Chapter 189 A Tour On The Yacht

After greeting with all the big tycoons, Trevor decided to take a walk around the yacht as he originally planned.

After all, he had bought a yacht that was worth 1.5 billion dollars. Therefore, there was no reason not to enjoy the happiness of his wealth.

When they passed by their original seats, Frey jumped out of his seat in a hurry.

Licking his lips nervously, Frey said, "M-Mr. Sanderson! I-I... I'm a fool and an annoying fly! I even brought the tape here to seal my mouth!"

Hearing it, Trevor was frightened. This guy was indeed weird.

Right now, Frey was shamelessly trying to be friends with Trevor by using the bet that he had been denying before.

Trevor was thinking of avoiding Frey when Bentlee came over from the other side in a hurry.

Then, he bowed his head and stretched his hands out respectfully to shake hands with Trevor.

"Mr. Sanderson! I apologize for not recognizing you. Please forgive me."

Unlike last time, Trevor had no intention of reaching out his hand again.

Trevor was going to treat Bentlee the way he was treated by him when they first met.

When Trevor didn't shake his hands, Bentlee stuttered anxiously, "Well... This..."

Bentlee got so anxious that cold sweat started to form on his forehead. Although his hands were a little sore as they had been in the air for a long time, he didn't dare to take them back.

If he got on the bad side of Trevor, his family would surely be ruined in a minute!

Taking advantage of this opportunity, Hilda also came towards Trevor coquettishly.

"Mr. Sanderson, I made a mistake before. Can you also show me around the yacht?"

Looking at the three shameless people who were blocking his path, Trevor sneered angrily.

After everything they had said to him, now they wanted to fawn on him? It was already too late!

"Where are the security guards? I don't know these people. Come and stop them.

Also, if they dare to make trouble again, put a swimming ring on them and throw them into the water!"

Ignoring the look of pain on their faces, Trevor went straight to the deck and started exploring the luxury yacht.

All of them walked through the bright garden and under the white billowing waterfall curtain...

Compared with the view they saw from the dock, the tour on the yacht was more spectacular and unique.

Even after walking around for more than two hours, Trevor didn't feel tired because of the excitement.

Both Gavin and Selma were also in high spirits. The tour on the yacht was really worth it.

Even the rich people like them rarely had the chance to get in touch with this kind of valuable yacht.

In an excited voice, Selma shouted, "Mr. Sanderson, when are you taking us out to the sea to have fun?"

Hearing her words, Trevor was somewhat tempted. Then, he thought, 'Now that she mentioned it, I think I can invite Luisa and the others to a party on the sea in this luxury yacht.'

However, if he revealed his real identity, he was afraid that Luisa would change her attitude towards him. Thinking about it, Trevor became a little worried. In the end, he sighed in his heart and said, "Forget about it. I just want to live a normal college life. I like the way it is now."

When they finished taking a tour, it was almost dusk.

On his way to the school, Trevor thought about Selma's suggestion the whole time.

All of a sudden, his phone rang which interrupted his thoughts.

Seeing the caller ID, Trevor frowned as it was from Aggy.

As far as he had known Aggy, there was no good news from her calls. Most of the time, she called him to ask him to do all kinds of dirty work.

Mostly, she either asked him to do the cleaning or carry some sports equipment...

After thinking for a while, Trevor answered the phone.

After all, he didn't need to be afraid of Aggy anymore, even though she was the president of the student union.

On the other end of the phone, Aggy said, "Hello, Trevor, there is a school party today. Come here quickly."
