

Blessed 374

Chapter 374 Don't Be Softhearted

Because of rage, Jaxon personally taught his niece a lesson. However, after calming himself down, he asked nervously, "How do you want to punish her, Mr. Sanderson?"

With a look of disgust on his face, Ronald looked at the middle-aged woman, who was now squatting on the floor. Then, he turned around and said, "Trevor, you can do whatever you want. You can even disable her limbs or cut off this stupid woman's tongue."

His cruel words made the whole corridor silent. However, no one dared to criticize him.

Although Jaxon opened his mouth to say something, no words came out of his mouth. He could only smile bitterly.

With the power of the Sanderson family, they could do whatever they wanted. There was no point in pleading.

Hearing Ronald's words, Adalina started to panic. She stopped crying and looked up at Ronald and Trevor in fear.

Of course, Trevor was stunned to hear his father's words too. After all, he didn't expect that he would say something cruel like that.

However, when he turned to look at Adalina, he started getting angry all over again.

Then, he thought about what had happened. She knocked on the door early in the morning to wake him up. After that, she threatened him to give money and slandered him with lies.

When Trevor's frown deepened, Adalina became so scared that her legs went numb.

Since she was fat, it wasn't easy for her to get up and beg for mercy. Nonetheless, she didn't have strength to try to get up either. Therefore, she could only stare at Trevor in fear as she waited for her punishment.

As time passed by, she became even more scared.

Finally, Trevor snorted and called his father, "Dad..."

The moment Trevor called his father, everyone started to guess about what punishment he was going to give. The corridor was so quiet that even a pin drop could be heard.

It was really quiet.

However, the next second, a playful smile appeared on Trevor's handsome face.

Then, he said, "Actually, I've made up my mind. She has to pay double the price of the money she cheated. Then, she should not only return all the money to the victims, but also donate the other half to our student grant. Recently, our company has invested a lot of projects. We will send her to the construction site to carry the bricks. As far as I can remember, a person named Chris was sent there before too."

When everyone heard his punishment, they were stunned.

Even Adalina had a look of joy on her face even though the punishment was heavy for her.

The truth was, she couldn't keep the money she got as she was busy pursuing enjoyment.

Therefore, when she didn't have any savings, she suddenly thought of swindling money from the students. Of course, she didn't expect to fail because of Trevor.

However, now, she was rather grateful to the student who exposed her.

Because Trevor's punishment was much more acceptable than Ronald's.

Hearing his son's words, Ronald said indifferently, "Trevor, are you sure that's enough?"

"Yes, I think this punishment suits her."

This time, Ronald just nodded his head. In fact, his heart was filled with faint joy after hearing his son's words.

Actually, this was just a small test.

Even after realizing his identity, his son was able to maintain his character. He wasn't arrogant or ruthless.

It made Ronald really happy.

However, the next second, he frowned as if he realized something.

A trace of seriousness flashed in his eyes.

Then, he walked towards his son and patted his shoulder before saying, "Son, you did a good job in dealing with this matter. Keep your kind heart.

But remember one thing, if you face a real enemy one day, don't be softhearted!"
