

Blessed 270

Chapter 270 Compare Her Boyfriend With Hers

The next day, Trevor came to the girls' dormitory.

At that time, Luisa was waiting downstairs. She was wearing a blouse, a camisole and a skirt which made her look incredibly young.

Then, the two of them drove the Bugatti Chiron to the commercial street.

The two of them walked around the clothing store of various brands. The whole time, Luisa carefully selected clothes for Trevor.

Of course, Luisa knew that Trevor wasn't as poor as before and he might have some savings. However, she didn't want him to spend too much money.

For that reason, Luisa had been choosing the most suitable suit with a suitable price.

Originally, Trevor didn't really care about the price.

However, seeing that Luisa was being considerate for Trevor, he felt warm in his heart.

In fact, Trevor enjoyed the alone quality time with Luisa.

However, their cozy atmosphere was suddenly broken by a loud voice.

A sharp female voice suddenly came from behind them, "Luisa, why are you here?"

When Luisa turned her head to see the person who was talking, she was stunned.

"Oh my god, Jenifer. Long time no see."

Actually, Jenifer Baldwin and Luisa were high school classmates.

At first, they were in a good relationship. However, as time passed, Jenifer started comparing herself with other students too much.

Therefore, she was jealous of Luisa because of her appearance, grades and family background.

Just like that, the two of them gradually grew apart with each other.

Today, Jenifer was wearing a black T-shirt which reached bare midriff and a sexy denim hot pants, revealing her long legs.

However, in front of the natural beauty like Luisa, Jenifer seemed a little average.

It made her even more jealous of her and she felt a sense of crisis in her mind.

Suddenly, Jenifer wrapped her arms around the young man next to her and leaned her body against the man till there was no gap between them.

Raising his eyebrows, Trevor observed the actions of Jenifer and the young man as he chuckled.

Especially because he knew the young man.

With a smile on his face, Trevor asked, "Luisa, is she your friend?"

With a nod, Luisa introduced, "Yes, she's my classmate from junior high school, Jenifer Baldwin."

The whole time, Jenifer's focus was on Luisa as she feared that her boyfriend would be attracted by her.

Only when Trevor talked did she notice him.

With her eyes filled with contempt, Jenifer glanced at him up and down.

Even though he looked handsome, his clothes were cheap ones which made it obvious that he was poor.

Thinking about it, Jenifer became somewhat competitive again.

After all, Luisa used to be better than her in every aspect. However, now she had a better boyfriend.

'How can Luisa even choose such a poor man like him as her boyfriend?' she thought.

With a complacent look on her face, Jenifer held her boyfriend's arm tightly and said proudly, "Oh, let me introduce you with someone.

This is my boyfriend, Henson Cairon! He treats me very well. Every day, he picks me up with his Porsche. But I don't think the man next to you can afford it, right?"

Jenifer knew that her boyfriend was a proud man. Therefore, she deliberately flattered him in front of Luisa.

However, to her dismay, Henson waved his hand and said humbly, "No, no, it's not like that. My Porsche is actually broken... Now, I drive a Chevrolet car. So, I'm sure that this gentleman has a better car."

As soon as he finished saying that, Henson stole a glance at Trevor with cold sweat on his forehead.

The moment they met, Henson recognized Trevor.

Since he knew that Trevor always kept a low profile and didn't want to expose his identity, Henson kept quiet.

Therefore, he was uneasy from the start. However, he didn't expect that Jenifer would belittle Trevor like this.

Henson got so scared that he explained in a hurry.

Seeing his actions, Trevor shook his head with a smile. In fact, he didn't seem to take it seriously. Sensing it, Henson was just about to breathe a sigh of relief.

However, his girlfriend, Jenifer didn't stop.

At that time, he got so nervous that his heart started beating faster!
