

Blessed 112

Chapter 112 The Secret Menu

Trevor walked towards the door in a daze, his shoulders drooping in disappointment.

He was ecstatic on the way here.

He wondered how Luisa would react once she received the gift.

Maybe she would not accept it because it was too expensive.

If so, he would have to think of an excuse to make her do so.

Trevor hoped that the gift would bring a smile to her face.

But at that moment, he realized that everything seemed so beautiful yet easy to destroy.

A bitter smile appeared on Trevor's face. Although the distance to the door was short, he felt like it took forever to reach it.

Just then, Luisa came out of the restroom.

"Hey, Trevor. Are you leaving already?"

She trotted over, took Trevor's hand enthusiastically, and brought him back to the handsome man.

"Let me introduce you to each other. Trevor, this is Balfour, my brother."

Trevor was stunned.

His disappointment disappeared in an instant. Now, he seemed rather surprised by Luisa's words. Did he just misunderstand the whole situation?"

"Balfour, this is—"

Before Luisa could finish her words, Balfour Burke interrupted her. "Your name is Trevor, right? We met just now."

Trevor was quite annoyed. It did not take a genius to know that Balfour had misled him on purpose.

Nevertheless, Balfour was Luisa's brother. So even though Trevor was displeased with him, he tried his best to restrain himself from losing his temper.

"Trevor is my friend. Be nice to him!"

Luisa kicked Balfour in the shin in dissatisfaction when she noticed his brother's hostility towards Trevor.

Balfour sighed and said, "If you say so. Anyway, I just came by to tell you that our cousin is getting married at the end of the month. We have to start preparing for our wedding gift. I'll leave after I tell you all the details."

He then shrugged and added, "But now, I'm hungry. Is it okay with you if I eat here?"

Although that sounded like a question, he looked at Trevor expectantly.

Luisa touched her forehead in exasperation and smiled helplessly at him.

"Sure. You can eat with us. But I'm afraid I'll have to spend all my money if you ask me to treat you as well. When we're done eating, drive us back to school."

"No problem. Now be quick and order the food. I'm starving."

Trevor was fascinated by the siblings' conversation. Well, since he owned Scarlet Restaurant, he did not care about the fact that the price of the food here was exorbitant.

Judging from the conversation, Luisa had come from a rich family and could afford a full entree. Nevertheless, Trevor did not want the person he liked to spend too much money.

"Luisa, do you know that there's a hidden menu in this restaurant? Let's order them."

Trevor used the trick he had used before. It might be an effective excuse to help Luisa with the cost of the meal.

However, Balfour seemed skeptical. "This high-end restaurant has just opened. I've never heard of any hidden menus.

I know a poor student like you can't afford to dine here. The least you can do is verify if what you've heard is true. I have no idea how you found out about it. But are you honestly going to believe it?"

Balfour asked sarcastically.

"It doesn't matter if you know about it or not. But I'm sure what I'm saying is true,"

Trevor insisted while staring at Balfour with an intense gaze.

For a moment, Balfour was at a loss. He even felt as though he had lost his ability to speak. Could it be that what the poor guy was saying was true?

Regardless, he quickly abandoned the idea. He would not allow such a lowly person to prove him wrong.

'Damn it! To think, I even felt a little intimidated by this brat!'

While staring daggers at Trevor, Balfour pounded the table with his fist and shouted, "Don't give me that bullshit! If there's really a hidden menu in this restaurant, I'll do a handstand while I'm eating!"