes. In a split second, the internal situation of the airboat became transparent to him. In the reinforced bilges at the bottom of the airboat, Zhang Tie finally saw the captives of Yin-Yang Sect.

All the captives of Yin-Yang Sect were in a coma. Being still, they were locked in two bilges according to their genders. After discerning them carefully, Zhang Tie saw Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin who were also in a coma. Until then the two women were still in men's clothes.

After leaving Redmountain City for less than 15 minutes, Zhang Tie found Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin.

After confirming the two women were still alive, Zhang Tie finally became reassured. Meanwhile, it proved that his judgment was absolutely correct. He finally fished the needle from the sea.

The others on the airboat might never know that there was such a person with such an abnormal ability in this world. During the period of over 6 hours since they left Redmountain City, that person flew all the way from Dragon Emperor Big Domain to Nine Heavenly Big Domain; after that, it took him less than half an hour to find them among tens of thousands of airboats in the vast air territory from Redmountain City over 5,000 miles away—F*ck, what a freak!

Zhang Tie almost immediately arrived above the airboat. Being totally attached to the airboat, Zhang Tie started to check out the situation inside the airboat so that he could find an opportunity to save them...

Chapter 1754: Unexpected Figures

The air feather-class airboat was heading forward at a speed of over 600 miles per hour. It was not its maximum speed, but its normal speed, at which it would not arouse the others' attention.

The airboat was flying above the white clouds in the air like a sailing boat traveling in the ocean. Zhang Tie was like a shell that attached itself to the sailing boat. The difference was that Zhang Tie was lying on the top of the airboat; instead of its bottom. Additionally, with the combined effects of invisible shen bead and the master-level hiding skill, Zhang Tie was completely invisible to the others.

As he didn't know about the situation inside the airboat, when he remembered Ji Yuelan's warning, he didn't directly make a spree killing inside the airboat to save the beauties; instead, he prepared to figure out the situation inside the airboat from outside first.

With his lotus-flower eyes and the powerful spiritual energy, Zhang Tie could thoroughly see through this airboat as it looked like a transparent yet firm air in front of him.

Zhang Tie immediately saw 7 immortal generals in black robes inside the airboat, 2 of them were keeping an eye on those captives at the bottom of the airboat while the other 5 were resting or cultivating in their own cabins above. Among the 7 immortal generals, 3 of them were earth immortal generals while the other 4 were fierce immortal generals. At this moment, all the 7 immortal generals in black robes had already taken off their masks and revealed their real faces. Given their looks, they were nothing different than the immortal generals of Dragon Emperor Immortal Palace or Force Emperor Immortal. Neither were they grim such as having long fangs nor ugly such as having disgusting looks. One of them was even somewhat handsome.

When Zhang Tie caught sight of that handsome immortal general, his heart raced at once as that guy was Zhou Baifei.

Zhang Tie was too familiar with Zhou Baifei. This guy joined the branch of Dragon Emperor Immortal Palace in Heavenly Square City together with him. After that, he seduced women in the immortal palace. Then, after failing his speculative action in Dragon Emperor City, he was dislodged to a barren land. Finally, after Zhang Tie promoted to Dragon Emperor, he escaped away. Zhang Tie could never imagine that he could see Zhou Baifei here.

Under Zhang Tie's gaze, Zhou Baifei was absorbing a water-element crystal in a cabin with crossed legs. After more than 1 year, Zhou Baifei had kept his beard, which made him look a bit maturer. Besides, he revealed a hint of sadness.

Previously, Zhang Tie thought that Zhou Baifei might be a mole of an immortal palace in Dragon Emperor Immortal Palace. After Zhou Baifei escaped away, Zhang Tie didn't catch him at all as he was a trivial figure in Zhang Tie's eyes. Additionally, as Zhou Baifei was familiar with a disciple of Elder Shi, if Zhang Tie had gone too far, he might be taken as weakening Elder Shi's power, which was not conducive to the internal solidarity of Dragon Emperor Immortal Palace. It was not worthwhile for Zhang Tie to chase after such a trivial figure. Therefore, Zhang Tie just let him go. Now, Zhang Tie realized that Zhou Baifei's background might be not simple; because few human immortal palaces in Motian Realm dared offend Force Emperor Immortal Palace.

'Are they from Star Emperor Immortal Palace? But there does not seem to be such a fierce contradiction between Star Emperor Immortal Palace and Yin-Yang Sect. Why do Star Emperor Immortal Palace catch these people of Yin-Yang Sect in such a brutal way?'

Such a whim occurred to Zhang Tie as he had witnessed the weird methods of Star Emperor,

If one person was criticized by numerous people, he would die without a sickness. As Zhang Tie had a bad impression on Star Emperor, he instantly doubted it was schemed by Star Emperor.

'Are they from Star Emperor Immortal Palace?'

'They're not given the direction of the airboat. Because Star Emperor Big Domain is in the south of Nine Heavens Big Domain, most of Star Emperor Immortal Palace's territory is in the south of Nine Heavens Big Domain. However, this airboat is heading for the north.'

Zhang Tie continued to search over the airboat spiritually. Zhang Tie remembered that at least a male team leader and a female immortal general should be in this airboat. Zhang Tie thought about finding some clues from that man or somewhere close to that man.

The air feather-class airboat was not large. Besides the 7 immortal generals in black robes and some aloof and stereotyped crew members who were manipulating the airboat, Zhang Tie instantly found his target in a relatively luxurious berth cabin on the top floor... In fact, he found the man and the woman at the same time.

On the big bed of the luxurious berth cabin, two human bodies were rolling together, one black, one white. In the loud crashes, the woman's enchanting groans and exclamations almost broke out of the roof. If not this berth cabin had been installed with a special sound isolative device, the entire airboat might have been filled with the woman's groans, precisely screams.

Zhang Tie had not imagined that he could see such a live show in the airboat. Additionally, given the disorderly big bed, Zhang Tie estimated that the two people had been wrestling for quite a while.

