Chapter 371 The Guilty Person Frames The Victim First

For a moment, Trevor was irritated by her words.

Then, he looked at the dormitory administrator angrily and asked coldly, "What brings you here early in the morning?"

The woman's name was Adalina Vance. When she heard Trevor's question, she snorted with disdain.

She put her hands on her deformed waist and said with a sneer, "Do you think I want to come to your stinky dormitory for tip? If you still want to live in the school during the summer holidays, you have to pay extra accommodation fee which is 1, 000 dollars!"

Hearing it, Trevor couldn't help but frown.

On one hand, this old lady's attitude was very bad, and on the other hand, she didn't ask whether he was living here during the holidays or not.

He hadn't decided where to stay during the summer holidays, but she was so mean to say like that.

After all, the accommodation charge for the whole school year was 2, 000 dollars. Therefore, 1, 000 dollars for only a few months of the summer holidays was too much.

In the past, when Trevor didn't have money, he had asked about the cost of the accommodation in the school for the summer holidays. At that time, he found out that it was only about 500 dollars.

This Mrs. Vance dared to ask him twice the original price!

Immediately, he exposed her lie as he said, "The price isn't true. As far as I know, the cost of living in the school during summer holidays isn't more than 500 dollars!"

Hearing it, Adalina's face changed slightly. She didn't expect for Trevor to know about it.

However, she quickly composed herself and came up with an excuse.

"Humph! Who told you to stay here in summer holidays? Because of you, I have to do extra work. So, the extra money will be used as my service fee!"

Her words were so ridiculous that Trevor laughed. The more he came into contact with people, the more he realized that there were many weirdoes!

This Mrs. Vance's behavior was so flagrant and shameless.

In fact, she was nowhere in sight whenever something got wrong in the dormitory.

The only job she did was to check whether the students came back to their dormitories late or not. If she found out that they were late, she would tell them to write a lot of self-criticism.

Trevor wouldn't mind her that much if she performed her duties well. However, it was obvious that she didn't take her job seriously.

With a frown on his face, Trevor said angrily, "Mrs. Vance, you are asking for extra fees. Do you think I won't report you for it?"

When Adalina heard his words, she was flustered for a bit.

However, she quickly put on a domineering expression and said with a sneer, "You little brat, do you have any evidence? Do you want to know how I got this job? The headmaster of this university is my uncle. What can a poor guy like you do to me?"

It was obvious that Adalina was arrogant. She even glared at Trevor and threatened him.

"Humph! How dare you report me? If you pay the accommodation fees like I said, I will let go of this matter. Otherwise, don't blame me when you get into trouble again and again!"

The more Trevor listened to her, the angrier he became. Did she really think that she could bully him like this?

Trevor was about to speak for himself when he heard footsteps from the other side of the corridor.

Almost all the students had already left the dormitory. Then, who would appear at this time?

However, on second thought, Trevor remembered about his phone call with Ronald yesterday. Therefore, he guessed that it was his father.

After all, Ronald said that he would come and visit him after discussing about student grants with the management.

As soon as the footsteps passed the corner, Trevor found that it was indeed his father with several people surrounding him as usual.

Although Trevor didn't know the identity of the people around his father, he guessed that they were the leaders of Jork University.

He guessed that way because Boris was standing on the left side of his father.

On the right side was an old man with silver hair. His name was Jaxson Vance and he was the principal who was in charge of the school affairs.

In fact, Jaxson's speech at the opening ceremony had left a deep impression on Trevor.

Since the two people were quarreling, Mr. Vance stepped forward and smiled kindly at them.

At first, he was surprised to see Adalina. However, he didn't show much attention to his niece since they were in front of others.

With a kind smile on his face, Mr. Vance approached Trevor and asked, "What's the matter? Are you in trouble?"

In the face of her uncle, Adalina didn't give Trevor a chance to say anything as she immediately complained, "Mr. Vance, this boy wants to stay at school during the summer holidays, but he is refusing to pay the accommodation fee for it!"

When Trevor heard her accusation, he simply raised his eyebrows and pursed his lips.

The audacity of this woman to frame the victim as a guilty person...
