

BLACK PLAIN 462

Chapter 462: Unexpected Guests?

After hearing Abby's comment, Minos nodded in agreement. "Well, when it's time, just let me know, and I'll be ready to go to that spot right away."

"Anyway, changing the subject, how are things going with the army's formation leaders division?"

Abby then smiled and started talking about it. "We are doing well. We still have few members, so everything is under control. Young people are dedicating themselves a lot to their studies. They have a lot of potentials, especially those two, Lee and Alison."

"They will likely be Spiritual Kings before they graduate!"

"As for those slightly older soldiers who have joined this division, they are having some difficulties, but we have a lot of time to resolve this." She declared with a calm expression on her face.

Ten years was a long time, and this young woman believed that even the oldest people in those groups could meet the criteria established by Minos and herself. And since there hadn't even been a year since the beginning of these people's training, it was to be expected that some would encounter some difficulties.

After all, even though the cultivator's memory was generally superb, part of the learning was related to people's personalities. Such a thing would always be formed during youth when personal experiences are more limited.

So, for older people, who already had their personalities completely shaped, making some changes in their lifestyle and thoughts could be pretty complicated...

Unfortunately, that could get in their way for learning some skills, like those taught in the Black Plain Army's formation leaders division!

Such difficulties would appear in any actions in the Spiritual World, so this was something to be worked on. Still, it didn't impede the progress of Minos' plans for his army.

Therefore, the thing Abby had informed didn't worry Minos.

"Hmm, that's to be expected..." He briefly commented as he saw that his girlfriend wanted to keep talking.

"I heard that Neal had signed up for the division but then dropped out because of the Elite Squad, something he found out later... But anyway, if he hadn't changed his mind, you would let someone like him lead one of the future cities of the Black Plain for you?" She asked, still a little dissatisfied with this person's entry into Minos' army.

Abby had been stunned when she had found out from Minos about Celeste and Neal's arrival in the Dry City. But when she found out that the young man who had studied with her and her boyfriend at the Spiritual Academy in the capital of the Brown Kingdom, this young woman had been angered by this information.

After all, one of her friends, Brooke, had been Neal and Celeste's victim... Therefore, she couldn't help but feel a particular dislike for such people.

However, Abby had to accept the presence of these people here, as the army truly needed more strength, and she knew that very well.

Minos then laughed. "Of course I would, he signed a Soul Contract with me, and he can't betray the Black Plain. Furthermore, if he had gone ahead with this plan to enter that division, he would still have to complete all the requirements to be eligible to lead."

"After all that, this kind of personal matter would have no importance on my decision. At least not in terms of choosing city administrators. But why your curiosity? Are you still angry? Maybe you should go see that woman working in the fields, hehehe."

"Hmph, that was the only good part of your decision." Abby complained in a low voice, trying not to smile.

She had found this choice of Minos fascinating. However, although it was amusing, she knew that it was still small considering the woman's crimes. And despite not having sympathy for these people, this young woman knew perfectly well that it was not her or her boyfriend's job to try to interfere in Brooke's affairs.

After those words had been said, Minos got up from his chair and went to the side of the table where Abby was until he picked her up and kissed her lips passionately.

"Mmmm~"

Then the young ruler of this region strolled to the biggest sofa in that office, where he bent down and sat down while continuing to hold Abby in his arms, kissing her without disturbance.

"Do you want to do this now?" Then, right after separating her lips from Minos', she whispered in his ear, already with a happy smile on her face. "Besides, we do this every day, morning, and night. Do you wish to have me in the mid-afternoons too?"

Hearing Abby's teasing tone, young Stuart chuckled for a moment as he ran his hands over her perfect buttocks. "It's not a bad idea... You know I'm always full of energy after cultivating."

Pa! Pa! Pa!

But when the temperature of the two was gradually rising, Mia knocked on the door a few times and soon after entered that place. Shortly after that, the couple stopped what they were starting to do.

"Young master, we have a problem..." She started to speak when she entered that place.

Yet, suddenly she looked in the direction where Minos was and saw those two youths next to each other, with flushed cheeks and slightly messy clothes.

It was nothing significant, but for a woman, the smallest of details would be enough for her to understand everything that had happened before she walked in here...

And Mia paused in her speech, noticing Minos' unbuttoned shirt and Abby's sloppy dress, which showed that this young woman had dressed in a hurry...

"Sorry young master, I think..." She tried to say something but stuttered nervously.

She usually only entered this place after receiving the order from Minos. Still, as it was an urgent matter, she had walked in here without worrying too much about it this time.

"Don't worry, Mia, we weren't doing anything." Minos broke the silence that had been established for a few seconds and then asked. "What did you want to communicate to me?"

"Uh, we have a problem reported by the army. Two women arrived in the Dry City a few moments ago and asked about you."

Hearing this, Abby was the first to say something. "Did they ask about him? And what is special about them for this to be communicated urgently?"

"Uh, almost forgot, forgive me." Mia apologized, somewhat embarrassed, still a little agitated by what had happened before. "One of them is at level 52!"

"A woman at level 52? Do I know someone like that?" Minos wondered in a low voice as he looked away and tried to remember if he knew any women with such cultivation. 'Is it someone sent by that woman? Or is it that...'

"Do they have green hair?"

"That's right!"

"So it's them..." He muttered when suddenly he saw his young girlfriend staring at him with a curious look. He then smirked at her and asked that secretary again. "Thanks, Mia. And where are they?"

"They are already in the local prison."

"I see. Tell the soldiers to let them go and bring them to me." He ordered, before that young secretary finally left that place, going to resolve this matter.

Abby then asked the question she so wanted to ask. "Who are these women?"

"Hehe, do you remember when we visited the City of Waters?"

Hearing this, Abby's pupils subtly contracted as she realized what this young man meant by that. "So, these two were the people you were with that night? And why would they come here now?"

"Yes, but as to why they're here, I'm not sure. But they probably want to do business."

"Business?"

"Hmm, remember what I told you before? About..." After that, the two talked a little about this matter between Minos and Mirya, until finally, the visitors arrived at the door of this young man's office...