Zhang Tie had experienced such stimulating scenes for many times. He was a veteran in this aspect. However, previously, Zhang Tie was always the male main character of such a scene. Zhang Tie only remembered one time when he peeped at such a scene performed by Hanna's elder brother and elder sister-in-law when he was a young soldier many years ago. From then on, Zhang Tie almost had not seen such a fierce scene anymore.

As he was here to save people, Zhang Tie only threw a casual look at them. He really didn't feel like enjoying such a live show at this critical moment.

—No matter what, your gestures are not as various as mine—this was what Zhang Tie thought in his inner heart.

As his ears were full of the woman's groans and loud sounds of "pah, pah, pah", Zhang Tie was going to move his spiritual energy and attention away from the cabin. Right then, the man who was making sprints with his back against Zhang Tie said something.

"Three Lives Sutra of Yin-Yang Sect...is really...something...Ying Canghai really wasted a lot as he didn't reclaim you..." the man stammered as he kept sprinting, sweat oozing all over.

'Three Lives Sutra ? Is that woman a member of Yin-Yang Sect?' Zhang Tie became stunned. After hearing this man's words, Zhang Tie stayed there.

Chapter 1755: The Woman

"Really..." The woman groaned with seductive eyes while her white thighs instantly twined with the man's waist. Closely after that, she moved closer to the man's body while putting her toes onto some surging points near the man's waist, saying, "This is the real... Three Lives Sutra ..."

In an instant, the woman's skin turned rosy. Closely after that, the man couldn't stand exclaiming, "Ahh..." which sounded pretty cool.

As a spectator, Zhang Tie was petrified by this scene. He knew that the woman was using a secret skill, which could cause a man to forget himself.

'F*ck, no wonder the others treated Yin-Yang Sect as a heresy.'

After the woman's skin turned rosy for less than 10 minutes, the man who was as valiant and fierce as the tiger couldn't stand to exclaim, "Ahh, it's enough...it's enough...Stop sucking it..." (.c om)

The woman ignored him as she made her groan louder with a big smile in a more charming way. Meanwhile, her skin turned redder.

Finally, the man's body started to quiver. With another exclamation, he hugged the woman and jumped out of the bed. Closely after that, he threw the woman onto the bed like shirking off a snake or scorpion so that they could part with each other.

After the fierce "fight", the man panted, lying on the bed as he couldn't hide his weakness. Being satisfied very much, he took a look at that woman with some fear.

At this moment, the woman's rosy skin started to fade away as she lightly licked her fingers. At the same time, she tantalizingly watched that man as if she had not been satisfied yet, saying, "How do you like it? Grand Justice Qian, do you want to do it again..."

This woman was the grand elder surnamed Xue, the junior female fellow apprentice of the head of Yin-Yang Sect.

Besides a wisp of silver hair near his temples, all of his hair was silvery grey. Given his look, he might be at his 50's or 60's. With a gloomy hawk nose and a pair of narrow and long eyes which contained more white than black, he looked a bit violent. His eyebrows were like broken broadswords while his lips were pretty thin and a bit green. Given his look, Zhang Tie knew this man was vicious, cruel and merciless.

Of course, the true age of immortal generals couldn't be judged from their looks in Motian Realm.

"You're really a wh*re! It seems that you've not been satisfied after being put in Yin-Yang Sect for so long..." the man said as he panted. Meanwhile, he took another look at the woman with a complex mood.

"Hoho, how could I be satisfied so easily!" The woman ignored what the man called her as she continued to reach her hand towards the man and started to tantalize him again. "You're so strong. I have to make love with you for at least three times before being satisfied. Can't you even match that guy surnamed You..."

"Three times?" The man sat up at once as he moved the woman's hand away. With a frown, he watched the woman, saying, "The guy surnamed You? When did you meet him?"

"Did you forget that? A few years ago, I found a reason to leave Ying Clan's castle to look for Heavenly Fragrant Dew outside. That guy surnamed You met me in Nine Heavens City!" The woman giggled as she didn't feel ashamed doing that at all. She just talked about making love with other men like buying clothes in the market. "You Zhongshu is more straightforward than you. He f*cked me for a few times that night. Additionally, he looks better than you..."

"No wonder You Zhongshu entered secluded cultivation the moment he returned to Cyandragon Palace. He didn't recover until 1 year later..." The man's face turned increasingly gloomier. Perhaps, no man liked such a comparison in this world. After a vicious light flashed across his eyes, Grand Justice Qian suddenly grabbed her neck and lifted her in the air. At the same time, he said in an icy tone, "How dare you seduce other men? Don't you fear about death..."

"I'm not exclusive to you. It's none of your business whom I like to sleep with. Do you think that I have to follow your order after sleeping with you? Perhaps you're the one being f*cked, not me..." Although her neck was grabbed, the woman still maintained a smile as if she didn't dare look straight into this man's eyes at all. Raising her head and exposing her neck, she watched the man in a domineering manner, saying, "Qian Changqing, remember it, I Xue Yuxiu belong to His Majesty; instead of you. Do you want to kill me? As long as I was hurt, let's see whether His Majesty will let you go or not? I promise you will die in a way much more miserable than me. If you're fearless, just try it. You're not the only fire immortal general in Motian Realm. However, only I could interpret the complete version of Three Lives No-Hatred Method for His Majesty. You know which is more important for His Majesty, you or me..."

The woman said with no fear at all.

"But you're not the only grand elder of Yin-Yang Sect!"

"If you think the other grand elders of Yin-Yang Sect will stand on your side, you can have a try!"

Grand Justice Qian's eyes flickered as he suddenly sneered, "Heheh, you might not know that His Majesty has already completed the production of Golden-Soul Rune Virus. These immortal generals of Yin-Yang Sect were poisoned by the latest Golden-Soul Rune Virus. His Majesty has already promised to give all the captives of Yin-Yang Sect to me. After I offer a sacred sacrifice to them, I will have more slaves and subordinates. Not like those former immortal generals under control who only know about killing people, these people will be fully clear-minded and follow my orders. Do you think that His Majesty will have no other means without you?"

