Chapter 312 Don't Touch Luisa

"Ouch!!"

As he was kicked to the ground, Balfour cried out in pain.

Because of the pain, he clenched his leg tightly. Right now, it was difficult for him to stand up, let alone run away.

Seeing that they were beating his son, Rodney rushed towards them to stop.

"Hey, what the hell are you doing? You broke into my house and hit my son. If you don't leave right now, I'll call the police!"

However, the man in the lead took out a piece of paper from his pocket and showed it to Rodney.

With a sneer, he said, "See for yourself. Your son borrowed thirteen million dollars from us. You have to pay us fifteen million dollars, including interest. Why? You don't want to pay off your debts?"

With wide eyes, Rodney mumbled in disbelief, "How...how could this possible?"

Hearing the man's words, Balfour's face turned pale. He retorted with a trembling voice, "Nonsense. I only borrowed eight million dollars and the interest was only five percent when we first negotiated. Why are you saying nonsense?"

At that time, that man looked at Balfour and laughed loudly as he said, "Who agreed with you? I only accept the amount of money on this paper. Pay me back right now, or the house will be ours!"

Standing from aside, Trevor observed the scene quietly as he thought, 'No wonder Balfour looked a little nervous when his parents mentioned about the money he raised.'

Seeing the fierce look on those gangsters, Trevor quietly moved a little closer to Luisa.

However, since the gangsters' attention was solely on Balfour, he decided to wait and see the situation for the time being.

Only then did Rodney realize the situation.

It turned out that Balfour borrowed the money to run the company.

However, he was deceived.

Although he only borrowed eight million dollars, they were telling him to repay fifteen million dollars.

If they really had to give back that amount of money, the Burke family would be doomed!

Realization hit Rodney hard as his face turned pale and he almost fainted.

However, he tried his best to hold back his embarrassment and said, "It's not like we are not going to pay the money. We will pay back the amount of money we borrowed. But we can't pay back the money now. Can you give us a few more days?"

Hearing Rodney's words, the man in the lead with yellow hair, named Theo Kerr, said with disdain, "Are you asking me to let you go today? What if you run away? Cut the crap. I want to see the fifteen million dollars today!"

Since his attempt to please Theo failed, Rodney's face changed into a fierce one and he said in a threatening voice, "Let me warn you. Our Burke family has a good relationship with Mr. Sanderson who is the owner of the business street. If you go too far, you won't end well."

Not knowing what Rodney was talking, the gangsters looked at each other and burst out laughing.

Then, Theo turned to look at Rodney and said, "Mr. Sanderson? Who is he?"

I don't even know him!"

Being local gangsters, they didn't get a chance to get in touch with the upper class of Jork. Therefore, they didn't know who Mr. Sanderson was or how powerful he was in Jork.

Theo didn't even try to hide the lewd expression on his face and looked at Luisa lustfully. Licking his lips, he said, "Well, how about this? We will give you a few more days if you let us take this girl. We will return her to you after we have a good time with her."

As soon as he finished saying that, he reached his hand out to grab Luisa, ignoring others.

Of course, Luisa got frightened because of his actions and screamed.

Before he could touch Luisa, another hand held his wrist tightly which made him unable to move.

In fact, Theo was always arrogant and domineering. So, he didn't expect that someone would dare to stop him.

Looking at Trevor, who was now holding his wrist in a tight grip, he said in a provocative tone, "You idiot! You are courting death."

In an instant, Trevor's face darkened.

Actually, since Balfour was the one who borrowed the money, he didn't want to stand up for him.

However, now that these gangsters wanted to bully Luisa, Trevor couldn't stand this anymore!
