Chapter 333 Your Father Wants To Talk To You

With a smile on his face, Trevor handed his phone to Alvin and said, "Your father wants to talk to you."

In fact, Alvin wanted to see what kind of sick joke Trevor was making. However, when Trevor passed his phone to him, his face darkened instantly.

He thought that Trevor was trying to joke around even though he was in big trouble.

Thinking about it, Alvin cursed, "Loser, how dare you ask a random man to pretend as my father? Believe it or not, I will break your limbs and throw you into the river!"

At that time, Trevor felt helpless.

He was telling the truth yet Alvin didn't trust him!

Trevor suddenly had an idea and pressed speaker on the phone.

The moment Trevor turned on the speaker, an angry voice boomed out in the room, "Bastard, why don't you take the phone and answer it?"

Immediately, Alvin's eyes widened.

This voice belonged to his father.

However, the next moment, his face turned into a sneer as he shouted, "It sounds like my father. Where did you even find this man? But you can't fool me this easily!"

Clearly, Alvin didn't believe that Trevor was able to find his father in a short amount of time, let alone make his father scold him.

Since the Harper family was one of the top ten families in Jork, they were quite famous.

Therefore, as head of the family, his father, Hudson Harper, often appeared in the news reports.

He was more willing to believe that Trevor found someone to imitate his father's voice.

However, what happened next made Alvin sweat.

"You brat, how dare you pretend you don't know me? Isn't it enough for you to be grounded for two months? Do you want to be grounded for ten or eight years?"

Your mother always told me to be easy on you. But how can I? Do you know the person who you have offended? He is the young master of the Sanderson family! You offended him twice!"

As Hudson talked, Alvin's face turned paler and paler.

Now, he was sure that the person on the other end of the phone was indeed his father.

After all, who would have known that he was grounded for two months, except his family?

If his father was telling the truth, that meant...

Swallowing his saliva, Alvin looked at Trevor in panic.

The loser he had been seeing everywhere turned out to be the mysterious Mr. Sanderson!

At that moment, Alvin wished that someone would have knocked him out so that he wouldn't have to face this embarrassing situation.

Seeing that Trevor was looking at him, he shouted in a hurry, "Mr. Sanderson, I made a mistake. Please forgive me!"

When the bodyguards outside heard Alvin's voice, they thought there was a dispute inside the room.

The next moment, all of them rushed in and shouted to attack Trevor.

Before they could attack Trevor, Alvin screamed in panic, "No! Stop! Don't hurt Mr. Sanderson! Hit me!"

Then, he stood protectively in front of Trevor.

The bodyguards looked at each other in confusion. They couldn't understand why their young master was protecting the loser all of a sudden.

Of course, only Trevor knew why he was acting abnormally.

With a smirk on his face, Trevor teased, "So, am I right? Are you going to be in trouble?"

Even though Alvin felt bitter in his heart, he had no choice but to reply humbly, "Yes, it's all my fault!"

After all, it was true.

How Alvin wished to go back to the past and beat himself hard.

Why the hell did he provoke the son of the Sanderson family two times in a row?