(.c om) After saying that, the man gradually increased his strength, causing the woman's face turn redder. However, the woman still didn't beg for his forgiveness; instead, she just watched him distantly, saying, "The latest Golden-Soul Rune Virus of His Majesty was produced 7 months ago. Do you think that I don't know that? Are you frightening me with that? His Majesty made a sacred sacrifice for me earlier than you. I accepted the sacred sacrifice 3 months ago. However, you accepted it one month later than me. His Majesty has never said that he would give all the captives to you; instead, he just agreed to give Ying Canghai and those stinky men to you. Do you think you could occupy all the booties alone? Let's see it..."

Grand Justice Qian suddenly changed his face as he revealed a smile and loosened his grip at once, saying, "Haha, I was just kidding. Never mind..."

The fingerprint on the woman's neck was evident and terrifying. After kneading her neck, the woman turned serious at once as she slapped his face, causing another loud sound "Pah" in the room. Closely after that, the woman revealed an enchanting smile and gesture by raising her slim white leg, saying, "I was just kidding, Grand Justice Qian. Hopefully, Grand Justice Qian doesn't mind that...I want more...Grand Justice Qin, do you want it again..."

"We're even..." after taking a look at the woman, Grand Justice Qian said calmly as he started to put on his clothes as if nothing had happened, "I need to take a rest. A few days later, I need to hold the sacred sacrifice in Cyandragon Palace..."

"Those immortal generals outside the door are not bad, either. Will you feel jealous of them..." The woman covered her mouth by hand while giggling lightly as if she was referring to something special.

"Heheh, they're indeed not bad. But they're not idiots. Any men below water immortal generals will die after sleeping with you. Even if they're still alive after doing that, they will lose many years' cultivation base...” After putting on his clothes fast, Grand Justice Qian walked towards the door. Before he opened the door, he suddenly turned around as he said with a sneer, “I finally know why Ying Canghai didn’t select you. Because it’s easy for him to find a woman more coquettish than you on the bed; however, it’s hard for him to find any woman more shameless than you. So do I...”

“Bang...” Before a bedside cupboard was thrown towards the door and shattered, Grand Justice Qian had already left the room.

“Roll out of here...” The naked woman quivered all over with a blue face, sitting on the bed.

She was not quivering because of feeling cold; instead, the man got his point before leaving.

After appreciating the whole scene, Zhang Tie felt muddle-headed. ‘The talk between the two people contained too many contents. Additionally, f*ck, their relationship is pretty complex. I wonder where on earth they come from...’

What was more, Zhang Tie might have discovered a top-secret...

Chapter 1756: Sneaking into the Airboat

Although the heads of Emperor NvWa Palace, the 3 immortal emperor-level imperial palaces and 14 supreme immortal general-level immortal palaces were also called His Majesty, given the direction of this airboat, Zhang Tie realized that they didn’t belong to any of the above organizations.

It was really shocking that an unknown organization could arrange a mole in Yin-Yang Sect and destroy Yin-Yang Sect so easily. When he thought that Zhou Baifei might have joined Dragon Emperor Immortal Palace with the same purpose, Zhang Tie shuddered with fear even though he had seen the world. ‘Perhaps Dragon Emperor Immortal Palace was their target at the beginning. However, the return of “Dragon Emperor” disturbed their plan at a stroke. Therefore, Zhou Baifei flurriedly escaped away.’

However, Zhou Baifei was not affected by the bloody pledge that he had made when he joined Dragon Emperor Immortal Palace after escaping away, which meant that these people had already mastered the method to avoid from being affected by the bloody pledge.

What was more attractive to Zhang Tie was the Golden-Soul Rune Virus that the two people had just mentioned in the room. Although Zhang Tie had not heard about it before, according to Grand Justice Qian, Zhang Tie knew this thing was extremely terrifying; because people could control a lot of immortal generals or knights with it.

Zhang Tie would never believe that there was such a terrifying thing in the world in Taixia Country. When in Taixia Country, the most powerful secret method that could be used to control knights that Zhang Tie had known was God’s baptism, the conditions of which were pretty demanding.

Before accepting God’s baptism, the knights should be willing to completely open their bodies including their awareness, chakras even mysterious spiritual areas to the baptists. Such kind of knights could barely be found in that world. As all the knights were heroes who were arrogant and strong-willed and could get as much as wealth and honor as they wanted. Who would like to serve others after becoming knights? Therefore, 99% of knights couldn’t meet the first condition for God’s baptism.

Second, the number of knights that could receive God's baptism was also in compliance with the level of the baptist. Black iron knights could at most control 2 knights. Even sage-level knights could only control 13 knights.

Third, the performance of God's baptism would consume a large amount of life vitality of the baptist, which meant a high cost too.

Being limited to the above three conditions, even Zhang Tie, who had mastered the secret method of God's baptism, had only performed God's baptism for Ockham. Zhang Tie had not encountered the second demon knight who would like to be loyal to him. There was indeed a demon coward in the jail of Castle of Black Iron; however, Zhang Tie didn't feel that it could do any help to him at all. To be honest, Zhang Tie felt like wasting time performing God's baptism for that guy.

However, the Golden-Soul Rune Virus that the two people had just mentioned appeared being completely able to break through the limits of God's baptism. It seemed that an immortal general or knight who had been affected by Golden-Soul Runed Virus could be easily manipulated by others only after attending to a simple rite called sacred sacrifice.

'What a terrifying secret method! It's an ultimate challenge to manipulate knights or immortal generals in the world where I came from or in Motian Realm. It's the target that numerous ambitionists and schemers are pursuing. Unimaginably, it has been reached by someone in Motian Realm.'

Zhang Tie finally understood why Ji Yuelan sent him a warning; because she had already sensed the terror of Golden-Soul Rune Virus at that moment. Pitifully, before she had sent the whole message, she had lost her freedom.

