

Blessed 37

Chapter 37 A Mysterious Rich Man In Their School

Although some people seemed to be crying, some were not.

Jaycee as the source of the sensational event this time was the biggest winner.

Everyone who had watched the videos about Bernard was paying attention to Jaycee's account.

Meanwhile, in the girls' dormitory.

The video I posted has gone viral!

Jaycee shouted with excitement as she looked at her phone.

It had only been two hours since she posted it.

She had refreshed the trending videos page numerous times, and her video was still one of the most popular ones.

The number of fans in her TikTok account suddenly increased by five hundred thousand.

She was a fashionista, but her short videos had never gotten that much attention in a short time before.

Well, I have to figure out who is driving this!

Excited, Jaycee clicked on the link to the part-time recruitment post in the comments section.

She quickly found an account named 'Aver,' which was actually Trevor's account.

Clearing her throat, she quickly sent a voice note to that account.

Aver, are you online?

Girl, so are you seriously trying to hook up with this guy?

Before Jaycee was able to get any response from that account, her roommates, including Corrie, surrounded her and wondered curiously.

Do you want to see who made my video one of the most trending posts of the day?

Jaycee gave them a mysterious smile and saw her roommates' eyes light up at once.

'Was it this 'Aver' person?' they all wondered.

They always uploaded videos to TikTok, but very few people would see them.

However, seeing that Jaycee's video had become so popular in just one night, they could not help but be jealous.

At that moment, Jaycee's phone vibrated.

There was a reply.

What's up? Anything special?

It was naturally Trevor, who was sending those replies.

Jaycee winked at her roommates, motioning them to stop talking before she asked in a charming voice, "Aver, are you the one who made my short video the most trending post? If so, then I would like to know why you did it. Could you please explain?"

Touching his nose, Trevor felt his body go soft when he thought of a beautiful woman.

He immediately figured out that the one who was talking to him was Jaycee, the most beautiful woman from the media department.

He was not unfamiliar with her voice, but he had only heard her reading the campus news reports before, so he was not expecting her to talk to him so flirtatiously.

Even I can stray away from my goal if she continues to be so sexy and charming!

No way, Trevor!

You need to stay cool and stick to your original intention.

Remember that you like innocent and kind-hearted women, and she is not your type.'

Deep down, he kept telling himself not to change his standards of choosing a life partner for himself.

"I just don't like Bernard slandering people, so I spent some money and asked someone to dig up dirt on him.

I then spread it publicly. It is nothing worth mentioning."

Without saying more, Trevor continued to type.

Indeed!'

Jaycee's eyes lit up when she read his message.

He had told her exactly what she had guessed.

So, Aver, are you also a student from our school? Or am I wrong?

Yes, we are in the same grade. But we are not from the same class, though.

"Wow! Aver, I would like to know you better.

Let's go shopping and watch a movie together.

We can also have something exciting at night... What do you think about that?"

Jaycee asked quickly as she was indeed overjoyed.

He was definitely a rough diamond in her eyes.

How could there be a mysterious man like him among her peers?

Just because he didn't like what Bernard and the others did, he had paid someone to punish them for their willful behavior.

And that was the reason her short video had become a trending topic in a short while.

It was not just Jaycee who was excited, though.

Corrie also felt that only such a man deserved a beauty like her.