Chapter 356 The Fans Of An Idol

Looking at the exquisite tickets in his hands, Trevor mustered up the courage to call Luisa and invite her to a concert. "Do you have time the night after tomorrow, Luisa?"

It's just that I want to invite you to a concert."

Apart from inviting Luisa to dinner, this was the first time that he had invited her formally.

After saying that, Trevor waited for Luisa's reply anxiously.

Within seconds, Luisa's clear and pleasant voice came from the other side of the phone.

"Okay, I'm looking forward to it."

Once Trevor hung up the phone, he threw a fist in the air excitedly. He couldn't help but look forward to the day.

On the day of the concert, Trevor decided to wear a formal suit. Then, he arrived at the Aegean Sea Theater half an hour in advance.

In fact, this place was the cultural center of Jork.

Compared with the commercial street where the neon lights were bustling all over the place, this place was filled with artistic statues and buildings which gave off a different vibe.

However, both of the places were crowded extremely.

Today was even more crowded since there would be a concert.

When Trevor got to the gate of the Aegean Sea Theater, it was already crowded.

Seeing the scene, Trevor couldn't help but feel a little surprised. In a low voice, he muttered, "Damn, I didn't know that it would be so crowded. Can Luisa find me here?"

He was standing under the marble pillars in front of the theater while looking around.

In fact, the place he was standing was the most eye-catching place around the whole theater.

However, before Trevor could find Luisa, several girls came over to the place while holding a huge banner.

Then, they spread out their banner, which was nearly two meters long, in front of Trevor. As a result, they completely blocked him from the sight.

With a frown on his face, he questioned, "Can't you see that I am standing here?"

However, when the girls heard his words, they didn't apologize or move over. Instead, they laughed out loud.

One of the girls said, "Angie, do you see someone standing here?"

"Humph, I am pretty sure that he wants to accost Angie because she is beautiful."

Hearing what her friends had said, Angie Quimby, the leader of these girls, showed a look of contempt.

Then, she spoke. "Hey, poor guy, can't you see that we are here to support our idol? Why don't you leave the place for us?"

At that time, Trevor got a little angry and snapped, "It's not my business who you want to support! I came here first. So, you guys should leave!"

After saying that, he pulled the banner in front of him to the side without moving from his place.

His action made the arrogant girls annoyed.

"What the hell are you talking?"

"You are just a poor loser. Why don't you take a look at yourself in the mirror? Do you think you can push the banner of our idol Damon?"

"I know right. Why are there so many disgusting boys around us instead of Damon?"

As soon as she finished saying that, the leader Angie raised her hand to scratch Trevor's face with her sharp nails.

She must have an arrogant personality.

However, before she could do anything, Trevor took a step back to dodge and gently put his toes out.

Just like that, Angie lost her balance and fell over.

Her hair was now disheveled because of the fall. With her eyes filled with resentment, she said angrily, "Loser, how dare you dodge me like this?"

On the other hand, Trevor just rolled his eyes at her. Then, he said, "Can you be more reasonable?"

Of course, why would he stand there and let her scratch him with her annoying nails?

He really didn't know how a girl like Angie was spoiled like this.

He was about to speak again when the girls around him suddenly screamed loudly, "Oh my god! It's Damon! We love you, Damon!"