Lying on the surface of the airboat, Zhang Tie felt pretty cold physically and mentally facing the strong wind. However, he was racking his mind to think about solutions. Zhang Tie didn't want to save the world. No matter how powerful was 'His Majesty', Zhang Tie felt it was not his turn to worry about the destiny of humans in Motian Realm. Even though the heavens were going to fall, they were going to be supported by taller guys. He was just a heavenly knight. It was not necessary for him to do that. He only wanted to save the captives of Yin-Yang Sect including Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin first. After that, he would check out the background of this organization and figure out their plans. If this organization was really plotting a conspiracy or doing harm to the humans, he would work out a solution to expose this organization, "His Majesty" and their Golden-Soul Rune Virus so that the immortal emperors of Emperor NvWa Palace, Star Emperor Immortal Palace and Force Emperor Immortal Palace could deal with them. Those people should be more anxious than Zhang Tie.

After getting things in order and making his decision, Zhang Tie had started to move.

Firstly, Zhang Tie triggered his body-changing immortal bloodline to change his look and frame. As he realized how powerful were his opponents, of course, Zhang Tie didn't want himself and the members of Dragon Emperor Immortal Palaces to be cannon fodder. Only Zhang Tie knew that the "Dragon Emperor" didn't exist at all. As the most powerful one in Dragon Emperor Immortal Palace, if he exposed himself to the opponents and caused a face-to-face clash between Dragon Emperor Immortal Palace and this mysterious organization, he might become a martyr. It would influence Zhang Tie's plan. Therefore, Zhang Tie would never expose his real identity to these people. If he changed his look, he would have enough space for manoeuvres.

There was another benefit for changing his look——when he saved Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin, he didn't need to explain to them in details. Otherwise, if Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin found it was Zhang Tie who saved them, how would he explain it to them? Would he say that he spent a few hours to arrive at Nine Heavens Big Domain from Dragon Emperor Big Domain by triggering his flight ability as a divine dominator after receiving Ji Yuelan's warning? Would he say that he caught up with them using an animal controlling skill and his lotus-flower eyes and helped them out?

If he told them the truth, he would be an idiot; instead of a hero. If they believed in him, a lot of his trump cards would be exposed. If they didn't, the captives of Yin-Yang Sect would even doubt that he was the culprit of this catastrophe facing Yin-Yang Sect. They would think that he might have made marks on Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin so that he could follow them all the way to the base of Yin-Yang Sect and caught them. They would also think that it was he who had bought over a grand elder of Yin-Yang Sect. Otherwise, he could not appear in front of them in such a short period of time "coincidentally"...

Therefore, the best choice was to change his look for the sake of Zhang Tie himself, Dragon Emperor Immortal Palace or Yin-Yang Sect.

In the beginning, Zhang Tie wanted to change into a person with an average look. However, not knowing why, he suddenly recalled Heller's perfect frame, which could dwarf everyone else as each inch of his skin was made according to the golden section rule. Zhang Tie then turned his look and frame into a Hua man similar to that of Heller.

At this moment, although Zhang Tie didn't look into the mirror, he also knew that his look was extremely handsome which could definitely dwarf all the handsome youths in the history of Hua people.

After doing that, Zhang Tie took a look into the airboat as he found no change inside except that Grand Justice Qian who had a "fierce battle" with that woman took a look around the airboat after the woman left his room. After checking the bilges at the bottom of the airboat and finding all the captives of Yin-Yang Sect were still in a coma, Grand Justice Qian left some words to the two guards with an icy look before returning to a cabin and entering cultivation, eyes closed.

Zhang Tie then flashed away and reached below the airboat. Closely after that, he slid to the hatch door of the belly-hold cargo bay near the tail of the airboat.

There was nothing inside the belly-hold cargo bay. Its hatch door couldn't be opened from outside; instead, it could only be opened from inside by moving the lever manually. However, it was too easy for Zhang Tie. Only by running his spiritual energy, he had slowly moved the level inside the door. As a result, the hatch door gradually opened.

Previously, when the hatch door opened, it would always cause some low sounds and rocks; especially when the airboat was in flight, the external airflow would also change. However, with the control of Zhang Tie's great power as a divine dominator, all the sounds, rocks and changing airflows were isolated.

After the hatch door opened slightly, Zhang Tie had already sneaked into the belly-hold cargo bay. Closely after that, the hatch door was closed quietly as if it had not been opened at all.

There was nothing but some empty crates inside this pitch-dark space. However, it was a problem for Zhang Tie.

There was nobody neighboring the belly-hold cargo bay either. After opening the other hatch door of it, Zhang Tie came to the aisle.

After closing the hatch door, Zhang Tie soon passed through two aisles. After moving half a flight upstairs, he passed by the powerhouse where three crew members were keeping an eye on before coming to the outside of the bilges where the captives of Yin-Yang Sect were in.

Two immortal generals in black robe were guarding at the entrance of aisle leaving to the bilges, face to face. Zhang Tie murmured inside, 'Don't they feel bored?'

Zhang Tie then floated by right in front of them.

When he passed by them, Zhang Tie was only a bit more than 1 m away from them. The two immortal generals in black robe appeared being able to reach Zhang Tie only by extending their hands. However, the guards didn't notice him at all. Therefore, Zhang Tie could easily pass by them...

Chapter 1757: Saving People

Previously, Zhang Tie didn't know what was the optimum combination of a rarity and a secret method. But now, he knew.

His invisible shen bead and the master-level hiding skill was such an optimum combination in effect.

With an independent invisible shen bead or an independent hiding skill, Zhang Tie was not confident to pass by two immortal generals in front of them without being discovered. However, after combining the two things, Zhang Tie turned impossibility into possibility.

When he passed by the two immortal generals, Zhang Tie suddenly thought about killing the two guarding immortal generals; instead of saving those captives of Yin-Yang Sect at the bottom of the airboat. Such skill of sneaking to the side of one's opponent and giving him a sudden fatal strike was simply the skill that all the assassins and killers were dreaming of.

