Chapter 208 Get Out Of Here

In fact, Jaiden didn't see Trevor at the door of the ward. Instead, he only met Howe who kept flattering him which made him a little annoyed.

Therefore, when he was stopped like that, he got annoyed and looked up to scold him.

However, at that moment he found that Trevor was the one who stopped him.

In an instant, the expression on Jaiden's face changed. In an enthusiastic voice, he answered, "Mr. Sanderson, Miss Burke's fever has gone down and her condition is stable now."

Then, he frowned slightly and thought for a while before continuing, "But maybe she has experienced something unpleasant which made her so scared. So, her mental state isn't stable. There's a possibility that she will suffer the selective amnesia. You have to be mentally prepared for that."

Hearing the reply from Jaiden, Trevor felt even guiltier than before.

Oh, how he wished he could only kill Aggy and Arjun when he had the chance!

Nonetheless, things had already happened so, Trevor had to be patient. Licking his lips nervously, he asked with concern, "Will she get her memories back?"

Seeing the look on Trevor's face, Jaiden knew how important Luisa was to Trevor. Sighing slightly, he said, "I'm afraid I am not skillful enough to give you an answer. But I can assure you that her condition isn't serious. Letting her in a good mood will help her regain her memory as soon as possible."

Hearing it, Trevor calmed down a little and thanked Jaiden for helping him.

After talking for a while with Jaiden, he said goodbye to him. Then, he wanted to go upstairs and visit Luisa again.

However, thinking about her parents' hostile attitude towards him, he decided against it. Sighing slightly, he murmured, "Since they don't want to see me, I will just have to come here and visit tomorrow."

The next morning, Trevor went to the hospital early in the morning with a basket of fruits.

In the VIP ward, Keyla was talking with Jaiden enthusiastically.

Knowing that she was Luisa's mother, Jaiden nodded with a smile.

After greeting each other, he checked Luisa's condition again.

Not only he felt her pulse, he even fed the medicine personally.

As he was concentrating on his work, his forehead was sweating a bit.

Seeing his actions, Keyla was even happier.

Jaiden treated Luisa carefully and attentively like a nurse.

Of course, Keyla thought that Howe was so remarkable that he could even ask Jaiden to treat her daughter like this.

She had never seen nor heard that anyone in Jork had received such kind of attentive care from Jaiden.

Therefore, Keyla was even more satisfied with Howe.

At that time, there was a knock on the door.

Smiling brightly, Keyla said under her breath, "Wait a minute. That must be Howe."

Thinking it was Howe, Keyla ran to open the door with anticipation.

As soon as the door was opened, her face darkened.

To her dismay, it was Trevor who was standing at the door.

Once Trevor saw Keyla, he raised the fruit basket in his hand awkwardly and greeted politely, "Good morning, Mrs. Burke."

Before he could say anything, Keyla interrupted him rudely.

"What are you doing here, Trevor? Didn't we tell you that you have nothing to do with Luisa?"

Since he was feeling guilty, Trevor restrained himself and said gently, "I heard that Luisa is in a better condition now. So, I come here to visit her."

Hearing his words, Keyla looked even more disdainful.

Curling her lips, she said casually, "Well, put down your fruit basket and leave. I don't want Howe to misunderstand us. Don't get too close to Luisa or else you might cause misunderstanding between them."

When Trevor didn't say anything, Jaiden couldn't stand it anymore.

After all, he came to treat Luisa for the sake of Trevor.

So why were the Burke family members being ungrateful to him? Why were they treating him badly?

When he received the call yesterday, he knew that Trevor was keeping a low profile and didn't want to expose his identity as the young master of the Sanderson family.

Whatever the reason was, they shouldn't bully him this way.

As he couldn't think of anything to solve the problem, Jaiden snorted and turned away.

On the other hand, Keyla misunderstood Jaiden as she thought that Jaiden disliked Trevor. Pointing a finger at Trevor, she snapped coldly, "Can't you see that even Dr. Hudson doesn't want to see you? Get out of here now, brat!"
