Chapter 237 Welcome Ceremony

In the auditorium, all the students in the assembly hall were notified by the student union.

Normally, teachers wouldn't come to such kind of welcome ceremony.

On the stage, a male student with blonde hair and earrings was looking down at the audience with an arrogant look on his face.

In front of the male student's seat, there was a nameplate and Keanu Brown was printed on it.

With a cold smile on his face, Keanu looked as if he had everything under control.

There was a group of people who were surrounding him.

As Mattie had just taken the place as the student president, she didn't have the proper bearing as the president at all.

Instead, she just stood behind Keanu with a flattering smile on her face and followed his orders.

"Mr. Brown, don't be angry at her. Luisa just has a bad temper and she is so reckless sometimes. Don't worry, we will make her obey you."

At that time, the other people around Keanu also made some rude remarks about Luisa.

"That's right. Women these days are more arrogant. You are just going easy on them, Mr. Brown. Maybe that's why they think you are easy to bully."

With a bitter look on her face, Luisa bit her lip nervously and said, "I'm saying the truth. I sprained my ankle this morning. So, I really can't dance."

Actually, she thought that her excuse was enough to refuse Keanu's request.

At that time, Drake jumped into the conversation. Although his face was still covered with gauze, he was still shameless. Crossing his arms, Drake said smugly, "You mean you sprained your ankle? Then take off your shoes and let Mr. Brown check your ankle."

Hearing his words, the crowd burst into laughter and some of them even whistled.

Although Luisa was very angry, she didn't know what to do under the limelight.

Seeing the nervous look on Luisa's face, Drake became more complacent. He reached his hand out to pull Luisa.

His hand was about to touch Luisa when he was suddenly pushed away by a brute force.

Since he wasn't expecting it, Drake lost his balance and fell to the ground.

When he saw the culprit who pushed him, he shouted in surprise and anger, "Trevor, you're definitely courting to death!"

Seeing that Trevor came in to protect Luisa, Keanu said with a playful glint in his eyes, "Who is this guy?"

Since Drake was humiliated by Trevor again and again, he became very furious. Looking at Trevor with burning hatred, he said, "Mr. Brown, this guy's name is Trevor Sanderson. He is just a poor loser who is close to Luisa."

Hearing this, Keanu sneered and said, "Oh, I heard from my sister that the mysterious Mr. Sanderson in Jork is also studying in this university. If your surname is Sanderson, are you that mysterious rich man?"

In fact, before he came to this school, his sister had repeatedly told him to have a good relationship with Mr. Sanderson.

Moreover, Jeanne even sent Mr. Sanderson's information to Keanu. However, Keanu deleted it directly without even reading it.

Obviously, he knew what his sister was up to. After all, his family was depending on the Sanderson Group now.

Therefore, Jeanne wanted Keanu to have a good relationship with Mr. Sanderson in order to promote their family's business.

However, he could care less about it as the most important thing for him was to have fun!

Keanu's words made the crowd burst into laughter again.

Among them, Mattie laughed so hard that even tears started to roll down on her cheeks.

With a disdainful look on her face, she said, "Mr. Brown, just take a look at him. He is so poor that he doesn't look like a rich man at all. If he is that mysterious Mr. Sanderson, then I am the daughter of the richest man in Jork."

One of the men among the crowd said, "I heard that there is a mysterious rich man called Aver in the school. Maybe he is the Mr. Sanderson you are talking about."

Keanu just nodded and didn't think about it too much.

Honestly, he didn't care who Mr. Sanderson was. Otherwise, he would have known it by reading the information sent by his sister.

In fact, he wasn't interested in ridiculing a poor loser. When he looked at Trevor, only contempt was filled in his eyes.

Seeing the expression on Keanu's face, Drake immediately understood what he meant. With a flattering face, he said, "Mr. Brown, it's a disgrace for someone like Trevor to appear in your welcome ceremony. Actually, he only lowered the level of the ceremony."

Hearing this, the others agreed, "He's right. That kind of poor man doesn't deserve to stay here. Get out right now!"