It was out of Zhang Tie's imagination that he had such an amazing ability.

Despite the killing intent that rose in his inner heart, Zhang Tie finally gave up killing the two immortal generals in black robe.

At this critical moment, even though Zhang Tie could kill the two immortal generals without arousing the attention of the others, it was meaningless for him to do so. Perhaps, he could change something by doing that, what counted most was saving the captives of Yin-Yang Sect. First, he needed to figure out the so-called Golden Soul Rune Miasma which had been applied to poison these people of Yin-Yang Sect and know whether he could relieve it by an antidote. If he couldn't, after these people were taken away, and died a few days later, Zhang Tie would have done all these in vain.

The aisle at the bottom of the airboat was longer than 50 m. The male and female captives of Yin-Yang Sect were respectively locked in the two bilges at the end of the aisle. Zhang Tie instantly came to the end of the aisle.

Fortunately, the bilge where Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin were locked in was at the corner of the aisle. Without being connected to any passage or portal, this bilge was at the blind spot for the two immortal generals in black robe. Additionally, the two guards didn't worry that anyone could reach the bilges from other places except the entrance of the aisle where they were guarding.

This bilge's door was facing a wall of the aisle. If he didn't make any noise, unless the two guards' sightline could turn a corner or they had lotus-flower eyes, they could never see whether the door of the bilge had been opened or not. Therefore, Zhang Tie could take action easily. Although he could be invisible, after all he couldn't penetrate through the wall himself. If he wanted to enter the bilge, he had to open its door. If the two guards saw that the door of the bilge had been opened, they would become alert for sure. On that occasion, it would be more difficult for Zhang Tie to save them.

There was a black firm lock hanging over the hatch door. This lock was a senior product in Motian Realm called 7-star inter-link lock. Just now, Zhang Tie saw the Grand Justice Qian took out the key and opened this hatch door. If he wanted to open the hatch door, he had to unlock it first.

However, as for Zhang Tie who was known as an immortal craftsman and a divine dominator and had lotus-flower eyes, it was no exaggeration to say that there was no lock in the world.

The black 7-star inter-link lock had been opened silently as it started to float off the door without any noise. Closely after that, the door was opened by itself. Usually, when the door was opened, it would cause light creaks due to natural friction. Meanwhile, as the door was opened, it would cause a reciprocating motion inside the closed tubes of the door like a piston's reciprocating motion inside a cylinder. It would further cause slight airflow changes which knights with sharp senses could notice. However, at this moment, the creaks disappeared along with the slight airflow changes. As a result, the guards at the entrance of the aisle could never hear any noise from the bilge near the corner.

The door was closed and locked by the black 7-star inter-link lock from inside again. Zhang Tie then entered the bilge where those female immortal generals of Yin-Yang Sect were imprisoned.

This bilge covered more than 100 square meters and was over 6 m in height. Although 16 women were put inside, it still looked very spacious. It seemed that this bilge was specially designed for imprisoning immortal generals. One end of iron chains was fixed onto the top of the bilge being attached with some handcuffs and shackles. These shackles and iron chains could fix people onto the walls in case they rolled over or hurt themselves due to some intense flight maneuvers.

It was pitch-dark inside the bilge. There was only a crimson altar lamp hanging over the wall on the left of the door which provided some dim light for this space.

There was no peculiar smell inside the space; instead, the entire space was full of women's body odor. Actually, given smells, Zhang Tie felt coming into the dorm of some women.

All the 16 beauties of Yin-Yang Sect, which were shackled in a coma, had plump hourglass figures. Reflected by the dim lamplight, their looks were especially beautiful despite they looked weak. That got to be the feeling by watching beauties in the dim lamplight.

At this moment, Zhang Tie's heart raced. No wonder the guy surnamed Qian would carry its key with him. If he just handed its key to the two guards. Nobody knew what those immortal generals in black robes would do here. Of course, perhaps they thought that those women's fates had been fixed. Therefore, they were not in a hurry to do that.

There weren't any ugly women in Motian Realm, not to mention Yin-Yang Sect. Many women in this bilge could match Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin in looks. The others were all above average. Three of them beside Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin had exceptionally beautiful looks.

Zhang Tie guessed that the 3 beauties were the masters of Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin. At this moment, the three women's eyes were also closed, which made them look pretty weak.

Zhang Tie immediately came to the front of Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin as he gradually became visible.

"Ji Yuelan, how are you? Can you hear me?" Zhang Tie patted Ji Yuelan's face as he asked in a mature voice secretly. As long as Ji Yuelan was sane, she could definitely hear that.

However, Ji Yuelan didn't make any response. Nor did Jiang Ruoxin. Therefore, Zhang Tie took out two vials of senior antidote produced in Taixia Country from his portable container as he slightly pinched their cheeks so that they could slightly open their mouths. Then, he poured the two vials of senior antidote into their mouths...

Chapter 1758: Golden-Soul Rune Virus

As portable space-teleportation equipment could only be accessible at a fixed time in Motian Realm, Zhang Tie did like the Romans—put some life-saving items such as senior medicament into his portable luggage. Zhang Tie had long prepared the two vials of senior antidote in case of emergency. Unexpectedly, he applied them to Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin.

Not being a master in medical science, Zhang Tie only knew a bit of pharmacology. However, now that the two women were affected by Golden-Soul Rune Virus, it was reasonable for Zhang Tie to have a try with a senior antidote. Even if the senior antidote didn't work, at least it would not harm them or make them worse.

With a bit of fluke mind, Zhang Tie wanted to try the effect of senior antidote. However, the result proved that Zhang Tie underestimated the power of Golden-Soul Rune Virus.

After feeding them his medicament for 5 minutes, Zhang Tie checked the two girls as he found they didn't make any response at all. Zhang Tie then waited there for another 5 minutes. Whereas, the two girls still didn't make any response; nor did they recover their consciousness. Therefore, Zhang Tie realized that senior antidote was ineffective to Golden-Soul Rune Virus.

