

Blessed 385

Chapter 385 A Villa Worth High Price

Trevor put his luggage aside and entered the living room of the villa through the corridor.

He was stunned to see what was in front of him.

He was welcomed by a spacious and bright place, with white and smooth walls. They shone with bright lights, adding to the mysterious look of the place.

Camille had mentioned that this particular villa was designed by a top design team. With smart home automation services, the entire living room looked modern.

The walls seemed as if they had bright lights on them, but it was, in fact, a high-definition projection screen that changed the atmosphere of the house, bringing people an enjoyable experience.

Trevor had a fascination for technology. He tried to change the theme of the hall by giving an order through the voice control system, and in a matter of seconds the whole villa lit up with a new theme.

All of a sudden, the milky white fluorescent wall reflected the raindrops. In the distance, there was a faint black smoke coming out of the factory, and all kinds of dazzling neon lights decorated the whole night sky.

Trevor felt as if he actually stood in a street with steam all around him.

He was surprised, yet he wanted to change it a few times more so he did that.

Eventually, Trevor noticed that the furniture of the villa changed its position as well when he changed the theme.

All of this was more than enough to amaze Trevor.

It was no wonder Carleigh didn't want to sell this villa.

Not just the living room, but the whole villa looked luxurious. When Trevor pushed open the sliding door, he saw a huge garden full of flowers and plants.

One look at the emerald green plants made him happy, and he closed his eyes to relax. A faint fragrance of the nearby flowers lingered around the tip of his nose and Trevor inhaled deeply.

He turned around and walked into the bedroom.

Trevor jumped onto the bed and sank into it. He felt as if he was lying on cotton candy.

He laughed in pleasure.

"This bed must have some magic power! When I don't have anything else to do, I'll definitely glue myself to this bed."

After touring the villa, Trevor was satisfied with everything. He now knew why it was so expensive.

Just as he looked around in awe, an ear-piercing ringtone rang in the bedroom. It was the system telling him that someone was at the front door.

Who would visit him at this hour?

Trevor was confused. He had just bought this villa, and he didn't even have time to tell his father yet.

He walked up to the door and looked out through the peephole. What he saw shocked him.

Why were there several hot girls outside his house?

Why hadn't they left yet?

Trevor hesitated for a while but finally unlocked the door. He wanted to know why they were there.

However, as soon as he opened the door, Lois, who was more polite before, showed an angry expression.

She frowned and scolded angrily, "How can you do this? I thought you were handsome and an amazing person before, but what I didn't expect was for you to behave this way!"

Trevor was a little confused by her words. What was going on? He couldn't remember why this girl was scolding him.

He hadn't even let her in yet.

Was she getting angrier that Trevor wasn't letting her in and now wanted to fight?

Trevor was surprised so he asked, "What do you mean by that?"