Chapter 279 Pigs Can Fly

Howe's face turned red and he gritted his teeth.

He wasn't pretending to be affectionate anymore. Standing up, Howe put the diamond ring away, and kicked the chair beside him angrily.

Howe said arrogantly, "Luisa, this is your last chance! If you still don't want to be my girlfriend, the Salazar family will cut off all cooperation with the Burke family!"

The Burke family was hoping that Luisa would say yes to Howe.

In their opinion, it was very stupid of Luisa to refuse a rich man like Howe, who actually proposed first with a diamond ring.

Unexpectedly, Luisa didn't accept his love and irritated him instead.

It was true that the Burke and Salazar families had a cooperative relationship prior to this, but they were very different from each other, in terms of wealth and influence.

If the Salazar family cut off their ties, the Burke family would be at a loss.

If Luisa's rejection offended the Salazar family, the Burke family would be doomed!

The Burke family couldn't sit and watch everything unfold so they came to Luisa and begged shamelessly.

"Luisa, don't do this!"

"You are from the Burke family. You can't be so stubborn. Just say yes to Mr. Salazar!"

Luisa's face turned pale and she bit her lower lip when she realized why they had come.

She was hurt and tears streamed down her face. No matter the consequences, she still stood still and didn't say anything.

She had made up her mind.

Luisa was gentle, but she was not weak.

Even after all of Howe's threats, Luisa still refused to give in, like a rose in the rain.

Seeing this, Trevor felt sorry for her. He was really angry at Howe.

How dare Howe used his family background to force Luisa to be his girlfriend?

Trevor couldn't see Luisa being threatened like this.

As soon as Trevor stood up, his phone vibrated.

He took out the phone from his pocket and read the text. It made Trevor angrier.

"Mr. Sanderson, the Salazar family is going to hire some thugs to mess up the orphanage again. "

Reading Maison's text, Trevor couldn't bear it anymore.

Trevor had always hated the Salazar family, for all the things they had done in the past.

Trevor replied, "Teach those thugs a good lesson! "

Then, Trevor sent a text to Jeanne as soon as he replied to Maison.

"I want you to do something for me. I want to see the Salazar family go bankrupt in half an hour! "

The Salazar family had pushed his buttons once again and now he was out to get them.

Since they did not regret their decisions, Trevor was going to teach them a good lesson.

After sending the texts, Trevor put the phone into his pocket secretly.

Noticing that Luisa still looked sad, he turned towards her to comfort her.

"Luisa, you don't have to fear! The Salazar family is definitely going to go bankrupt. They won't be happy for long,"

Trevor said loudly.

All the people around them heard it.

The Burke family was so scared that they quickly walked away from Trevor.

"Trevor, you definitely want to die but please don't get Luisa involved!"

"Shut up! You'll have a hard time if you offend Mr. Salazar!"

With a scornful look on his face, Howe sneered.

"Trevor, our family is powerful and influential. How dare you curse us?"

Looking straight at Howe, Trevor said coldly, "The world is quite unpredictable. What if your family goes bankrupt in a while?"

Howe laughed uncontrollably as if he had heard a joke.

"Trevor, you are ridiculous! If you think soon our family will go bankrupt just because of you, then I can gladly say pigs can fly too."
