Chapter 124 You Are Such A Disgusting Playboy!

Only then did Keyla turn to look at Trevor, who had been ignored all the time, and said, "They really are not cheap! If I remembered clearly, this is the taste of the ruby grapes from Rome!"

All of a sudden, Keyla changed her attitude towards Trevor as she kept explaining, "Actually, I was lucky enough to have a taste of this kind of grape at a lady's tea party. Each grape costs over a hundred dollars!"

When everyone heard her words, they were stunned! They gasped for the price of a single grape.

At this rate, if they kept eating them, it would worth thousands of dollars when they finished eating everything.

Subconsciously, Aggy licked her lips as if she could still savor the sweet taste of the grape.

Seeing the reactions from everyone, Marlon's face turned gloomy. His mockery only benefitted Trevor.

Not long after that, Keyla came over to Trevor's side and chatted with him warmly. The indifferent attitude she had kept all the time disappeared.

In her mind, she thought, 'If he can afford to buy the ruby grapes from Rome, he must be a rich man who is keeping a low profile.'

The more she thought about it, the more handsome Trevor became in her mind, and even the shabby clothes seemed to show his good taste in fashion.

Since she had been socializing in the noble women's circle for many years, she was experienced. She didn't seem to be embarrassed about her drastic change of behavior before and after.

With a friendly smile on her face, Keyla observed Trevor's actions as she said, "Trevor, are you also friends with my daughter? Thank you so much for visiting us.

It's a shame that the Harper family caused our family trouble. Otherwise, we can host you well."

Of course, she deliberately implicated the matter in order to see whether Trevor had the ability to help them deal with such kind of big trouble.

Furrowing his eyebrows, Trevor asked, "Is that Harper family very powerful? Are they more powerful than the Cloud Technology Company?"

Honestly, Trevor was nervous because of the drastic change of Luisa's mother's behavior. However, he easily found a standard to know the power of the Harper family by comparing with the Moran family.

'Good heavens! He is an acquaintance with the Moran family, isn't he?'

Upon hearing Trevor's words, both Rodney and Keyla were ecstatic!

Suddenly, they became hopeful. Was he confident because he was a low-key rich man who didn't take the Harper family seriously?

Rubbing his hands enthusiastically, Rodney smiled and explained, "Well, both the Moran family and the Harper family are one of the top ten families in Jork. But, I think the Moran family is more powerful. Do you happen to know any members from the Moran family?"

As Luisa's parents were chatting with Trevor warmly, Marlon got annoyed.

Seeing that he was being treated coldly while Trevor became a distinguished guest, Marlon shouted angrily, "You guys shouldn't be fooled by a poor loser! It's true that he knows the member of the Moran family, but it's only because he is kept by Selma of the Moran family! Why will the Moran family listen to a poor guy like him?"

It was needless to say that Aggy was on the same side with Marlon.

At first, Aggy didn't know what to say either. However, when she saw the earrings that Luisa was wearing, she felt it looked a bit familiar. Frowning, she asked, "Luisa, did Trevor give you those earrings? I saw that Selma was buying it for him with my own eyes. You can ask Trevor if you don't believe me!"

Thinking about it, she looked at Trevor in disgust and shouted, "Trevor, you're not only a useless man who is living off a woman, now you're planning to deceive Luisa? You are such a disgusting playboy!"

Because of Marlon and Aggy's insults, Keyla loosened the grip she held on Trevor's arm and looked at Trevor with her eyes filled with contempt.
