

Blessed 164

Chapter 164 No One In The Parking Lo

When the girls heard Marlon's exclamation, they didn't realize anything anxious in his voice. They asked excitedly one after another.

"Oh, I think your good friend is coming, Marlon."

"Oh my God! What should we do? I didn't dress well today!"

"Marlon, please put in a good word for us to your friend."

At that time, Marlon was so flustered that he couldn't care less what others were talking about.

Poking his head around, he looked around in panic and said in a hurry, "Hurry up. All of you, stay away from the Bugatti first. Actually... My good friend doesn't really like strangers touching his car."

Although he wanted to run away so badly, he didn't dare to do so as he was afraid that it would irritate the owner of the car more. He didn't even care about losing his face in front of others at all.

For him, being punished by the owner of the car was more terrifying than losing face in front of others.

His words had a great impact on everyone.

In an instant, everyone moved away from the Bugatti car.

Most of the girls immediately took out their cosmetic boxes in a hurry and fixed their make-up. All of them wanted to show their perfect image as they wanted to leave the best first impression on the rich man who owned the luxury car!

Seeing the scene where everyone looked flustered, Trevor couldn't help but chuckle in a low voice.

Because of Marlon's words, everyone subconsciously stepped away from the Bugatti supercar. Therefore, only Trevor was the closest to the car right now.

Staring at Trevor, Estrella pointed at him and said, "Poor loser, are you deaf? Didn't you hear what Marlon said? He said his good friend doesn't like when someone gets close to his car."

"If you want to get punishment, I won't stop you. But don't get us into trouble because of you."

Hearing it, Aggy remarked, "She's right and don't think Marlon will intercede for you."

At that moment, everyone's eyes were fixed solely on Trevor.

Some of them despised him and teased him for gloating.

Luisa was the only one who looked at Trevor with worry. She was really afraid that his behavior would irritate the super-rich young man.

Not wanting him to get punished, Luisa hurried forward as she pulled his hand and said, "Trevor, don't stand so close. It's not good to offend the owner of the car."

Trevor felt a little moved when he saw the nervous and concerned look on Luisa's face.

To comfort her, Trevor patted her hand and said with a faint smile on his face, "It doesn't matter actually. Look, there's no one else in the parking lot."

Of course, everyone got scared when they heard Marlon's words. Therefore, they stepped away from the car without even thinking about checking the surrounding.

Now that Trevor said that, all of them looked around and found that there was indeed no one who was walking towards them.

Curling her lips unhappily, Estrella said, "Well, no wonder a poor loser like you dare to stand still and pretend to be calm."

As a matter of fact, she was unhappy because she didn't get to see Trevor being punished for offending the super-rich young man.

Since most of the girls despised Trevor, they started to mock him in a sarcastic voice.

"I know right. He is just so disgusting."

"Ha-ha, I'm sure he is relieved to see that no one was coming and he started to show off."

The way Trevor was calm made the panicked crowd look like a group of idiots.

Hearing them insulting again, Trevor felt morose.

Gritting his teeth, Trevor thought, 'Are you kidding me? Why should I be worried about offending myself?'

Well, Marlon was the only one who was feeling relieved now!

With a playful look on his face, Trevor turned to look at Marlon.

Even though his legs were still a little weak, Marlon was indeed relieved.

If Trevor spoke about it a few seconds later, he would have fallen on the ground in fear.

Truth be told, even if his father would kneel down if he saw the owner of the luxury car which was worth 24 million dollars.

Despite the situation, Marlon was still pretending to remain calm stubbornly. With a trace of regret on his face, he said calmly, "Well, it seems like the Bugatti made a sound because someone accidentally touched the alarm.

I'm sorry, my ladies. I will introduce the owner of the car to you guys next time."

While talking, Marlon noticed that Trevor was looking at him.

With a snort, he said, "Trevor, you got lucky this time! If my friend found out that a poor guy like you dare to get close to his car, he will definitely break your legs. If that happens, I'm sure you won't be able to get out of it."