

Blessed 274

Chapter 274 He Doesn't Have To Spend His Own Money

Truth be told, Henson didn't care about if he couldn't make the customized suit today.

After all, he knew that the designer would put Mr. Sanderson's needs in the first place because of his status and power.

However, what Jenifer said made Henson frozen in fear.

Holding Jenifer's hand, Henson scolded, "Don't talk stupid things, Jenifer!"

Hearing Jenifer's arrogant words, the receptionist looked at her in surprise.

When she went into the studio just now, she saw that Danna was already stepping on the sewing machine with full speed in order to make the suit.

Her movements were so neat and fast that the receptionist thought that she would speed up to 100 mph by stepping on the pedals like this!

In fact, it was her first time seeing the world-famous designer so engrossed in work.

If it weren't for Mr. Sanderson's great power, why would she be working this hard?

Furrowing her eyebrows, the receptionist thought to herself, 'I thought this woman came with Mr. Sanderson. Why is she so ignorant?'

However, the receptionist still gave her a smile and said politely, "Miss, just like I have said before, we may not be able to provide this gentleman with the customized suit service today and he also said that he was okay with it."

Gritting her teeth, Jenifer said angrily, "He might have no objection but I have!"

The receptionist still wore a polite smile and said, "May I please know your relationship with this gentleman?"

Placing her hands on her hips, Jenifer said arrogantly, "I'm his girlfriend. You can't stop my boyfriend from getting his clothes just because this loser offended the designer!"

At that time, a slap echoed in the store.

Actually, Jenifer was about to continue to speak ill of Trevor when she was slapped.

In fact, Henson couldn't stand her behavior anymore.

Glaring at Jenifer, he shouted angrily, "How dare you talk to Trevor like that? You're not my girlfriend anymore from this day on. Get out of here right now!"

Looking at Henson in disbelief, Jenifer finally realized that some things were out of her control.

Well, Henson was young and handsome. Besides, he was considered as a relatively famous rich man in Jork.

Therefore, she had spent a lot of time and effort to hook up with him.

As Henson was considerate and kind, she thought that she could marry him in the future.

However, she didn't expect that her considerate boyfriend would break up with her just because of this poor loser!

Jenifer got panicked and pretended to beg pitifully, "Henson, it's all my fault. Please don't drive me away."

However, Henson wasn't going to give her a second chance. Who knew how many people he might offend if he kept a girlfriend like her by his side?

After showing a particularly apologetic expression towards Trevor, Henson glared at Jenifer and left the place.

Obviously, Jenifer didn't expect that Henson would be so heartless. With her eyes filled with tears, she followed him in a hurry.

This made the noisy store become quiet again.

Luisa heaved a sigh and shook her head as she watched them leave.

Although Jenifer looked pitiful, Luisa couldn't sympathize with her.

No matter how kind Luisa was, she was annoyed with Jenifer as she insulted Trevor over and over again.

However, this didn't mean she wasn't curious about the cause of the matter.

Leaving those unpleasant thoughts behind, Luisa turned to look at Trevor and asked curiously, "Trevor, do you know Master Cruz? Why were you in the studio for so long?"

After thinking for a while, Trevor thought of telling Luisa about his real identity.

He was about to tell her the truth when the image of Luisa's parents suddenly flashed in his mind.

If he told the truth to Luisa, her parents would find out about it.

Things wouldn't be fine once those two snobbish elders found out about his true identity.

In fact, Trevor was afraid that his relationship with Luisa wouldn't remain the same under their interference.

Actually, Trevor didn't want their precious relationship to end in vain.

One day, he would tell Luisa his identity. However, this wasn't the right time.

With that thought in mind, Trevor swallowed what he was about to say and quickly made up an excuse.

"Actually, I happened to find Master Cruz's handbag a few days ago. There seems to have many important things in it because Master Cruz is very grateful to me. So, she is going to design a suit for me!"

The truth was, Trevor was going to ask Danna to make a dress for Luisa.

In the end, he decided to give her a surprise, instead of revealing his idea.

Not knowing Trevor was lying, Luisa's face lit up with happiness.

If Master Cruz was making the suit for Trevor, there was no doubt that it would be good. What was more, Trevor wouldn't have to spend his own money on the suit!
