

Blessed 325

Chapter 325 Had Known Each Other

Hans sensed that something was wrong by the way Boris was speaking.

He felt as if the two of them had known each other for a long time.

But Hans still didn't want to give up, so he struggled to explain, "Boris, we were notified about that, and we also found a copy of the test paper from his desk drawer. We cannot deny the evidence, and I have given him multiple chances to confess."

Hearing this, Trevor said in an unconvinced tone, "But you were so sure that I had cheated, and didn't listen to me at all! I even asked you to check the surveillance camera, but you denied my request!"

Boris shouted angrily, "What are you doing? If I hadn't come, you would've framed this child!"

Hans wanted to say something but he was lost for words. He started stammering.

Boris waved his hand impatiently and said, "Let's talk about how we'll deal with you later. First, tell me who reported this to you? If I find out that there is something that you're still not telling me, you will be dismissed from your current position immediately!"

"It... it was reported by Mattie. As the president of the student union, I didn't think she would defame any student," said Hans unhappily.

Boris thought for a while after he finally remembered who Mattie was.

This new president of the student union had a close relationship with Keanu before too.

The matter was likely an act of revenge.

Boris asked Hans to lead them toward the monitoring room. Trevor followed.

Hans prayed continuously in his heart. He wanted everything that Mattie had said to be true, or he could get in real trouble.

Contrary to his wishes, they only found Trevor answering questions in the footage. There was no evidence of him cheating at all.

Then began the real work. They traced the video to learn what actually happened before the exam.

After a few minutes, they saw a figure trying to throw something into the drawer of Trevor's table, the night before the exam.

Boris zoomed in to the video and recognized the figure. It was Mattie, with a lot of makeup on her face, to probably hide from all the cameras.

The truth finally came to light!

Hans raised his eyebrows in surprise.

He knew he was doomed for life.

On the other hand, Mattie was proud to have accomplished doing this.

She was satisfied with the plan she carried out against Trevor.

In order to convince Hans, she had bad-mouthed Trevor.

After hearing her insults, there was no way Hans would have not believed her. After all, she was the president of the student union. Mattie's plan all along was for Hans to punish Trevor harshly.

If she continued to stir up trouble for Trevor, he would soon be expelled!

Mattie was dreaming about expelling Trevor from school when a member of the student union conveyed Hans' message to her.

"Mattie, Mr. Lopez asked you to come to his office."

Mattie nodded happily.

She believed that Hans had asked her to meet him because he wanted to appreciate her for all the work she had done.

On the way to the office, she still thought of ways to get Trevor expelled from the school immediately.

However, when Mattie opened the door to the office, she found that the situation was not as she had expected.

Although Trevor was in the office, the look on his face was not depressing at all.

Instead, he sat on the sofa leisurely and drank tea with Boris.

Mattie looked at Hans who was standing still beside them.

He stood silently with an awkward smile on his face.

The atmosphere in the office was quiet and weird which made Mattie a little stunned.

What the hell was happening?
