

Blessed 351

Chapter 351 The Expected Ending

The news about the game spread overnight. When Trevor woke up the next morning, he was surprised to see the news.

He didn't expect that the news about their game would spread like wildfire.

Actually, Trevor had kept in his mind about what Erick had done to him. However, he didn't have a chance to fight back.

Now that it had become a hot topic, Trevor didn't mind relying on his own financial resources to aggravate the situation.

Therefore, Trevor used an anonymous account to post a message on various forums inside and outside the school. He even thought about rewarding the ones handsomely who provided him what he wanted.

Honestly, he was trying to find if there were any videos of the coach talking to Eastern University's basketball team in the resting area.

After searching for some time, a short video caught his attention.

With a smirk on his face, Trevor murmured, "Interesting!"

On the other side, Erick was sitting in the president's office nervously.

He was being scolded by the president of the Eastern University.

"Are you playing basketball or hitting others? At this rate, the reputation of our Eastern University will be ruined by you!"

Wiping the sweat from his forehead, Erick smiled awkwardly and said, "It's just a rumor on the internet. There's no need for you to worry."

As he talked, his mind wandered to the time when he asked his players to attack Trevor.

Actually, Erick wanted to continue making trouble by using the excuse that his sunglasses were smashed.

However, as Leo left along with Trevor, he didn't get a chance to do so.

Obviously, it could be said that Erick was a narrow-minded person.

Since he failed to get back at Trevor, he got so angry that he couldn't even sleep last night.

He spent his whole night thinking about how to take revenge on Trevor secretly. However, he didn't expect that something bad would happen to him instead.

After hearing Erick's explanation, the president glared at him as he thought about how to deal with this matter.

In the end, they decided to keep a low profile. After all, many universities would encounter such kind of matter.

Moreover, these rumors were just speculations and there was no clear evidence.

Thinking of that, the president heaved a deep sigh.

All of a sudden, a teacher rushed into his office in a hurry.

"Bad news, President!"

Hearing this, the president was taken aback. With a frown on his face, he asked, "What happened?"

Without saying anything, the teacher just looked at Erick with disgust and handed the phone to the president.

On the main screen of the mobile phone, a paused video was displayed. It was the short video that was now on the hot search!

With his eyes filled with confusion, the president pressed the play button. Then, from the video, he saw the scene of the basketball court.

The video was directed to the place where the players were discussing.

Only the back side of the players could be seen in it. There were words "Eastern University" written on their clothes.

While watching the video, the president's hands were trembling. He had a feeling that something was wrong.

At that time, a man who was wearing sunglasses showed up. Immediately, the president recognized that the man was none other than Erick.

In a fierce tone, Erick said, "Remember to try all means to take action against that idiot. Do you understand? You can beat him and make him seriously injured!"

Then, the video showed that Erick was pointing at someone. The one who shot the video aimed his camera to the direction where Erick was pointing. It could be seen that Erick was pointing at the boy who was praised by Leo.

In the video, the students of the Eastern University were shouting excitedly and saying some profanities, showing their contempt towards the Jork University.

From the perspective of this video, it was very likely that the video was shot by someone from the Eastern University.

When he finished watching the video, the president handed it to the teacher in silence.

Then, he turned to look at Erick.

At that time, Erick's face was already pale.

After all, he realized that he couldn't do anything to get rid of the trouble since this video appeared.

Eastern University was the kind that deeply cared about reputation. If someone got the goods on them regarding this matter, their reputation would be ruined.

Looking at Erick, the president got so furious that he slapped him hard.

"Get the fuck out of here!"

Getting down on his knees, Erick begged, "Mr. President, I..."

Before he could say anything, the president shouted angrily, "Fuck off! Don't ever come back to the Eastern University again!"

Not long after, the Eastern University posted an official statement, "Recently, the members of our school's basketball team did something wrong during the basketball exchange match with Jork University. We sincerely apologize for their mistakes.

From now on, the coach of the team, Erick Bates, will be fired and will never be hired again. As for the members of the basketball team who didn't obey the rules during the game will be warned. Also, they all would be punished according to the school rules."

Once the tweet was posted, many fans of Leo celebrated in joy.

Trevor, who was the mastermind behind everything, couldn't help but smile when he saw the tweet.

When Trevor found out that valuable video, he made it onto the top search. After all, he already knew how to do so.

So, he had already expected that Erick would be fired.
