

Blessed 375

Chapter 375 A Different Attitude

After hearing his father's serious words, Trevor felt a little heavy in his heart.

Could there be any enemy force when the Sanderson family was so powerful?

However, his father didn't say anything much. He just sighed meaningfully and said, "No one will know what will happen in the future."

After saying that, Ronald just gave his son a smile and changed the subject.

Then, he asked if everything went well with his date last night.

Unfortunately for Ronald, Trevor simply said a few words and dismissed the matter due to the presence of many outsiders.

After chatting for a while, he gave Trevor two tasks and continued his tour with the school directors.

Actually, one of the tasks was a simple errand.

Ronald directly handed over the project of the scholarship fund to Trevor to sign on his behalf.

Since it was simple, Trevor walked out of the office easily about half an hour later.

However, the next task lingered in his mind the whole time.

In fact, before Ronald left, he encouraged his son to do something.

"Trevor, since things went well with that girl last night, shouldn't you consider about having a place to live? I think it will be much easier for you to spend time with that girl in the future."

In fact, Trevor was stunned and a little touched by his father's advice.

After all, it was rare for his father to advise him on such kind of mature thing.

If he had his own personal space, he could do a lot of things with Luisa.

They could cook together.

They could watch movies together.

They could play games together and do many other things.

At the thought of other things they could do together, Trevor's face turned red. Immediately, he shook his head to erase his thoughts.

The main reason that encouraged him to follow his father's advice was because of the terrible experience of being woken up early in the morning.

The only thing that made him feel a headache was that he would have to follow Ronald's requirements about the housing conditions. After all, he couldn't choose a house that would degrade the reputation of the Sanderson family!

His sister had also made such domineering requirements before.

Was this the family tradition of the Sanderson family?

Thinking about it, Trevor directly asked Jeanne about the best buildings in Jork and then drove there to inspect.

The Lightuxury Villa was located in the north of Jork University.

This place was a newly developed villa and it was built alongside the river. Therefore, it had a beautiful scenery.

They were built for the top billionaires in Jork.

After making up his mind, Trevor went straight to the sales department.

The moment he stepped into the sales department of the Lightuxury Villa, he could feel the luxury service for the rich.

There was a gorgeous crystal chandelier detached on the high ceiling. The milky white marble was so smooth that it could even reflect people.

The whole place was designed with white and golden colors which gave off a luxurious feeling.

All of the ladies in charge of the sales were dressed in black uniform.

To Trevor's surprise, as soon as he entered, he was greeted warmly by one of the girls.

As Trevor went out on a whim today, he was only dressed in casual clothes.

Obviously, he didn't have great encounters with receptionists in the past. All of them looked down on him and insulted him.

Therefore, when the girl welcomed him warmly, Trevor couldn't help glancing at the name tag of the girl.

He found out that the girl with a sweet smile was called Camille Dury.

In the end, Trevor asked, "Hello, have you been ordered to offer good service? Because I have encountered a lot of receptionists who bully the poor."

In fact, Camille was a talkative and cheerful type. So, Trevor's praise made her happier.

With a bright smile on her face, she said, "Actually, I always behave in this way. But this is also required by the company."

After saying that, Camille lowered her voice as if she was sharing a secret and said, "Honestly, the company required like that only recently. It is only because of one person!"

Furrowing his eyebrows, he asked, "One person?"

Hearing her words, Trevor became even more curious.

Did the CEO of this real estate company arrange like this?

However, Trevor didn't know whether to laugh or cry when he heard Camille's next words.

At that time, Camille nodded and said seriously, "Do you know that the son of the Sanderson family has returned to Jork recently? We were told that he likes to keep low profile and he only wears plain clothes. So, the company specially asked us not to be cold to any guests."