

Blessed 282

Chapter 282 He Wants To Be A Good Man

Glancing at Howe coldly, Trevor said coldly, "Are you surprised?"

Trevor didn't feel sorry for Howe as he considered that Howe was the one who asked for this.

Hearing his expected tone, Howe suddenly remembered what Trevor said before.

Did his family really go bankrupt because of Trevor?

No, it couldn't be! It was impossible!

No matter what, he couldn't believe it!

Subconsciously, Howe looked around and his eyes lit up when he saw something.

Not far away from them, Kenton was coming towards them with a large group of his men.

As if Kenton was his life-saving straw, Howe hurriedly waved his hand and said, "Kenton, I'm here!"

He didn't care less who Trevor was. He now had some people on his side!

Today, he was going to teach Trevor a lesson to vent his anger no matter what!

Hearing Howe's shouts, Kenton noticed them and hurried over towards them with his men following behind.

Seeing them, Howe regained back his confidence and glared at Trevor resentfully.

With a smirk on his face, he ordered Kenton, "Go and teach this loser a good lesson!"

Obviously, Howe thought that Trevor would be scared.

However, when he saw Trevor's reaction, he was confused.

At first, Trevor looked surprised for a moment, but then, he calmed down.

How could it be? Wasn't he afraid of being cornered by a large group of enemies?

Truth be told, Trevor was stunned as he didn't expect that Howe would be so vicious to hire people to beat him!

However, the moment he heard the familiar name Kenton, he smiled and said, "Oh, you want to teach me a lesson?"

Seeing Trevor's indifferent attitude, Howe became even more furious. Therefore, he urged Kenton to do it quickly.

"What are you waiting for, Kenton? Go and beat him now!"

As soon as he finished speaking, Kenton took action.

To his surprise, his fist flew toward Howe!

Kenton punched Howe hard in the face which knocked him to the ground.

Before Howe could react, Kenton sat down on him and punched him hard again and again.

As their leader started the fight, all the other men followed his actions.

After some time, Howe's clothes were torn into pieces. He was now covered with blood and he looked miserable!

At that time, several of his teeth were already knocked out. In a faint voice, he said, "Kenton, you are beating the wrong person. I told you to beat Trevor!"

However, much to his dismay, Kenton glared at Howe and said, "Cut the crap. I'm going to kick your ass!"

After beating Howe for a while, Kenton clapped his hands in satisfaction and stood up.

Moreover, Kenton wanted to flatter Trevor. So, he even spat on Howe and said in disdain, "Honestly, I had no choice but to work for your family in the past. But I didn't think that you would harass the orphanage for the sake of your business development. I don't want to do those kind of things from now on because I only want to be a good person. That is the reason why I kicked your ass."

Knowing that Kenton was trying to please him, Trevor shook his head with a smile and said, "Kenton, I don't care if you are genuine or not. But now that you said it, you have to keep your words. I don't want to see you bully other innocent people again. If you do your job well, I will let Maison take care of you."

After that, he waved his hand and motioned for Kenton to drag Howe away.

Hearing Trevor's promise, Kenton smiled. Then, he ordered his men to lift Howe up.

Looking at Howe who was now dragged away, Trevor didn't show any other emotions except disgust!

After all, Howe threatened and hurt many ordinary people by using his family background.

Since his family had gone bankrupt, he looked as timid as a rat in the sewer!