Chapter 326 Mattie's Doub

When Hans saw Mattie come in, the smile on his face disappeared.

He spoke gloomily.

"Come here, Mattie."

Mattie walked toward them in confusion.

She didn't understand why Hans's attitude became so hostile all of a sudden.

But what surprised her more was what Hans said next.

"You have committed a grave offense by framing one of your classmates. I relieve you of your duty as president of the student union. From today on, you are dismissed from all your posts, and your behavior will go down on your record. You will also receive serious punishment for what you've done."

Hans had just been scolded by Boris and was ordered to write a self-criticism of ten thousand words. What was worse was that Boris put Hans in suspension pending an investigation.

Hans was very angry and frustrated, so he took out all his rage on Mattie.

At first, Hans only intended to dismiss and punish Mattie, but the more he spoke, the more furious he became.

He couldn't help adding, "In addition, you have to write a self-criticism of at least twenty thousand words, which Trevor will read. If your self-criticism and performance don't satisfy Trevor and fail to win his forgiveness, then you will be expelled."

Hearing this, Boris glanced at Hans. He didn't say anything, but he obviously acquiesced in Hans's decision.

Mattie stared at them with wide, disbelieving eyes.

She knew that what she had done had been exposed, but she couldn't go down without a fight.

She squared her shoulders and said stubbornly, "Trevor's the one who cheated in the exam. Why am I the one who's being punished?"

Hans sneered. He expected Mattie to react the way she just did.

He pulled up a still photo of the surveillance video, set it on the table, and said, "Look at this photo and tell me who you see."

Nervously, Mattie looked down at the photo and then slightly opened her mouth. She looked like she was about to say something, but no words came out.

She felt desperate and confused.

Why would the school leader check the surveillance video for the sake of a poor student?

Mattie fixed her gaze on Trevor.

Then, Boris approached Trevor.

Mattie pricked up her ears. She wanted to hear what they were talking about.

Boris whispered, "Are you satisfied with this, Mr. Sanderson?"

"Yes," replied Trevor expressionlessly.

Seeing that Trevor didn't want to look into the matter anymore, Boris waved his hand and said to Mattie, "You can go now."

But Mattie stayed where she was like she didn't hear Boris.

At this moment, she was shocked.

Although she didn't hear the entirety of Boris and Trevor's conversation, she was sure that Boris respectfully addressed Trevor as Mr. Sanderson.

Was Trevor the mysterious Mr. Sanderson of the business street?

Mattie thought about the things that had happened.

Keanu said that he attended the school to make friends with Mr. Sanderson, but after a conflict with Trevor, he suddenly dropped out on his second day.

Aggy also dropped out of school after a squabble with Trevor.

There was a pattern that showed Trevor and Mr. Sanderson were the same person.

Mattie felt like someone cracked her lungs and sucked the air right out.

She had been rubbing shoulders with a rich, powerful young man, and instead of trying to win his good side, she offended him.

Would she be the third one to drop out of school after Keanu and Aggy?

Mattie swallowed and looked at Trevor with fear.

Trevor didn't know what was on Mattie's mind, but when he saw that Mattie looked at him with an inexplicable expression, he felt a little uncomfortable.

He said goodbye to Boris and turned to leave the office.

Just then, Mattie snapped back to her senses and left the office after Trevor in a hurry.
