Chapter 301 A Bad Ending For The Duffy Family

Even though Trevor was startled, he quickly took a step back to dodge the attack.

However, Sheppard was faster.

The blade glinted as Sheppard thrust it towards Trevor's chest.

He had a fierce expression on his face, and at that moment, it looked as if he was going to succeed.

Luckily, Bradly suddenly appeared and kicked Sheppard aside.

He kicked Sheppard one more time, causing the man to cough violently and writhe in pain.

In the blink of an eye, the unexpected attack was disrupted.

Trevor patted his chest as he sighed in relief.

What happened just now was really dangerous. He could have been hurt badly.

The atmosphere in the hall changed abruptly that the guests began to feel scared.

The Duffy family probably wanted Trevor dead!

Sheppard even had the gall to try and stab Trevor in public. If given the chance, wouldn't he get revenge?

Many people sighed, thinking that Trevor was too arrogant for his age.

Wasn't he afraid that the Duffy family might murder him?

Just then, a man suddenly shouted, "Oh my God! Breaking news! The Duffy family is now bankrupt!"

"All their properties have been confiscated for investigation within the past hour. How is this possible?"

Many of the guests were surprised at first, but then they remembered something.

They turned around and looked at Trevor in a mix of horror and awe!

Well... Now they understood why the young man was so confident.

It was obvious why the Duffy family had become bankrupt.

Mr. Sanderson was behind this. What a powerful man!

All the guests committed Trevor's face to memory.

He was clearly someone they should not mess with.

Otherwise, there would be consequences!

Trevor did not let himself get distracted by the awe in everyone's eyes. He wanted Alvaro and Sheppard to be brought to justice so he took out his mobile and called Rhys.

This number was saved when Alvaro was arrested at Mary Hotel.

About fifteen minutes later, a whistling sound announced the arrival of the police. Rhys led the team that rushed in the hotel.

His eyes blazed with anger when he saw Alvaro.

He had arrested Alvaro before; but a few days later, the man got bailed out by the Duffy family's lawyers!

It was such a frustrating event that he had been unable to rest easy for quite some time.

Because Alvaro had several criminal records, Rhys swore before Trevor that the scumbag would pay for the rest of his life in prison.

When Alvaro regained consciousness, his hands covered his crotch and he groaned in pain.

Even when he was escorted out by the police, he struggled and complained, "I don't want to go to jail! Let me go!"

Trevor looked at Alvaro and said coolly, "Quit whining. If you confess your crimes, you might get a reduced prison sentence."

Seeing the cold expressions of the policemen on either side of him, Alvaro began to feel despair.

He realized that he couldn't escape the law today.

Alvaro murmured in disbelief, "This cannot be happening. The Duffy family will get me out..."

The people around them sneered.

"This fool still doesn't know that his family has gone bankrupt."

"He deserves whatever is coming to him!"

Alvaro yelled back defensively, "No way! The Duffy family is well-known in Ripon. How can we be bankrupt?"

He turned towards his father in hopes of validation.

However, Sheppard looked like a zombie as two policemen picked him up.

Alvaro realized then that the Duffy family was doomed!

He broke down instantly. He didn't want to be locked up in prison for the rest of his life.

Trevor's words echoed in his mind like a hallucination.

There was another way to save himself!

Like a drowning man trying to grasp a lifebuoy, Alvaro suddenly yelled, "I'm guilty! I drugged one hundred and ten women and took videos of them..."

He admitted all of his crimes.

However, he did not feel satisfied so he looked at Sheppard with resentment.

Alvaro pointed at his father and added, "He has done many evil things as well. He has killed people and committed arson!"

He was so determined not to be imprisoned for life that he seemed like a mad man.

In his mind, he felt as if Sheppard had not tried to come to his aid when he lost consciousness. Instead, it seemed as if Sheppard had been willing to use him as a scapegoat in order to save himself.

If Alvaro was going down, he planned to take Sheppard down with him!
