

Blessed 250

Chapter 250 Have Fun With Me

Keanu froze on the spot.

He was stunned.

These rich men were here to attend his farewell party, but they did not even know who he was.

But it must be because he had not introduced himself.

Keanu smiled again and said, "I'm Keanu, the host of this party."

Gavin looked at him up and down, curled his lips, and then turned to Wendy.

"Wendy, did you invite us here to say goodbye to this guy?"

Wendy kept her face neutral, but the ice in her eyes sent a chill down Keanu's spine. She shrugged.

"I don't know who this man is. We should call security and have him escorted out."

It was then that Keanu began to panic.

What was happening? Was this party not for him?

He thought that these wealthy people had come to party with him.

He did not understand why they did not know him at all.

Keanu swallowed, his face turning deathly pale.

"Well, I guess it's not easy for this brainless guy to grow up like this."

Standing a fair distance away, Trevor carefully watched the situation unfold. Seeing the embarrassed expression on Keanu's face, he could not help grinning.

At this moment, a woman came up to him from behind and said to him in a low voice, "Hi, Mr. Sanderson. I'm sorry I'm late. How do you find the party so far?"

Trevor turned to the woman who just approached him, and his eyes darted to the black cat-eye mask that she was wearing. She was in a little black dress that was simple but flaunted her body's hourglass shape. Her lips were red and beckoning, and it derailed Trevor's train of thought for just a bit.

It took Trevor a minute, but he eventually figured out who he was talking to.

This woman just asked him about the party. This must be Jeanne.

Even though Trevor was usually nice to Jeanne, his temper got the best of him this time.

He pointed to Keanu's direction.

"I find it unsatisfactory. Look."

When Jeanne arrived, she used the service entrance on her way up to the deck.

She was too busy trotting to the party as fast as she could that she did not notice what was happening.

If Trevor had not pointed out the commotion, Jeanne would not have realized that somebody had crashed the party.

The moment she saw who Trevor was pointing at, she pressed her lips together in a thin line.

At the same time, Keanu noticed that Trevor was pointing in his direction.

He was already humiliated that the people who just arrived were entertaining the idea of throwing him out.

Seeing Trevor pointing at him, he became even unhappier.

He marched toward Trevor in a last-ditch attempt to save face.

"Why are you pointing at me? Don't you believe me when I say I can toss you out at sea?" Keanu threatened.

It was then that he noticed the woman in the black mask beside Trevor.

She was extremely attractive.

Even though she was wearing a mask, her eyes were amazingly beautiful.

But why did she look familiar?

Keanu hesitated for a while and then gave up thinking.

This was a beautiful woman in front of him, and she should make his acquaintance.

He flashed her a crooked smile.

Then, he licked his lips as he ran his eyes all over her.

He stroked his hair and said, "Hi. Have you come to the party with this poor loser? Well, don't worry, baby. I'm here to rescue you. Come have fun with me tonight, and I promise to give you one of the best nights of your life."

After saying that, Keanu whistled and undressed the masked woman in front of him with his eyes.

Jeanne bristled at the way her brother stared her down. She felt color drain from her face as her heart took a nose dive to the pit of her stomach.

Was this her brother whom she loved and even protected in every way?

She did everything for him, but he only broke her heart again and again.

Now, he did not even recognize her behind the mask and hit on her like she was just some sidewalk floozy.

Trevor also stared at Keanu in astonishment.

Keanu did not even realize the mistake he was making. Trevor could not decide whether to punch him in the mouth or just send the guards on him.

Deep in his heart, Trevor felt a little sorry for Jeanne for having to suffer such a pea-brained brother.

Keanu continued shamelessly, "What do you think, sweetheart? I can take you to any five-star hotel or anywhere you want. I'll make sure you're completely satisfied."
