Chapter 335 The Price Of Speaking Too Much

Now, everyone was completely speechless.

Looking at Alvin, who was lying shamelessly, they couldn't help but criticize him in their hearts.

Everyone wondered if he had gone crazy or something.

Although he was getting the look of suspicion and contempt from the crowd, Alvin was calm.

In fact, Trevor had told him not to reveal his identity before he came out.

He feared that the whole Harper family would be in trouble if he said something wrong.

Right now, Alvin didn't care how unconvincing his explanation was or how others looked at him.

The only thing that mattered was he got Trevor's forgiveness with two loud slaps in the face.

Otherwise, how would Alvin still be the young master of the Harper family and enjoy his life?

So, why would he need to explain to these people who would fear just by hearing the name of the Harper family?

Thinking about it, Alvin continued to perform hard. Showing the humble look on his face, he said, "I had some misunderstandings with Trevor. Now that the misunderstandings are solved, you can leave now."

However, Marlon couldn't accept the fact that Trevor was unharmed.

With a gloomy look on his face, he said, "How is that possible? Mr. Harper, were you deceived by this loser?"

Hearing Marlon's words, Alvin shivered in fear.

Glaring at him, he thought, 'How dare you make trouble for me?'

At that time, Alvin realized that Marlon was the one who attacked him first. Then, how did he end up having conflict with Trevor?

Looking at him, Alvin said fiercely, "How dare you say that, bastard? You are the one who sowed discord between me and Trevor. You are the one who caused the trouble but implicated others. You should be beaten for that!"

After saying that, Alvin waved his hand and ordered his bodyguards, "Everyone, beat him hard!"

In an instant, the bodyguards rushed forward and caught Marlon.

Only then did Marlon regret deeply.

Then, he shouted in despair, "Mr. Harper, I was wrong. I won't do again. Please...Ouch!"

Unfortunately, the bodyguards didn't care what Marlon said as they only followed Alvin's order.

None of them stopped until Marlon's body was covered with blood and bruises.

Looking at Marlon, who collapsed on the ground, Alvin spat and kicked him again.

However, Alvin felt that he hadn't vent his anger enough.

Hence, he said angrily, "You have to pay all the bills! Or else the Harper family will come to you!"

At that time, Marlon turned to look at his good friend Moss, hoping that he could help him.

However, Moss was already annoyed with Marlon because he provoked Alvin.

He had been determined to show no mercy and would let Marlon pay a large sum of money.

At that moment, Marlon felt like crying.

In fact, he chose his restaurant because he could get a discount and free room even though it was a high-end restaurant.

Most of all, he didn't expect that he would end up like this because of his impulse.

Under the escort of the bodyguards, Marlon had no choice but to pay all the bills obediently.

Alvin walked towards Trevor and Luisa, who were standing side by side and said, "Umm...Trevor, I just remembered that I have something else to do. So...I'll take the leave first."

As soon as he finished saying it, Alvin left the place.

He spoke so fast that no one would think that he was drunk not long before.

Without caring him, Trevor took Luisa back to school.

After saying goodbye to Luisa, he decided to head back to his dormitory.

On his way to his dormitory, Trevor felt as if someone was watching him.

From his peripheral vision, he saw a figure following him from behind. Suddenly, he changed his route and turned around a corner.

The person behind walked quickly, thinking that they had lost Trevor.

However, all of a sudden, the person was caught by Trevor, who was waiting quietly at the corner.

When Trevor saw the person, he asked with a frown on his face, "Mattie, why are you following me?"
