

Blessed 324

Chapter 324 Caught Cheating

Just as he thought, Hans looked at Trevor contemptuously and said, "You, stand up please."

Without hesitation, Trevor stood up. Looking at him, Hans bent over and put his hand into the drawer of the table.

After fumbling for a while, a complacent look appeared on his face as he took out a note from the table.

There was the same content of the exam on the note.

Trevor was stunned for a minute. Then, he argued, "It's weird. I didn't cheat. I have no idea where this note comes from!"

Hans sneered and said, "That's exactly what someone who cheated would say."

Feeling wronged, Trevor wanted to explain.

Before he could say anything, Hans said in a stern voice, "Don't argue with me. Come to my office and explain about this."

Trevor couldn't do anything except following Hans to his office.

Once they got to Hans' office, he sat with his legs crossed and pounded on the table with his fist as if he was annoyed with Trevor.

Not knowing anything, Trevor scratched his head in confusion and said, "Mr. Lopez, I'm telling the truth. I didn't cheat. It's obvious someone set me up! Who reported it?"

However, Hans didn't believe Trevor at all.

In fact, he looked down upon poor students like Trevor.

"You still have the nerve to ask who reported it? What would you do if I told you? Are you going to take revenge?"

Pounding the table, Hans said angrily, "What do you think this place is? This is the university! We don't tolerate when someone cheats, especially a poor student like you!"

All of a sudden, Trevor realized that there were surveillance cameras in every classroom. In a hurry, he said, "Sir, if you don't believe me, you can check the CCTV. I can assure you that I didn't cheat!"

However, Hans said bluntly, "There is no need to check the CCTV because the evidence is right here and there are also witnesses. It's useless for you to argue!"

Even though Trevor wanted to explain more, he was once again interrupted rudely by Hans.

On the other hand, Hans knew that Trevor was going to argue back. Therefore, he said directly, "I announce that you failed in this test. So, I suggest you prepare for the make-up exam. Plus, write a self-criticism report with at least ten thousand words. Students like you should be dealt with seriously so that you wouldn't do it again in the future. Wait for public criticism and punishment."

Furrowing his eyebrows, Trevor was depressed.

This whole time, he studied hard for the exam and he even obeyed the rules during the exam. Now, he was accused of something he didn't do.

Moreover, Hans was going to punish him indiscriminately.

While Trevor was lost in his thoughts, the door of the office opened from the outside.

Then, a voice sounded, "Hans, I heard you shouting from afar. What's wrong?"

Hearing the person's voice, Hans immediately walked up towards him with a flattering face and said, "Boris, I just caught a student who was cheating in exam. Now, I am teaching him a lesson. I believe that those who break the rules must be severely punished!"

Once Boris entered the office, he saw the back of a young man.

Even though he had a feeling that the back of the young man looked familiar, he didn't pay much attention to him.

Hearing Hans' words, Boris nodded his head with satisfaction and praised Hans, "Well, our school pays attention to fairness. So..."

While talking, Boris walked into the office.

In fact, he wanted to get a glass of water from the water dispenser beside Hans' desk.

However, when he took a sip of the water, turned around and saw the face of the student who just got scolded, he was stunned.

Gulping the water in a hurry, he almost choked. Meanwhile, he thought to himself, 'Why is Mr. Sanderson here?'

Obviously, he was taken aback.

Immediately, he changed the topic and asked, "What's wrong with you? Have you investigated it properly? Don't frame an innocent student easily!"

When Hans saw that Boris's expression changed dramatically, he was confused.

In a hurry, Boris came over to Trevor. He was about to greet him as Mr. Sanderson when he realized that there was another's presence here.

Therefore, he changed his words and said, "Trevor, what happened?"

At that moment, Trevor became angry. Gritting his teeth, he said rudely, "Mr. Lopez accused me without investigating properly. He didn't give me a chance to explain and said that I cheated in the exam. Also, he told me that I have failed in this test and have to retake it."

With a gloomy look on his face, Boris glared at Hans and asked coldly, "You really handled this matter like he said?"