Chapter 36 | Believe You, Bernard!

Many people who saw Jaycee's video rushed over to view the new one about Bernard.

The video was very simple.

The person who created it just recorded a few words and was immediately rewarded one thousand dollars.

"The money is so easy to make.

Can you believe there's such a good thing?"

Suddenly, many came up with an idea and went ahead to collect scandals involving Bernard.

In the girls' dormitory, a beautiful girl picked up her phone.

You cheated on me, Bernard, and now I will destroy you.

The girl was practically shaking with excitement as she thought about all kinds of embarrassing things she could ruin Bernard with.

With the popularity of the video rising steadily, more and more people mentioned Bernard.

On the campus forum, there was a thread especially dedicated to a discussion about Bernard.

Bernard's face turned livid with rage as he watched the videos that exposed dirt on him one by one.

A friend of his came over and said, "These videos are insane, Bernard. There's one here that says you went to the zoo and fucked an ostrich.

Look, there's a photo.

They edited it to make it look like you're doing it with the ostrich.

The video also says you're a sex maniac."

"There's another one.

It says that you received a parcel this morning containing an electric toothbrush and that you used it to brush your asshole.

Damn!

The person in the video really found a toothbrush of the same style as yours in the trash bin.

There's even blood on it. These people are crazy!"

"I found another video that says you regularly get parcels full of viagra and that you have to use one bottle every night.

If you don't, you're unable to get and maintain an erection.

There's no screenshot or anything, but the video is blowing up with hits."

Bernard's friend who just said that looked up at Bernard and then down at Bernard's crotch.

Also...

Bernard almost lost it when his friend trailed off.

At this time, a tall and strong-looking student from the dormitory next door walked in.

As soon as the student saw Bernard, he shouted excitedly, "Bernard, can you loan me a bottle of viagra?"

Screw you! I don't take viagra!

Bernard roared and slapped the student across the face.

"Jeez, Bernard. No need to be violent.

If you don't want to share your viagra, just say so.

No need to treat people like crap just because you're rich, the student murmured. "

Fuck off!

Hearing this, Bernard's eyes turned even redder, like those of an angry bull.

The scandalous videos about him continued to spread.

That night, the official TikTok account of viagra issued a statement.

"Our company is very grateful to Bernard for his love for our brand and for raising the popularity and reputation of our product.

For that, we decided to send him one hundred bottles of viagra as a thank-you for his support."

As soon as the video went live, thousands of TikTok users became excited again and reposted the statement until it went viral.

The next morning, when Bernard woke up and saw the statement, his vision darkened so much that he almost lost consciousness.

At this time, his phone rang and a voice message came in, "Bernard, I saw all the videos, and I don't think we should date anymore. We're done. I don't want to be with a man who needs viagra's help. Goodbye."

Bernard did not know what to do or say.

He felt as if his entire world was crumbling around him.

He rushed out of the dormitory in a fit of hysteria, stood on the balcony, and roared, "I don't use viagra! Stop talking nonsense, you freaking idiots!"

While Bernard was screaming on the balcony, a courier arrived and addressed him, "Are you, Bernard? I have one hundred bottles of viagra here for you."

The boys' dormitory, which had been a little noisy, suddenly became quiet. Everyone present turned their heads to Bernard.

Others rushed over excitedly to see what was happening.

I believe you, Bernard. Can you give me a bottle of viagra? I could use it.

I believe you, too, Bernard. Give me one, too.

Oh, my God!

Unable to process the humiliation anymore, Bernard fainted.