'It seems that the word "rune" might be the key of Golden-Soul Rune Virus'.

Zhang Tie thought.

Zhang Tie had never seen any rune virus before. As an immortal craftsman, although Zhang Tie was proficient in the study of runes, it was his first time to contact runes with poison. Additionally, the term golden soul might be involved in a mysterious, spiritual realm. That made it trickier.

When Zhang Tie thought about the immortal runes in his mind sea, he immediately realized that the problem of Golden-Soul Rune Poison might be in the victims' brains and mind sea.

After putting his hand on Ji Yuelan's forehead, Zhang Tie started to input his powerful spiritual energy into her brain and mind sea which felt as tender as trickles and flowing mercury.

It was not an easy job for one person to input his spiritual energy into the other one's head. If not grasp some secret skills of Bloody Soul Sutra and clearly know the details, nobody dared do it at such a high risk; because Ji Yuelan's brain and mind sea might be severely inflicted due to any mistake.

Zhang Tie was right.

When his powerful spiritual energy resonated with the heartbeats of Ji Yuelan harmoniously, his spiritual energy started to immerse into Ji Yuelan's brain and mind sea in the tenderest way before exploring it.

Compared to the secret skill that Zhang Tie applied to that demon heavenly knight which Star Emperor had controlled using his spiritual trick a few days ago, this method was more like the most delicate surgical operation which would not do any harm to Ji Yuelan.

As Zhang Tie's spiritual energy immersed in, he gradually felt that Ji Yuelan's spiritual energy was drawn by something like water in a pool being drawn by a pump. Zhang Tie's spiritual energy also "flew" into a core part of her brain along with Ji Yuelan's spiritual energy, where Zhang Tie "saw" a bizarre scene.

This scene was like being seen by eyes. It was even more vivid than that.

Zhang Tie "saw" a golden "insect" drawing and absorbing Ji Yuelan's spiritual energy from her mind sea constantly in a mysterious central region of her brain; meanwhile, the "insect" was changing its frame as if it was hatching.

What was more terrifying was that it was not a real insect; instead, with Zhang Tie's close observation spiritually, he found that the "insect" was actually composed of numerous tiny bizarre tadpole-shaped golden runes. If that "insect" was taken as a set of machine, those tiny bizarre tadpole-shaped golden runes were like the parts of this machine.

Zhang Tie was pretty shocked by such an unimaginable method. As an immortal craftsman, Zhang Tie was also petrified by such a "virus" or "insect" being completely composed of mysterious runes. He wondered who could create such a great, secret rune skill as this secret skill had long been out of the reach of Zhang Tie in the realm of runes.

Zhang Tie finally knew why his senior antidote was ineffective to such a virus; because it could never be relieved by medicament at all.

Despite the great shock, Zhang Tie was still seriously observing the golden "insect" which was composed of numerous tiny bizarre tadpole-shaped golden runes in order to discover some secrets.

As time passed by, the "insect" was also slowly changing its frame. Watching its unfolding "insect", Zhang Tie gradually opened his mouth as he revealed an increasingly greater shock.

Because Zhang Tie gradually found that this "insect" was more and more like the image of an egg of "puppet parent worm" in one's brain that he had seen numerous times in the world where he came from. He was too familiar with it. Besides trampling too many eggs of puppet parent worm to death, he also owned some puppet parent worms. He even killed a lot of demons with the eggs of puppet parent worm. He was absolutely sure about that.

Zhang Tie finally realized that the so-called Golden-Soul Rune Virus was an extremely bizarre item combining a powerful runed secret skill and a puppet worm owned by demons which was used to control people. It could thoroughly break through the great defensive abilities of knights or immortal generals. Being much more senior than puppet worms, they could directly turn knights or immortal generals into puppets under the control of others despite with clear consciousness.

If someone could realize mass production of Golden-Soul Rune Virus and control all the immortal generals across Motian Realm using it, undoubtedly, that person would be able to dominate the entire Motian Realm.

When he thought about that possibility, Zhang Tie's back started to ooze sweat out of shock. Before coming here to save them, he had never imagined such a dirty and dangerous thing behind this event.

Who the hell could master such an amazing method among the powers in Motian Realm?

Chapter 1759: Waking Up

The one who created Golden-Soul Rune Virus must be pretty proficient in puppet worms and runes. Otherwise, he could never make such a terrifying virus using a powerful rune skill. Zhang Tie had not even heard about such a method.

Not knowing why, perhaps puppet worm was not a specialty in Motian Realm, demons in Motian Realm didn't have puppet worms. At least demons didn't use it in the wars against humans. Many immortal generals didn't even know such a terrifying thing. 'But the question is how did Grand Justice Qian know the principle of using puppet worm to control humans' brains? How did he improve it and combine it with a rune skill to make Golden-Soul Rune Virus?'

'Who the hell is "His Majesty"?''

A lot of questions occurred in Zhang Tie's mind, making him muddle-headed at a stroke.

When Zhang Tie was observing the Golden-Soul Rune Virus in Ji Yuelan's mind sea, Zhang Tie felt that he could break it using Deity-killing Sword; however, the outcome was that he would blow up Ji Yuelan's head too. It was nothing different than killing her.

According to Zhang Tie's understanding and speculation of puppet worm, after absorbing enough spiritual energy, Golden-Soul Rune Virus would wake them up. They would remain sober-minded. After experiencing the so-called "Sacred Sacrifice" and be branded with other's spirit, Golden-Soul Rune Virus would force them to be fully under control.

'The current situation is pretty tricky. I still have time to check it out.'

After examining the Golden-Soul Rune Virus in Ji Yuelan's mind sea seriously again, Zhang Tie could be able to visualize all the tiny bizarre tadpole-shaped golden runes that made up the Golden-Soul Rune Virus in his own mind sea.

The science of runes was extremely abstruse. Zhang Tie could not understand and master its principle only given their shapes. He could only remember the “looks” of the runes of Golden-Soul Rune Virus first so that he could further study and figure out its secrets. As a person who was proficient in runes, Zhang Tie couldn’t stand to keep a template of such an amazing thing for further study. It was like a person who liked calligraphy being obsessed with brass rubbing or a gourmet who wanted to try every amazing, delicious food.

After “copying” the general situation of Golden-Soul Rune Virus in Ji Yuelan’s mind sea, Zhang Tie did the same to Jiang Ruoxin’s Golden-Soul Rune Virus.

Ji Yuelan was a fierce immortal general while Jiang Ruoxin was an earth immortal general. Zhang Tie wondered whether the Golden-Soul Rune Virus that controlled the two people were different or not or whether all the immortal generals were under the control of the same Golden-Soul Rune Virus.

After copying the two Golden-Soul Rune Virus and comparing them, Zhang Tie discovered that the Golden-Soul Rune Virus in Jiang Ruoxin’s mind sea could absorb more spiritual energy in quantity and quality and grow faster in the same period of time than that in Ji Yuelan’s mind sea. Although the two Golden-Soul Rune Virus were similar in look generally, they were evidently distinctive in the core region.

Those fine tadpole-shaped runes in the core region of the Golden-Soul Rune Virus in the mind sea of Jiang Ruoxin were evidently more complex, advanced and denser than that of Ji Yuelan.

It meant that the Golden-Soul Rune Virus in the mind sea of Jiang Ruoxin was more advanced than that in the mind sea of Ji Yuelan.

After copying the Golden-Soul Rune Virus of Jiang Ruoxin, Zhang Tie copied the Golden-Soul Rune Virus of another female disciple beside her. After making another comparison, Zhang Tie found this female disciple shared the same Golden-Soul Rune Virus with Ji Yuelan. It indicated that there was more than one variety of Golden-Soul Rune Virus in this world, which were divided according to the levels of immortal generals. The higher level the immortal general had, the higher level the Golden-Soul Rune Virus which was used to control him or her would be.

This discovery made Zhang Tie thrilled. Just now Zhang Tie was very afraid that all the Golden-Soul Rune Virus were same, which meant a real catastrophe for Zhang Tie as it reminded him of the products on the assembly line which meant a mass production.

The fact that there were several varieties of Golden-Soul Rune Virus meant that “His Majesty” would spend a lot of efforts in making such terrifying things. In other words, they could barely realize mass production. Zhang Tie concluded easily—if senior Golden-Soul Rune Virus could take effect on inferior immortal generals, “His Majesty” didn’t need to produce inferior Golden-Soul Rune Virus for inferior immortal generals at all. Now that he especially produced inferior Golden-Soul Rune Virus for inferior immortal generals, it implied that it was not easy to produce Golden-Soul Rune Virus. Otherwise, he only needed to produce one kind of Golden-Soul Runed Virus to deal with immortal generals on different levels.

From a certain perspective, this was good news for Zhang Tie.

After getting two templates of Golden-Soul Rune Virus, Zhang Tie took a look at the three beauties beside Ji Yuelan and Jiang Ruoxin who looked like elders of Yin-Yang Sect. Zhang Tie felt that they should have different Golden-Soul Rune Virus.

Zhang Tie then came to the front of a beauty in blue longuette as he put his hand on her forehead, entering her mind sea spiritually and starting to copy her Golden-Soul Rune Virus.

As a water immortal general, this woman's spiritual energy in her mind sea was more energetic. Her Golden-Soul Rune Virus grew even faster than that of Jiang Ruoxin. Zhang Tie felt that she might recover her consciousness in a few hours.

Those dense runes in the core area of her Golden-Soul Rune Virus were greater in quantity and more complex than that in Jiang Ruoxin's mind sea. Zhang Tie's speculation was verified again.

After Zhang Tie copied her Golden-Soul Rune Virus, the beauty in purple beside her suddenly opened her eyes.

Zhang Tie noticed her amazing look at once. Before she uttered any voice, Zhang Tie had rushed over there and covered her mouth.

"Hush, I'm on your side. I'm here to save you. Those immortal generals in black robe are outside..." Zhang Tie told the woman secretly as he added, "Nod if you understand me..."

Watching Zhang Tie's look, the beauty gradually recovered her composure. At the same time, a blurry expression flashed across her face. After considering it for a few seconds, she nodded lightly.

As all the alive members of Yin-Yang Sect had become the flesh on the kneading board, it was unnecessary for those people who caught them to perform in front of them.

After designing a layer of vacuum space around the beauty and him, Zhang Tie slowly loosened his grip.

"What's your name?" Zhang Tie asked secretly.

The beauty in purple just watched him in daze as she remained silent.

Zhang Tie thought this woman might have not recovered completely. Therefore, he asked her again. The beauty gazed at Zhang Tie's face for a short while before looking at his hand which was put on her mouth just now. Then, she cast her eyes down, murmuring, "This humble woman is...Su Haimei..."

At that time, Zhang Tie didn't feel like caring about her amazing look; instead, he continued, "How do you feel? Can you run your battle qi and spiritual energy?"

"I feel soft all over... I don't have strength. Even weaker than commoners. I can neither run my battle qi nor spiritual energy," the beauty said tenderly as she glanced at Zhang Tie rapidly.

With a frown, Zhang Tie sighed inside, saying, "This Golden-Soul Rune Virus is too strange." Previously, Zhang Tie thought that these people could recover their ability to a certain degree after waking up. He didn't imagine that they had completely lost their battle strength physically and spiritually. 'Does it mean that these victims won't recover their battle strength until the so-called "Sacred Sacrifice"'

“Sorry to offend you...” Zhang Tie left some words before putting his hands on her lower abdomen and forehead at the same time and starting to check her situation seriously, eyes closed.

Watching Zhang Tie, the face of the beauty in purple gradually turned red, which looked pretty captivating.

Chapter 1760: A Talk

The woman’s battle qi in her qi sea was normal; however, the Golden-Soul Rune Virus in her mind sea had already developed into the form of a puppet worm completely which was giving out golden light. Those bizarre tadpole-shaped runes had got many rune tentacles which covered the swirl of the spiritual energy in the mind sea of the woman. Some rune tentacles even deepened into her brain...

The Golden-Soul Rune Virus didn’t make any response to Zhang Tie’s spiritual inspection. However, it had completely integrated with the woman’s mind sea and brain. As a result, it was more difficult for Zhang Tie to remove it.

After withdrawing his hand, Zhang Tie opened his eyes as he found the woman was looking at him with rosy cheeks. After seeing that Zhang Tie had opened his eyes, she felt bashful.

At the sight of her expression, Zhang Tie immediately felt her subtle mental condition. He then took a serious look at her as he found this beauty in purple was mature with plump breasts, almond-shaped eyes, rosy cheeks and elegant, enchanting frame. She was indeed a rare beauty. If Zhang Tie was favored by such a beauty in Blackhot City, he might have laughed out even in dreams. No, he wouldn’t even fall asleep in the evening. However, at this critical moment, Zhang Tie didn’t feel like flirting with her at all.

To tell the truth, Zhang Tie was a bit regretful at this moment. ‘Why did I become so handsome? It seems that I’ve underestimated the attraction of this look to women. I should become a bit average.’

“There’s no problem with the battle qi in the void above your qi sea, try to run it...” Zhang Tie said calmly.

Zhang Tie’s good look took effect at once. The moment the woman heard his suggestion, she inhaled and closed her eyes. In a split second, she had frowned as her face turned pale, oozing fine sweat all over her forehead. She then opened her eyes as she shook her head, saying, “I cannot do it. As long as I want to run my battle qi, I will feel a red-hot needle piercing into my brain through the central forehead. As a result, I have to stop it...I feel...feel that something might be in my mind sea. But I don’t know what it is...”

Zhang Tie could feel the Golden-Soul Rune Virus because of his super great spiritual energy and the secret skill of Bloody Soul Sutra. As for these immortal generals who had been affected by Golden-Soul Runed Virus, even if Golden-Soul Runed Virus were in their bodies, they still didn’t know anything. It was like how commoners felt after being poisoned on many occasions. Despite feeling uncomfortable, they didn’t know where was the problem.

It was another terrifying feature of Golden-Soul Runed Virus—being invisible. People could barely check out where it was even if it was in their body.

“Can you run your spiritual energy now?”

After hearing Zhang Tie’s hint, Su Haimei tried it as she shook her head again, answering, “No, like how I ran my battle qi, the moment I run my spiritual energy, the part in the central forehead will ache sharply...”

‘That got to be the effect of Golden-Soul Rune Virus. After these people wake up, they could maintain their consciousness; however, their abilities are restricted. They might have no ability to resist before the so-called “Sacred Sacrifice”.’

Zhang Tie remained silent as he was thinking about two questions rapidly.

‘If so, even if all the immortal generals of Yin-Yang Sect wakes up, as they have lost their abilities, it would be difficult for me to take them away from here. What’s more, before “Sacred Sacrifice”, the Golden-Soul Rune Virus might become more dangerous or experience other unexpected changes after I take them away from here. What if it directly kills these people?’

‘The ideal condition was that I could postpone the date of “Sacred Sacrifice” endlessly after these people wake up, in which situation, I will have no worries even if they have lost their battle strength. They only need to stay alive. In this way, I could spare more time to work out a solution to relieve Golden-Soul Rune Virus.’

However, Zhang Tie knew that the possibility for him to reach this real condition was pretty low. Given the ability and intelligence of the creator of Golden-Soul Rune Virus, he would never allow the batch of virus that he had spent great efforts to create to be ineffective.

‘How could I help them out?’

As Zhang Tie thought about the above two questions, he found that it became increasingly trickier.

“Mr...Mr...hero, may I know your name? Why are you here?” watching Zhang Tie thinking about it with a frown, Su Haimei asked him.

“Just call me Donder!” Zhang Tie instantly borrowed Donder’s name. No matter what, Donder was lecherous and shameless. He would definitely have drooled in front of such a rare beauty. As Zhang Tie recalled Donder’s look, he continued with a solemn look, “Last night, when I passed by Redmountain City accidentally, I saw some guys catch some people in the castle and fly out of it. Therefore, I stealthily followed them. Oh, I found they didn’t outnumber you. As you’re all immortal generals, why didn’t you fight them? Additionally, you have no external wounds, how did they catch you? It seems that you’ve been poisoned...”

“I don’t know about it either. Last night, when we saw those people break in Ying Clan’s castle, one of the opponents in black robe took out a weird gourd. The moment the gourd’s lid was opened, some golden sparkles had flown out of it towards us. When a golden sparkle flew towards me, I slashed towards it. Unexpectedly, the golden sparkle thoroughly ignored my saber. Closely after that, my central forehead ached. Then, I felt dizzy and lost my consciousness!”

After hearing Su Haimei’s description, Zhang Tie finally knew the situation where Ji Yuelan sent the half message to him. True love could be checked in crises. When Zhang Tie realized that Ji Yuelan was still worrying about him in such a critical situation, he felt complex at a stroke.

'No matter what, I have to save all the immortal generals of Yin-Yang Sect this time.' Zhang Tie made a decision.

Golden-Soul Rune Virus could be barely defended. It could almost ignore any defense and strike of immortal generals, which was similar to that of thunder of nirvana. No wonder the entire Ying Clan's castle had completely collapsed in only a few minutes.

"Oh, how are the common servants and guardians of Ying Clan's castle?" Su Haimei hurriedly asked Zhang Tie.

"Besides the 27 immortal generals which were caught on this airboat, all the other living beings in the castle had been killed, even chicken and dogs..." Zhang Tie replied lightly. After hearing Zhang Tie's words, Su Haimei's face turned completely pale as she burst into tears at once...
